

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

The Oregonian's Telephone.
Counting Room
Managing Editor
City Editor
Composing Room
Superintendent

Amusements.
MARQUAM GRAND THEATRE—Mr. Howard Kyle...

THE BAKER THEATRE (Third and Yamhill)—The Stuart Stock Company...

THE OREGONIAN'S HANDBOOK.
The Oregonian's Handbook tells all about Portland...

RECRUITING GOES ON SLOWLY.—The Seventh United States Infantry...

THOUSANDS NOT YET REGISTERED.
Registration of voters is progressing very slowly...

ADDITION TO SUNNYSIDE SCHOOL.—The plans and specifications for the six-room addition...

HARD TO FIND VIEWERS.—The selection of persons to act as viewers in the matter of opening and laying out streets...

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION.—The United States Civil Service Commission announces that on May 6 and 7 examinations will be held...

BACKLIVER ARREST.—Charles Maza, the well-known backdrifter, was arrested last night on a warrant issued by Municipal Judge Cameron...

HAD MANY VISITORS.—Three hundred and forty-six visitors called at the Oregon Historical Society rooms in the City Hall...

PHRENIANS TO GATHER.—The quarterly social and musical evening at 8 o'clock at the First Presbyterian Church...

DAILY RIVER EXCURSIONS TO OREGON CITY.—It is a delightful ride and costs $5 round trip...

IF YOU NEED ANYTHING IN UPHOLSTERY work or bedding, for reliable, up-to-date work...

FINE FLOWERS.—A large number of garden plants cheap, Burkhardt's, 21 & G.

FINE NEW CONCERT.—The Frederickstue Cafe and Music Hall presents an entire change of bill...

MANDOLIN SALE.—Twenty styles, standard makes, 25 per cent discount...

WHERE TO DINE.—Cleanliness, order, best of everything. Portland Restaurant, 306 Washington.

SMITH'S DANDRUFF CURE.—Positively cures dandruff, itching scalp, eczema, and spots falling hair...

A NEW RECIPE BOOK.—Walter Baker & Co., Ltd., Dorchester, Mass., the oldest and largest manufacturer...

MEETING OF CIVIC IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION.—A meeting of the Civic Improvement Association will be held at 7:30 this evening...

MEETING TOMORROW.—A meeting of the John Burroughs Society will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the parlors of the Unitarian Church...

DALE'S TIME CARD.—White Collar Line steamer from Fort Alder street daily, excepting Sunday at 7 A. M. for The Dalles and all Upper Columbia River points.

DR. TEL WILL GO FREE

NO CONCLUSIVE EVIDENCE THAT HE KILLED CHINESE WOMAN.
Possibly the Deed of a Highblinder, Employed by Some Person Whose Motives Are Not Clear.

Indications now are that Chinese desperado-highblinder murdered Mrs. Heung in the miserable shanty she occupied on Taylor street...

Several Chinamen in the Portland colony, who have been approached by the police and reporters for information...

It will be remembered that on the night of April 1, about 10:30 o'clock, Mrs. Lan Heung, whose husband is absent in China...

Now, Mrs. Lan Heung was a woman who had a large number of men friends, among whom were several wealthy Chinese...

The police are still of the opinion that Mrs. Heung was the possessor of a great many of their business secrets...

These Chinamen in the Portland colony, who have been approached by the police and reporters for information...

It will be remembered that on the night of April 1, about 10:30 o'clock, Mrs. Lan Heung, whose husband is absent in China...

Now, Mrs. Lan Heung was a woman who had a large number of men friends, among whom were several wealthy Chinese...

The police are still of the opinion that Mrs. Heung was the possessor of a great many of their business secrets...

These Chinamen in the Portland colony, who have been approached by the police and reporters for information...

It will be remembered that on the night of April 1, about 10:30 o'clock, Mrs. Lan Heung, whose husband is absent in China...

Now, Mrs. Lan Heung was a woman who had a large number of men friends, among whom were several wealthy Chinese...

The police are still of the opinion that Mrs. Heung was the possessor of a great many of their business secrets...

These Chinamen in the Portland colony, who have been approached by the police and reporters for information...

It will be remembered that on the night of April 1, about 10:30 o'clock, Mrs. Lan Heung, whose husband is absent in China...

Now, Mrs. Lan Heung was a woman who had a large number of men friends, among whom were several wealthy Chinese...

The police are still of the opinion that Mrs. Heung was the possessor of a great many of their business secrets...

These Chinamen in the Portland colony, who have been approached by the police and reporters for information...

It will be remembered that on the night of April 1, about 10:30 o'clock, Mrs. Lan Heung, whose husband is absent in China...

Now, Mrs. Lan Heung was a woman who had a large number of men friends, among whom were several wealthy Chinese...

The police are still of the opinion that Mrs. Heung was the possessor of a great many of their business secrets...

These Chinamen in the Portland colony, who have been approached by the police and reporters for information...

It will be remembered that on the night of April 1, about 10:30 o'clock, Mrs. Lan Heung, whose husband is absent in China...

Now, Mrs. Lan Heung was a woman who had a large number of men friends, among whom were several wealthy Chinese...

The police are still of the opinion that Mrs. Heung was the possessor of a great many of their business secrets...

These Chinamen in the Portland colony, who have been approached by the police and reporters for information...

It will be remembered that on the night of April 1, about 10:30 o'clock, Mrs. Lan Heung, whose husband is absent in China...

Now, Mrs. Lan Heung was a woman who had a large number of men friends, among whom were several wealthy Chinese...

The police are still of the opinion that Mrs. Heung was the possessor of a great many of their business secrets...

EDISON'S

New Process Records
For the Phonograph
We have just received one thousand of Mr. Edison's new process records...

GRAVES & CO.
Sixth Street, Near Washington.
Importers and Jobbers, General Music Dealers.
ALL THE LATE SHEET MUSIC.

1884
1902
Scowls
Are not becoming to age and are particularly unattractive in youth...

WALTER REED
The Optician
133 Sixth St., Oregonian Bldg.

Children
Bring your parents in Friday for your shoes.
A handsome present for you with every pair.

KNIGHT SHOE CO.
Fifth and Washington Sts.

DR. O. C. BLANEY
Room 207 Allisy Bldg.
Third and Morrison streets.
Special attention given to the treatment of RHEUMATISM by the application of Hot Air.

DR. SWAIN, Dentist,
Phone, Brown 482, 713 Dekum Bldg.

DR. E. C. BROWN EYE AND EAR DISEASES
Marquam Bldg., Room 625-6.

GODDARD-KELLY SHOE CO.
IN HIGH FAVOR
Our latest styles in ladies' and misses' shoes have won a high place in the opinion of wives and daughters—deservedly so.

OSTEOPATHY
(Dr. A. T. Still, 1874.)
The more you know of anatomy and physiology, the more you will enjoy the osteopathic physician. Consult.

DR. W. A. ROGERS
Of Dr. A. T. Still's School
Offices 532-533-534 Marquam Bldg.
Established 1899.

DR. GERTRUDE L. GATES
Only lady osteopath in Portland.
Consultation and literature free.
Phone Main 27.

OSTEOPATHY
DR. L. H. SMITH.
Of A. T. Still's School of Osteopathy, Kirksville, Mo.
Oldest Osteopath in Oregon.
Fourth year in Portland.
Consultation free at 409 Oregonian building.
Call or write for literature and references.
Phone Oak 421.
Lady assistant.

ST. HELEN'S HALL
SCHOOL FOR GIRLS
Offers full academic and college preparatory course, as well as thorough Primary and Intermediate instruction.
Music under the direction of Miss Eleanor Tebbetts, Principal.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of J. C. Watson

900 DROPS
CASTORIA
Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomach and Bowels of INFANTS CHILDREN

Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral. NOT NARCOTIC.

A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.

Fac-Simile Signature of J. C. Watson NEW YORK.

At 6 months old 35 Doses - 35 CENTS.

EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK, N. Y.

IT WAS BEFORE THE DAY OF SAPOLIO

THEY USED TO SAY "WOMAN'S WORK IS NEVER DONE."

NEW SPRING DRESS GOODS
UNPARALLELED BARGAINS TODAY
The assortment which we offer for sale today and tomorrow in fine black and colored French novelties for Spring and Summer comprises practically every desirable weave made on the two continents.

Black French Novelities
Silk Etamines, and silk and wool effects.
Black Peau de Soie in silk and wool.
Black French Silk Grenadines in plain and fancy, with velvet dots and silk velvet effects.
Black Victoria Cloth and Imported English Venetians from 97c to $3.47 a yard.

A full range of fine Black Silk Warp English Alpaca and English Mohairs.

Every Lady in Town
And in the great Northwest knows that we are leaders in fine dress goods. The world's best at the world's lowest retail price is our aim. We have labored for results and we are getting them.

McAlLEN & McDONNELL Third and Morrison.

THE OREGONIAN'S HANDBOOK

The Oregonian's Handbook tells all about Portland, the entire Columbia River watershed, and the 1905 World's Fair, commemorating the Lewis and Clark expedition to Oregon. The book contains over 150 handsome illustrations and is printed on an enameled book paper. It will be mailed to any address in the United States or Canada for 7 cents a copy.

RECRUITING GOES ON SLOWLY.—The Seventh United States Infantry, which has had headquarters at Vancouver since May, 1900, has been theoretically filled up to its full strength, and no more recruits will be sent to Vancouver for it, as all recruits enlisted in this region hereafter are to go to fill the seventeenth United States Infantry, which lately returned from the Philippines in a very depleted condition.

THOUSANDS NOT YET REGISTERED.—Registration of voters is progressing very slowly. County Clerk Sweland says that it is safe to estimate that about 6000 electors have not yet registered, and that these should do so as soon as possible. Only 18 persons registered yesterday. The books are all up to date, and there is an adequate force of clerks on hand, so people can register without delay. Registration closes May 15.

ADDITION TO SUNNYSIDE SCHOOL.—The plans and specifications for the six-room addition to the Sunnyside School building were submitted for the examination of contractors at the office of School Commissioner Allen yesterday afternoon. Bids for the work will probably be presented some time this week. The reason for letting this work first is the fact that it can be completed at once and the excavation and foundation completed before the end of the school year. The plans for an eight-room addition to the Woodlawn School and a six-room addition to the school at 10th and 11th streets will be ready for submission to contractors in a few days. Probably both these buildings will have to be moved a short distance. Architect Jones is of opinion that the Woodlawn School can be moved before the school closes, so that the excavation and foundations can be completed early in time to get an early start on the building.

HARD TO FIND VIEWERS.—The selection of persons to act as viewers in the matter of opening and laying out streets, or extensions of streets, is not so easy a matter as might be supposed. A man to be qualified to act as such viewer must swear that he has no property on the street to be laid out or extended, and also that he has no claim on any lot or property on said street. He must also be a freholder of the City of Portland and willing to serve. Many who are qualified do not care to serve, for no matter how much they may be paid, they try to do what is right, there is sure to be lots of complaining on the part of the property-owners on the street. The remuneration is sufficient to induce men to stand much unreasonable and unjust abuse.

REDDY'S SUMMER TRIP.—William Reddy, red-haired and muscular, was before Municipal Judge Cameron yesterday charged with begging at Second and Couch streets. "I didn't beg," observed Reddy. "I met a fellow that I had a quarrel with, and I was just about to give it to him when the policeman arrested me. Let me go, Judge, and I'll go to Alaska for the Summer." "You are certainly going far enough to escape the hot weather. Many people in the East would like to go to Alaska for the Summer, and can't," remarked the Judge. "I've no money, but I can work my way there," explained Reddy. He was allowed to go on the understanding that if he returned here he would be compelled to serve 30 days in jail.

TO BUILD NEW HOUSE.—G. W. Bates has the ground cleared off, and will at once commence the construction of four houses on his property at the northwest corner of Twenty-first and Davis streets, 100x108 feet. The houses will be of two stories each, and will cost something over $2000 apiece. He is also preparing to build a house to cost $4000 on Irving street, between Twenty-second and Twenty-third. As he had to dispose of his Albina water plant to the city, he finds himself with a lot of money on hand, and so has decided to invest a portion of it in building houses. He has no trouble in leasing or selling all the houses he can build nowadays.

CITY COUNCIL TOMORROW.—There appears but little prospect of any business of more than ordinary importance coming up at the meeting of the Common Council tomorrow. The plumbing ordinance is still lying around in some committee, or on "the table," and has apparently been forgotten. The judiciary committee has in its hands the proposition for tearing down the old Pavilion, and replacing it with a modern market building; but whether they will report on it or not is unknown. It has been predicted by some that a new project that the old building would some day burn up a lot of property around it.

TROLLEY CAR BREAKS AN AXLE.—One of the sales of a Mount Tabor car broke on Front street yesterday forenoon. The fracture showed that it had been broken half across for some time, the face of the broken part having been worn quite smooth. The wrecking car was elevated to the hand, the wrecked car was elevated, the truck taken out and a new axle inserted without any particular trouble to anybody, except probably people who may have missed it. The car was repaired in an hour and everything was going on as usual on the Mount Tabor line.

JOHN BARRETT TONIGHT.—John Barrett, ex-Minister to Siam, will lecture this evening in the parlors of the Commercial Club, before a joint session of the Chamber of Commerce and Credit Men's Association. His subject will be "Our Trade Relations with Asia." The lecture will begin at 8 o'clock, and a large attendance is expected. Refreshments will be served.

MEETING OF CIVIC IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION.—A meeting of the Civic Improvement Association will be held at 7:30 this evening in the Mining Exchange Hall in the Chamber of Commerce building. "Abatement of Public Nuisances" will be the subject to be discussed, and a full attendance is earnestly requested. The public generally is invited.

MEETING TOMORROW.—A meeting of the John Burroughs Society will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the parlors of the Unitarian Church, Seventh and Yamhill streets. A full attendance is desired.

DALE'S TIME CARD.—White Collar Line steamer from Fort Alder street daily, excepting Sunday at 7 A. M. for The Dalles and all Upper Columbia River points.

DR. TEL WILL GO FREE
NO CONCLUSIVE EVIDENCE THAT HE KILLED CHINESE WOMAN.
Possibly the Deed of a Highblinder, Employed by Some Person Whose Motives Are Not Clear.

Indications now are that Chinese desperado-highblinder murdered Mrs. Heung in the miserable shanty she occupied on Taylor street, near Third, on the night of April 1, and that they did the job for money paid by an enemy who wished the woman removed. It is true that the police arrested one of the best-known members of the powerful and rich Lee clan, Dr. Lee Poi Tel, on suspicion of being implicated in the woman's death. But those who have carefully studied the case say that no evidence has so far been discovered that Tel killed the woman, and that he is almost certain to be discharged when he appears before the grand jury. When questioned about the case yesterday, Chief of Police McLaughlin stated that nothing new had been discovered.

Several Chinamen in the Portland colony, who have been approached by the police and reporters for information as to the unfortunate woman's murderer, have invariably replied: "We find out and tell you tomorrow." Others who knew Heung profess not to have any acquaintance with the woman's murderer, "No name," and manifest terror at possible punishment in store for them when Heung reveals the name of the murderer. The mysterious Chinese who was seen to run from the Taylor street house, about two or three minutes before the fire was discovered. A well-known Chinaman who personally knows Heung, and yesterday named the Chinese family to which Tel belongs, and the answer came: "I don't know." Everybody around Chinatown manifests a strange reluctance to talk about the murder.

It will be remembered that on the night of April 1, about 10:30 o'clock, Mrs. Lan Heung, whose husband is absent in China, was found dead in the house on Taylor street, which had been set on fire to hide the evidence of the murder. The woman's throat was cut, nearly from ear to ear, and, in searching in the debris afterward, the detectives found the knife with which the deed had been committed. After he had been arrested, Dr. Tel said that he had gone to visit the woman shortly after 10 o'clock that night to give her medicine, and that, as he entered the house, he saw a strange Chinese man in the act of escaping from the place. Tel insists that he then went to the woman's room, and saw that she was dead, and that the house was on fire. The odor of coal-gas was apparent, he stated.

Now, Mrs. Lan Heung was a woman who had a large number of men friends, among whom were several wealthy Chinese. Dr. Lee Poi Tel seemed to be the favored, however, of the women's rivals jealous, especially as they knew from the nature of their acquaintance that Mrs. Heung was the possessor of a great many of their business secrets. Trouble came to her in the form of a rival's jealousy, especially as they knew from the nature of their acquaintance that Mrs. Heung was the possessor of a great many of their business secrets. Trouble came to her in the form of a rival's jealousy, especially as they knew from the nature of their acquaintance that Mrs. Heung was the possessor of a great many of their business secrets.

These Chinamen in the Portland colony, who have been approached by the police and reporters for information as to the unfortunate woman's murderer, have invariably replied: "We find out and tell you tomorrow." Others who knew Heung profess not to have any acquaintance with the woman's murderer, "No name," and manifest terror at possible punishment in store for them when Heung reveals the name of the murderer. The mysterious Chinese who was seen to run from the Taylor street house, about two or three minutes before the fire was discovered. A well-known Chinaman who personally knows Heung, and yesterday named the Chinese family to which Tel belongs, and the answer came: "I don't know." Everybody around Chinatown manifests a strange reluctance to talk about the murder.

It will be remembered that on the night of April 1, about 10:30 o'clock, Mrs. Lan Heung, whose husband is absent in China, was found dead in the house on Taylor street, which had been set on fire to hide the evidence of the murder. The woman's throat was cut, nearly from ear to ear, and, in searching in the debris afterward, the detectives found the knife with which the deed had been committed. After he had been arrested, Dr. Tel said that he had gone to visit the woman shortly after 10 o'clock that night to give her medicine, and that, as he entered the house, he saw a strange Chinese man in the act of escaping from the place. Tel insists that he then went to the woman's room, and saw that she was dead, and that the house was on fire. The odor of coal-gas was apparent, he stated.

Now, Mrs. Lan Heung was a woman who had a large number of men friends, among whom were several wealthy Chinese. Dr. Lee Poi Tel seemed to be the favored, however, of the women's rivals jealous, especially as they knew from the nature of their acquaintance that Mrs. Heung was the possessor of a great many of their business secrets. Trouble came to her in the form of a rival's jealousy, especially as they knew from the nature of their acquaintance that Mrs. Heung was the possessor of a great many of their business secrets.

These Chinamen in the Portland colony, who have been approached by the police and reporters for information as to the unfortunate woman's murderer, have invariably replied: "We find out and tell you tomorrow." Others who knew Heung profess not to have any acquaintance with the woman's murderer, "No name," and manifest terror at possible punishment in store for them when Heung reveals the name of the murderer. The mysterious Chinese who was seen to run from the Taylor street house, about two or three minutes before the fire was discovered. A well-known Chinaman who personally knows Heung, and yesterday named the Chinese family to which Tel belongs, and the answer came: "I don't know." Everybody around Chinatown manifests a strange reluctance to talk about the murder.

It will be remembered that on the night of April 1, about 10:30 o'clock, Mrs. Lan Heung, whose husband is absent in China, was found dead in the house on Taylor street, which had been set on fire to hide the evidence of the murder. The woman's throat was cut, nearly from ear to ear, and, in searching in the debris afterward, the detectives found the knife with which the deed had been committed. After he had been arrested, Dr. Tel said that he had gone to visit the woman shortly after 10 o'clock that night to give her medicine, and that, as he entered the house, he saw a strange Chinese man in the act of escaping from the place. Tel insists that he then went to the woman's room, and saw that she was dead, and that the house was on fire. The odor of coal-gas was apparent, he stated.

Now, Mrs. Lan Heung was a woman who had a large number of men friends, among whom were several wealthy Chinese. Dr. Lee Poi Tel seemed to be the favored, however, of the women's rivals jealous, especially as they knew from the nature of their acquaintance that Mrs. Heung was the possessor of a great many of their business secrets. Trouble came to her in the form of a rival's jealousy, especially as they knew from the nature of their acquaintance that Mrs. Heung was the possessor of a great many of their business secrets.

These Chinamen in the Portland colony, who have been approached by the police and reporters for information as to the unfortunate woman's murderer, have invariably replied: "We find out and tell you tomorrow." Others who knew Heung profess not to have any acquaintance with the woman's murderer, "No name," and manifest terror at possible punishment in store for them when Heung reveals the name of the murderer. The mysterious Chinese who was seen to run from the Taylor street house, about two or three minutes before the fire was discovered. A well-known Chinaman who personally knows Heung, and yesterday named the Chinese family to which Tel belongs, and the answer came: "I don't know." Everybody around Chinatown manifests a strange reluctance to talk about the murder.

It will be remembered that on the night of April 1, about 10:30 o'clock, Mrs. Lan Heung, whose husband is absent in China, was found dead in the house on Taylor street, which had been set on fire to hide the evidence of the murder. The woman's throat was cut, nearly from ear to ear, and, in searching in the debris afterward, the detectives found the knife with which the deed had been committed. After he had been arrested, Dr. Tel said that he had gone to visit the woman shortly after 10 o'clock that night to give her medicine, and that, as he entered the house, he saw a strange Chinese man in the act of escaping from the place. Tel insists that he then went to the woman's room, and saw that she was dead, and that the house was on fire. The odor of coal-gas was apparent, he stated.

Now, Mrs. Lan Heung was a woman who had a large number of men friends, among whom were several wealthy Chinese. Dr. Lee Poi Tel seemed to be the favored, however, of the women's rivals jealous, especially as they knew from the nature of their acquaintance that Mrs. Heung was the possessor of a great many of their business secrets. Trouble came to her in the form of a rival's jealousy, especially as they knew from the nature of their acquaintance that Mrs. Heung was the possessor of a great many of their business secrets.

These Chinamen in the Portland colony, who have been approached by the police and reporters for information as to the unfortunate woman's murderer, have invariably replied: "We find out and tell you tomorrow." Others who knew Heung profess not to have any acquaintance with the woman's murderer, "No name," and manifest terror at possible punishment in store for them when Heung reveals the name of the murderer. The mysterious Chinese who was seen to run from the Taylor street house, about two or three minutes before the fire was discovered. A well-known Chinaman who personally knows Heung, and yesterday named the Chinese family to which Tel belongs, and the answer came: "I don't know." Everybody around Chinatown manifests a strange reluctance to talk about the murder.

It will be remembered that on the night of April 1, about 10:30 o'clock, Mrs. Lan Heung, whose husband is absent in China, was found dead in the house on Taylor street, which had been set on fire to hide the evidence of the murder. The woman's throat was cut, nearly from ear to ear, and, in searching in the debris afterward, the detectives found the knife with which the deed had been committed. After he had been arrested, Dr. Tel said that he had gone to visit the woman shortly after 10 o'clock that night to give her medicine, and that, as he entered the house, he saw a strange Chinese man in the act of escaping from the place. Tel insists that he then went to the woman's room, and saw that she was dead, and that the house was on fire. The odor of coal-gas was apparent, he stated.

Now, Mrs. Lan Heung was a woman who had a large number of men friends, among whom were several wealthy Chinese. Dr. Lee Poi Tel seemed to be the favored, however, of the women's rivals jealous, especially as they knew from the nature of their acquaintance that Mrs. Heung was the possessor of a great many of their business secrets. Trouble came to her in the form of a rival's jealousy, especially as they knew from the nature of their acquaintance that Mrs. Heung was the possessor of a great many of their business secrets.

THE OREGONIAN'S HANDBOOK

The Oregonian's Handbook tells all about Portland, the entire Columbia River watershed, and the 1905 World's Fair, commemorating the Lewis and Clark expedition to Oregon. The book contains over 150 handsome illustrations and is printed on an enameled book paper. It will be mailed to any address in the United States or Canada for 7 cents a copy.

RECRUITING GOES ON SLOWLY.—The Seventh United States Infantry, which has had headquarters at Vancouver since May, 1900, has been theoretically filled up to its full strength, and no more recruits will be sent to Vancouver for it, as all recruits enlisted in this region hereafter are to go to fill the seventeenth United States Infantry, which lately returned from the Philippines in a very depleted condition.

THOUSANDS NOT YET REGISTERED.—Registration of voters is progressing very slowly. County Clerk Sweland says that it is safe to estimate that about 6000 electors have not yet registered, and that these should do so as soon as possible. Only 18 persons registered yesterday. The books are all up to date, and there is an adequate force of clerks on hand, so people can register without delay. Registration closes May 15.

ADDITION TO SUNNYSIDE SCHOOL.—The plans and specifications for the six-room addition to the Sunnyside School building were submitted for the examination of contractors at the office of School Commissioner Allen yesterday afternoon. Bids for the work will probably be presented some time this week. The reason for letting this work first is the fact that it can be completed at once and the excavation and foundation completed before the end of the school year. The plans for an eight-room addition to the Woodlawn School and a six-room addition to the school at 10th and 11th streets will be ready for submission to contractors in a few days. Probably both these buildings will have to be moved a short distance. Architect Jones is of opinion that the Woodlawn School can be moved before the school closes, so that the excavation and foundations can be completed early in time to get an early start on the building.

HARD TO FIND VIEWERS.—The selection of persons to act as viewers in the matter of opening and laying out streets, or extensions of streets, is not so easy a matter as might be supposed. A man to be qualified to act as such viewer must swear that he has no property on the street to be laid out or extended, and also that he has no claim on any lot or property on said street. He must also be a freholder of the City of Portland and willing to serve. Many who are qualified do not care to serve, for no matter how much they may be paid, they try to do what is right, there is sure to be lots of complaining on the part of the property-owners on the street. The remuneration is sufficient to induce men to stand much unreasonable and unjust abuse.

REDDY'S SUMMER TRIP.—William Reddy, red-haired and muscular, was before Municipal Judge Cameron yesterday charged with begging at Second and Couch streets. "I didn't beg," observed Reddy. "I met a fellow that I had a quarrel with, and I was just about to give it to him when the policeman arrested me. Let me go, Judge, and I'll go to Alaska for the Summer." "You are certainly going far enough to escape the hot weather. Many people in the East would like to go to Alaska for the Summer, and can't," remarked the Judge. "I've no money, but I can work my way there," explained Reddy. He was allowed to go on the understanding that if he returned here he would be compelled to serve 30 days in jail.

TO BUILD NEW HOUSE.—G. W. Bates has the ground cleared off, and will at once commence the construction of four houses on his property at the northwest corner of Twenty-first and Davis streets, 100x108 feet. The houses will be of two stories each, and will cost something over $2000 apiece. He is also preparing to build a house to cost $4000 on Irving street, between Twenty-second and Twenty-third. As he had to dispose of his Albina water plant to the city, he finds himself with a lot of money on hand, and so has decided to invest a portion of it in building houses. He has no trouble in leasing or selling all the houses he can build nowadays.

CITY COUNCIL TOMORROW.—There appears but little prospect of any business of more than ordinary importance coming up at the meeting of the Common Council tomorrow. The plumbing ordinance is still lying around in some committee, or on "the table," and has apparently been forgotten. The judiciary committee has in its hands the proposition for tearing down the old Pavilion, and replacing it with a modern market building; but whether they will report on it or not is unknown. It has been predicted by some that a new project that the old building would some day burn up a lot of property around it.

TROLLEY CAR BREAKS AN AXLE.—One of the sales of a Mount Tabor car broke on Front street yesterday forenoon. The fracture showed that it had been broken half across for some time, the face of the broken part having been worn quite smooth. The wrecking car was elevated to the hand, the wrecked car was elevated, the truck taken out and a new axle inserted without any particular trouble to anybody, except probably people who may have missed it. The car was repaired in an hour and everything was going on as usual on the Mount Tabor line.

JOHN BARRETT TONIGHT.—John Barrett, ex-Minister to Siam, will lecture this evening in the parlors of the Commercial Club, before a joint session of the Chamber of Commerce and Credit Men's Association. His subject will be "Our Trade Relations with Asia." The lecture will begin at 8 o'clock, and a large attendance is expected. Refreshments will be served.

MEETING OF CIVIC IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION.—A meeting of the Civic Improvement Association will be held at 7:30 this evening in the Mining Exchange Hall in the Chamber of Commerce building. "Abatement of Public Nuisances" will be the subject to be discussed, and a full attendance is earnestly requested. The public generally is invited.

MEETING TOMORROW.—A meeting of the John Burroughs Society will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the parlors of the Unitarian Church, Seventh and Yamhill streets. A full attendance is desired.

DALE'S TIME CARD.—White Collar Line steamer from Fort Alder street daily, excepting Sunday at 7 A. M. for The Dalles and all Upper Columbia River points.

DR. TEL WILL GO FREE
NO CONCLUSIVE EVIDENCE THAT HE KILLED CHINESE WOMAN.
Possibly the Deed of a Highblinder, Employed by Some Person Whose Motives Are Not Clear.

Indications now are that Chinese desperado-highblinder murdered Mrs. Heung in the miserable shanty she occupied on Taylor street, near Third, on the night of April 1, and that they did the job for money paid by an enemy who wished the woman removed. It is true that the police arrested one of the best-known members of the powerful and rich Lee clan, Dr. Lee Poi Tel, on suspicion of being implicated in the woman's death. But those who have carefully studied the case say that no evidence has so far been discovered that Tel killed the woman, and that he is almost certain to be discharged when he appears before the grand jury. When questioned about the case yesterday, Chief of Police McLaughlin stated that nothing new had been discovered.