Democrats Will Give Only Crumbs for Fusion.

WANT GOOD JOBS THEMSELVES

Simon Men Will Be Consoled With County Clerkship, Assessorship and Three Legislative Nominations—Inman for Mayor.

The political situation, so far as the Democrats and the Simon Republicans are concerned, may be summed up in a few words familiar to the arena—the former are holding back, confident in their strength, and the latter are sparring for an opening. Where the Simon men will come in on any fusion ticket to be nominated cannot be foretold. The Democrats, according to a prominent member of the party, will concede them only three nominations on the Legislative ticket, the County Clerkship and the Assessorship. No city offices have been mentioned, excepting the Mayoralty, and the Democrats want that nomination for E. D. Inman. Whether they will get it or not is a question. Simon men said yesterday that he would accept it if it were offered to him, but he will not in any way make a canvass for it. As an expression of opinion, however, it is not likely that the office will be given to the Simon Republicans.

Outside of the Mayoralty, the Democrats have so far expressed no choice for nominations. It is pretty generally understood, however, that they would like to have the City Engineer and the City Auditor. These offices would enable them to carry on a more effective campaign than usual, for the patronage to be distributed in event of election would include respective deputies to extraordinary efforts during the campaign.

For Sheriff, a nomination that the Democrats are determined the Simon Republicans shall not have. S. E. Wrenn, who was a Fire Commissioner during the Penneyer administration, and John DeWitt, a member of the Legislature of 1891, are mentioned. Each man has his friends, and the Democratic leaders are determined that the nomination shall go to either one of them or some other member of the party. They do not propose to let the shrievalty go to a Simon Republican. The County Judgeship also is wanted by the Democrats. They have named as their available candidate for the office, and they say they will make no choice until they get together, hear the report of the fusion conference, and learn whether the Simon intends to establish permanent relations with them, and if so what offices Mr. Simon will want. The County Clerkship is conceded to Major J. F. Kennedy, if fusion is effected. The office controls a great deal of patronage, but the Democratic leaders say they would lose it rather than the shrievalty and the Judgeship.

A peculiar thing about the whole fusion arrangement is the Simon clamor for attorney on the part of the Democratic party. "Two lawyers," says a well-known Democrat, "you wronged us by voting against our regular ticket. Now you should right that wrong by standing with us and help us to defeat the regular ticket this year." The logic does not appeal to the Democrats, and the "wrong" will not be righted, excepting that so far as the Legislative ticket is concerned three places will be given the Simon men. It is not improbable that one of these three places will be the nomination for the Joint Senatorship with Clackamas and another the Joint Representative with Clackamas. It is pretty generally known that the Democrats in Multnomah have no man to put up for these offices. They might draw on the Clackamas organizations but they have no wish to sacrifice their lambs, and they would much rather place the Simonites on the altar. So in all probability the empty honor will be tendered to the Simon's followers and D. Sells Cohen, George W. Bates and others will be invited to accept.

Democratic state politics are very quiet. Chairman White said yesterday that organization was progressing rapidly and the people would be duly informed of the party's proceedings. Ex-State Senator John H. Smith came to the city last night and said prospects were bright in Clatsop County. A fusion ticket will be placed in the field. Senator Smith is one of the democracy's possible candidates for the United States Senatorship. A. D. Stillman, of Pendleton, was also in town, and predicted the election of the Democratic ticket in Umatilla County.

POPE'S SILVER JUBILEE.
Observed by Solemn Services at Baltimore Cathedral.

BALTIMORE, April 6.—The silver jubilee of Pope Leo XIII. was observed by solemn and unusually elaborate services at the cathedral today. The ceremony was marked by the presence of two cardinals, Cardinal Martinielli, the apostolic delegate, who came from Washington last night to take part in the service, pontiffed, and Cardinal Gibbons preached the sermon. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, a large congregation was present.

The cardinal briefly outlined the personal and ecclesiastical history of Leo XIII, dwelling especially on his encyclicals, of which he said:

"The first encyclical to which I allude is on Christian marriage, which was published in 1880. The holy father vindicated in strong and earnest language the unity, the sanctity and the indissolubility of the marriage bond. He tells us that the married couple are the source of the family, the family is the source of society. Social life, he maintains, is in its purity and integrity unless it is sanctified at the fountain-head of the home."

"The encyclical on 'The Condition of Workmen' was promulgated in 1891, and was an exhaustive document on the rights and duties of the laboring classes. Never did the Redeemer of mankind confer a greater temporal blessing on humanity than by ennobling and dignifying manual labor and by rescuing it from the degradation which has been attached to it. Christ comes into the world, not surrounded by the pomp and splendor of an imperial majesty, but as the meek and lowly reputed son of an artisan. 'Is not this the carpenter, the son of Mary?' the people said to him. He has shed a halo around the workman and lightened the workman's tools by assuming the trade of an artisan. If the profession of a soldier, of a jurist or of a prelate can be dignified by the examples of a Washington, a Carver and a Tenny, how much more is the calling of a mechanic ennobled by the example of Christ."

"A conflict between labor and capital is an unreasonable as would be a contention between the head and the hands. The interests of capital and labor are correlative. Capital without labor would be unproductive; labor without capital would be unprofitable. What would be the use of a capitalist to say, 'Behold, this mountain of coal is mine, if there were no hardy sons of toil to extract the coal from its recesses and send it to the market? What would it profit the laborer to exhibit his brawny arm and his skill if there were no capitalist to give him employment?'"

"The third encyclical to which I shall allude appeared in 1891, and treats of 'The Constitution of Christian States.' In this document the holy father clearly demonstrates that the Catholic church can adapt itself to all forms of civil government."

The cardinal then related a number of incidents which had come under his personal observation during his association with the pope, tending to show his striking personality, his courteous manner and marked ability as a younger man, and the wonderful clearness of his intellect and excellence of his memory at the present time, in spite of his 83 years.

At Washington University.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The Catholic University was the scene today of a brilliant ceremony in honor of the jubilee of the pope. The fact that Pope Leo is the founder of the university made the occasion one in which the professors, students and friends took great delight. Right Rev. Director Bishop Conroy officiated in a pontifical mass. The sermon was preached by Very Rev. Edmund L. Shanahan, dean of the faculty of theology. The sermon was an analysis of the contributions of Leo XIII to the solution of the great intellectual, moral, social, democratic, industrial and religious problems of the past century.

The students of Georgetown College adopted resolutions of joy on the event celebrated by Catholics today, and sent a congratulatory message to the pope.

Boycott "The Passion Play."

MONTREAL, April 6.—Le Samain, a religious weekly paper, the official organ of Monsignor Bruchesi, will in its issue of tomorrow inform the Catholic clergy of the diocese of Montreal that it is their duty to warn members of their congregations that it is forbidden to attend the presentation of "The Passion Play," which has been presented at the National Theater, in this city, for the last two weeks.

PORTLAND DOGS WIN PRIZES

Carry Off Their Share of Honors at Victoria Bench Show.

The recent dog show at Victoria was one of the best exhibitions of its kind ever held in the Northwest, and dog-owners generally feel highly pleased over the results. Among the Portland dogs that carried off honors were the following: F. J. Evans' Little Pete, first novice prize among pointer dogs; E. O. Coell's Little Nell, second novice prize among pointer bitches; Portland Cocker Kennel's Black Victor, first among black cocker spaniel puppies; Portland Cocker Kennel's Waverly Bess, first among cocker spaniel bitch puppies; Portland Cocker Kennel's Plumera Bud, first; Mrs. W. W. Reader's Red Fern, second among cocker spaniel puppies; Portland Cocker Kennel's Will Scarlet, second (open dogs); W. F. Tippman's novice bulldog Pretzel, first prize; Riverside Kennel's Buster, second prize.

The Portland Cocker Kennel's Plumera Bud won a special prize for being the best cocker spaniel puppy other than black.

NEW OFFICERS AND CLUBHOUSE OF OREGON YACHT CLUB.

The Oregon Yacht Club is recognized throughout the country as a promoter of clean aquatic sport, and is one of the clubs in which Portland takes a just pride. It has been in existence only a few years, but has demonstrated the fact that it is something more than an experiment. On the membership roll may be found the names of many of the leading citizens of Portland, and it is a matter of note that many new members are coming into the club.

A number of new yachts are now being built by various members of the club, and the fleet of the coming season will be larger and better than ever before. The club owns its own bathhouse, and has, all in all, an excellent equipment. The officers are as follows: Commodore, A. A. Courtney; vice-commodore, A. A. Courtney; secretary, J. S. Taylor; port captain, A. L. Beebe; messenger, T. Johannessen; additional directors, Seth Catlin and W. B. Beebe; regatta committee, B. C. Bell, W. B. Beebe, H. B. Hewitt.

The fleet of the Oregon Yacht Club and the individual owners are as follows: S. B. Saitz; J. C. Ainsworth; Muriel, C. F. Beebe; Coquet; Kenneth Beebe; Thetis, W. B. Beebe; Wizard, Seth Catlin and L. V. Woodward; Shawano, A. A. Courtney; Minerva, E. O. Johannessen; Spray, David Jordan; Cwybee, H. H. Haskell and C. M. Miller; Drift, R. B. Lamson; Swallow, C. A. Marlett; Quikstep, J. E. Wolf and J. H. McKenzie; Curio, Fred More; Pearl, H. McBeth; Becom, J. H. O'Bryan; Eva, J. H. Rasch; Bosin, A. E. Seeley; Flirt, Frank Williams; Gismonda, S. F. Young; Hera, A. Zeller; Skyjark, H. S. Todd. Other yachts are under the process of construction.

BIG LODGE CELEBRATION

ODD FELLOWS PLAN ANNUIVERSARY REUNION.

It Will Be Held in Portland April 20, When the Order's Home Will Be Dedicated.

At a meeting of the committee of the Portland Odd Fellows' Lodge, with Dr. W. T. Williamson, chairman of the board of trustees of the Odd Fellows' Home, held Saturday evening, general arrangements were definitely made for the dedication of the Home, located near Kenilworth, to take place Saturday, April 20, the 83d anniversary of the Odd Fellows' order. There will be a joint affair—the dedicatory ceremony and the celebration of the anniversary of the order. Robert Andrews and most of the members of the local committee were present.

It was decided that the dedicatory services of the Home shall be held on the grounds, and conducted by the officers of the grand lodge of the state in the forenoon. At the conclusion of the dedicatory ceremonies all Odd Fellows will be entertained at dinner in the Armory. Either in the afternoon at 4 o'clock or in the evening at 7:30 the anniversary programme will be rendered. The committee is undecided about the time. That will depend on the desire of the members throughout the state. If the majority desire to leave for their homes that evening, the exercises will be held in the afternoon, so they can do so.

The general programme has been adopted. At the Home only the regular dedicatory services of the order will be held. These will be short.

For the anniversary exercises Judge M. C. George will be the orator of the occasion. Other short addresses will be delivered by W. E. Vawter, past grand master, of Medford; Mrs. Florence Atwood, warden of the Rebekah Assembly, of Baker City; J. E. Haseltine, of Portland; Dr. George C. Chance, past grand representative and representing the original promoters of the institution. A committee of three will be appointed to make out the programme. One will be a member of the board of trustees and two will be from Portland lodges. This committee will be named this week. The general oversight of the entire exercises will be retained by the board of trustees.

A large attendance of Odd Fellows is expected from Eastern and Southern Oregon. Special cars will be run from Hanksington in Eastern Oregon and Ashland in Southern Oregon. Grand Recorder Sharon has sent out circulars to the various lodges, asking for information as to the probable number of Odd Fellows who will likely attend, so that arrangements for their entertainment, while they are in the city, can be made. The Odd Fellows' Temple will be headquarters and all visiting Odd Fellows will be provided with suitable badges.

At the Home the exercises will take place on the ground. If the weather is favorable there may be several thousand present. The Home now contains five people, and it is the opinion among Odd Fellows that it will have to be enlarged at once. The Home is for the aged or infirm, whether they be men or women or children, coming within the rules and regulations prescribed by the board of trustees. Sick Odd Fellows cannot be taken into the institution, as it is not intended for a hospital, nor to aid lodges in avoiding payment of sick benefit to sick members. Originally the institution was established at Fairview, where the order owns a large farm, but it was decided that the place was not suitable for the purpose, and the Riley property, containing a two-story dwelling and seven acres of ground, was bought. The house has since been raised up and improved and handsomely furnished throughout.

An attempt was made to sell the farm at Fairview, but it did not succeed, and many of the members think it is a good thing to hold. The rent more than pays expenses and supplies an income. It may supplement the Home in Portland after a time.

IMPROVE SELLWOOD STREETS.

Board of Trade Appointed Committee to Consult Property-Owners.

At a well-attended meeting of the Sellwood Board of Trade, held Friday evening in Firemen's Hall, the matter of improving some of the important streets and Umatilla avenues should be improved by the opening of other streets and the planking from the river to Milwaukee road. These are important streets.

President Donagh appointed A. M. Speckmeier, L. H. Andrews and F. C. Sellwood to take up this improvement proposition. They are to ascertain if the property-owners desire to have these streets replanked or desire other improvements. An effort will also be made to have Tenino avenue extended from the river eastward to Willoughby.

In the matter of the shoe factory the board stands ready to comply with all the conditions required by the owner.

ADVENTISTS RAISE $6000.

North Pacific Conference's Contribution to Walla Walla College Debt.

The North Pacific Conference district of the Seventh-Day Adventists is doing its part toward raising the $30,000 required to place the Walla Walla college of that church on a good financial footing. At the meeting of the Pacific Union Conference, held in the church, East Eleventh and East Everett streets, it was decided that $20,000 should be raised by the conferences by selling a book to the members. Mr. Starbuck who has charge of the distribution of the books to the churches, reported that in the North Pacific Conference $6000 had been raised in this way, and much more would be raised.

If the other conferences are doing as well the whole sum will soon be raised.

Regarding the proposed division of the North Pacific Conference, Mr. Starbuck says that it will not be provided for until the annual campmeeting and conference, which will be held in Portland in June. It will then be made in two conferences.

BARKEEPER'S GOOD FORTUNE.

James Platts, of Albina, Has Gone to England to Claim Money.

James Platts, formerly a bartender in a Lower Albina saloon, started for England, by way of Australia, the other evening, where he goes to claim a share in a large fortune said to be awaiting him and the other heirs. A brother from Australia will accompany him to England. A short time ago he told a friend that he had received information that a large fortune had been left to him, and he quickly stopped concocting cocktails and other soothing drinks and is now supposed to be on his way to get his slice of the fortune.

Platts has frequently said that he had wealthy relatives who would some day drop off and leave the heirs their fortunes, of whom he was one. He said when he left that he would return to Portland to enjoy his fortune.

HAS FACIAL PARALYSIS.

Mrs. Hampton Kelly, a Pioneer Woman, Has Had a Severe Stroke.

Mrs. Hampton Kelly, of Juniper Flat, Eastern Oregon, is at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. B. Manley, in the Manley block, Upper Albina. Mrs. Kelly is one of the earliest pioneer women living. Some time ago she was attacked with facial paralysis at her home in Eastern Oregon, and Mrs. Manley two weeks ago brought her to Portland. The left side of her face is affected. In other respects Mrs. Kelly enjoys fairly good health for a woman of her age. She was 75 years old a week ago. There has been but little improvement in the paralysis. Mrs. Kelly formerly lived on a farm southeast of the Southern Pacific road, and with her husband, she moved east of the mountains about 15 years ago.

PIONEER BUILDING TO BE MOVED

The James B. Stephens Residence Will Be Taken to East Twelfth.

The old dwelling of James B. Stephens, now the property of Mrs. Rosa Wallace, will be moved to East Twelfth street. Although this dwelling has stood for over 3 years, it is perfectly sound, and bids fair to stand for half a century. It was built of heavy cedar timbers, which are as sound as when first the building was erected. It is a two-story square building, 28x36 feet, colonial in design, a style of house that never goes out of fashion.

Mrs. Wallace will have it set on a new foundation, repainted and overhauled, and will thus have a modern residence, although built nearly half a century ago. Before it will reach its new site, it will have to be raised up nearly 30 feet to set it on the bank east of the Southern Pacific track, but the old structure is strong enough to stand a severe racking without damage.

DAMAGED UNITED STATES MAILBOX

Work of Unrestrained Youngsters of Multnomah Addition, Albina.

The United States mailbox on the corner of Michigan avenue and Shaver street, Albina, has been damaged by the young hoodlums of that neighborhood. Postal authorities say the community will have to do the work of repairing the box as well as replacing the damage to the mailbox in line with defacement of property that has been going on for some time in that part of the city. Young boys roam the streets here without restraint. Conditions have become so bad that the local Board of Trade has been discussing measures for their suppression, but the members are irresolute as to what to do. Active measures, they say, would calm down the vengeance of the youngsters on their heads; besides, they might have to reckon with the dozing parents of the hoodlums. So they are between the "deep sea and high water."

Fruit Is Promising.

W. S. Failing, a well-known fruitgrower of South Mount Tabor, said yesterday that he had received good fruit indications at present. He remarked that the conditions for a full crop of everything in the fruit were perfect in all respects. Mr. Failing has an apricot tree in his orchard that is expected to bloom ahead of its time, but, in spite of the frost, he says the buds are all right. There will be a great crop, he said, and the point will be to dispose of the fruit to the best advantage. This he regards as the most important problem for fruitgrowers to face.

Fraternal Visit.

A delegation of about 20 members of Golden Rule Encampment, No. 23, I. O. O. F., paid a fraternal visit to the local lodge, No. 128, a fraternal visit Saturday night. The visiting brethren were heartily welcomed by members of Peninsula Lodge. During the evening a number of short talks were made by Robert Andrews, F. Finley, W. A. Wheeler and others of the guests, to which responses were made by members of Peninsula Lodge. Toward the close of the visit refreshments were provided. Peninsula Lodge has made a substantial growth during the year.

Using Roadway as a Woodyard.

About 150 cords of wood have been stacked on the north side of the elevator roadway on East Yamhill street, between East First and East Third streets. Some of the property-owners are wondering how it happens that East Yamhill street has been turned into a woodyard, inasmuch as they did not build it for that purpose. They are wondering who gave the owner of this wood permission to stack cordwood on it.

Funeral of Belva M. Zensen.

The funeral of Belva Marietta Zensen was held yesterday afternoon from the Central Methodist Church, of Albina. Rev. V. T. Kerr conducted the services. Mrs. Zensen was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Zensen, living at 515 Albina avenue. She was 17 years old, and she had a large circle of friends. The body was taken to Trenton, Mo., for interment.

Sidewalks Cleared.

All citizens of Central East Portland are pleased that the piles of stone which were piled two-thirds of the sidewalk on East Morrison, between East First and East Second streets, have been moved. This is the work of the Civic Improvement League. For months great blocks of stone have obstructed the sidewalk, only about five feet being left for pedestrians.

Will Hold Inquest.

The coroner will hold an inquest this morning at the east side morgue over the body of Marie McPherson, the child who was killed in a street-car accident in Upper Albina, Saturday afternoon.

At Pacific University.

PACIFIC UNIVERSITY, FOREST GROVE, April 6.—The outlook for baseball this spring is better than it has been for several years. There are plenty of men to pick from, and every night two nines are on the field. Those trying for positions are: Pitcher, Hall, Everson and Via; catcher, McKenzie and Curtis; first base, Hansen and Barnett; second base, Bryant and Gibson; third base, Sparks and Curtis. Gwyn, who played last year on the crack Gervais Stars and the Portland Ramblers, will hold down shortstop. A number are coming from the field. I. D. Gibson, '04, was chosen captain and will hold his old position, second base.

Training for the track meets has begun in earnest. Mills, Fletcher, G. E. Yoder and Eugene, of last year's team, and many new men are out every night. Manager I. D. Gibson has arranged the following meets: May 10, University of Oregon, at Eugene; May 11, McMinnville College, at Forest Grove; May 13, Oregon Agricultural College, at Corvallis.

Negotiations are also on foot with colleges out of the state. Chester Fletcher, '06, is captain. This is Fletcher's third year on the track.

Election of the Senators.

Philadelphia Inquirer.

There is but one way to force the much-needed reform and that is through the demands of the Legislatures of two-thirds of the states for a Constitutional convention charged with the duty of formulating an amendment to the Constitution which would take effect when ratified by two-thirds of the Legislatures. Several states have already made this demand and Iowa is falling into line, the latest commonwealth to do so. Public sentiment is so strong upon this matter of the popular election of Senators that it is only a question of time when the convention will be held, unless the Senate meantime shall join the House in taking action itself.

For Pains, Sprains and Bruises, Walpruner's

There is no more simple way of curing a bruise or sprain than using Halpruner's—rub it in well—until you know it has penetrated—saturate a flannel with Halpruner's and bind it about the injured parts—that's all and that's enough.

Halpruner's

All druggists should sell Halpruner's—if yours refuses to supply you the Halpruner Medical Mfg. Co., 28 California St., San Francisco, will send you a large bottle by prepaid expressage on receipt of $1.

I have used Dr. Halpruner's Pain Remover for poison oak, sprained ankle and a very troublesome corn. I also gave a little to a friend who has been troubled with muscular rheumatism for months. He used your remedy for four days and the rheumatism has entirely disappeared. I can recommend it to remove all the above ailments, as I have suffered from all of them. I never found any remedy that would cure so quickly and thoroughly.

W. S. Failing, a well-known fruitgrower of South Mount Tabor, said yesterday that he had received good fruit indications at present. He remarked that the conditions for a full crop of everything in the fruit were perfect in all respects. Mr. Failing has an apricot tree in his orchard that is expected to bloom ahead of its time, but, in spite of the frost, he says the buds are all right. There will be a great crop, he said, and the point will be to dispose of the fruit to the best advantage. This he regards as the most important problem for fruitgrowers to face.

Fraternal Visit.

A delegation of about 20 members of Golden Rule Encampment, No. 23, I. O. O. F., paid a fraternal visit to the local lodge, No. 128, a fraternal visit Saturday night. The visiting brethren were heartily welcomed by members of Peninsula Lodge. During the evening a number of short talks were made by Robert Andrews, F. Finley, W. A. Wheeler and others of the guests, to which responses were made by members of Peninsula Lodge. Toward the close of the visit refreshments were provided. Peninsula Lodge has made a substantial growth during the year.

Using Roadway as a Woodyard.

About 150 cords of wood have been stacked on the north side of the elevator roadway on East Yamhill street, between East First and East Third streets. Some of the property-owners are wondering how it happens that East Yamhill street has been turned into a woodyard, inasmuch as they did not build it for that purpose. They are wondering who gave the owner of this wood permission to stack cordwood on it.

Funeral of Belva M. Zensen.

The funeral of Belva Marietta Zensen was held yesterday afternoon from the Central Methodist Church, of Albina. Rev. V. T. Kerr conducted the services. Mrs. Zensen was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Zensen, living at 515 Albina avenue. She was 17 years old, and she had a large circle of friends. The body was taken to Trenton, Mo., for interment.

Sidewalks Cleared.

All citizens of Central East Portland are pleased that the piles of stone which were piled two-thirds of the sidewalk on East Morrison, between East First and East Second streets, have been moved. This is the work of the Civic Improvement League. For months great blocks of stone have obstructed the sidewalk, only about five feet being left for pedestrians.

Will Hold Inquest.

The coroner will hold an inquest this morning at the east side morgue over the body of Marie McPherson, the child who was killed in a street-car accident in Upper Albina, Saturday afternoon.

At Pacific University.

PACIFIC UNIVERSITY, FOREST GROVE, April 6.—The outlook for baseball this spring is better than it has been for several years. There are plenty of men to pick from, and every night two nines are on the field. Those trying for positions are: Pitcher, Hall, Everson and Via; catcher, McKenzie and Curtis; first base, Hansen and Barnett; second base, Bryant and Gibson; third base, Sparks and Curtis. Gwyn, who played last year on the crack Gervais Stars and the Portland Ramblers, will hold down shortstop. A number are coming from the field. I. D. Gibson, '04, was chosen captain and will hold his old position, second base.

Training for the track meets has begun in earnest. Mills, Fletcher, G. E. Yoder and Eugene, of last year's team, and many new men are out every night. Manager I. D. Gibson has arranged the following meets: May 10, University of Oregon, at Eugene; May 11, McMinnville College, at Forest Grove; May 13, Oregon Agricultural College, at Corvallis.

Negotiations are also on foot with colleges out of the state. Chester Fletcher, '06, is captain. This is Fletcher's third year on the track.
