

STRIKERS STILL FIRM

DECLARE THEY WILL NOT CHANGE TACTICS.

Looking Forward to Time When the Union Mills Will Flourish Work for All.

The strikers will not change their tactics at present, but will continue to conduct their fight along the lines they have started in, was the decision of the Building Trades Council at their regular meeting last night. They report that most of the men are at work and that the counter boycott declared by the millowners and master builders is not being carried out. The Frank Schmitt mill, which is starting its production, is expected to start tomorrow morning. Nearly $30,000 has been subscribed for the purpose of starting a union mill, and it is expected that enough will soon be subscribed to incorporate at $50,000, and start the construction of the mill.

"Planing-mill products are being brought in from various outside points," said a union man yesterday. "The Schmitt mill will soon be running, and it will not be long until building operations will be again under good headway, without using the planing-mill products of the mills that are refusing the nine-hour day."

The meeting of the Building Trades Council was held last night at the new headquarters, on Third and Morrison streets. The regular business was transacted and but little time given to discussing the strike situation. It was well satisfied with the line as they now stand," said Secretary Lewton, "and see no need to make any change." The main business of the evening was in regard to the union planing-mill project, and it was decided that nearly $30,000 had been already subscribed. As soon as $25,000 is subscribed an incorporation will be perfected, and the construction of the mill started at once.

As the union people now see it, the Frank Schmitt mill, which will start up steam tomorrow, together with the other small union mills, and the material which can be brought in from the outside, will keep up building operations with fair material until the large union mill can start, and this will then start their course will be easy.

J. E. Lewton, secretary of the Building Trades Council, when seen last night after the meeting, said: "We are well pleased with the aspect things have taken. Nearly all of our men are working, and none are using unfair material. Enough planing-mill products are being shipped in from outside points to keep the men at work. Frank Schmitt will start up on Wednesday, and this will be a strong point in our favor."

"Will he be able to get lumber with which to run his mill?" he was asked, "and will the contractors buy of him after signing resolutions to stand by the planing-mill owners?"

"He already has orders enough to keep him running a dozen shifts of nine hours each for several months, and he has received assurances from the sawmill men that he will be able to get all of the lumber that he has the cash to pay for," said Mr. Lewton.

No further move has been made by the millmen. They are getting all the men they can and running to advantage. They report that they have no trouble in disposing of their products to home contractors, and that none of them are being brought back on account of the boycott. They still absolutely refuse to arbitrate the matter, and state that they will make no concessions except that they will take their men back upon the old conditions, provided their places are not already filled.

BARTENDERS WILL AID.

Will Give $300 Per Month to Strike Fund.

The regular meeting of the Bartenders' Union was held yesterday afternoon, instead of last night when it was expected. The bartenders are in sympathy with the Amalgamated Woodworkers and yesterday voted to add them in their strike in any way they could, and to contribute to the strike fund to the extent of $300 per month.

Since the organization of the Bartenders' Union, a short time ago, its membership has grown to over 300. About 30 new members were received yesterday. The president, George Schultz, and the financial secretary, L. Bayler, have worked hard in the interest of the union, and nearly every saloon in the city has submitted to union requests. At yesterday's meeting the strike situation was discussed and the sentiment expressed that union strength should be centered upon winning this fight, as the future of the union was dependent upon it.

KINDERGARTENS' APPEAL.

Issued by the Board of Managers of Free Kindergarten Association.

PORTLAND, Or., June 9.—To the Taxpayers of School District No. 1, Multnomah County, Oregon: As the appropriation for public kindergartens was not granted at the last annual meeting of taxpayers, we again appeal to you regarding the question of public school kindergartens.

The School Directors of this district will submit the question: "Shall we have public school kindergartens in this city or not?" to a vote of the people at a school election, which takes place June 15, 1902.

If this question is voted in the affirmative at that time, the School Directors will then take charge of the work and support it from public school funds without the necessity of an appropriation each year. This is allowed by our state law. If this measure is not voted for by the people, the free kindergartens now maintained will be closed, and the Kindergarten Association will be obliged to abandon the work, for the reason that previous subscribers have withdrawn their subscriptions, demanding that kindergartens be made a part of the public school system of this city, as they are in other cities.

Knowing you to be a taxpayer who is interested in the growth and progress of this city, and one who is desirous of the very best possible school advantages for the children of this city, and reminding you that the kindergarten is universally considered by educators as the necessary foundation for the best public school system, and that 250 of our largest cities have already recognized and adopted it as such.

Therefore, we most earnestly request you to go to the polls and vote for this measure. Respectfully requested.

OFFICIAL COUNT BEGINS.

Eight Precincts Completed, With Only Trifling Changes.

The official canvass of the election returns in Multnomah County was begun yesterday by County Clerk Swetland and Justice of the Peace Hillmer and Treland, constituting the Board of Election. A start was not made until 11 o'clock, and only eight precincts were counted up to the hour of adjournment.

Mr. Swetland announced that one representative of each party to examine the tally-sheets as the vote was being counted would be allowed.

W. N. Gatens said that he appeared in behalf of the Democratic state ticket, Judge L. B. Webster said that he represented the Republicans, and S. C. Spencer announced that he would look after the fusion ticket.

There were numerous spectators in attendance, including Sheriff-elect W. A. Storey, his late opponent, John Driscoll, Thomas McNamee, Ed Rankin, County Treasurer-elect John M. Lewis, F. A. Heitkemper, D. J. Beaky, Assessor C. E. Mery Schmitt, and County Auditor-elect John Brandes. Many others looked in for a few moments at a time, as a matter of curiosity.

There were few changes announced. Assessor McDonald gained one vote in precinct No. 1, and Dr. Harry Lane gained two votes in precinct No. 2. W. A. Storey gained six votes in precinct No. 5, but Mr. Driscoll says that the increase agrees with previous figures, which he had, and which, he says, differed from those kept at Republican headquarters. H. B. Adams, candidate for County Judge on the Citizens ticket, gained 10 votes, but he is so far behind that it would require 50 or more such gains to elect him.

It is expected that it will take about four days to complete the count, as there are 70 precincts altogether. The Republicans have a clerk present, making a tally-sheet of the totals for their own use.

FLOWERS FOR THE POOR

Notable Anniversary Celebrated by the W. C. T. U.

Throughout the entire country yesterday the lives of the sick afflicted and distressed were cheered and brightened by the work of the Flower Mission Department of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. The occasion was the anniversary of the birthday of the well-known, who was the founder of this department, and it was celebrated by the members of the W. C. T. U. throughout the United States generally. At the anniversary meeting held in Portland yesterday every union in the county was represented, and after their meeting, in observance of the day, flowers were sent to the poor-house, pesthouse, the various hospitals and sanatoriums, jails and refuge homes.

The Flower Mission of the W. C. T. U. was founded by Jenny Cassady in 1884, and since that time has had a marvelous growth, and has done a great work among the sick and distressed. The purpose for which the organization was founded was to carry beauty and cheer into the various places where these things are lacking, and thus to bring the people in contact with a purer and brighter environment. The idea has been in every way a success, and it has been found that many of the sick and distressed, when all other methods make absolutely no impression upon them.

"I have seen prisoners," said Mrs. L. H. Addison, "whose hearts seemed like stone, and upon whom absolutely no impression could be made, break down and sob and cry, upon being presented with a flower that reminded them of home and mother."

Yesterday's meeting of the Multnomah County Union was held at the Noon Rest on Third street. An abundance of beautiful roses and pinkies had been collected by the members, and their beauty and fragrance served to inspire those present in their work of carrying cheer into places where it is needed. A short devotional service was held, after which committees were appointed to distribute the flowers to the various places where it was deemed they would answer the best purpose.

The labor department of the mission distributed their flowers among the wage-earners in the factories and places where it was thought they would be appreciated. Over 400 cut flowers were distributed in this way.

Another plan of work which the Flower Mission Department has taken up, and which has the same object in view, is the distribution of fans which are so decorated as to attract the people to whom they are sent.

The Mount Scott Union donated a large number of Japanese fans. These are to be decorated with a pretty ribbon, and on the plain side are pasted various scraps of reading applicable to the person to whom they are presented. If for a sick person they are somewhat of a cheerful and bright nature. If for a worker in some special line, the clippings are selected with a view to interesting one in that work. A fan is a true friend during the summer months, and it is expected that this work will be greatly appreciated.

STOCK OVER $350,000.

More Subscriptions to Lewis and Clark Fair.

Recent subscriptions to the Lewis and Clark Fair fund have increased the total amount of stock issued to $354,242 shares, which, with $100 in donations, makes the sum subscribed to date $354,342. The list of the late subscriptions shows the interest in the coming Exposition is not flagging, and that it is still possible to secure large sums. The list, which will be presented to the board at its meeting Friday afternoon, is as follows:

PROMOTION FOR McDONELL.

He Is Elected Major of the Third Regiment, O. N. G.

At the meeting of the board of officers of the Third Regiment, O. N. G., last night, Captain Charles E. McDONELL, of Company G, was elected Major, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Major Fielding S. Kelly. The election was unanimous, Captain McDONELL being the choice of every officer present. Captain McDONELL is, in point of service, one of the oldest officers of the regiment, and during the 15 years that he has been a member of the National Guard he has won several marks of distinction. He saw his first service with Company G in 1887, and in 1890 he won the Feldensheimer medal for the best drilled man. Afterward he won the Steel medal three times consecutively, and the Corday medal, which was offered for the best drilled man in the Pacific Northwest. In 1894 he was elected Second Lieutenant, and in 1896 First Lieutenant of Company I, and in 1897 Captain of Company H. This company, with him as commander, was sent intact to the Philippines, in recognition of its proficiency in drilling. Shortly after its return, after 14 months' service in the islands, Captain McDONELL was elected Captain of Company G, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Captain Jameson. Since he first entered the service Captain McDONELL's connection with the National Guard has been continuous, and his friends will be pleased to learn of his promotion.

NEW BUILDING FOR YALE

SHEFFIELD SCIENTIFIC SCHOOL GIVEN A LABORATORY.

Gift of an Unknown Donor, in Memory of the Late Professor Jared Potter Kirkland.

Professor R. H. Chittenden, director of the Sheffield Scientific School, announces a gift to the board of trustees of the Sheffield Scientific School of a new laboratory building for mineralogy, says the New Haven Register. This building, the generous gift of a friend of the school, is a memorial to the late Professor Jared Potter Kirkland, LL. D., of Ohio. Professor Kirkland was a graduate of Yale, in the medical department, in the class of 1848, and was professor of medicine in the Ohio Medical College and in Western Reserve College. He was a member of the National Academy of Sciences, and had a wide reputation as a naturalist. Early in his history Professor Kirkland served on the Geological Survey of Ohio, and he was much interested in the zoology of the same state, being a great collector of zoological specimens, some of his work being published in the journal of the Boston Society of Natural History. He was one of the founders of the Cleveland Medical College, in 1848, and for many years, up to the time of his death in 1877, he resided in Cleveland, O.

The new building will be known as Kirkland Hall, and the plans of the building, already prepared, show a four-story structure of 6 feet front and 65 feet deep. The building is to be constructed of plain red brick, with white marble or other stone trimmings, and it is an interesting fact that the plans and design of the building have been made by Kirkland Kelsey Cutter, of Spokane, who is a great-grandson of the late Professor Kirkland.

The main floor of the building is intended for mineralogy, the second floor is to be devoted to inorganic and physical geology; the third floor to be used for physical geography and physiography; while the high basement will be devoted to mining. The building will be provided with ample lecture-rooms, from laboratory facilities, and all modern appliances for scientific work in these departments of science. The building will be located on the Sheffield plot, and it is expected that construction will begin early in the summer.

The name of the donor of this building is not to be made public at present. No announcement is made of its cost. An unofficial estimate, roughly given, places it at about $100,000. The gift of this building is highly gratifying to the directors and friends of the schools, and enables the new administration to develop its work with increased facilities.
