THE OREGONIAN'S HANDBOOK.

The Oregonian's Handbook tells all about Portland, the entire Columbia River watershed and the 1905 World's Fair, commemorative of the Lewis and Clark expedition to Oregon. The book contains over 150 handsome illustrations, and it is printed on enameled book paper. It will be mailed to any address in the United States or Canada for 7 cents a copy.

TIME FOR STREET SPRINKLERS.—The city authorities will soon be negotiating with the street railway companies to operate sprinkling cars on the streets over which cars are run—in the business part of the city, at least. There is so much hauling of earth from excavations, and hauling of building material, and building up and tearing down going on that notwithstanding the efforts of the Street-Cleaning Department the streets are more lavishly supplied with material for dust than usual, and a big electric car traveling rapidly kicks up behind it a trail of dust like that which follows an overland train across an alkali region. The cushions in these cars soon look like those of a palace car at the end of a trip across the continent. The laying of this dust will be especially grateful to patrons of the street railways, and a comfort to the public generally. The railway companies have always made their charges for operating sprinkler cars as light as possible, and will doubtless do the same this season. It is to be hoped that these electric sprinklers will soon be in operation.

PROGRESS ON RICHARDSON'S EXCAVATION.—The excavation for the basement of T. M. Richardson's brick building at Third and Salmon is progressing rapidly and is now so deep that it has become necessary to have a donkey engine to aid the teams in hauling the wagon-loads of earth up into the street. The building is to have three stores on the ground floor, two fronting on Third and one on Salmon street, and three stories above to be fitted up for an apartment house. The building has not yet been leased, but Mr. Richardson says he has had a score of applications from persons desirous of renting the upper part of the building. Apartment houses are in great demand, especially if centrally located, and there are several clusters of old shacks which are a disgrace to the city and bring their owners small returns which, if replaced by apartment houses, would yield a return of 15 per cent on the outlay.

IMPROVEMENTS AT SEASIDE.—N. C. Oviatt, who returned yesterday from a trip to Seaside, reports many improvements in progress. A stock company in which S. J. Hubbard, Mr. Zeller and others are interested is building a bath-house 50x100 on the bluff overlooking the beach, between Grimes' Hotel and the Butterfield cottage. It will contain a swimming pool, porcelain bathtubs and hot and cold shower appliances. Pipes are being laid to the ocean and machinery put in to pump the water. The structure is expected to be completed by June 15. The new dancing pavilion near the railroad depot is almost finished. It is a two-story building, and besides the dancing hall will contain a dining-room, bowling alley, dressing-rooms for ladies, which will be supplied with looking-glasses, chairs, tables and hot and cold water. A number of cottages are being erected.

IMPROVEMENT AT THIRD AND YAMHILL.—The intersection of Third and Yamhill streets is in better condition since the new crossing of seven-inch grooved rail was put down there by the City & Suburban Railway Company than it has been for years. The street has not been paved up to the tracks yet, but the spaces between the tracks have been filled with crushed rock and a dressing of rock screenings put in. The surface is as smooth as possible and level with the tracks, and vehicles are driven over the crossing without danger or difficulty. When the seven-inch rails have been laid on Third street and the pavement has been repaired up to them the improvement will be a benefit and pleasure to everybody.

NATIVE SONS' PICNIC AT CHAMPOEG.—The members of Matthieu's Cabin, No. 12, Native Sons of Oregon, are planning to give a basket picnic at Champoeg on Friday, May 2, at the site of the monument which was placed in position May 2 of last year. Governor Geer will be president of the day, with Robert A. Miller, Oregon City; Judge J. H. D. Gray, Astoria, and E. Hardesty, Silverton, vice-presidents. B. B. Beekman, of Portland, E. A. Reames, of Jacksonville, and J. H. Townsend, of Polk County, will give addresses. A good time is expected, and a cordial invitation is extended to all to visit this historic spot where the first civil government on the Pacific Coast was born 59 years ago.

E. W. MOORE TO BUILD.—E. W. Moore, the photographer, is building a residence at East Seventeenth and East Ankeney on a fine location. He has been a resident of the city for 20 years and has at last decided to settle down and remain here permanently, and has pitched his tent in what he considers the finest neighborhood outside of a lot of others "just as good," as dealers say when they do not have the article asked for.

CALF CONDEMNED BY BAILEY.—Dairy and Food Commissioner Bailey yesterday condemned a slaughtered calf that he found in a Front-street market. The calf was only four days old when killed. He had it sent to the city crematory. The law declares "Any calf that has been slaughtered under the age of four weeks shall be deemed and declared unclean, impure and unwholesome."

THE UNDERSIGNED will receive sealed bids for the stock of merchandise, consisting of staple groceries, located at No. 45 North Sixth street, Portland, Or., together with the fixtures pertaining to the same, until 12 o'clock noon, Friday, April 25. Inventory and inspection of the stock can be had on application. R. L. Sabin, Front and Ankeny streets, Portland, Or.*

A SMALL FIRE.—There was an alarm of fire sent out from box No. 26 shortly after 7 o'clock last night for a slight blaze at George Ainslie & Co.'s planing mill, Fifteenth and Pettygrove streets.

TRINITY CHURCH SITE.—It has been decided to divide this property and entertain offers for separate lots as may be desired. F. V. Andrews & Co. have been appointed exclusive agents.

A CHINAMAN'S TROUBLES.—Lee Sing, a Chinese tailor, attended the Municipal Court yesterday to tell how Jonathan Tice, a stalwart teamster, had assaulted him. "He call me name, and kick me t'lee times. He knock me in mud and I lun away," explained Lee Sing. Tice explained that he and the Chinaman got into difficulty over a debt the latter owed. "He grabbed me first, Judge," stated Tice, pointing to Lee Sing. "He called me names and threw me in the mud. My measure is in that mud yet. You can see it for yourself. I bear the marks of the Chinaman's assault, yet. Look here," and before he could be prevented he removed various portions of his clothing in court. A young man named J. Cutney testified: "I have known Tice one week. I saw the Chinaman attack him, and I did not see Tice kick the Chinaman." Attorney Ditchburn, who represented Lee Sing, said: "You are the young man I saw yesterday, are you not? What made you say that you did not know anything about this, and would not testify in favor of any d— Chink?" "When you told me you were a lawyer I made up my mind to give you a jolly, and tell you nothing. But I'm here on the witness stand and I've sworn to tell the truth. That's different," replied the witness. The case was continued.

MORE SMALLPOX CASES.—Miss Castles, keeper of a boarding-house near Portsmouth, was found to be afflicted with smallpox yesterday and was taken to the pesthouse. It is supposed that she contracted the disease from one of the laborers on the St. Johns railroad, as smallpox was quite prevalent among them a short time ago. Ida B. Mathige, at 276 Sixth street, was taken sick on Wednesday and exhibited symptoms of smallpox. Examination yesterday resulted in her being sent to the pesthouse. A case of supposed smallpox was reported yesterday from near the Gratton place, on the Milwaukie road, and City Physician Zan went out to examine the patient. Owing to the enforcement of quarantine and the fumigation of all infected premises, the number of cases of smallpox found in the city has been greatly reduced of late, and there are now only 12 cases in the pesthouse, instead of 25, as was the case a few weeks ago.

DEATH OF LOUIS E. PICKERING.—Louis E. Pickering, the son of William and Margaret Pickering, of this city, died at New Orleans, La., April 7, aged 27 years. At the breaking out of the Spanish-American War, Louis was attending Stanford University, where he was showing much talent in literature. As soon as the call was issued for troops he left the university, returned to Oregon, his native state, enlisted as a private in Company H, Second Oregon Volunteers, and served with the regiment through its campaigns. During his service he contracted the disease which finally caused his death. He was buried in a New Orleans cemetery. His father, mother and three brothers survive him.

WOMEN OF WOODCRAFT GIVE RECEPTION.—The members of the Portland circles of the Women of Woodcraft tendered a reception to their visiting grand officers in the hall in the Selling-Hirsch building yesterday afternoon. The reception was attended by a great many members of the order and proved to be evry enjoyable to all. The visiting officers were: Mrs. C. C. Van Orsdall, of Pendleton, grand guardian; Mrs. J. L. Wright, of Leadville, Colo., grand clerk; Mrs. Anna Hawkins, of Toledo, Or., Mrs. Cora Wilson, of Pullman, Wash., Mrs. P. P. Pardellian, of Seattle, and Mrs. Dr. Pollock, grand managers, and Mrs. May Hurley, grand banker.

INJURED A LITTLE GIRL.—C. A. Miller, about 35 years old, was arrested yesterday by Policeman Tichenor, on the complaint of George Held, charged with injuring a 4-year-old girl at Park and Burnside streets. The prisoner stated he was drinking at the time and did not clearly know what he did. The case was continued to enable the police to look up his record.

AT WORK ON THE DRIVE.

Gang of Men Begins Labor of Widening Riverside.

A gang of men went out yesterday to pitch camp for the force to be employed in widening and improving the White House road. The camp was located just below the cemetery, and Smyth & Howard will commence work on their contract today with all the men they can procure, and will maintain a large force on the work until it is completed.

Deputy County Surveyor Baker was at work on the road yesterday, giving grades and marking the boundaries of the improvement. This will consist of increasing the width of the road by an addition of 40 feet, practically on the west side, but varying where curves are to be straightened. This will necessitate some cuts and some fills, and the laying of considerable drain pipe, and also the moving back of several buildings at Fulton and Midway—the old "Halfway House."

The road is for the greater part of its length only 40 feet wide, and the proposed widening will make a great improvement in connection with the straightening of curves and the grading of slight rises or bumps, to the general level. The completion of this work will give the city the fine pleasure drive so long needed, and the members of the Multnomah Driving Association, who have spent so much money and worked so hard to secure such a pleasure drive, will be rejoiced, and will look hopefully forward to the time when there will be a bridge across the river at Milwaukie, and a similar pleasure drive down the east bank of the river. The first thing tourists and visitors to the city ask their friends as soon as fine weather arrives, is, "Where is your drive? We wish to go out for a ride." And it has been necessary to say: "We have none. But we are going to have one."

CARD TO THE PUBLIC.

Why Don't You Register?

Registration is still progressing slowly, and the clerks are not kept very busy. Now is a good time for persons who have not registered to do so, as it can be done without delay. The office is open all day and during the noon hour. County voters may register by making an affidavit before a Notary Public.

AMUSEMENTS.

Williams and Walker Make a Hit at the Marquam.

If all darky shows were comparable with that which Williams and Walker brought to the Marquam last night there would be less talk of the passing of that form of amusement. Never in Portland has a better company of colored funmakers been seen, and never but once, when the first Black Patti troupe toured the West, six years ago, has there been a company that approached in merit that which supports the two clever stars who entertained a big house so satisfactorily.

The show is new in music, in general get-up, in costumes, in fact, in everything. Of the 20 or 30 numbers which make up the programme, not one is old, and not one is dull. The voices are surprisingly good, particularly those of the men, and every concerted number is put on with a vim and spirit that set an example to be followed with profit by many comic-opera organizations. Add to such unusual attractions as these a company of comely mulatto women, some actors who really can act, and two such stars as Williams and Walker, supported by Ida Overton-Walker, and you have an entertainment that is worth while, without reference to the race color or previous condition of servitude of the entertainers.

Both Williams and Walker had plenty of chance to be funny last night, and both improved it to the limit. Williams, with his rag-time mouth and unctuous fashion of singing a coon song, and Walker, with his nimble feet and sunshiny teeth, made separate and collective hits, and were kept on the stage beyond the very liberal allowance of time which has been given them in writing the skit. Miss Walker sang two songs, "Hannah of Savannah" and "The Leading Lady," with a humor and cleverness that may well be envied by many of her lighter-hued professional sisters, and their reception showed that in the eyes of the audience she was as much of a favorite as either of the stars.

The remainder of the company, which includes a dozen or two speaking characters and a large chorus of both men and women, is all that is needed, which is saying a good deal. The costumes are handsome, and in good taste, and the scenery is unusually elaborate and plentiful.

Williams and Walker will be at the Marquam the rest of the week, with a matinee Saturday.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

"Hazel Kirke" at the Baker.

"Hazel Kirke," one of the most successful plays ever written, will be presented at the Baker Theater next Sunday afternoon, to run the entire week. After the success attained during the past two weeks by Mr. Stuart and his company, no one will question that this beautiful play will be given in a manner that will carry old playgoers back to the days when C. W. Couldock and Effie Ellsler were touring the country playing to capacity at every performance. Mr. Frank Sheridan will assume the difficult role of Dunstan Kirke, the stern, iron-willed miller. This is really the first time that Mr. Sheridan has had an opportunity to show his great ability as a character actor. Mr. Stuart will be seen as Pittacus Green, the light, rollicking, comedy part, which gives Mr. Stuart opportunity to show his versatility. Jumping from the serious lead into a light comedy part is something which few actors can do. Hazel Kirke, the name part in the play, will give Miss Elizabeth Stewart a chance to show her emotional ability, this being utterly unlike the part of Polly, which she is playing in "The Lost Paradise." As Pittacus Green says in the play, "Dear, delicious, delightful Dolly Dutton" will be in the capable hands of Miss Catherine Countiss. The remainder of the cast will receive careful attention. The scenery and accessories will be perfect in every detail.

Repertoire of Frank Cooley Company.

Commencing Sunday evening the Cooley Company, headed by Mr. Frank Cooley, assisted by capable artists, will open an engagement producing a number of standard plays by well-known authors. The repertoire for the week follows:

Sunday, April 27, Milton Noble's famous drama, "From Sire to Son," an elaborate production, replete with excellent comedy and startling situations; Monday, April 28, Henry Guy Carleton's charming comedy, "The Butterflies," made famous by Maud Adams and John Drew; Tuesday, April 29, Sol Smith Russell's great comedy, "Peaceful Valley"; Wednesday, April 30, "The Mouth of the Cannon," a story of life in New Mexico, by H. D. Cottrell—a story full of comedy and pathos.

Sale of Seats for E. S. Willard.

The sale of seats will open tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock for E. S. Willard, who begins a five nights' engagement at the Marquam Grand Theater next Tuesday night, April 29, presenting "The Cardinal," by Louis N. Parker, the author of "Rosemary." Wednesday, Thursday, Friday night and Saturday matinee, "The Professor's Love Story," by J. M. Barrie, author of "The Little Minister"; Saturday evening, "David Garrick," by T. W. Robertson. Cardinal Giovanni de Medici, the central figure in "The Cardinal," afterward became Pope Leo X. He was the second son of Lorenzo de Medici, called "the Magnificent," and was born at Florence, December 11, 1475.

FARMERS GROW RICH.

Market Consumes All Their Products and Wants More.

Commission men, market men and caterers all combine to rail at the honest farmer these days. They say he is waxing fat and becoming rich and haughty, and while they admit that "the farmer feeds us all," they asseverate that he wants to "take all we have for feeding us and then does not furnish what we want and are willing to pay for." The long abused farmer has been having "the long end" for some time, and is getting high prices for everything he has to sell. He is getting 1½ cents per pound for his potatoes, $2 50 a box for his apples. Hay and oats are "way up," eggs bring 16 cents per dozen, and hogs 7½ cents per pound. As for poultry, it is out of sight in every sense. Little down-headed chickens, called Spring broilers, five or six weeks old, sell for from $4 to $6 per dozen. Ordinary "chickens" bring $4 50 to $7 per dozen, and a Fourth-street market man said with tears in his eyes that a farmer drove up to his place a day or two ago with 34 Plymouth rock hens in his wagon and received in exchange for them $19 85, almost $10 per dozen. They were bought by the pound at that. The same dealer said he had been importing turkeys from the East all the Spring, and had paid high prices for tons of them, and pointing to some barrels being landed on the sidewalk, said: "There are 30 dozen of Spring chickens all the way from Missouri, and they will weigh 1½ pounds apiece—fit for frying, and they are fresh killed, too, which the best Spring chickens that can be got here do not weigh half a pound. There were no turkeys or chickens to put in cold storage last Fall, not half enough to supply the demand. Why don't the farmers get a move on them and raise enough poultry to supply this market?"

Commission men talk in much the same strain and blame the farmers for not supplying the demands of the market. The city has been growing so fast that the demand for most kinds of farm produce is away ahead of the supply. Of course, a great deal of such produce is bought up by agents for the Sound cities, and for Alaska, and shipped right past Portland. The Willamette Valley is the great source of supply for farm products for a vast and growing territory, Tacoma and Seattle and towns all the way north to Dawson look to the broad and fertile Willamette Valley for supplies, and Portland has to import poultry from Missouri, as well as salmon from the Sacramento. This condition of things is to continue and be intensified during the coming years, and the farmers of the Willamette Valley and their wives and daughters might as well realize the fact and devote more time and labor to raising poultry, cattle, pigs, butter, cheese, fruit and potatoes, for they have the world for a market.

EDISON'S

New Process Records For the Phonograph

We have just received one thousand of Mr. Edison's new process wax records for the phonograph. The records are much louder, clearer and more distinct than the old records. The new molded record is, in fact, a master record. There is no longer any of that detestable squeaky sound. It will pay you to come and hear them. Visitors always welcome. Mr. Edison has also invented a new speaker, known as the reproducer. It reproduces much louder and clearer.

TO START MILK FACTORY

Eastern Capitalists Seek Site for Condensing Plant in Oregon.

C. W. Nieman, of Schuyler, Neb., is in town, looking for a site for a condensed milk factory. His brother, W. F. Nieman, and C. T. Rogers, a manufacturer of condensed milk machinery, will arrive in the city in a few days to join in the quest for a location. All are strongly impressed with the advantages that Oregon offers for an industry they mean to establish.

C. W. Nieman said last night that he and his brother are prepared to invest $50,000. They have surveyed the entire Pacific Coast, and have chosen Oregon for the place of their enterprise. They desire a location that has ready access to rail and water transportation. They are prepared to establish their plant right away and to begin operations within a short time.

Preacher Defends the Theater.

NEW YORK, April 24.—At the Congregational convention of New Jersey, now in session at Jersey City, Rev. Robert Mourse, of Falls Church, Va., defended the theater. He said life is made up of work and play, and that play is the domineering factor in life. Information is gained in school and character is formed on the playground. Amusements should not be confined to the church, he said, and just as soon as a church declares the members shall not go to the theaters, the members rise and create a circus, the clown included.

HAIR SOFT AS SILK.

New Scientific Treatment Kills Dandruff Germs, and Makes Hair Soft.

It is an accepted fact, a proven fact, that dandruff is a germ disease; and it is also a demonstrated fact that Newbro's Herpicide kills the dandruff germ. Without dandruff falling hair will stop, and thin hair will thicken. Herpicide not only kills the dandruff germ, but it also makes hair as soft as silk. It is the most delightful hair dressing made. It cleanses the scalp from dandruff and keeps it clean and healthy. Itching and irritation are instantly relieved, and permanently cured. At all druggists. There's nothing "just as good." Take no substitute. Ask for "Herpicide."
