

DEAD ARE HONORED

Memorial Day Generally Observed in Oregon.

GRAVES STREWN WITH FLOWERS

Impressive Ceremonies Held at the Capital City—Vacant Chair Draped for McKinley—The Day in Washington.

SALEM, Or., May 30.—Fitting honor was paid the dead at Salem today. The Memorial day exercises were the largest attended in years, fully 6000 people participating in the day's services. The local G. A. R. conducted ritualistic services over the graves of deceased comrades in the plot in City View cemetery. The procession to the cemetery consisted of the following divisions: Sedgwick Post, G. A. R.; Sedgwick W. R. C. Salem Military Band, Union Veterans' Union, Ladies of the G. A. R., Company F, Fourth Regiment, O. N. G.; Spanish-American War Veterans, Indian War Veterans and Modern Women of the World. The backward march resulted in a scarcity of roses, but there was an abundance of other flowers, and floral tributes in great profusion were heaped upon graves of old veterans. Tonight Memorial day services were conducted at the armory in City Hall and Governor Geer delivered a patriotic address. He touched at length on the Civil War and the remaining of the country, and said the time would probably never be when war would not exist between nations as an agency for adjusting differences. He considered arbitration as impracticable. He praised the G. A. R. for its loyal services, and also lauded the Second Oregon and Indian War Veterans. He said the latter were entitled to compensation by the Government and the repeated delay in the consideration of their claim could not be too severely censured. A vacant chair on the stage was draped in honor of the late President McKinley. Salem business houses, public buildings and residences were more generally and elaborately decorated in honor of the day this year than for years. Business was suspended at noon and all citizens joined in the observance of the day.

AT OREGON CITY.

Rev. Robert McLean, of Portland, Delivered the Oration. OREGON CITY, May 30.—Memorial day was appropriately observed in this city today. Early this morning the members of the Union Veterans' Union went in carriages to the cemetery and decorated the graves of their fallen comrades. The principal exercises of the day were under the auspices of the Grand Army of the Republic. In the morning a procession was formed, headed by the Park-place Band, and followed by Company A, Third Regiment, Oregon National Guard, Meade Post, No. 2, G. A. R., Meade Relief Corps, No. 14, and the children of the public schools and of St. John's school. Captain H. Leighton Kelly was grand marshal of the parade, and his aids were: John W. Moffatt, chief of staff, Harry Draper, James W. Church, and Louis Hall. The procession first marched to the center of the suspension bridge, where flowers were strewn on the waters of the river in honor of the sailors who were buried at sea during the War of the Rebellion. After this ceremony services were held in Shively's Opera-House. Ritualistic work of the Grand Army of the Republic was followed by an address by Rev. Robert McLean, of Portland, Miss Imogen Harding sang "Taps." The procession was then reformed and proceeded to Mountain View cemetery. The solemn ceremonies of the Grand Army and Woman's Relief Corps were held, three volleys were fired by Company A, and decoration of graves ended the services for the day.

About 100 people came from Portland. The G. A. R. and Woman's Relief Corps met and marched from the Odd Fellows' building to the graveyard, led by the band, and followed by the school children and citizens. At the cemetery the usual ritualistic programme of the orders was carried out. At 2 P. M. the G. A. R., Woman's Relief Corps and citizens assembled at the Court-house, where Rudolph Crandall, post commander, presided. He delivered the memorial address. There were veterans of the wars of Mexico, the Civil War, Indian War, and the Spanish-American War. Hundreds of citizens had come from all parts of the county, and at the close of Colonel Fife's address he received a great ovation.

WHY THEY WANT INMAN.

The question is simmering down to this: Will the saloons and churches work together on election day? With the exception of those saloon-keepers who believe in conducting a quiet, orderly and inoffensive business, the retail liquor sellers and the allied forces of vice and dissipation are fighting George H. Williams, the Republican nominee for Mayor. Those who conduct their places according to law have no fear of Williams, but are supporting him because they know that if elected he will enforce the laws. Those who keep dives where lawlessness prevails want no such man as Williams.

At Baker City.

BOAT CAPSIZES.

Twelve of Forty Immigrants Drowned Near Edmonton. WINNIPEG, Man., May 30.—An unaccountable accident near Edmonton says that 40 Galician immigrants, who were storm-strayed at Edmonton, started for Victoria, 85 miles down the Saskatchewan River, on a raft. About five miles from Edmonton the raft capsized, and 12 of the immigrants were drowned.

UNITED PRESBYTERIANS.

Opening Guns Fired in Fight Over Membership Covenant.

PITTSBURG, May 30.—The opening gun in the coming fight over the membership covenant was fired this afternoon in the United Presbyterian General Assembly. The discussion was short and sharp, but it served to indicate plainly how lively the consideration of the special committee's report will be tomorrow. A well-defined movement is under way to defer action on the covenant. The opposition to such treatment of the matter will be strong, and it is already well organized. The covenant question is badly complicated as it now stands. The special committee appointed last year made two reports, one bearing directly on the subject and the other of a supplemental nature. This latter section of the report was submitted to the committee on bills and overtures today, while the first part of the paper was withheld until the authors could report on it. The committee on bills and overtures, just before adjournment, presented its recommendations. It dwelt on the memorial from the Lake Presbytery, offered as a substitute for the new covenant, and which the committee does not favor. The memorial from the Allegheny Presbytery, which suggests that the matter be allowed to rest for another year, while further consideration is given to it by the special committee, is recommended for adoption, and the supplementary report of the special committee the assembly is advised to lay on the table.

Tarkio, Mo., will entertain the assembly next year. College Springs, 25 miles from Tarkio, will get the meeting of the general committee on home missions. The memorial services held this afternoon were highly impressive. The most striking incident came when Dr. McNary, who presided, called for all veterans among the commissioners to stand. Thirty-seven men arose, and the applause that greeted this unexpected showing was almost deafening.

President's Western Trips.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—President Roosevelt has undertaken to make two trips through the country next fall. One will be in the Southwest and the other in the Northwest. They will be made in redemption of promises more or less specific. By the last of September, he will go to Springfield, Ill., stopping en route at some point as yet not determined. The latter part of October he will go as far in the Southwest as San Antonio. He has been strongly urged to go on a bear hunt in Mississippi as the guest of the Governor of the state, and it is possible he may accept the invitation, for he must visit New Orleans, which is near by on his trip.

When the proprietor and two employees were preparing to close the store last night two men entered. One asked for some fish and both employees went to the rear to execute the order. The proprietor was sitting near his cash register. One of the strangers suddenly seized him with a grip known among the police as the "strong arm." As this was done the other man opened the cash register and extracted $50. The two employees ran over and seized the man who had the money, while the proprietor held his assailant. The alarm was given, and as Detective Sweet entered one of the men broke away and dashed into the street. As the robber turned east into Thirty-fourth street Sweet fired twice. After the last shot the fugitive staggered and fell. At the hospital it was said he would die. Meantime the second prisoner escaped from the shopkeeper.
