

OUR EXPORTS HOLD BIG

MANUFACTURERS SENT ABROAD AS MUCH AS LAST YEAR.

Notable Increase in Cotton Goods—Iron and Steel Shipments Show a Sharp Reduction.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—A good deal of encouragement to the manufacturing interests of the country is found in the detailed statement of commerce for the month of April, and the 10 months ending with April, just issued by the Treasury Bureau of Statistics. It shows that manufacturers' materials formed one-half of the imports during the month of April, and in the 10 months formed over 50 per cent of the total. The exports of manufacturers in the month of April formed 25.54 per cent of the total exports, against 23.15 per cent in April, 1901, and for the 10 months ending with April, 1901, they formed 23.82 per cent of the total exports, as compared with 27.40 per cent in the corresponding months of the preceding fiscal year. The total value of manufacturers' materials imported in the 10 months ending with April this year is $248,657,651, as against $230,801,407 in the corresponding months of last year, an increase of $17,856,244 or 7.74 per cent. Exports of manufacturers' materials in the 10 months ending with April this year is $248,657,651, as against $230,801,407 in the corresponding months of last year, an increase of $17,856,244 or 7.74 per cent. Exports of manufacturers' materials in the 10 months ending with April this year is $248,657,651, as against $230,801,407 in the corresponding months of last year, an increase of $17,856,244 or 7.74 per cent.

In imports of manufacturers' materials the growth is found in almost every important class of articles. Chemicals, which are largely used in manufacturing, show a growth from $44,000,000 in the 10 months of last year to over $45,000,000 in the 10 months of the present fiscal year; raw cotton, from $9,000,000 pounds to $7,000,000 pounds; copper ore, from $5,000,000 in value to over $12,000,000; fibers, for use in manufacturing, from $1,000,000 to $5,000,000; hides and skins, from $17,000,000 to $19,000,000; raw silk, from $3,000,000 to $3,000,000; tin, from $5,000,000 pounds to $4,000,000 pounds; leaf tobacco, from $1,000,000 to $1,000,000 pounds; iron and steel, from $1,000,000 to over $1,000,000, and wood, from $12,000,000 to $15,000,000.

On the export side the largest increase in manufacturers is in cotton goods, which in the present fiscal year are valued by 25 per cent, the figure of any preceding year. For the 10 months ending with April the total exports of cotton manufactures were $24,436,370, and for the single month of April were $3,057,712, indicating that for the full fiscal year the total will exceed $20,000,000. The highest figure in exports of cotton manufactures ever reached in any preceding year was $24,000,000 in 1900. A comparison of the figures of the present fiscal year with those of the earlier part of the past decade shows that the exports of cotton manufactures have doubled since 1885. Prior to that year their total value had never reached as much as $15,000,000. In 1897 the total value of cotton manufactures exported was $12,000,000; in 1899, $23,000,000; in 1900, $24,000,000, and in 1901, $23,000,000. This increase is due to the fact that the value of exports of cotton manufactures in 1901 was $23,000,000, while the value of exports of cotton manufactures in 1900 was $24,000,000. This increase is due to the fact that the value of exports of cotton manufactures in 1901 was $23,000,000, while the value of exports of cotton manufactures in 1900 was $24,000,000.

The total exports of manufacturers as already indicated, have nearly overtaken the figures of last year, and for the full fiscal year are likely to be quite as large as those of last year. The exports of domestic manufactures for the 10 months total $232,820,889, against $230,801,407 a decrease of $1,999,000; while the fact that April alone made of the value of $3,057,712, indicates that the total for the fiscal year will probably equal the record of 1901. An analysis of the exports of manufacturers indicates that the chief reduction is in iron and steel, which in the month of April of last year indicates that the fiscal year 1902 will probably equal the record of 1901. An analysis of the exports of manufacturers indicates that the chief reduction is in iron and steel, which in the month of April of last year indicates that the fiscal year 1902 will probably equal the record of 1901.

A Week's Upward Tide in London—Lively Trading Expected.

LONDON, June 1.—The most interesting question today in connection with the Stock Exchange is whether or not the steady upward tide of the past week will spend itself in the face of the official announcement of peace. The general impression is that this tide will not stop, although prices generally, considering the trade outlook are quite high. There is, apparently, still enough reserve force in the market to produce at least a moderate sentimental surge coincident with the official announcement of peace. And, the most acute observers look forward to a prolonged boom and only a few conservative profess to believe that the advance has already been discounted. One thing is certain, that the professional element is in a state of high tension and praying that for a while, at least, the public will come in and buy patriotically and recklessly.

Conditions are not altogether favorable for lively trading. Money was decidedly scarce at the recent settlement and a big speculative account is already open for the rise. It is also fully expected that at a meeting of the discount houses, to be held June 3, it will be decided to put up the rates. Still, the tone of the market has been remarkably firm, and the closing last week was the highest point of the year, and the American outlook is rapidly clearing on better money, the crop outlook and hopeful reports of the settlement of the strike.

London rails, both provincial and home, fared very well last week. High investment stocks had a good week and speculative buyers were forced to pay the higher prices. The chief fear for the Stock Exchange is that it may be swamped by an excessive load of new loans and new companies which are now eagerly awaiting flotation.

The chief feature of the American section of the market has been the strength of Canadian Pacific, rumor having it that the Canadian government and certain American magnates are holding and each other for control of the Canadian Pacific line.

Foreign bonds generally were strong on the signing of the Argentine loan agreement between Chile and Argentina.

Mines still have an upward tendency but constitute one of the most cautious sections of the market.

Much quiet trading is proceeding among a class which has had its money locked up for a long time past.

AMERICAN GOODS IN GERMANY.

Ancient Palace of Charlemagne Renovated With Georgia Pine.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The ancient palace of Charlemagne, in Germany, is being renovated with Georgia pine. California pines and pears are preferred in the empire to the famous French fruit of near-by Italy, Serbia and Rostina, and American machinery is being used to improve the water works of Aix-la-Chapelle. It is said that the Germans are copying American-made articles so closely that the imitations bid fair to make serious inroads on the sale of the genuine goods.

There has been a decided increase in the quantity of American articles appearing in the shops of Aix-la-Chapelle during the past year," says Consul Brundage. "Our cash registers, hardware, cracker, tools, etc., are imported, as well as draft horses."

Our agricultural apparatuses, wood-working machinery, tools, locks, oil stoves, ink and canned goods are noted by Consul Aman as advancing in importance, although he says they seem to be gaining ground through their merits only.

Consul Harrie, at Mannheim, says the ability of American shoe manufacturers to place their wares on the Continental market is past the experimental stage, and that nearly every European capital and many smaller cities now have one or more shoe stores stocked with a large per cent of United States goods. The possibilities in the cheaper grades, Consul Harrie thinks, offer the greatest opportunity for future development, the better class of goods now being fairly well introduced. If the American producer could send his goods direct, it would greatly enhance our trade, and also would allow the manufacturer to study the peculiar local requirements to better advantage.

Consul Osmun says that American linen goods are imported to be used as samples, and are copied. It is thought they can be made cheaper in Germany than in the United States. He also says that there is an elegant opportunity to sell cut glassware of United States make. One of the largest dealers recently informed the Consul that he had bought some time previously a line of American cut glassware from a dealer in Hamburg. Not only had it been speedily disposed of, but there were demands for more.

"It is astonishing," says Consul Baldwin of Nuremberg, "how many American goods of every description are to be found now in German cities."

Prosperous Week in Berlin. BERLIN, June 1.—The House has had the best week it has known for months and values rose in all departments. Berlin caught London's optimism regarding peace in South Africa. The activity in affairs in London is strongly reflected here.

The shares of the Hamburg-American and the North German Lloyd lines were the strongest on the market and were bought even by outsiders. The public interest between these lines and the Morgan syndicate as it affects the German lines, but shipping experts do not regard with favor the earning prospects of the navigation syndicate. Much attention has been attracted here to the statement and figures of an important personage in the steamship business to the effect that the Morgan syndicate will be unable to earn dividends because it is heavily over-capitalized.

Emperor William has sent a telegram to Herr Ballin, general manager of the Hamburg-American line, congratulating him on the excellent terms of the agreement reached with the Morgan syndicate.

Arrested for Murder. LA JARA, Colo., June 1.—H. V. Smith, Orval Smith, Earl Hart and Duke Hart, charged with the murder of Porfirio Gargos, which occurred on Rock Creek, in Rio Grande County, on the 10th of February last, were arrested at Monte Vista this morning.

BOTH VOLCANOES GOING

SCIENTIST SAYS ISLAND OF ST. VINCENT MAY SINK.

In His Examination He Says Signs of It—Both Soufriere and Pelee Still Spout.

KINGSTOWN, Friday, May 30.—The Soufriere volcano is still active. Another eruption occurred at 10 o'clock this morning. It was accompanied by a thunderous noise and a shock of earthquake, while voluminous dense vapor ascended to such a height that they were visible from Kingstown. The vapor formed a thick cloud over the crater of the volcano, and this cloud was illumined as it fell by fire. In the crater itself the lightning was more vivid than on any previous occasion. No damage was done and the eruption ceased at the end of an hour. With the exception of this occurrence the night was quiet and the weather fair. Throughout Friday the crater was capped with dense gray and silver clouds, and sand fell heavily this morning on the leeward side of the mountain within a radius of eight miles.

The American scientist who started to ascend La Soufriere is still striving to reach the summit. During the intervals when the volcano was quiet yesterday he reached a point almost half-way up the mountain. He reports, to the awe of the inhabitants, that the island of St. Vincent may subside. There are clear indications, he said, that a considerable portion of the leeward district will subside. Owing to the continuous rain there have been heavy floods in the windward districts, and many houses have been washed away or filled with mud. At Rabacca the storehouse, a large brick building, was washed into the sea by a stream of mud. The wharf at Rabacca and the cargo Crane there are also covered with mud.

News has reached here of another eruption of Mount Pelee, Martinique, on May 27, owing to the great quantity of ashes which fell on the British Island of Dominica that day. It is presumed that the eruption which then took place was of great severity. Mount Pelee is still emitting vast columns of smoke and flashes of lightning from it have been seen 40 and 50 miles from St. Pierre.

Scientist Like Statue of Med.

PORT DE FRANCE, May 31. F. M.—When Professor Helprin returned to Vive after his perilous ascent of Mount Pelee, he resembled a statue of mud. The weight of ashes and mud he carried on his person, the horrible atmosphere he breathed and the fearful difficulties he encountered reduced him to a condition of extreme fatigue, notwithstanding the fact that he ascended Mount Pelee on the most accessible and easiest side. Professor Helprin may return to Port de France tomorrow, if he shall have sufficiently recovered.

George Kennan and his party, who went to Mount Rouge, found on their return trip that a bridge across the road had been carried away by a torrent of hot mud. Negroes managed to get the party across the obstruction. They took the carriages to Piers and carried them and the members of the party to the other side of the river of mud, which was still hot. All the members of Mr. Kennan's party are well.

In the course of eruption of the River Palisade crater, an enormous mass of intensely hot mud was ejected. This flow reached the rum distillery on the Vive plantation and extinguished all the fires there. This torrent of mud may invade the entire plantation. As Vive is the center of one of the richest districts in the island, it is feared that the damage may be great.

"Jackpot" Too Much for Him.

New York Tribune. At a certain university in this state the card game of hearts has been exceedingly popular among the students the last winter. A group of them, accustomed to meet in one of the fraternities to play, included a theological student, who, although a member of one of the stricter denominations, did not find it against his conscience to be an ardent devotee of the game, which, however, at least in the eyes of the theologian, was never played for money. Even when chips were introduced for counters, as being an easier method of keeping score than the tiresome tally with pencil and rubber, the theologian did not balk.

But there came an evening when his sense of the fitness of things received a rude shock. The pile of chips in the middle of the table had reached rather large proportions, and one of the players, inspired by a desire to make the prospective winnings still more worth while, remarked: "Let's have the next a jackpot." The effect of these words on the theological student was electrical. He knew of their being associated with only one game, and that one scarcely to be mentioned in highly moral circles. "A jackpot," he exclaimed mechanically. "Then I guess I'm through with this game," and he rose and walked out. No amount of explanations or apologies was sufficient, either, to restrain hearts in his approval.

SHOULD HELP HATCHERIES

Fish Good Substitute for High-Priced Trust Beef.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—In making his report on the omnibus bill establishing fish hatcheries in a number of states, Representative Jones points out the necessity of the National Government contributing its share toward properly stocking with the best varieties of fish the waters of the seas on both coasts, as well as the waters of our lakes and rivers in the interior. He states that the price of beef at the present time is so high that it is beyond the reach of many people, and considerably changes the popular diet. Such a substitute as fresh fish, he says, should be afforded in every section of this country, not only as furnishing a proper supply of cheap and healthful food, but as creating employment for a large and deserving class of people. Continuing, the report states:

"In the distribution of these new hatcheries the committee has endeavored to place as many of them as possible in the states having no Government hatcheries, and only where special reasons exist therefor has the committee placed a hatchery in a state where the Government already operates such an institution. This is true of Michigan, Maryland, Washington and Minnesota. The fishing industry in each of these states is of very great importance, and while Michigan has two Government stations, Maryland two, Washington one and a sub-station, and Minnesota one, the committee felt justified in placing another station in each of the said states. Michigan maintains four state hatcheries, Minnesota one, Maryland five, and the State of Washington 15. The annual cost to the State of Washington alone in maintaining her fishing stations is about $50,000.

"The importance of biological stations on the Gulf Coast, in the Great Lakes region and on the Pacific Coast cannot be overestimated. The marine life, its protection, and the climatic conditions are so varied and different in the different sections of our country that a thorough and complete knowledge thereof is of the utmost importance in the development of this industry.

"The problems needing investigation are the breeding times, places, conditions, habits, food and feeding grounds of the most important food fishes in these different regions, together with their enemies during the earlier and later stages of their growth. The observations necessary in determining these matters cannot be carried on systematically by any one state, and should be conducted by the Government itself. This can be done only through the biological station, and its location should be determined only after careful investigation. With reference to the importance of a biological station on the Gulf Coast, the Commissioner of Fish and Fisheries says:

"The fishery resources of our west coast are so varied and extensive, the fishing industry is so important, the possibility of developing the fisheries in certain lines is so promising, and the thorough study of the physical and biological conditions of the waters so essential that the commission considers a station of this character, at which the most important problems pertaining to the welfare of the fisheries of the region may be investigated, a great desideratum. Among the numerous water products which require attention are the native and introduced oysters and other shellfish, the supply of which can be undoubtedly increased by proper study."

Chinese Hard to Convict.

New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Just to show how hard it is to convict a Chinese accused of participation in one of the highbinder's wars I will cite a single instance that came under the notice of one of the representatives of the great San Francisco newspaper. A Chinese gardener named Ah Luk was shot in the back by a blunder while he was sitting in the Chinese theater on Jackson street. In closing she told of the usual movement took place around the body, but the actors on the stage never even so much as hesitated in the delivery of their lines. When the man fell from the bench the lookout at the main entrance of the place called out in Chinese that the white devils were coming. The man who did the shooting so far forgot himself as to run, and the police on a hot scent saw him and started after the fugitive. The man ran out of the side entrance to the auditorium and made his way to Fish alley. The police were close to him and saw him enter a building at the corner of the next block. The squad hurried into the place and captured two well-known binders. Neither of them had a weapon, but there were powder burns on the right hand of one of the prisoners, who also had learned from either of the prisoners and they were locked up with a charge of murder against each of them. The next morning in court the two brothers of the murdered man swore that they were with him at the time of their brother's death and saw the man who did the shooting and positively swore that neither of the prisoners had anything to do with the killing. The accused men were forthwith released. But that night both of the brothers were arrested for killing one of the men who was turned loose by their evidence in the morning and dangerously wounding the other. When the wounded man recovered he swore that neither of the brothers had anything to do with shooting him. Which all goes to prove that it does not matter much what a Chinese has to swear to, and also that in his poor Mongolian way he does not take a great deal of stock in the brand of justice dispensed by the white devils.

BAD GANG BROKE JAIL.

On a Desperate Criminal, Who Has Killed Two Men.

LEADVILLE, Colo., June 1.—A daring jail break took place here today about 3:30 P. M. Five prisoners from the County Jail are now at large. The jailer was on the front office when a trusty notified him that some of the prisoners were missing, and an investigation showed that "Pug" Ryan, Ben Gray, Herman Guest, Max Bowen and Jim Sullivan had escaped by an underground passage. They had sawed off the lock to a trap door leading to the sewer, broke the sewer wall and then crawled to the outside of the jail through a small hole in the foundation wall.

Ryan is a desperate criminal, and had been brought here from Breckenridge for safekeeping. He was the leader of a gang of desperadoes who terrorized the mountain towns several years ago, and during a battle with deputies at Kokomo, in the summer of 1898, he killed two of them, Sumner Whitney and Ernest Leonard. Ryan succeeded in his escape, but his escape, but he was captured in Seattle.

THE New York Dentists ALWAYS IN THE LEAD

It is a well-known fact that by fair dealings, good work and honest advertising the New York Dental Parlor have overcome every obstacle placed in their path by jealous competitors, who, though they have used various methods of advertising, were unable to compete with the class of work done by the time-tried specialists always to be found at the New York Dental Parlor. We have conducted our business as we saw fit, regardless of the attacks of the so-called "Ethical Dentists," who, not being able to withstand the onslaught of modern dentistry by our graduate dentists of world renown, resorted to the most unreasonable methods to drive us from the field, now know only too well that honesty is the best policy, and that moderate prices for first-class work will prevail.

All who have had work done at our office continue to recommend their friends to us, where the following prices can always be relied upon.

Miss Harriet Taylor, official secretary of the Y. W. C. A., spoke last night at Taylor-Street Methodist Episcopal Church, and a large number of young women were present. Miss Taylor spoke of lessons to be derived from a study of the character of Nehemiah, and took as her central thought the strong convictions the prophet had of the work waiting for him to do. The speaker told of the wonderful success of the association's work in distant lands, particularly Cape Colony, Great Britain, Germany, India and Japan, mentioning the fact that so far it had been found impracticable to establish headquarters in Russia. "Our work is preventative, rather than rescue work," she stated. "God is fighting for us. It gives us the opportunity to touch and reach women at the point of least resistance. Rather than point out the faults in others, let us ask ourselves—have we been a disappointment to God?" In closing she told of the work being done by association effort, in training young women to be good housekeepers and good wives.

He Was Suspicious—Daughter (angrily)—I don't see why a well-cultured gentleman can't count me in sincerely, even if I can't have some of his money. Her Father—That well-cultured gentleman's fervent on each sort acquaintance and very suspicious, child. How do you know but what he has discovered you've got to form dollars in the bank as he is only one of them down-down adventures—Judge.

Vote for L. A. McNary, regular Republican nominee for City Attorney.

THE PALATIAL OREGONIAN BUILDING

Not a dark office in the building; absolutely fireproof; electric lights and artesian water; perfect sanitation and thorough ventilation. Elevators run day and night.
