ATTENDED BY KING AND QUEEN

Royal Party Given an Ovation on Their Progress Through the City Streets—Ceremony at the Church.

LONDON, June 8.—The noisy jubilation with which London has sounded for the past week was followed today by a subdued, although not less impressive, public demonstration of thankfulness for the return of peace in South Africa.

The programme of this morning was not intended to be accompanied by special ostentation. King Edward and Queen Alexandra did not wear the coronets even in semi-state, but rode to St. Paul's in an ordinary landau drawn by four horses accompanied by postillions and outriders in scarlet tunics.

Although the weather was chilly, the streets for the short distance from the palace to the cathedral were lined thickly with people with bared heads. King Edward, who wore the uniform of a Field Marshal, was greeted with enthusiasm by the British and the Prince of Wales and the other Princes were busily engaged in acknowledging salutations from the crowd.

The royal personages were driven from the Mall to Trafalgar Square and through the Strand and Whitehall to the Strand and Bar Offices of the City of London, for the first time since the Jubilee of the late Queen Victoria, awaited the sovereign in state.

King Edward and Queen Alexandra alighted at the west entrance of St. Paul's. Here they were received by the bishops of stepney and London and conducted by them to their seats, which were under the dome of the building and directly in front of the pulpit.

Members of the House of Lords and members of the House of Commons were seated on opposite sides under the dome. In addition to the presence of many army and navy officials, the military process of the empire was represented by detachments of the Royal Fusiliers, the Horse and Foot Guards and other regiments.

Following the thanksgiving collects, and the reading of King Edward's hymn "O God, Our Help in Ages Past" was sung to the tune of "Old Hundred." The sermon by the bishop of Stepney was short and simple and was preached on the text "The Kingdom of God is within you."

WIFE OF THE FRENCH AMBASSADOR

MME. CAMBON, WHO IS ON A BRIEF VISIT TO WASHINGTON.

One of the most notable of recent additions to the feminine part of the diplomatic society is Mme. Cambon, wife of the French ambassador, who arrived at the Capital City about a month ago.

Mme. Cambon is a native of Paris, and belongs to an ancient and aristocratic family. Her home in Paris has been a center for the brainy people of the French capital.

Two reasons have contributed to Mme. Cambon's refusal to visit America hitherto. One is the fact that she suffers greatly from seasickness when on the water; the other is the precarious health of her daughter, a girl of 12.

Most of the general superintendents of the coal companies, as a rule, had nothing to say today. One admitted that a good many companies are scratching their heads for good competitors to run their engines and pumps.

President Mitchell was in telephonic communication with National Secretary Treasurer W. B. Wilson, of the United Mineworkers, at Indianapolis, today over the situation in the West Virginia soft coal fields.

Denver, June 8.—The Contractors and Material Men's Association today issued a statement to the effect that they would not take back to work any of the striking builders unless they would dissolve the Building Trades Council.

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., June 8.—The miners' strike was unchanged today. Several small secret meetings were held by the strikers, but nothing was given out.

Addressed by "Mother" Jones. MONROEVILLE, W. Va., June 8.—This was a quiet day in the coal region of Northern West Virginia.

REPAIRS HAIR

Nature always tries to repair damaged hair. Sometimes she succeeds, very often she doesn't. She needs a little help—Ayer's Hair Vigor. It repairs the hair, touches it up, gives it new life, brings back the old dark color, and makes it soft and glossy. Cures dandruff, too.

"I used only one bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor and it completely stopped my hair from falling out."—Mrs. C. L. Lessenfeld, New York City.

have respect for the man who doubts, he overcomes his doubts and gathers strength." The annual meeting of the Philadelphia Society was held tonight.

COLLEGE ATHLETICS. Bishop Burgess Says Prizes Should Be Honor, Not Money.

NEW YORK, June 8.—Bishop Burgess, of the Episcopal diocese of Long Island, in the baccalaureate sermon to the students of Columbia and Bernard College, said that while the names of the winners of athletic prizes were preserved in bronze, those who won the Greek prizes at universities were more often written in water.

"It has been said that physical development of the highest type and mental development of the highest type are incompatible with one another. The time has passed when we can pass by the body and realize that the man strong in health is better able to fight the battles of life and the demons of fancy that haunt men. If the body is trained to respond to the stimulus of the cold bath, there is no reason why the mind should not be trained to respond to the stimulus of the cold bath of temperance to get his hold in the first place, let me say the mercenary conditions should be eliminated from athletics. These conditions have been growing and are now a serious menace to the organization. It is those gathering to see a contest should be the guests of the students of the university, and in this way the most objectionable feature of college athletics would be removed. The prizes competed for should be like those of old—honor, always with the gate money, and with the seat money! Let the young men compete, not for money, but for honor."

Danger of Pleasure-Seeking. POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 8.—In the baccalaureate sermon at Yassar College today President Taylor spoke of the "deadening effect of pleasure-seeking on all the higher activities of life," and expressed the opinion that all that is good in our lives is threatened by the pleasure-seeking spirit of the present age.

WAR IN COLOMBIA. Government Sends Out Another Expedition Against Rebels.

COLON, Colombia, June 8.—All the government troops who were stationed here, numbering over 1200 men, left for Panama today. At Panama they will join forces with the government troops at that port, who number several thousand, and the combined army will start immediately to attack the insurgents by land and sea.

Guayaquil Sensation. GUAYAQUIL, June 8.—A sensation was caused here today by the arrest of Alfred Fermin, a partner in the old-established export and banking house of Martin Reinberg & Co., which became bankrupt last October with liabilities of over $1,000,000.

Wrestled With a Bull.
