Ing With Planing Mills.

The complaint is brought by the Northwest Door Company, the Nicolai Brothers Company, the J. A. Martin Company, the North Pacific Planing Mill Company, the North Pacific Planing Mill Company and George Ainslee & Company. The defendants cited are: Local Unter No. 66, Amalgamated Woodworkers of America. H. Dimick, president, Charles E. Hoyt, secretary; Building Trades Council, J. E. Lewton secretary, and Richard Roe president; Portland Federated Trades Council, Harry C. Gur, president, and John Doe. secretary. The "Richard Roe" and "John Doe" are fictitious legal names for the specified officers of the respective unions. J. K. Carr is president of the Building Trades Council and A. R. Lawton secretary of the Federated Trades Council. Other defendants are: Frank E. Carson, Ira Baker, L. R. Market, E. Marchelle, E. Marchell That Union County will be carried for ticket is the confident view of the Reactive canvass. That George E. Chamberiain will win a sweeping victory by a majority of 700 votes is the extrava-gant estimate of the Democratic managers. The Republicans admit frankly that they are facing a hard fight, but they are confident of winning by at least 200 votes. The Legislative ticket stands a good chance of election, J. W. Scriber, Republican candidate for State Senator from Union, Wallows and Umatilla Counties, is making a vigorous anyase, and seems certain of election. His running mates, F. D. McCully, candidate for joint Representative from Union and Wallowa Counties, will carry Wallows, his home county, by enough voices to carry him through, if according to W. D. Fenton, counsel for the plaintiffs.

LA GRANDE, May 22 - (Special Staff Correspondence.)-Republican disaffection of the same type as that in Multnomah County is the only thing that prevents the winning of a sweeping victory in Union County that would be the recordbreaker of the political annals. The campaign is being conducted with spirit, under the leadership of E. W. Davis, chairman of the Republican County Central Committee, state committeeman, and Mayor of Union. He is a man that has the confidence of all factions of the party, and he is doing much to heal over the party differences fused to comply with the said demands contained in the said writing or any thereof, and although the plaintiffs, and each of them, had a legal right to conduct their respective business as it desired, without any interference by the defendants or either of them, yet notwithwhich arose as the result of the primary fight. All the candidates, including the legislative nominees, are making an active and spirited campaign throughout the county, penetrating into every village and hamlet, with the result that what first appeared to be an impossible task is now taking on a more hopeful aspect. With the Republican disaffection being thus wiped out by an appeal to party pride and party spirit, the situation is becoming encouraging. The Panhandle, which once contributed to Democratic majorities, is now a Baker annex. While this district has lately taken on more of a Republican Striker, H. B. Stone, John Witness, G. W. the business of each of the plaintiffs, and to render valueless their said respective mills and aspect, its loss has cut down the Democratic majority of 126 in the 1900 Presidential election by at least 60 votes. The influx of new voters, it is estimated, is strongly Republican. This new element of strength will be relied upon to wipe out sert, will do the trick. Shortage in regis- ocrats, tration will not affect the result. When by a good majority. The outlook for his election is very encouraging, indeed From returns that I get from accurate sources, it is safe to eay that Morrow County will go Republican by at least 150 to 200 votes. Umatilia will do the same by 400 to 800. Even if there is a close fight on Mr. Scriber in Union, which there is, he will be elected by a safe vote, and the prospects are favorable that he will carry his own county. I am certain that the other two members of the Republican legislative ticket, F. D. McCully and S. R. Haworth, are safe. Mr. McCully will easily carry Wallowa County by 200 to 250 votes. When he was named for joint Representative, the opposition to him in Wallowa was given the county ticket, and this has harmonized the party and insures his election. Mr. Haworth is making a good canvass in Union and has every reason to be as sured of success at the polls.

"When the state central committee wrote me, asking what I wanted in the way of speakers, I answered that I wanted Mr. Furnish and Mr. Williamson to appear in the county the last week of May. We are ourselves waging an active campaign now, that penetrates into every neok and cranny of the county, and with the appearance of the leaders of the Republican ticket we expect to raise the enthusiasm to a pitch that will be productive of the best possible results on election day."

mr. Scriber's Estimates. "I think the Republican ticket will be successful," said J. W. Scriber, the Republican candidate for joint Senator in Union. Wallowa and Morrow Counties. "In Union County we are facing a close proposition, but I am confident that the Republicans will carry the election for Mr. Furnish. The county is about equally divided as to party strength. Before the annexation of the Panhandle to Baker County, Union was Democratic by about 100 votes. Since then the Democratic majority has been cut down by the great influx of new voters, and conditions are rapidly growing more favorable to Rebeen made as to the effect of the immigration into Union, and It has been formu that seven-tenths of the new voters will cast Republican ballots. True there is some Republican disaffection, but this is being rapidly overcome. I am confident that the Republicans who have faith in the party principles are too loyal to allow their personal feelings to endanger the state ticket, and I believe that they will give Mr. Furnish the stanch support that he deserves.

"As for my own canvass, I will carry Morrow and Umatilia by good majorities. Union will be very close. Opposition of a personal nature will make my fight in the county a hard one, but I am confident that the fact that I am a Union man and a La Grande resident will carry me the county by a small margin. This with my vote in Umatilla and Morrow will give me the election by a neat majority. Morrow will go Republican by 200 votes. Conditions are very satisfactory in Wallowa, and the Republicans will win. F. D. Mc-Cully will be elected as joint Representative and S. R. Haworth as Representative

Effect of Panhandle's Loss. county for Mr. Furnish," said J. H. Peare, delegate to the Republican State Convention ,and secretary of the La Grande Republican Club. "Union is Republican now by about 200 votes, but it is too early to make any predictions as to Mr. Furnish's majority in this county. The Republican disaffection is small, and will not influence the general result. There are several reasons for basing my belief that Union will go Republican. In the first place, Mr. Moody carried the county in 1900 by 62 votes. In the second place, the Panhandle district has been annexed to Baker. This section two years ago was Democratic by about 50 or 60 votes. There has been a change in the character the last vestige of Democratic supremacy of the voters in this section, and I beand to give the Republican ticket the vic- lieve that annexed to Baker it will go tory. Hoar Assails Administration's Philippine Policy.

PERKINS' PERTINENT REQUEST

Asked Permission to Use Some of the Venerable Senator's Remarks for a Fourth of July Speech-Irrigation Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 22.-The feature of the day in Washington was the speech of Senator Hoar, opposing the policy of the administration and of the Republican majority in both House and Senate, as regards the Philippines, Coming from a Republican, it was of course regarded as more effective by the Democrats than any Democratic speech. At the same time the Massachusetts Senator has so long been one of the leading anti-expansionists that such utterances were to be expected from him, and stripped of the Democratic position he assumed on the Philippine question, the speech was largely rhetorical.

Senator Perkins, of California, told Senator Hoar, after the conclusion of his speech, that he was going to use the last part of it for a Fourth of July speech some time. Hoar asked him how he could do so in view of the fact that his views were so diametrically opposed to what his speech had pointed out, the outrages of the conquest of the Philippines. Perkins replied that he would acknowledge all of those things having happened, but would add that it was not so many years ago that rewards were offered for the publican success. A careful estimate has scalps of Indians, and that as to the water cure and other alleged tortures, he would call attention to the burning of witches in Senator Hoar's state 200 years ago, as showing that savagery had always existed. The venerable Massachusetts Senator was very much offended at what he regarded as the ridicule of Perkins upon the speech he had just made,

Hope for Irrigation Bill.

The friends of irrigation are jubilant today over the action of the committee on rules, in deciding to bring in order the consideration of the irrigation bill immediately after the Hill subsidiary coinage bill. Corliss Pacific cable bill and anarchy bill are passed. This means that bill will be considered probably in the second week of June. Its supporters assert very positively that when a vote is reache they will easily muster a good majority in / its support, and that a very large vote will be recorded. The only feature that is causing the slightest glarm is that one day is set for debate under the five-minute rule, it being feared by some that the opponents of the bill will occupy this entire day in debate, and not permit a vote to be taken. This fear, it is believed, is not well founded, for the anxiety of the President to have the bill passed, after being considered, will carry great weight with the House leaders, who are the most earnest opponents of the bill. The two days of general debate will give everyone an opportunity to make such speeches as may be desired for home consumption in the coming campaign. The further fact that the bill in its present condition is accentable to the President will have a tendency to prevent any material amendment in the House, and if the bill gets to conference, it is believed the Senate will readily accede to the changes suggested by President Roosevelt. The passage of the bill by the House about the middle of June would allow ample time for the acceptance of a conference report in both House and Senate.

Further Contributions Unnecessary, WASHINGTON, May 22.-John M. Wil. son, vice-president of the American National Red Cross Society, has issued the ollowing statement:
"Information having been received through the State Department from the American Consuls at Martinique and St. Vincent that the supplies already furnished for the relief of sufferers from the recent volcanic disturbances in the ties further contributions by the people of the United States are unnecessary.

There was much indignation among the
