He Gains Ground While Chamberlain Loses.

NO MISTAKES IN HIS CANVASS

Republicans Admire Pendleton Man's Dignified Campaign, While They Resent Chamberlain's Attempts to Split the Party.

Two weeks from today will be election day. The Democratic compaign has been on for three weeks, and the Republican campaign is just half over. The canvas thus far developed nothing of a determining character, but from all that can b learned the Republican nominee for Gov ernor is daily gaining strength, while the stampede for Chamberlain has not yet materialized. Everywhere Chamberlain is warmly greeted, and in most places the Democrats are enthusiastic over him, but nowhere is there evidence that he will receive any considerable number of Republican votes. He must get Republican rotes, and lots of them, if he is to win. ough he has never posed as a "goo W. J. Furnish seems to have a wonderful power of making friends. He is not a magnetic speaker, and makes no pretensions to oratory, but when his equaintance it is evident that he has an attractive personality and is making friends by the hundred at every town in which he speaks. His dignified manner, becoming to one who aspires to the high office of chief executive of the state, commands the respect of every man who see and hears him. Mr. Furnish has stead fastly refused to use the undignified methods in his canvass, and has refused permit any one to make a personal attack upon Mr. Chamberlain in his behalf. The people generally admire the position he has taken, and are favorably impressed with his methods of conducting a political

Mr. Furnish has made no attempt to catch votes by plays to the gallery; he has made no promises which he may be unable to fulfill; but as in his private business, he makes promises which it is in his power to keep, and which he will keep when elected. He has made no mistreats his opponent with all the courtesy that any one could ask. Maintaining a demeanor that is creditable to a respondpoint of practical politics it may e said that he has not yet made a single mistake which will cost him votes, spect or makes votes. He has made sev-eral mistakes which have lost him the fidence of Democrats and caused friendly Republicans to doubt his sincerity. The first bad step he made was that by which he tried to get off his party platform. Many of his Democratic friends resent this. Then he promised great reductions in appropriations, and when chal-lenged to specify in what particulars he would make reductions he maintained a silence as profound as the tomb. In view of his refusal to point out the appropria. tions which he deems unnecessary and ex-travagant, the conclusion is inevitable that his reform talk was for effect. He has lost the confidence of thousands of Republicans by trying to picture Gov-ernor Geer as a martyr for the purpose of influencing Geer's friends to scratch Mr. Furnish. Republicans generally do not ask a Democrat to interfere in their famfly affairs, especially when the purpo is to secure an advantage for the Dem eratic party. Chamberiain was nominated with a hurrah and a flourish, but he has been losing ground from the first day of his campaign.

IN LINE FOR WILLIAMSON.

Grant, Harney and Malheur Counties Will Stand by the Whole Ticket.

Judge L. R. Webster returned last even ing from Eastern Oregon, where he has been making campaign addresses in company with Hon. J. N. Williamson, the Republican nominee for Congress. Webster says that no words of his car do justice to the spiendid treatment he and Senator Williamson received at the hands of the people of Grant, Harney and Malheur Countles. They were considered the guests of the people, and they couldn't

TRUCKLES TO GEER SENTIMENT. In Doing So, George E. Chamberlain

Throws Down C. E. S. Wood, Republicans are astonished and Den crats not a little displeased at the play George E. Chamberlain made at Macleay in Marion County. Chamberlain has been making use of every conceivable campaign trick to catch Republican votes, but no one would have suspected that he would allow his desire for his own advancement to lead him to stick a knife into the Dem-ocratic candidate for United States Senaor. C. E. S. Wood.

Macleay is the home precinct of Gover-nor Geer. In order to atir up the feelings of Governor Geer's friends for political purposes, Mr. Chamberlain told how badly Geer had been treated in being turned down by the state convention and then went on to predict that this mistreatment would make him United States Senator. Chamberlain hoped by posing as a friend and sympathizer of Geer, not only to make votes for Geer, but also to get those same votes for himself at the less of votes, to the Republican nominee. It is diffi-cult to see where the Democratic candidate for Senator profits by this sort of a beriain now they will not do so. Everybody who knows anything about politics knows that if Geer had been renominated and had been in the race against Chamberlain, the Democratic can-didate would now be out on the stimp attacking Geer's official record with still greater vigor than he is displaying in his campuign against Mr. Furnish. It was a matter of common talk among Democrats that Chamberlain hoped to see Geer renominated so that he could use in his campaign the charges he is making against the state administration. Now, to

Tribute to His Former Associate. W. M. Colvig, of Jacksonville, is warm in his praises of Judge L. R. Webster, the Republican nominee for County Judge of Multnomah County, For many years, Mr. Colvig practices in Judge Webster's court, and though he was opposed to him in politics, he formed a very high opinion of the judge's ability and sense of bonor. Mr. Coivig's acquaintance with Judge Webster was formed not only through their relationship as practicing attorney and trial judge, but as friends who were thrown together in many a long weary stage-ride across the mountains and plains of Southern Oregon. He is therefore familiar with every phase of Webster's character. In speaking of Judge Webster yesterday, Mr. Colvig said:

R. Webster, the Republican candidate for County Judge of Multnomah County, is an old-time friend of mine. For eight years he presided as the Circuit Judge of our judicial district. I was prosecuting attorney under him during nearly all of that time, and had full knowledge of his conduct and management of the office of Circuit Judge. A more con-shows not only his insincerity, but his out of the county debt and reducing the disregard of his obligations to his own running mate, Mr. C. E. S. Wood.

Very flattering reports have been re-ceived from Cottage Grove concerning the address delivered there Saturday after-noon by George W. Stapleton, of Portland. Mr. Stapleton's arguments in behalf of the Republican ticket and Republican princi-ples were ably presented and were lis-tened to by an appreciative audience. The report of Judge Williams' speech at Cordray's Theater Saturday night con-tained an error in that it quoted the peaker as saying that Abraham Linwas once a Democrat and became a Re-publican. Judge Williams named Grant, Legan and Stanton as eminent men who had left the Democratic party to join the Republicana. In speaking of Stanton, Judge Williams referred to him as the man to whom the success of the war was due more than to any other man outside of the Army, save Abraham Lincoln. The reporter misunderstood the speaker, to in-clude Lincoln's name in the list.

Candidates for State Senator. County Clerk Swetland is in doubt as to whether he has any right to recognize the nominations of George T. Myers and H. B. Nicholas as candidates for Inman's seat in the Senate. The certificates of nomination were left with him yesterday, within the statutory limitation of time, and the question with him is whether he shall file them and place the names on the official ballot. The point he raises is that he has no official knowledge of any vacancy in the office formerly held by Inman. Inman lendered his resignation to Governor Geer, County Clerk has no other knowl edge of that fact than the reports he has received in an unofficial way. The Gov-ernor has not notified the County Clerk, ernor has not notified the County Clerk, and Mr. Swetland is not sure that he has a right to act without official informa-

The statutes provide that an office shall ecome vacant upon the resignation of an neumbent. No acceptance of the resig-ation is required, nor is the Governor required to give notice of the resignation unless a special election is necessary in order to fill the warancy.

The statutes prescribe that courts shall take judicial knowledge of the accession to office of all legislative, executive and judicial officers, and they require no evidence, written or otherwise, to establish the fact, but there is no provision that courts shall take judicial knowledge of a resignation. The County Clerk, as well as all other citizens, is therefore presumed to know that Inman went into office, but it does not appear that he is expected to know of the resignation unless he receives official notification. The County Clerk must make up the official ballot the first three days of this week, and in that time will decide whether he is authorized to place the names of Myers and Nicholas on the ticket.

WHIT SUNDAY IS OBSERVED

Services Held in Catholic and Epis copal Churches.

The Whitsunday festival was observed yesterday at St. Mark's Episcopai Church. It was also the anniversary of the organ-ization of the St. Mark's Chapter of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew.
The Rev. P. K. Hammond, pastor of St.

Paul's Episcopal Church, of Gregon City, preached the evening service. His text was taken from Acts xi:1-3: "When the day of Pentecost was fully come they were all with one accord in one place, and sud-denly there came a sound from heaven as of a rushing, mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting. And there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them. And they were filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues as the spirit gave them utter-ance." Mr. Hammond spoke in part as Holy Ghost.' Do we thoroughly appreciate the meaning of these words? When the Saylor went from his disciples he bade them, Stay in Jerusalem until you are given power from on high." These disciples had been with him during many years of his life's work, and were thoroughly imbued with his spirit. They had absolute faith and unbounded love, yet were lacking in power. "In this example there is a suggestion for the Christian of today. We may have Christ in our soul. We may love and trust him, yet be lacking in power. The Their strength was supplemented by Christ. So with us; in order to be strong we must have the Holy Spirit. The story of the gospel has worked wonders in civilization, and great transformation is vet to come wherever its power is feit. We are promised that the spirit of Christ is with us, and in order to make his influ-ence felt we must have the Holy Ghost and should diligently pray for its strength. When the day of pentecost was fully come they were all of one accord in one Why cannot our people on con nunion day be 'all in one place of on accord,' there to entreat the power of the Holy Ghost? Then, indeed, would the power of our work be felt."

The pastor, Rev. J. E. Simpson, then briefly reviewed the history of the Broth-erhood of St. Andrew, and urged the St. Mark's Chapter to be faithful in their

"In St. James' Church of Chicago the young men undertook to awaken a great-er interest in the church work. They were so successful that their work attracted much attention, and a fraternity wa sorganized known as the Brotherhood of St. Andrew. The movement grew until today there are over 16,000 men in the world who have taken the oath of the brotherhood, and for a time the influence of their work was incalculable. But so great was the enthusiasm that at first many were taken in who should not have been and who were only enthusiastic for the time being. Soon the work began to ing, and every one commenced to lose faith. The old officers resigned and new ones went in their places. Under their rule things went wrong. The magazine of the brotherhood was allowed to become very poor indeed, the management grew to be the worst of mismanagement, and many were fearful of the fallure of the organization. It was discussed as to whether St. Mark's should withdraw from the general organization. All felt, however, that the idea embodied was a good one, and that mistakes made could yet be corrected, and it was decided to stay through the dark days.

"Of late the management has gone into new hands. There is a process of cleansing going on which will remove the un-desirable element, and prospects are fair for bringing the brotherhood back to its old standard. There is untold strength in prayer, and if we remain falthful we can do a great good in this work."

SOLDIERS' MONUMENT SITE.

Association Adopted the Programme of Dedication for Memorial Day. The Soldiers' Monument Association held meeting yesterday afternoon at 64 Grand avenue, and completed a general pro-gramme for the dedication of the site of the proposed monument in Lone Fir ceme-tery, Memorial day. M. L. Pratt presided. After reading the minutes of the previous meeting, Mr. Pratt in behalf of the com-mittee which includes Edward Martin and L. A. Brown, reported the following programme, which will be made to conform to the programme of the G. A. R. post's memorial committee:

Ritualistic service by the G. A. R Singing by Veteran Male Quartette, Solo, Miss Metta Brown. Address, by Rev. H. J. Talbott, Dedication, speaker not yet selected. Chorus, school children.

Mr. Pratt said that the ground for about 21 feet square would be inclosed with a rope. In the center would be placed a flag, representing the monument. The four wars, Civil. Mexican, Indian and Spanish-American, would be represented at the four corners of the inclosed square by a veteran from each war respectively. The speaker will dedicate each side of the ground, and as this is done the veterans will salute. The committee on speakers reported that Rev. H. J. Talbott had accepted the invi-tation to make the main address at the dedication, but the speaker who will dedi-cate the four sides of the monument had not yet been selected. There may be some changes in the programme to conform to the G. A. R. exercises. The association adjourned to meet again next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

FREE DELIVERY ROUTES.

Inspector Investigating Territory Preparatory to Establishment. E. C. Clements of Portland, investigated the rural free delivery route at Fairview Saturday, and also examined three appli-cants for the position of carriers—I. II Schram, Wade Osborn and Edward Palmer. The result will be known in about two weeks. It is expected that the service will go into effect July 1.

There are many other districts to be inspected, including Milwaukie, Mount Ta-ber and the Peninsula. Petitions for free delivery at Pledmont, Woodlawn and the Peninsula district were sent to Washingmany months ago, but so far no actions been taken. This district will be u der the Portland postoffice when the free delivery service is inaugurated. The resi-dents are very anxious for free mail delvery, and being inside the city limits they think that they are entitled to the service. At Mount Tabor the pelition was for another carrier, so that the whole of district No. 5 could be served.

BIDS FOR BOOKS RECEIVED.

Publishers Supply Figures for the Stephens Grammar School Library. Principal Hadley, of the Stephens School, eports that he has received bids from various publishing houses for supplying that school with a grammar school library of from 1000 to 1200 books. The bids were received Saturday, and he has not had time in which to examine them, but will do so at once. He says that he hopes to have the contract let and the books in the Stephens School by the open-ng in the Fall. Great care has been exercised in the ection of the volumes, so that they will be suited to the wants of the pupils and will tend to build up the reading habit of the pupils. The experience and judgment of prominent educators has been consult-ed in the selection of the books, and it is expected to be a model in the way of a grammar school library.

GAS FACTORIES In People Who Do Not Know How to Select Food and Drink Properly.

On the coffee question a lady says: used to be so miserable after breakfast that I did not know how to get through the day. Life was a burden to me. When I tried to sleep I was miserable by hav-ing horrible dreams followed by hours of wakefulness. Gas would rise on my stomach and I would beich almost continually. Then every few weeks I would have a long siege of sick hendaches. I tried a list of medicines and physicians without benefit.

"Finally I concluded to give up my coffee and tos altogether and use Postum Coffee. The first cup was a failure. It was wishy-washy and I offered to give the remainder of the package to any one ho would take it.
"I noticed later on in one of the adver risements that Postum should be beiled at least 15 minutes to make it good. I asked the cook how she made it and she said. Just the same as I did tes, being careful not to let it steep too long."

"I read the directions and concluded Postum had not had a fair trial, so we made a new lot and boiled it 15 or 20 minutes. That time it came to the table a different beverage, and was so delicious that we have been using it ever since.

"My sick headaches left entirely, as did my sleepless nights, and I am now a different woman." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.
