

MR. FURNISH'S PLAN

Candidate Will Visit All the Principal Towns.

REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN PLANS

First Reception to the Next Governor Will Be at Salem Tomorrow—Democrats Start Out on Their "Cyclone" Tour.

Democrats will undertake to launch a cyclone campaign to overcome the great Republican majority in the state. They must resort to heroic measures, as their only possible chance of success, Republicans estimate, will depend largely on organization and thorough and careful canvassing of voters.

Republicans in nearly all the larger towns in Oregon have readily responded to W. J. Furnish, Republican nominee for Governor, asking him to visit them as early as his convenience will permit.

Mr. Furnish intended visiting Salem a week ago, but he took a severe cold and was threatened with a siege of the grip.

a delegate to the state convention and worked hard for the nomination of Geer for Governor. He was disappointed also in the outcome of this effort. This is the way he expresses his intentions in the coming campaign: "So far as Woodburn is concerned, my observations lead me to say that the Republicans in that part of the county will work unitedly and harmoniously for the Republican ticket and every man on it. That is the feeling generally expressed. Personally, I shall do all in my power to help the ticket from now until the close of the polls on election day. If anybody has a right to feel sore, I have, but I am not feeling that way. Even if I were disposed to get even with my opponent in my own party convention I would not do so by knitting the men who were nominated. I would not want them to knife me and my friends if we had been successful. Besides, looking at it from the narrowest view, what has a Republican to gain by voting for a Democrat? The Democrat, if elected, would claim it as his victory, and Republicans could never expect anything from him. But I do not look at that side of the question. I went into the convention to help name a ticket. The ticket was named and I decided to support it and it is my ticket and I am going to support it."

Democrats were busy at their headquarters yesterday, getting ready for the campaign. A meeting of the citizens' managing committee was to have been held yesterday afternoon, but it was postponed for the reason that the business in hand had not reached the proper stage of progress in the more secret councils of the "party." The nature of the business was not disclosed, but it probably related to the selection of an indorsement at the Senate to succeed Senator Inman. The Citizens' managing committee will open headquarters in a few days on the second floor of the Worcester block, at the corner of Third and Oak streets. Chairman Miller Murdock and Secretary W. N. Gatens will be in charge of the rooms. Alex Sweek, chairman of the Democratic executive committee, will spend a part of each day at the Citizens' headquarters, but will be found most of the time at his own office or at the state headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce building. A meeting of the Democratic county central committee will be held tomorrow evening.

The managing committee of the Republican state campaign held a meeting at headquarters last evening. Opinions regarding the general features of the campaign were exchanged, but no final conclusions were reached. The committee adjourned until next Monday evening, when it is probable that definite plans will be outlined. The general opinion expressed last night was that the campaign of the state should be short—probably covering a period of two weeks, closing on the Saturday evening before election.

TO RUN GEER FOR SENATOR.

Petition in Police Circles Wants His Name on Ballot.

A petition was extensively circulated in police circles yesterday seeking to have the name of Governor Geer placed on the ballot for the coming June election of the year 1903, he representing the principles of the Republican party, and respectfully petition that his name be placed upon the official ballot to be furnished for said election, in the manner provided by law, to be voted for as our choice for Republican United States Senator in Congress. We represent that we are qualified electors of the State of Oregon, and that our respective places of residence are truly set opposite our names; that the place of residence of the Hon. T. T. WHERE MAYOR ROWE STANDS.

He's a Republican, He Says, and So Is His Administration. Mayor Rowe, although he declines to discuss the political situation on the ground that he is out of politics, is having no picnic, as he has to stand a whole lot of saying and jesting from friends who are not out of politics. Some half a dozen of these were joking the Mayor at the City Hall yesterday, and letting on that they had been reliably informed that he and other city officials were fusionists. The Mayor, who is rather "apt at repartee," remarked: "I am aware that some say that the Mayor and the city administration are fusionists. We were elected by the Republicans, are holding office as Republicans, and, while most of us are out of politics, we are all Republicans."

"Well, that is about as definite as can be expected from one out of politics," said one of the jokers; "but how about the graft?" Some insist that as you are Mayor, and control all the city departments, you must be getting a divvy from the grafting that is going on."

This evidently rather nettled the Mayor, who replied rather sharply: "I have no control over the Police Department, any more than any other individual. It is an absolutely independent department, but, if there is any grafting going on, I would stop it if I had control, as a Mayor should have, and as the Mayor will have under the new charter."

The Mayor was not aware that the conversation was heard by any one but the friends who were joking him, or he would probably not have been so explicit in his statements. He has uniformly declined to be interviewed in regard to the subjects mentioned.

GOOD WORK IN DOUGLAS COUNTY.

T. J. Cleeton Back From an Early Campaign Tour.

T. J. Cleeton returned yesterday from Douglas County, where he has been campaigning in the interests of the Republican state ticket. He spoke at Canyonville, Riddle, Myrtle Creek and Drain, and reports much Republican enthusiasm at each meeting. Speaking of his trip yesterday, Mr. Cleeton said: "I reached Roseburg Sunday evening, and on Monday, accompanied by State Senator A. C. Marsters, and a number of the county candidates, drove to Canyonville, where we have under the new charter."
