General Davis' Expedition Is Not Stopped

BY GOVERNOR TAFT'S ADVICE

Chaffee Is Allowed to Use His Own Discretion in Punishing the Murderers of American Soldiers.

WASHINGTON, April 23.-The War Department today made public the cable cor-respondence which has taken place up to ecting the Moro outbreak in The important feature of the correspondence is the closing chapter, wing that General Davis' is not arbitrarily stopped, but that General Chaffee is allowed to exercise his discretion. It is believed that the pres-ence of Governor Taft in Washington is explanation of the President's direction that General Chaffee shall confer with the acting head of the Philippine

The correspondence begins with the cablegram given out last week, dated Manila, April 15, in which General Chaffee recites the killing of the first American soldier near Malabang, and the forming of an expedition under Baidwin to ar-rest the murderers. In answer to this, the following dispatch was sent:

"Washington, D. C., April 20, 1902.—Gen-eral Chaffee, Manila.—Expedition ordered under Baidwin will not leave coast until you hear from here. This will not, how-ever, interfere with completion of prepa-rations. CORBIN."

On April 22, the following cablegram was sent General Chaffee: "Chaffee, Manila.—The President is anxious that no expedition be made against Mores until all efforts by negotiations have been exhausted. To this end he desires that you confer freely with the acting Civil Governor. In the event the force has to be sent, he directs that it go under the immediate command of go under the immediate command of of general Davis. The President will give you all support, but desires exercise of great care and prudence. If possible, avoid by all honorable means general war.

CORBIN."

Chaffee, Manlin.-With reference to previous cables on subject, it has been suggested to the President that possibly surrender of the Moro murderers might be effected by instrumentality of friendly Datos. President desires this considere conference with Wright, and to have surance every honorable peaceful remedy has been exhausted. CORBIN." General Chaffee responded to the last cablegram by the dispatch given out at the White House last night and published this morning, stating that to withdraw all the American forces would ruin our prestige; to withdraw part of the forces would be dangerous. To this statement the following response was made today:

"Washington, April 23, 1992.—Chaffee, Manila.—Your cable of yesterday has been submitted by Acting Secretary of War to the President who directs that you keen the President, who directs that you keep in mind the President's orders, but, of course, do nothing that will impair our prestige or in any way imperii the Army.

If after the expiration of the time named in your proclamation, and after all possible, diplomatic and friendly methods have been exhausted, your demand for the Moro murderers has not been met, you will act upon the lines that in your judgment will best serve to bring peace and order in the islands of Mindanao. "CORBIN."

ATTITUDE TOWARD MOROS.

General Davis' Instructions to His

Troops. WASHINGTON, April 23.-Peculiar interest attaches to a report just made pub-lie by General Corbin from Brigadier-General Davis, commanding the Seventh It was in Mindanao that General Davis' troops recently came in collision with the Moros. General Davis' instructions to his troops as to the attitude to be observed by them toward the Moros sald: "Mindanao and Jolo have now been occupied by the United States more than two years, and during that time there has been no overt act or resistance against our by Moros or other non-Chris-But in some regions, it is said, the inhabitants wish to remain isolated and to exclude visits of Americans. 'During explorations and operations in the territory occupied by non-Christian tribes the brigade commander enjoins that the greatest prudence be observed by all concerned to avoid a conflict with these tribes, all of whom are now peaceful. To this end he directs that messengers be sent well in advance of all expeditionary forces or scouting parties to inform the inhabitants of the coming of troops on a peaceful mission of exploration and ob-pervation. By the observance of this policy and the employment of native run-ners and guides, detailed by datos and chiefs, peaceable entrance into and the establishing of posts in the territory which has heretofore been closed to our people will, it is believed, easily be effected,

"The brigade commander wishes to em-ploy of such of the laborers as the Army may need, to establish market places, to impress upon the natives the fact that the taking and selling of slaves is forbidden by our laws, and to inform those who, from Spanish times, have been holding staves, and those who are held as slaves that the United States does not recognize the right of any man to own another, and that those who wish to leave their masters will be protected against recapture and forcible return to bondage."

Officers are especially directed to treat the Mores kindly, and not to interfere with their customs. The instructions con-

MORE ALLEGED BARBARITIES. Ex-Privates Tell of Applications of the Water Cure and a Murder. LYNN, Mass., April 23.—Two Lynn men, William Labell and Albert W. Betrand, formerly privates in Company D, Twentysixth Regiment, U. S. V., have sent to Senator Lodge a statement of instances of the application of the water cure in the Philippines, that came under their observation. Bertrand was clerk of Company D and regimental clerk at headquarters while the regiment was sta-tioned at Panay. Lambell says that while at Aniiao three natives were treated by Company D in a Catholic church to the cure and during the Summer of 1900, while the United States forces were about three miles from Es-tancia, the same company captured three natives and gave them the water cure. After the men had been filled with water, blood came from their eyes and ears.

Bertrand has furnished Senator Lodge with particulars of the alleged disap-pearance and killing of Father Augustin, a Catholic priest at Bolo. He says that it was reported that Father Augustin knew where insurgent gold was buried. Men from Company D captured him in December and dressed him in the uniform of the United States Artillery. He then was taken to Bano, and kept in a well. He refused to tell where the gold was buried and the night of December 9 he was taken to a house formerly occupied by the president of the village. Upon his arrival there, Bert-rand says, the water cure was given him by the water cure squad. The men proceeded to get nearly all the water out of him, but he did not revive. The men became frightened and a surgewas sent for. His services proved un-successful and Bertrand says the priest died. Some of the men were sworn to secrecy and the body was buried in a plot of land used by the troops as a base ball ground. Bertrand says a non-com-missioned officer was seen with the priest's watch and chain and when a nanding officer learned this, were turned over to him. Bertrand gives the names of the men taking part and also refers to several officers.

According to Labell, when Company D was out on the "hike," while stationed at Dungas in July, 1906, the men were ordered to burn everything and see that no grown person escaped. This, Labell says, the men proceeded to do. Labell and Bertrand say that while at Dungas the soldiers came to a hut where a native woman had just given birth to a child. The husband was made a prisoner and the woman and child were dragged from the hut and left on the ground The native shack was then burned, but Labell and Bertrand do not know what became of the woman and child.

BANKRUPT'S CREDITORS.

New York Supreme Court Defines Their Status.

NEW YORK, April 22.-Justice Fitzgerald, in the Supreme Court, has signed an order setting forth the rights of the various creditors of a bankrupt brokerage firm. The ruling will be of interest to stock exchanges throughout the country. The contest was between those creditors who were members of the Stock Exchange (and as such the court said that they were entitled to the pro rata amount on their full claims in the distribution of the gen-eral assets of the firm in addition to what they received from the proceeds from the sale of the firm's seat on the exchange) and those creditors who were not members of the exchange, and declared that the amounts received from the sale of the seats should be deducted from their claims before they were proved to the assignee.

Justice Fitzgerald decided that the Stock Exchange creditors were entitled to recover all they could on their full claims from the general assets of an assigned firm, and in addition were entitled under the rules of the exchange to share in the proceeds of the sale of the seat of an assigned member, provided that the total recovered by any creditor from the two funds did not exceed the total of his claim. He further ruled that not only were members entitled to share in the proceeds of the sale of a seat if they were creditors of a member who had made an assignment, but that the firms of which one partner was a member were entitled to share in the proceeds of the sale of the seat of a member who was indebted to Great Milling Case Near on End. NEW YORK, April 23.-Application having been made in chancery chambers, Jersey City, by the reorganization committee of the United States Flour Mill Company, for the discharge of the receivers of the Hecker-Jones-Jewell Milling Company, one of the constituent proper-ties of the old United States Company, it is believed, says the Journal of Com-merce, that the long litigation over the reorganization of the United States Company is drawing to a close.

The Standard Milling Company was organized about a year ago to succeed the United States Company, and it is now intimated that it may begin business in earnest about May 1. The application for the discharge contains a statement by the receivers of the Hecker-Jones-Jewell Company, which shows a trading profit for the period from February 26, 1900, to October 31, 1901, of about $717,000.

Decision in Lajoie Case. PHILADELPHIA, April 23.—President Benjamin F. Shibe, of the Philadelphia American League Club, after consultation with the club's attorneys, relative to the Supreme Court's decision in the Lajoie case, said:
"The option of the Supreme Court in the Lajoie case applied only to Lajoie and has no reference to any other player, The court holds, upon the testimony which was submitted by the plaintiff alone, that Lajole is an extraordinary ballplayer, whose services cannot be replaced, and it is because of the extraordinary character of his abilities that the decision of the Court of Common Pleas has been reversed. Before an injunction can be se-cured against him or any other player, it will be necessary to prove that such play-er possesses the extraordinary abilities which are laid down as the basis of the Supreme Court decision other words, this decision canno cover the case of any other ballplayer in the country. Each case will stand upor its own particular facts, and it is absure to suppose that the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania or any other state will restrain an ordinary ballplayer, even as suming that it might restrain Lajoie."

Baseball Litigation.

ST. LOUIS, April 23.-Proceedings were brought in the Circuit Court today by attorneys representing Frank DeHass Robison, of the St. Louis National League Baseball Club, to restrain Harper, Wal-lace and Heidrick from playing with the American League St. Louis team. The cases against Harper and Wallace were brought up before Judge Talty, and that of Heidrick before Judge Fisher. Judge Talty postponed the hearing until next Monday, while Judge Fisher refused to issue a temporary injunction against Heidrick, ordering that player to appear in court temorrow morning and show cause why a restraining order should not be issued. In his petition asking for injunction President Robison states that Harper signed in 1901 to play with the St. Louis National League Club at a salary of $2500 a year, and that Wallace and Heidrick signed each in 1900 a two years' contract for $2400 a year. The last two named had each been paid $800 bonus, which the peti-tion related, is still retained by them.
