TAKEN BACK TO HER HOME.-After passing the night in the police station, waiting on instructions from her relatives, Anna Simms, 10 years old, was taken back to her home at McMinnville, yesterday, by her father. Tuesday night the girl's father sent a telephone message from McMinnville to the police station in this city, asking that his daughter, Anna Simms, be detained when she arrived at the Terminal depot, as she had run away from home. When the little girl stepped from the train she was recognized from the description which had been furnished, and was taken in charge by Detectives Ford and Cordano. She insisted that she had come to Portland to attend school, but beyond this would not say anything more. Mrs. Woods, the police matron, took charge of the girl for a trolley car ride around the city. "My! This is grand. I've never been in cars like those besaid the little girl, and she smiled delight. Early in the afternoon her father arrived and the two had an animated conversation. Mr. Simms after-ward stated that he had nothing to say, except to state that his daughter had left home, unknown to him, to visit a relative in this city, where she proposed to attend school. He said he wished his daughter educated at home.

PAID YOUR WATER RATE?-A consider able number of water consumers are lis-ble to find the city water shut off tomorrow, on account of their water rate not being paid. The water rates have come in very glowly since April 1, and instead of the usual big rush to pay about the 9th and 10th, there were very few callers, and only about half of the 10,000 consumers had paid their rates up to last night. Today is the last day of grace, and if all the remaining 5000 consumers should call at the office today, it would be practically impossible for them all to pay. The inflexible rule of the Water Committee is to shut off the city water from all con-sumers who have not paid by the evening of the 10th, so it seems highly prob-able that tomorrow quite a number will find "the wheel at the cistern broken," metaphorically. Probably the unpleasant weather has had something to do with the unusual dilatoriness this month, but there is always a very general tendency to delay paying water rates till the last

MONEY FOR THE SCHOOLS.-County St perintendent Robinson is apportioning a sufficient amount of money among the schools of Multnomah County to enable hem to be kept open for the remainder of the school year. The amount of money available for school purposes is ample to meet the requirements of all the different districts, so that no school in Multnomar County need be closed early this year for lack of funds to continue it. A conservative estimate of the public funds of the county for school purposes for the ensuing school year is not less than $12 per capita, about one-third more than has been available for several years.

FEED FOR CITY BARN,-The Board of Public Works opened bids for supplying feed at the city barn yesterday and awarded contracts to the lowest bidder as follows: First-class timothy hay, $14.85 per ton; first-class cheap hay, $11 90 per ton; 30 tons first-class white oats, $25 25 per ton; four tons country bran, $16 per ton; half-ground salt at $1 10 and English rock salt at $1 15 per ton. BICTCLE TAX SOON DUE .- Bicycle tags will be ready soon, and the collection of bicycle taxes will be commenced by the Sheriff. All persons who ride their wheels on bicycle paths are required by law to pay the tax of $1. Last year hardly 30 per cent of people who own bleycles paid the tax, and yesterday an official remarked that unless interest is awakened among wheelmen for bicycle paths, he did not think over $2000 would be taken in this year from the sale of bicycle tags.

GERMAN SAILORS SING AT INSTITUTE .-German songs and quariets, sung in German, by members of the foreign ships now in port, formed one of the interesting features of the song social given last night at the Seamen's Institute. The cheers were given for the ladies who had and for William Barr, one of the insti-tute assistants, who left last night to accept a position in New York City.

FRANCHISE ACCEPTED.—The Pacific States Telephone & Telegraph Company yesterday filed with the City Auditor their formal acceptance of the terms of the franchise awarded them by the City Council a short time ago, and therewith their bond, as required in said franchise in the sum of $10,000. TRAINED NURSES FOR THE POOR .- A meeting will shortly be called at the home of Mrs. Stephen S. Wise, Twenty-fourth charge. The matter has had the atten-tion of Mrs. Wise and several of her women friends for some time past, and it was recently made public at a meet-ing of the directors of the City Board of Charities, when, on the motion of Rev. Dr. Wise, this motion was passed: "Re solved, That the City Board of Charities

"THE DENVER EXPRESS."

Thrilling Melodrama of Western Life Opens at Cordray's.

The presentation of a Western melo drama, "The Denver Express," at Cor-dray's Theater last night, was witnessed by a good-sized audience. The play has plenty of action, and there is not one quiet moment in it, from the time of the Indian massacre at the foot of Red Butte, Colo., principal characters are taken by Harry M. Holden as Deadwood Dick and G. B.

Edwards as Gilson Payne, afterward Lord

Tynemouth, and the succession of quar-rels between these two is lurid from start to finish. At first the villain triumphs and prospers in his wickedness. The truly exciting moment in the play occurs in the second scene of the third act, when the flight of the Denver express is portrayed. The bad man of the play places an obstruction on the track to wreck the express, when his perfidy is discovered by a ubiquitous railroader, but the bad man throws the other man on the track to be cut to pieces by the advancing engine. In the nick of time, however, a fair maiden suddenly bounds across the stage and not only removes the obstruction from the rails, but saves the railroader who has been left to meet death, just as the express train dashes along.

Happier scenes crowd each other in a restaurant at the San Francisco depot, in the fourth act, where the secrets of the restaurant business are given away with restaurant business are given away with reckless prodigality. Then follows a combat between the hero and the bad man, first with revolvers then bare fists, and ultimately knives. The bad man is led off to jail by T. C. McDonough, Hiram Garvey, the Sheriff of Cool County. Katherine Crego as Poppy was a bright, interesting heroine. The play will run every nightuntil Saturday, including the Saturday matines.

BARRETT ENTHUSIASTIC OVER 1905 EXPOSITION.

Postponement of St. Louis Enter-The depression is worst in England, owing to the continued strain on account of the Boer War. Mr. Lowengart came across prise to 1904 Will Assist Lewis and Clark Centennial. from Southampton to New York on the Kronprinz, the record-breaking steam-ship, and as is usual in March on the At-

Ex-Minister to Siam John Barrett, who now Commissioner-General to the Orient for the Louisiana Purchase Exposi tion, arrived in Portland yesterday after-noon, on his way to represent the St. Louis enterprise in the Oriental coun-tries. He stopped off here on private busia way that was trying to those who suf-fer from seasickness. Mr. Lowengart is looking well after his Winter abroad, and ness and to confer with the authorities of the Lewis and Clark Centennial, Amer-Pacific Exposition and Oriental Fair, and Secretary Reed arranged with Mr. Barerable interest is already being manifested concerning the meeting of the Grand Lodge of Elks to be held at Salt Lake City, August 12, 13 and 14. Special trains will be chartered for Elks and their families. Delegates from the 11 lodges throughout the state will gather here to start, and it is believed that several trainloads will leave Portland. The Portland lodge expects to send at least 200 reprerett to/meet the Lewis and Clark direc Saturday Mr. Barrett will go to Scattle to address a public meeting arranged by the Chamber of Commerce of that city, and Monday evening he will address the Portland Chamber of Commerce. He will leave in a week or 10 days for San Francisco, and from there will sail in the lodge expects to send at least 200 repre-sentatives. Elaborate arrangements are being made at Salt Lake for their entersteamship China for the Orient April 23, To a reporter who saw Mr. Barrett at the Portland Hotel last evening he spoke enthusiastically of the prospect for a suc-cessful Lewis and Clark celebration. "The Lewis and Clark Exposition should benefit in every way from the Louisiana Purchase Exposition," said he. | The Midwinter fair in San Francisco, held immediately after the Chicago exposition, was a marked success, both in attendance and in financial returns. Likewise the Lewis to make necessary preparations for the trip, is in Sait Lake now for the purpose of arranging for the reception of the Oregon delegation and to secure quarters and Clark Exposition, coming soon after the St. Louis World's Fair, which will undoubtedly surpass in all respects that held at Chicago, should be a pronounced and unqualified success. "If the Louisiana Purchase Exposition is postponed until 1904, as may be done out of deference to the wishes of foreign nations and as Congress is undoubtedly will ing to do in view of the advantages that will accrue to the United States in international commerce and amity, such post ponement need not and will not inter-fere with the Lewis and Clark Exposition of 1966. In fact, the former will be more helpful to the latter if held in 1904, than in 1966. If at first thought this reasoning might not seem to be logical, it will on second thought and upon full consideration of all points at stake appear jus tified. In other words, the holding of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition in 1994 should be one of the principal agencies for the complete success of the Lewis and Clark Exposition, especially in the matter of securing comprehensive Oriental and other foreign participation and of ob-taining a large selected variety of the best home exhibits at the smallest expense, as well as providing an incompar ble means of advertising.

'It would hardly be fitting here for m to discuss all these considerations before I have met the directors of the Lewis and Clark Exposition, with whom I am to have a conference on many matters which concern the welfare of both undertakings. Later they can be made known, and I am sure that there will be unanimous agreement that a postponement of the St. Louis World's Fair to 1904 should not injure the prospects of the Lewis and Clark Exposition of 1905. Having at stake on the one hand the interests of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition as its Commis-sioner-General to the Orient, and on the other hand a keen desire as a resident of the Pacific Northwest for the success of the Lewis and Clark Exposition, I hope that I may be able to make some suggestions and recommendations of value gestions and recommendations of value.

"For six months the responsibility has devolved upon me of conducting diplomatic negotiations with foreign governments, particularly thore of the Orient, for their participation at St. Louis, and hence I am quite familiar with their at-titude towards expositions. It now re-mains for me to follow up these negotia-tions by confirming in person to the countries of Asia and Australasia the invita-Louisiana Purchase Exposition, and to confer with such governments in regard to the plan and scope of their participa-tion. I would add that the president and have accomplished. Portland has certainly done herself credit in subscribing so liberally for it. If other sections of the Northwest and Congress will do part, its realization should meet the full-est hopes of its sponsors."

Meler yesterday and perfected plans for the raising of $2500 to be expended on public band concerts during the coming Summer. F. B. Gibson was appointed chairman of the subscription committee, and he will begin the work of canvassing immediately. The committee adopted a uniform subscription scale, in which an estimate was made of the amount which will be asked of each and every business house in the City of Port-This system will expedite the work of subscription, and the amounts asked from the various establishments will be where plenty of powder is burned, and hand-to-hand combats enliven things. These events occupy the first act. The $2500 20 concerts, at the rate of two per week, will be given, commencing on the evening of June 25. On Wednesday evenings the concerts will be given in the Plaza block, and on Sunday after-noon in the City Park. This will give all classes of people an opportunity to hear the open-air concerts, and it will be of especial benefit to workingmen and others whose Sunday is their only day of rest and recreation. Efforts will be made to secure new bandstands and seating accommodations in the park, so that both the musicians and their audi-ence may pass the time in comfort. A band consisting of 30 pieces will be secured, and 12 selections will be rendered at each concert. Public-spirited citizens who believe that Portland should possess every up-to-date attraction will not fall to subscribe to this free concert fund, for they realize what such enterprises mean to the city. In all the progressive cities of the East and Middle West, open-air concerts are fashionable, and there is no reason why Portland should not entertain its citizens and guests as others do.

The subscription committee will begin work immediately, and will not stop until the $2500 is guaranteed. The City & Suburban Railway Company and the Portland Railway Company have each agreed to subscribe $150. With this sum raise the remaining $2200 without any ex ertions or unnecessary delay

IT'S A STRONG PLAY. Ralph Stuart Selected "By Right of Sword."

The fact that Ralph Stuart, whose company will open an engagement at the Baker Theater Sunday afternoon, has selected "By Right of Sword" as an opening bill, is an evidence that this is an unusally strong play, for all the best and latest New York successes are at Mr. Stuart's disposal, and many of them will be presented during his engagement here. A special arrangement has been made with the New York "clearing-house," where playwrights and managers transact bustless, by which whatever late plays Mr. Stuart desires can be given him, and he will make careful selections. This does not apply of course to dramas given ea-pecially to stars or companies the first eason, but covers many of those which are now being given in the East, and guarantees that everything produced will be of high class. Already the scenery for "By Right of Sword" has been nearly ompleted, under the direction of a representative of Mr. Stoart, and it is promised that the first act of the play will surprise even people who are used to first nights in New York theaters.

FOR SUNDAY NIGHT TEA. Mrs. Miller Lectures on Good Things for an Informal Feast.

The subject of Mrs. Ellen R. Miller's lecture at the Cooking School yesterday was "Mulled Drinks and Good Things for Sunday Night Tea," and a number of these dainties she prepared and served as a practical demonstration to the class. The "mulled" drinks, it may be well to explain, are refreshing and nourishing beverages for hot weather, the recipe for each one of which contains well beaten raw eggs,

"The Sunday night tea," Mrs. Miller said, "has become in many homes an accepted form of entertainment delightful ture. It would seem that there are particularly good reasons for heeding the Biblical commands to hospitality on this day of rest. There is in every city a large and growing number of young men and women, yes, and we might also say men and women of mature years, who must needs live without the atmosphere of a home. To be sure of a welcome, to find warmth and cheer and companionship in the home of some Christian, cul-tivated people, would prove to such as these no small blessing in disguise. And what is a home for if it is not to use in doing the greatest possible amount of good just as with every other fortunate possession that falls to our lot?

"Let the Sunday dinner be essentially the family mid-day reunion of the week, but the Sunday night tea be not alone for the inmates of the home, but likewise for the guests within its walls. The fore most grace of the home is hospitality true hospitality, the giving of self to one's guests, not mere formal entertainment, and at no other time is there a better op-portunity for the exercise of this hospitallty than at the Sunday evening tea. "Let the supper be light, well planned sintly cooked, and above all simple with but few dishes. Simplicity is an art never more in demand than on this ocland, and a common mistake of the young hostess, is to provide too great a pro-fusion of food. Simplicity is always appreciated by the sterner sex. If one dish is good and to his liking a man would greatly prefer enough of that to a taste

"The chafing-dish is a great aid in the preparation of the Sunday supper. Oysters and crabs, cooked in many different ways, daintly made dishes, the Newburg mixtures, eggs in many different forms, salads, sandwiches and fruit preserves are all appropriate."

Following are some of Mrs. Miller's recipes for hot-weather drinks, which the members of the class voted delicious: Mulled coffee—Beat one egg in a large cup, then stir in a little milk or cream and one square of sugar. Pour in slowly, stirring all the time, hot coffee. Serve hot Egg lemonade-Three lemons to one pint of water and two eggs to one lemonade.

Mulled milk and buttermilk—Made by adding well-beaten eggs.
The lesson next Wednesday afternoon will be the last of the course, and the sub-ject will be "Frozen Dainties."

PRESBYTERY IN SESSION. Delegates Elected for the General Assembly in New York, delegates for the General Assembly to be held at New York in May, were elected yesterday at the regular meeting of the Spring session of the Portland Presbytery. Rev. A. J. Montgomery, of Oregon City, was chosen principal ministerial commissioner, and Rev. E. W. St. Pierre of St. John's Church, an alternate. The elder commissioner chosen was Francls Chalmers; alternate, S. R. Johnson. The general business of the presbytery was transacted, and also a number of reports read, all of which showed gratifying

The morning session was opened by service, led by Rev. A. S. Foster, of Nappa. At noon the ladies served luncheon at the church. At the afternoon session Rev. J. R. Mc-Glade read a "Narrative of Religion, reviewing the work of the churches within the bounds of the presbytery for the past

A petition was presented requesting the organization of a church at Reedville and was placed in the hands of a committee consisting of Rev. J. V. Milligan, Rev. W. S. Holt and Rev. A. Robinson. An invitation to hold the next meeting of the presbytery at the Calvary Presby-terian Church was accepted and the meeting adjourned, to meet again at the call of the moderator to take apportionments for the ensuing year, The meeting was marked by much enthusiasm, in view of the aggressive work reported during the past 12 months. A year ago the Presbyterian churches of Portland determined in one effort to pay off erect two new churches here, and $16,000 was raised in three days. The Third Presbyterian Church is now erecting a The Third beautiful church building, at a cost about $7000. The Mizpah Church will begin the construction of a new church in a few days. The First Presbyterian Church, of Astoria, of which Rev. Henry Marcotte pastor, has raised $10,000 for struction of a new building, which will be begun this Summer. Next week the Forbes Church come their new pastor, Rev. H. H. Pratt of Philadelphia. The Mount Tabor Church, under E. M. Sharp, seems to have begun a new epoch in church life. The First Presbyterian Church, of Portland, reports a membership of 1008, and in its various Sunday schools 928 scholars enrelled. It has received since January 1
