AMUSEMENTS TONIGHT. MARQUAN GRAND THEATER—The Civic Improvement Association. THE PAPER THEATRE (corner Third and Yamhill streets)—Mr. Ralph Stuart and Company, in Augustus Thomas' Magnificent in the city open tonight.

THE OREGONIAN'S HANDBOOK. The Oregonian's Handbook tells all about Portland, the entire Columbia River watershed and the 1905 World's Fair, commemorative of the Lewis and Clark expedition to Oregon. The book contains over 150 handsome illustrations and it is printed on enameled book paper. It will be mailed to any address in the United States or Canada for 7 cents a copy.

STORY OF A HOUSE WITH A MORAL—The house at the corner of Nineteenth and Johnson streets, of late years known as the Perkins residence, having been occupied by the late R. Perkins, has been successfully moved diagonally across the block to the corner of Twentieth and Kearney streets. The property was lately purchased by W. A. Ayer, who intends to build a residence there at some future date, and as he had no use for the house he traded it off to Rodney Gilman, who owns the property to which it has been removed. It was necessary to cut down some of the trees near the center of the block to make way for the passage of the building, which is probably the largest and finest house ever moved in this city. The building is 10,000 feet, and three stories in height, and is finished throughout in fine style and was for years one of the finest homes in Portland. It cost $10,000, but was traded to Mr. Gilman for a fifth of that sum. An old-time citizen who was looking over the building yesterday said it had not been injured in the slightest during the process of removal. He gave a rather interesting account of the history of the building, which he said was erected some 20 years ago by M. Koshland, then a wealthy wool-buyer and dry goods dealer, who had recently been bought from Dr. Gilman (when Cleveland was inaugurated President in 1888, and free trade on wool came in fashion, Mr. Koshland, who had always voted the Democratic ticket, received a letter from the Administration in the shape of a loss of some $50,000 on wool. He mortgaged his home to a loan company, but it luck pursued him, and finally R. Perkins bought the property from him, assuming the mortgage, and giving Mr. Koshland 300 acres of land in Washington County for his equity in the property. When Cleveland was re-elected, Mr. Koshland, who was also a Democrat, received a left-handed benefit, and the mortgage took the property to the loan company, who later sold it to Mr. Ayer, who traded it to Mr. Gilman. If there is any moral to this tale, the parrot says it is, "Don't vote the Democratic ticket."

CIVIC IMPROVEMENT FAIRLY TONIGHT—A meeting of the Lewis and Clark Civic Improvement Association will be held in the Marquam Grand Opera-House tonight, and an interesting programme has been arranged for the occasion. George M. Hyland, who has been elected president of the association, will be the chief attraction in the cause of civic improvement, which will make an explanatory of the stereoscopic views which will be presented. These views represent the conditions in other cities before and after civic improvement was taken up. They are owned by the American League for Civic Improvement and were lent to the Portland Association. Miss Helen Ladd Carter will read an interesting article on kindergarten work, and several other persons will be invited to speak. Among the musical numbers will be a solo by Mrs. A. C. St. John, a choral song by a quartet, who will sing "Love's Sacred Trust," by Carrie Jacobs-Bond, of Chicago; a bass solo by Dr. W. A. Cummings, and a selection by the Glee Club quartet. At the meeting will be of the interest of civic improvement, no admission fee will be charged.

LACK OF BRICK CAUSES DELAY—Work on the construction of the Lawrence Sedgely company's building at the corner of First and Oak streets forward to stand still yesterday on account of a lack of brick of the proper quality. Just what the cause of the trouble is is not known, as there has not been opportunity to inquire into the matter. The brickmakers professed at the beginning of the building season to be able to supply brick as fast as builders might desire, and this has so far been true, but the brick supplied for the Lawrence Company's building has not been of good quality and so was rejected. In fact, a wild-eyed man who was walking around in a sea of mortar at First and Oak yesterday said some very uncomplimentary things about the last brick delivered there, which he characterized as "rotten," and said had been thrown into holes behind a wall, and which could not have been handled without a shovel. The walls have been going up rapidly and timbers and iron girders, granite bases for piers, and everything necessary toward the construction is accumulating on the ground.

EASTERN MILL SITES LOCATION—An Eastern company is looking over the Northwest for a location for a mill to manufacture food products from cereals. The possibility of bringing the site to Portland has been brought to the attention of the Chamber of Commerce. The company is prepared to establish a large plant wherever it may locate its enterprise. A letter to the chamber says that the company is favorably impressed with Spokane as a location. It suggests that Portland shows its advantages over Spokane in having the largest and most complete set of facilities for the distribution. The trustees of the chamber yesterday decided to act according to the suggestion.

BOTH WERE TO BLAME—Charles Lehman, a blacksmith, was accused yesterday in the Municipal Court of assault and battery, on the complaint of John Edwards. The latter testified that he and Lehman got into a dispute over the shoeing of a horse, and that Lehman called him a name and struck him. "But you jumped from your cart, did you not, and took off your coat?" suggested Lehman's lawyer. "Yes, sir," replied the witness. "To get at Lehman?" "I guess so." "But Lehman got at you first," reminded the lawyer. Municipal Judge Cameron decided that both men were equally to blame, and he discharged the defendant.

GOOD THING FOR THE LAWYER—Joseph H. Bradley attended the Municipal Court yesterday, to answer a charge of using profane language, on the complaint of F. Sheve. "I am not guilty," said Bradley. "I appear for this defendant," stated the lawyer, jumping up suddenly. "I want the case continued until Wednesday, as today is my pay-day," went on Bradley. "I have no objection," said the lawyer, smiling. "You will be more certain of your fee if you wait until this man draws his salary," remarked the Prosecuting Attorney. The matter was accordingly continued.

MR. EDWARD WALDO EMERSON, of Concord, Mass., son of Ralph Waldo Emerson, will deliver a lecture on "Thoreau" under the auspices of the City Federation of Women's Clubs at 1:45 Friday afternoon, May 16, at the Seiling-Hirsch building. General admission, 50 cents; members of Federation, 25 cents.

HOBOS STEAL DOGS.—Several railroad men who were in Portland yesterday said that gangs of hobos had established camps near Goble on the Oregon side, and near Kalama on the Washington side, near Columbia. In all, one of the men who had visited the camp said, there are about 50 worthless fellows who live by begging and stealing in the neighborhood of the two towns. One of their favorite ways of raising money is to steal dogs and then promise to return them to the owners on condition that they be paid a reward. From one old farmer, a hobos household pet they have stolen a dozen times, they have received between $15 and $20. The dog was missed again Monday, and when the railroad men were in Goble the farmers were again making arrangements for its return. The hobos on the Oregon side appear to be trying to make their way to Seattle, and those on the Washington side apparently want to come to Portland. The members of each gang will undergo any hardship in order to get across the river. The employees of the railroad company's ferry have inquired into the matter of the hobos, but they are often unable to keep them off. One day a hobo managed to get across by concealing himself in a refrigerator box, and when he was discovered he was sent to Portland. The hobos are now being divided among several streams. The secretary of the association is receiving applications from all parts of the state for trout. Everywhere they want the trout, but the number of applications for membership in the association, accompanied by the trifling sum of $1, the cost of a year's membership, is not so large as that of the applications for fish. The association is naturally inclined to be most liberal in the matter of distributing trout with those who are in the greatest need, where there is the largest membership. As the association has gone to a great deal of trouble and has done a lot of work for the benefit of the state, all for nothing, they feel that they are entitled to support and assistance of all sportsmen. Later in the season they expect to have another lot of lake and rainbow trout, which will not be ready for planting till some time in the summer. Just how many they will have to distribute depends on contingencies, and cannot be known for some time.

PLANTING TROUT.—The Oregon Fish and Game Association will shortly generate about 25,000 rainbow trout in Panther Creek, Washington County, about the same number in creeks near Salem, and about 25,000 in Scappoose Creek. They will still have the "free fish" season, and will be apportioned, and which will probably have to be divided among several streams. VALLEY FROM STREET-CAR.—Dr. G. W. Young, a veterinarian, was on the Washington street-car yesterday afternoon and is now confined in the Good Samaritan Hospital. The doctor in charge pronounces his injury very slight and says he will recover in a few days. He was on a car which was taking a large load to the baseball field. The car was going slowly around the curve at Twentieth and Washington streets, when the doctor took a notion to get off. His back was in the direction the car was going, and his feet were not all that hit the ground. The car was going so slow that he thought no one would be engaged in registering voters. The total registration has not been estimated for several days, but it is calculated that when the books close it will exceed the 1901 mark. Registration in the country precincts must also close at 5 o'clock May 15. Every facility for voters to register has been afforded by County Clerk Stewart, and the past two days a large number can be accommodated. Those who have not yet registered and who fall to take advantage of the opportunity to do so will have trouble in voting.

WRITERS ABOUT CALIFORNIA LINNETS.—A correspondent at Murphy, Josephine County, sends The Oregonian a long and interesting story about the birds which were accused some time ago of injuring the fruit crop by nipping off blossoms of the plum and cherry trees. He styles them the "California Linnet," and agrees with others who have written about the birds that they are great insect-destroyers, and do no injury to the fruit crop. He says that they have lately arrived in this section, and that in a few years have increased fast, and gives a lot of information about the British sparrow and other birds which is correct, but which has all been published many times.

PROPOSAL TO PENSION LIFELIVING CREWS.—Committees of the Chamber of Commerce and the Board of Trade are considering the proposal now in Congress to pension officers and enlisted men in the lifesaving service, and their widows and minor children. The subject was brought to the attention of the two bodies by Captain W. H. Roberts, assistant inspector of the lifesaving service. The proposal has been approved by the Tacoma Board of Trade and Chamber of Commerce, and has been favorably considered by the two bodies here.

REPAIRS ON WATER PIPES.—Employees of the Water Committee have been busy repairing several breaks in service pipes along Front street, some under the stone miter, and in the street, and in the crossings, and in all sorts of places. They say breaks in service pipe and connection are frequent on Front street, as the pipes there are old, and the ground not so solid as it might be supposed to be. The heaviest in the pipes is the heaviest in the city.

SMALLPOX PATIENTS INCREASE.—The number of patients in the smallpox hospital was a short time ago reduced to six, but suddenly has increased again to 20. This, however, the Washington side, the most so unpleasant, as it is known how the increase came about. Through the mistake of a physician in diagnosing a case of smallpox as chickenpox, a cluster of eight cases resulted, and the number of which are now in the pesthouse. The smallpox cases have all been of such a mild type that the first stages of the disease will soon be distinguished from chickenpox, so it has been decided that it is not worth while and would be hardly fair to have the physician who made the mistake in the case mentioned arrested and punished. The other cases lately found, and which go to swell the number in the pesthouse, were probably due to a similar mistake. They are all convalescing and will soon be discharged, and it is confidently expected that there will scarcely be so many cases in the pesthouse, and that with the advent of warm weather and by thorough fumigation of all suspected premises, the disease will be kept out of the city.

NEARLY ONE HUNDRED A DAY Or at the Rate of One Every Six Minutes. Says the Chicago Journal in an editorial on the business situation in Chicago: "One of the big Chicago enterprises that has had an unusually large year is the Kimball Piano Company." Thirty thousand of their instruments, including pianos, reed organs and pipe organs, were bought last year, and the growth of their use in schools, churches and colleges is especially gratifying to their makers. The piano in the blue room at the White House is a Kimball, and the indorsements by countless musical authorities, among them Nordica, Emma Eames, the De Reszke, Sembrich, Calve, Pol Plancon, Sousa, and others as well known, has helped the Kimball company to build up the great trade it now enjoys. Andrew Carnegie gave a Kimball pipe organ to the Pittsburgh Cathedral, and President Diaz, of Mexico, gave a Kimball piano to Mrs. Diaz.—Chicago Journal.
