

DEBATE ON COLOR

Federation of Women in a Warm Argument.

IN REGARD TO RACE QUESTION

The subject of the higher training of young women may resolve itself into three questions: 1-Should a girl receive a college education? 2-Should she receive the same kind of a college education as a boy? 3-Should she be educated in the same college?

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 5.—After a two days' discussion of the admission of colored women to the General Federation of the anti-colorette won today. The sixth convention voted overwhelmingly to accept what is known as the compromise amendments agreed upon in New York several weeks ago.

This morning there was suppressed excitement during the consideration of the charter. The first shot came from Georgia. Its president, Mrs. F. O. C. O'Brien, moved that the convention first consider sections 2 and 3 of article 1, the important portions of amendments proposed by representatives of Georgia and Massachusetts. In New York, which are commonly called the New York compromise.

When it came to a vote on the Missouri substitute, it was lost overwhelmingly.

Debate Warm Up. In the course of the debate, which, though intense, was at all times collected and clear, three speeches seemed to make a marked impression on the audience.

When the rules were suspended and the viva voce vote taken, the convention voted by a large majority to accept the compromise amendment.

How the Vote Stood. When the rules were suspended and the viva voce vote taken, the convention voted by a large majority to accept the compromise amendment.

Afternoon Sessions. Four sessions occupied the afternoon. One, on civics, under Mrs. Anna D. West had as speakers and her subjects: Mrs. Belle Perry, of Michigan, "Responsibilities of Women in Municipal Reform"; Mrs. M. E. Frazier, of New York, "Means and Methods of Protecting Public Health"; Miss Abby Ware, of Kansas, "Value of Community Life to Social Reform"; Miss Georgia Bacon, of Massachusetts, "Vacation Schools and Playgrounds"; Mrs. Martha Hoppell, of Ohio, "Proper Reformatory for Women and Children"; Mrs. Frederick Schoff, of Pennsylvania, "Juvenile Court Laws."

The Audubon Session. The Audubon session led off with a report by Mrs. John Hillck, of Iowa, who said: "The report of this society shows that it has directed its work along two lines—first, in procuring legislation for the protection of birds; and second, by the employment of wardens in certain localities in the coast states. Manufacturers of and dealers in bird plumage, in a number of instances have been prosecuted, and fined, and in other cases the threat of prosecution has led to the cancellation of purchases on the ground that dealings in those articles for ornamental uses are prohibited by law. If the women of a great body like this, in the case of the beautiful in Nature, standing for the right, would unite in a strong determination against the sacrifice of life and song for personal adornment, the laws would more easily and with less expense be made effective. The results, however, so far accomplished give encouragement for a greater work in the future."

The subject of the "Educational Value of Bird Study" was given by Mrs. Charles T. Tolinger, of Nebraska, and "The Economic Value of Bird Life to Human Life" by Mrs. Edwin Smith, of Illinois, was discussed by Mrs. W. H. Bailey, of Iowa.

The Presidential Race. The color discussion has entirely overshadowed the presidential race today, but at the same time reports are flying fast. There seems to be a feeling that the Decker forces are gaining ground. A Colorado woman stated tonight that it has been already announced their intention of voting for her. At 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon the nominating committee is scheduled to meet for making up the ticket. The rumor that Mrs. Denton has withdrawn was promptly denied by her tonight. The report of the committee appointed to secure a National charter, as made by Mrs. Mary Lockwood, called forth much discussion and entanglement. This committee was instructed to continue the work of accepting the charter and perfecting under it the new organization.

The subject of the higher training of young women may resolve itself into three questions: 1-Should a girl receive a college education? 2-Should she receive the same kind of a college education as a boy? 3-Should she be educated in the same college?

As to the first question: It must depend on the character of the girl. Precisely so with either depends on his or her possibilities. No parent should let either boy or girl enter life with any less preparation than the best they can give. The highest product of social evolution is the growth of the civilized home, the home that only a wise, cultivated and high-minded woman can make. To furnish such women is one

FOR ELECTRIC CARS

FENDLETON AND WALLA WALLA WILL HAVE A LINE

Money is Assured and There Seems Every Assurance That Project Will Go Through.

WALLA WALLA, May 5.—A telephone message to the Morning Union from Dayton says: An electric motor line from this city to Pendleton, to touch all cities in the Walla Walla Valley and Eastern Oregon, backed by plenty of capital and to cost $2,500,000, announced as a promise certainly by W. J. Neilman and P. R. Romo, who today received the promise of a 50-year franchise as soon as the City Council of Dayton can act under the law. The only thing that can interfere with their plans, they say, is the refusal of some city to grant them privilege of entrance. Neilman and Romo have already secured the necessary grants, and it is not believed the other cities will hold back. In presenting their case before the Dayton Council tonight, Neilman and Romo announced themselves as the agents for a San Francisco syndicate, believed by many to be the United Street Railway Company of that City. They promise to begin work on the road within six months and to have the line completed and in running order before the end of two years.

ADDRESS PROF. J. S. BEECH, Dept. 3, No. 40 Ellis Street San Francisco, Cal.

Portland Savings Bank, of Portland, Oregon, $250,000, alleged by him to have been deposited in that bank on May 10, 1901. It was based on an Oregon statute which provides if directors of a corporation declare and pay dividends when a dividend of 2 per cent on its capital stock, such directors shall be jointly and severally liable for debts of the corporation existing or contracted while they remain in office. Plaintiff alleged that March 10, 1893, while defendants were acting as a board of directors of the bank they declared a dividend of 2 per cent on its capital stock, and that this dividend was paid on April 1 of the same year, and that the bank was insolvent when the dividend was declared and paid. To this Wade interposed the plea that the statute of limitations had run and that action was barred.

The following other decisions were rendered: The Pacific Northwest Packing Company vs. Henry A. Allen, John H. Allen and John H. McGraw, northern division of Washington; decree of Circuit Court affirmed, with costs. American Sales Book Company and Warren F. Beck vs. Joseph Bullivant, Jr., district of Oregon; judgment affirmed. English and J. E. English vs. the United States (Oregon); judgment affirmed. U. F. Gaffner, claimant of the steamer Mary E. Perley, vs. H. C. Pilot et al. (district of Washington); judgment affirmed. Andrew Davis vs. the Trade Dollar Consolidated Mining Company (Idaho); judgment affirmed. Northern Pacific Railway vs. Lewis G. Perry; judgment of Circuit Court affirmed. Guy H. Stockeager vs. the United States of America (district of Alaska); the plaintiff in error was convicted of forgery and sentenced to three years' imprisonment in the penitentiary at McNeill's Island; judgment of the District Court affirmed. S. Ban vs. the Southern Railway Company (Georgia); judgment of the District Court affirmed. Archibald Mason and New York Security & Trust Company (a private corporation), Circuit Court for Oregon; judgment reversed and cause remanded with costs.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

Is a Deal on for a Large Amount of Land in Coos County?

MARSHFIELD, Or., May 5.—The presence of M. J. Kinney, of Astoria, and a Mr. Ward, a Michigan capitalist, in this section has caused unusual interest in business circles. It is reported that these gentlemen intend purchasing the Southern Oregon Company property in this county, which consists of over one hundred thousand acres of land, the town site of Empire City and one of the largest lumber mills on the coast. While Mr. Kinney would not deny or affirm the report, it is known that this property is generally quite worked up over what they consider exorbitant water rates.

SOLDIERS MAKE TROUBLE

Start In to Clean Out the Town, but Meet With Opposition.

ILWACO, Wash., May 5.—A party of drunken soldiers from Fort Canby came here this afternoon to clean out the town. Hawkins landed hard on one of the ruffians, knocking him into the street, Dan Markham, an oil citizen, stepped to quell the riot, but received a blow on the right eye that tore his cheek open. A doctor was called, and seven stitches were required to sew up the wound. McCarty, one of the leaders of the crowd, was arrested and locked up.
