Head Master of Bishop Scott's Kills Himself.

DESPONDENCY, THEN SUICIDE

Because He Was Not Re-engaged as Instructor, Eugene L. Schnefer Sends a Bullet Through His Brain.

Unhappy because he had been told that he could not be engaged as instructor for another year in the Elshop Scott Academy, Eugene Lucien Schnefer, the senior master, committed suicide in the general classroom yesterday morning about 8:45 a clock by shooting himself in the mouth with a revolver. He died instantly. Reasons of economy alone moved the school authorities to dispense with Mr. Schae-married, and lived with his wife at 655 inders street. He was born at Nazareth, Pa., and 12 years ago came to Oregon and accepted an appointment as a member of the teaching staff at the Bishop Scott Academy. At the reorganration of the academy one year ago, when Dr. Hill retired from the principalship, Mr. Schaefer's friends hoped at that time he would be appointed head of the institution. However, A. C. Newill took charge, Mr. Schaefer continuing as ecnior master. During the existence of the acadmy under the new regime it has been exreliently managed, but has not been a financial success on account of the small number of pupils who applied for instruc-tion. Last Thursday the school trustees of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Oregon met and discussed plans for the future management of the Bishop Scott Academy on a paying basis. In the meantime Mr. Schaefer had made application for re-election, but in view of the finan-cial shortage it was decided that no more highly paid instructors could possibly be re-engaged for the ensuing year. In conveying the decision of the board, the sec retary, Mr. John K. Kollock, wrote Mr. Schnefer this letter last Thursday:

Mr. Eugene L. Schaefer, Rishop Scott Acadany, city-Dear Sir: It is with much regret that I am compelled to inform you that the board of trustees has resolved that it would be impossible to engage you for the coming school year. This action has been taken with entire appreciation of your ability and of your valuable services to the school, and is due solely to the fact that the finances of the board do not warrant the engagement of any high-priced instructors. A committee has been ap-pointed to arrange for a proper testimonial, and will communicate with you within a few Gays. I remain, dear sir, yours, very truly, JOHN K. KOLLOCK, Secretary.

The letter arrived at Mr. Schnefer's house last Saturday morning, and after reading it he handed it to his wife with-out saying a word and starred to leave the house. Mrs. Schaefer detained him and spoke cheering words of counsel. "Walt a bit. Things will come all right yel," she said, bravely. Her comforting words had the desired effect, and her hus-band's gloomy fit seemed to pass away at that time. Yesterday morning Mr. Schae fer left home about the usual hour to re-sume his duties as master at the Bishop Scott Academy without as much as con reying a hint about the terrible purpose so must have had in mind. The cadets have a short period in the study hall of the institution from 8:20 to 8:45 o'clock every morning, and Principal Newill generally presides at the desk for the first 10 minutes after 8:30 o'clock until Mr. Schne-fer arrives. But yesterday morning at the firme indicated Mr. Newill was absent discussing a matter of business with one of the school trustees, and A. E. Bernays, one of the masters, took charge of the school during the interim referred to. Punctual to the minute, Mr. Schaefer ar-rived at 8:30 o'clock. He was apparently composed in demeanor and was dressed with his usual scrupulous care. "Good morning," said Mr. Bernays, pleasantly and Mr. Schaefer answered in a somewhat listless manner. Mr. Bernays thought nothing of this, supposing that his friend did not feel well-seal did not seal his friend did not feel well, and jokingly spoke about a "secret cupboard" which Mr. Schaefer at that moment unlocked

Mr. Schaefer at that moment unlocked and took from it some papers and a gong. He made no response, however, to Mr. Bernays' remark, and Mr. Bernays' left the room, little dreaming that he would never see Mr. Schaefer alive again.

A boy named Clarence D. Lovell, one of the academy pupils, is excused from chapel service, and he remained in the room with Mr. Schaefer. "The clocks must be fast this morning," remarked Mr. Schaefer, and then he added: "Go into the hall and listen for the telephone into the hall and listen for the telephone bell, and tell me when it rings." He doubtless wished to get rid of the boy, so that he could be alone at the terrible mo-ment when he took his life. The boy obeyed, and remained in the hall until the cadets came from the service in the chapel, an interval of about 15 minutes. No report of a revolver reached the listening boy, but in that time Mr. Schaefer tening boy, but in that time Mr. Schaefer had fired the fatal shot. The janitor working in the manual training school stated afterward that he thought he heard a dull report, but thought it was a noise in the street. The Lovell boy then walked into the room where he had left Mr. Schaefer, and found him motionless in his chair. Under the impression that the senior master had fainted the boy save senior master had fainted, the boy gave the alarm, and then it became known that Mr. Schaefer had killed himself. Before the dead man lay a scaled letter directed to his wife, and on his knees lay the revolver with which he had committed suicide. The letter to Mrs. Schnefer was afterward found to be as follows:

My Dearest Janet: You have always been kind and good, and noble and true. The terrible wrong done me by a conscienceless school board has left me sick and heartbroken and brain maddened. Good-bye, dear.

There was no signature. Principal New-ill was communicated with by telephone by his wife, and on learning about the tragedy he hurried to Mr. Kollock's office to get legal advice as to the law officers with whom he ought to communicate. The police and Coroner's officials were no. tified and Mr. Newill walked to the academy and learned the nature of the sad occurrence. On hearing that Mrs. Schae-fer had not been told what had happened, Mr. Newill, accompanied by a mutual friend, called on Mrs. Schaefer. The int-ter was too sick to see her visitors, but on being told that Mr. Newill bad something important to communicate she agreed to the interview. Her husband's last message was handed to her in the scaled envelope, and she broke the scal. little dreaming of the nature of he con-tents. In concern, she asked what had happened, and as tenderly as possible the visitors told her. Women friends arrived and took care of her.

The Coroner's inquest into the case took place yesterday afternoon, and witnesses were examined as to the above facts. Mr. Rollock was examined, and he told about the letter he had written Mr. Schnefer, and the letter was read to the jury. "The letter was mailed about 2 o'clock Friday." proceed a the witness. "Mr. Schaefer called to see me Saturday morning and stated be thought that a great injustice had been done him in the matter, and thought he should have been reappointed. He seemed to be a little nervous at the time. It was difficult to know, however, what his feelings were. I told him he had beffer are the other members of the board, and that it was purely on account of the financial condition of the echool that he could not be reappointed."

In giving his evidence. Mr. Bernays said in part: "Mr. Scharfer spoke to me last Saturday, referring to wint he culled his dismissal. He did not appear to be enen-tally depressed, but he seemed to feel it keenly. He told the he intended to see other members of the school board about the matter. I tried to persuade him that he could not look upon it in the light of a dismissal. It seems to me that Mr. Schae-fer had been quiet and reserved since he recently suffered from an attack of the grip. He was a man who did not show his feelings very much."

The medical autopsy showed that the bullet entered through the back of Mr. Schaefer's mouth and lodged in his brain. The jury decided that Mr. Schaefer com-

The jury decided that Mr. Schaefer mitted suicide by shooting himself suffering from a nervous, greatly weak-ened and depressed mental condition, "which condition had been caused by se-vere illness, followed by business disap-registrates."

DENIED BY SEARS.

Motion to Strike Out Part of Complaint in Lumber Suit.

In the suit of the Pacific Mill Company against Ioman, Poulsen & Co., to recover $260,000 damages, Judge Sears yes-terday denied a motion to strike out a considerable part of the complaint. The Pacific Mill Company for cause of action alleges that Inman, Poulsen & Co. sub-scribed for stock in the mill and agreed to make regular shipments of lumber to the Hawaiian Islands, and afterwards refused to do so or take the stock. The mill company set forth at length in the complaint that it would have realized large profits on cargoes of Oregon pine lumber, which it is charged were not sent as per agreement and large damages, beas per agreement and large damages, because of loss of these profits, are demanded. In fact, these allegations make up a principal part of the complaint. Judge Cake, as counsel for the defense, thoved to strike out all these parts of the complaint as too remote, and argued that the contention that large profits would have been realized was mere speculation.

Judge Sears decided to allow the complaint to stand, holding that proof may sustain the averments concerning loss of profits, but said that he did not intend his decision in this respect to bind the trial

DIVORCE SUITS.

Carr Case Dismissed-Mrs. Allison Granted a Separation.

The contested divorce suit of Mabel E. Carr against Robert Carr was dismissed by Judge Sears yesterday, who decided that both parties are at fault. The parties were married in Portland in 1888, and have two children. Mrs. Carr, besides asking for a divorce, demanded a division of certain real property. Judge Sears held that the charge of desertion made by Mrs. Carr was not established by the evidence, and, after reviewing the case otherwise, decided that there was no ground for divorce. The court said it was not sufficient that the parties concluded that they could not live together. This case was stubbornly contested by both parties, the trial lasting several days. The Carrs lived at Holbrook, and afterwards in Polk County. Mrs. Carr was formerly a schoolteacher.

Alice Gebeva Allison was granted a divorce from Thomas J. Allison by Judge George yesterday on the ground of gross and habitual drunkenness on the part of the defendant. The parties were married in Idaho, Mrs. Allison testified that her in Idaho. Mrs. Allison testified that her husband drank to excess and falled to provide for her wants, and she was compelled to leave him in the year 1896. Her evidence was corroborated.

Cases set for trial in the United States Circuit and District Courts yesterday were as follows: United States vs. L. N. Allen, June 9, United States vs. H. M. Metcalf, June 10, United States vs. Clare Austin, June 10, United States vs. E. J. French, June 11, United States vs. H. H. Wade, Thursday, June 12.

Jokes Come Fast and Purious-Grand Triumphal Entry and Artistic Acrobatics.

The minstrel show at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium last evening was a howling success, and the large audience was thorsuccess, and the large audience was thor-oughly appreciative. The entertainment was opened with a pianofortic selection by Professor George Houghton, after which Sidney Beck, Sam Jordan, Fred Jones and Charies Ringler did the grand over-ture, entitled "The Tale of a Bumble Bee." These blackened gentlemen were very amusing, and their antics were quite

The triumphal entry and grand march of the funmakers then began, and Inter-locutor M. M. Bingler soon had his "coons" ranged in the usual minstrel show fashion. Jokes, songs, and other stunts of high degree followed, and the jolly funmakers kept things in an uproar for nearly an hour.

The second part of the programme included ring and trapeze work by Viggers and Leffer, a melody of popular songs by the "Pickaninny" quartet, and various musical and symnastic numbers. The tumbling by Viggers and Bailey was especially fine, and the comic coon sketch by Beck and Davis delighted the audience. The whole show was good, Professor Ring-ler and his local talent furnishing as amusing an entertainment as Portland has seen in many a day.

SAVAGE LEAVES TOWN. Illness of His Mother Calls Him to Denver.

It is stated that Charles Savage, who It is stated that Charles Savage, who was, acquitted Saturday on the diamond robbery charge, left Sunday evening for Denver to see his mother, who is again very sick. The excuse given by Savage for going away on November 22, 1901, five days after the diamonds were stolen, was that his mother was ill. The authorities thought this was a mere pretext on his part to account for his sudden departure, but at his trial he proved that he went to his mother's bedside, and that she was attended by four physicians. His haste to leave here again is commented upon, to leave here again is commented upon, but the reason appears to be the same as it was before.

Frankle Thomas is still in jail, on a Frankle Thomas is still in jail, on a charge of receiving stolen goods, and cannot be tried before June 18, as the jury has been discharged until that date. She will have to remain in confinement in the meantime, unless she can give bail, which it is understood she will try to do. Deputy District Attorney John Manning says he will not dismiss the case, but that she must stand trial. Yesterday on motion of Mr. Manning Judge Sears made an order that the diamonds which have been recovered and which which have been recovered and which were introduced in evidence, be returned to their owner, Albert Lowenthal.

Wright, to have an aching tooth extracted, but he didn't extract it. He treated the tooth and relieved me of my pain and explained to me that he could do bridge work for me and do away with my wearing plates.

I gladly consented and the doctor did the work; it has proven all he claimed for it, and more too.

I gladly consented and the doctor did the work; it has present it, and more, too.

Six years have passed and during that time I have enjoyed eating as I had not for years previous, and the work is just as good today as it was when he first placed it in my mouth, and I shall ever feel grateful to him for the valuable service he rendered me. Don't fear the tough element that usually haunts the vicinity of a great exposition. University Park has had from its first platting a vice, liquor and building restriction placed in all deeds, which will keep away from that district the criminal class during the Exposition.

Now is the time to get a home in University Park, the high-toned, cultured residence suburb of Portland. It is the seat of Columbia University. It has Portland public schools, street-cars, quick service, Bull Run water, beautiful wide boulevards, graded streets, electric arc street lights, churches of all leading denominations. Being inside the city limits, it has the conveniences of a great city. The numerous industries along the river, which is near by, will soon give employment to thousands of people. You can now get 50x100 feet for $5 cash and $5 monthly, which will also entitle you to a $1000 home on same terms of payment. Twenty-five dollars cash and $15 monthly will stop rent for you inside of six weeks. On June 1 prices will be advanced. Come soon and get a choice location before
