The Oregonian's Handbook tells all about Portland, the entire Columbia River watershed and the 1905 World's Pair, commemorative of the Lewis and Clark expedition to Cregon. The book-contains over 150 handsome illustrations, and it is printed on enameled book paper. It will be mailed to any address in the United States or Canada for 7 cents a copy.

SMALL CHANCE FOR CHARLESTON PRIZES, It is doubtful if Oregon will win so many medals and honors for the fruit display at Charleston as were won at Buffalo. Commissioner Dosch was rather worried over the matter when the jury to make the awards on fruit exhibits was organized and went to work on April 1. He had on hand at that time only 30 apples in good condition and half a box of Lady apples. Some of these apples had been on exhibition at Buffalo, and were beginning to look rather faded. He says: "Even the Commissioners who are fruitgrowers from the famous Omark regions, and those from Illinois, concede our apples to be the best on earth. These apples, with the exception of the Ben Davis, do not keep more than three or four days when exexception of the Ben Davis, do not keep more than three or four days when exposed, and have to be continually renewed from cold storage, but they have plenty of them," Mr. Dosch had expected to receive some choice Oregon apples before this letter was written, and adds ed to receive some choice Oregon apples before this letter was written, and adds before this letter was written, and adds that he cannot expect to get any awards if he has no fruit on exhibition, and that no one will growl more or kick harder for not getting medals than those who fall to send the apples. When the letter was coming West the fruit looked for was to send the apples. When the letter was coming West the fruit looked for was going East. It probably reached Charleston in time to save the honor of Oregon and Oregon's fruitgrowers, who will no doubt be anxiously awaiting the result of the jury's award. WOMAN CHEATS POOR CHINAMAN.-In a neighborhood in the southern part of the he had not seen for some time. They city a few blocks from the First-street got into conversation as soon as the crowd bridge across Marquam Guich reside a number of families, all old and respected residents. A Chinaman has been in the habit of making garden, putting in wood, crubbing, beating carpets and doing all uch jobs for the people of this neighborhood for years, and as he is honest and faithful, he is respected and kindly treat-ed by all his patrons. Recently a woman who lived not far from this neighbor-hood called in the Chinaman in question and told him to take up a carpet or carpets, clean them and relay them. This he proceeded to do in his usual careful and painstaking style. A day or two atter he called on one of his old patrons and asked her if she knew the woman he had been working for. He was told that she was a newcomer, comparatively, and none of his friends was acquainted with her. "Ah!" said he, "she is a bad, mean woman. I took up her carpets, cleaned them good, and put them down all right, and then she say, 'Carpets no clean,' and will not pay me." The women of the neighborhood feel that the Chinaman has een shamefully treated, and advise him o resort to the law, but be knows this

New Machines for Weather Plant.— The Weather Department is noted for a progressive spirit, which keeps the weather bureaus fully abreast of the progress of the age in the matter of instruments which will enable an accurate record of the weather to be kept as it passes. Efforts are to be made to peer further into the future and guess what the weather coming is to be. A new rain gauge has lately been received by the observer here, which has evidently been made to order and specially adapted to this climate. It is known as the triple register and tipping-bucket rain gauge, It is an automatic, labor-saving mechan-ism, arranged so that when the bucket attached is filled it empties itself and registers three buckets. By this method of registering, a tolerably fair estimate of the amount of precipitation may be arsived at. An electric sunshine recorder intended for exhibition purposes only has also been added to the "weather plant" of the bureau. As it is run by electricity, it ought to be able to make a record of the brief glimpses of sunshine occasionally visible here, but probably could not catch enough to make a showing.

It is proposed to have circulars from the various districts of the Northwest arranged in boxes in the ho-tels, after the manner of those for railroad foiders. Outside districts could send in pamphlets to the Board of Trade of this city, which would distribute them in the hotels. It is also proposed, for the use of homeseekers, to have an information bu-reau, where property could be listed for These two plans will be considered at today's meeting of the Portland Board, and at the next meeting of the directors of the Columbia Basin Board. FINE APPLES ON DISPLAY .- A number of beautiful apples are on display at the secretary's office of the State Board of Horticulture, at 246 Washington street. They were sent from Hood River by E. L. > Renewed Success of "Under Two Flaga" at Cordray's-"The Taming of the Shrew."

It has been a long time since so good a company as that headed by Ralph Stuart has been seen in Portland. Certainly no such an organization ever played a long engagement here, and the announcement that the season which opened at the Baker Theater last night with "By Right of Sword" will continue for 10 weeks will be very welcome to the people who composed the two big crowds which filled the theater yesterday afternoon and evening. The company is not large, but its lack of numbers is more than made up by the excellence of its members, not one of whom is not possessed of far more than ordinary dramatic ability, while the lead-ing players are more deserving of the fame that has preceded them. There is an | will be the attraction at the Marquam

NEW CENTER FIELDER OF THE PORTLAND BASEBALL TEAM

E. E. VAN BUREN, WHO AR-RIVED YESTERDAY.

E. E. Van Buren, Portland's new center fielder, reached the city yesterday morning, and is ready for the fray. Van Buren is a tail, wiry fellow, and, judg-ing from the way he showed up in yesterday's practice, will prove a great source of strength to the team. He began his professional baseball career at Lincoin, Neb., in 1895, and continued playing there for three seasons, He has played in the outfield for Columbus, O.; Newcastle, Pa.; Youngstown, O., and Cedar Rapids. The audience was not slow to perceive that it was listening to something really worth while, and five minutes after the curtain was up it was in warm and enthusiastic sympathy with the company. After that applause and laughter kept a running accompaniment to the action of the play, and every falling curtain was followed by half a dozen energetic calls.

It is hoped perhaps may be better described as a melodrama solo with a comedy obligato, The plot concerns the fortunes of Dick that these old soldlers were prejudiced and pessimistic, and inclined to take a Hamilton, an adventurous young New Yorker, who goes to Russia in quest of a strenuous existence, and, finding that gloomy view of the situation, in that neither Portland nor Tillamook are so black as they would make out. such a life has just been abandoned by a Russian officer whom he resembles, steps RECALLS DATS OF HORSE CARS.—Clement Beniteau, who for four years and a half into the deserted character, for better of held the position of chief engineer on one of the bobtall cars which navigated First street on the Holladay Rallway, the first for worse, as the other man happened to have due him. It is mostly worse for a time. The Russian Chief of Police, a street on the Holladay Raliway, the first street raliway in this city, some 20 years ago, was strolling around town a day or two ago, and met a few of the old patrons of the line. He is 82 years of age, but still hale and active, and would pass for a man of 60. He tells some interesting stories of his adventures and mishaps on the road, the most thrilling of which is one about the old mule he was driving at one time stumbling and falling in a heap Prince whose name ends in "ski," is as-saesinated, and the young man whose life the New Yorker has taken up is suspected of his murder. Mr. Stuart is an actor of fine stage presence and exceedingly pleasing manner, and he entered so thoroughly into the spirit of the character last night that he had his audience with him all the time. He was just the sort of a slap-dash hero that is the idol of a well-regulated audience, and he gives a touch to the com-edy scenes that is especially refreshing.

NICE HAIR FOR ALL.

Once Destroy the Dandruff Germ and Hair Grows Luxuriantly. Any one can have nice hair if he or she has not dandruff, which causes brittle, dry hair, failing hair and baidness. To cure dandruff it is necessary to kill the germ that causes it, and that is just what Newbro's Herpicide does. Cornelius Grew,

Newbro's herpicide does. Cornelius Grew, Colfax, Wash, says:

"One bottle of Herpicide completely cured me of dandruff, which was very thick; and it has stopped my hair from falling out." It makes hair soft and glossy, as slik; delightful odor and refreshing hair Argents. It will noutties week him. hair dressing. It will positively make hair grow abundantly, and kills the dandruff
