

READ THE RIOT ACT

Militia Patrols the Streets of Pawtucket.

DUETO STREET RAILWAY STRIKE

Car Loaded With Deputy Sheriffs Attacked and Officials Fired Into Crowd—Score of Persons Are Wounded, One Fatally.

PAWTUCKET, R. I., June 12.—Bayonets in the hands of soldiers ordered out by the Governor of the state to suppress riotous disturbances glistened in the streets of Pawtucket today. The astonishing increase in the number of lawless acts directed against the United Traction Company, whose union men have been on strike since June 2, and the inability of the limited police force and Deputy Sheriffs to suppress rioting, induced Governor Kimball to call out the militia. Numerous scenes of disorder occurred during the day, and more than a score of people were injured, one fatally. In the presence of about 14,000 persons and the militia, this evening, Adjutant General Sackett read the riot act. The city was taken possession of by the militia. A provisional regiment was formed, composed of companies of the First and Second Regiments, with the first battalion of cavalry. The regiment responded to an emergency call promulgated by Governor Kimball and Brigadier-General Herbert S. Tanner assumed command. In the afternoon the militia issued calling out the third division of the Naval Reserve and the machine gun battery.

The most serious disturbance today was on the city street car line, which was a scene of Deputy Sheriffs. At Pawtucket and East avenues, a big crowd was waiting, and the car was surrounded by a warm reception. Major Maynard had the first battalion of cavalry as a guard to the car, the troops being divided by platoons in the front and rear. The Deputy Sheriffs were ordered to keep their revolvers in their pockets by Major Maynard, who said that if there was to be any shooting the militia would do it. Chief of Police, J. W. Peterson, advised the people to disperse, and a number of the striking conductors and motormen practically endangered their own safety by endeavoring to prevent the people to leave. Before the people turned their attention to the car they cheered the troops. Immediately after, however, a heavy rain of stones, bricks and every conceivable form of missiles, and a mob of electric car. The troops were hemmed in by the mob, and with great difficulty succeeded in working their way out, the motorman of the car being the mob and getting his car through.

When the turmoil was at its height fifty a dozen shots were fired from the car through drawn curtains. One bullet lodged in the forehead of Peter Johnson, aged 12, son of John Peterson, of this city. The boy had been carrying dinner, and was returning home when attracted by the crowd. He was standing some distance from the car. The shooting made the mob wild, and only the presence of the troops prevented the demolition of the car and serious injury to the deputies. Major Sweet, surgeon of the cavalry, examined the boy and pronounced him fatally hurt. The boy was taken to the emergency hospital, where it was announced tonight that he would die. The wounding of the boy sobered the crowd, which, after the car had proceeded, became more temperate. A Providence messenger, Edward C. Smith, who was being alarmed at the shower of stones, jumped from the car, which was being rushed through the mob, and sustained serious injuries.

The situation during the remainder of the afternoon after the military officers had jurisdiction over the field, and had mapped out plans for the restoration of the street car line. A proclamation of Governor Kimball had been published, was such that General Tanner determined to have all the soldiers available. After consultation with the Governor, the militia was ordered to use the available militia and additional companies were called out. On the arrival of these commands, there were 700 men on duty. The street car line was not started until 10 o'clock. The car was being served out, each private carrying 10 rounds and each officer 50 rounds of revolver ammunition.

The contracting parties under the agreement, which was signed by William Welsh, a deputy sheriff, who had been arrested, charged with shooting the Peterson boy. When taking the prisoner to the police station two policemen were shot. The car was followed to the door of the station by a mob that stoned the officers and made great efforts to get the prisoner from them. The man was severely wounded. He was found a revolver with four cartridges in it. Welsh the police brought Adam Saunders, a private of the Eleventh Heavy Artillery, U. S. A., home on a furlough, who declared that he saw Welsh shoot the boy that did not shoot. The High Sheriff had given orders to the deputies not to use their revolvers under any circumstances. Later, Welsh was resigned before Judge Shove on a charge of shooting with intent to kill. He pleaded not guilty, and was held $1000 bail for appearance. Because of the inability of the prisoner to furnish bail and the unwillingness of the police to permit him to be carried through the streets, he remains locked up at police headquarters.

There was no further serious disturbances during the afternoon, and everything was quiet tonight.

Street-Car Boycott.

FRANKLIN, Pa., June 12.—As a result of the street-car boycott, growing out of the trouble between the Vanango Power Company and its employees, the street-car employees, both in this city and in Oil City, have been sworn in as deputy sheriffs by Sheriff McCulloch. Few people are riding. Up to a late hour last night several hundred men lined the tracks of the Northern Hotel, hooting at the motormen and conductors and endeavoring to dissuade them from patrolling the line. Torpedoes were placed on the tracks at various places, but no serious trouble arose from the demonstration.

Arbitration at Chicago.

Settlement of Two Labor Disputes by Peaceful Means. CHICAGO, June 12.—Arbitration of labor disputes has won two important victories in Chicago. The teamsters have reached an agreement with the team owners and employers after a long conference between the officials and employers of the City Railway Company, an arbitration agreement has been reached. This ends the last danger of a strike on the South Side traction lines. Committees of the Teamsters' Union and of the Teamowners and employers met at the Green Northern Hotel, talked over the arbitration plans and adopted them. They were incorporated in a resolution, the vital portion of which reads as follows: The contracting parties agree to submit to the arbitration of this board all differences between the contracting parties which do now or may arise during the life of this agreement. The agreement lasts one year from date. It gives to the union a full recognition of its right to exist and treat with the employer. It gives to the employer the knowledge that there will be no sympathetic strikes during its life. These points, the most vital in trades unions, have never been incorporated into such an

WATER CURE TESTIMONY.

Two Witnesses Tell Senate Committee What They Saw. WASHINGTON, June 12.—Frank H. Evans, of Des Moines, Ia., formerly a Sergeant of Company F, Thirtieth-second Volunteer Infantry, today testified before the Senate committee on the Philippines concerning the administration of the water cure to Filipinos on four different occasions during his service in the islands. He also related the particulars of the water cure to several native villages. He was questioned by Senators Patterson, Beveridge and McComas. All these events occurred in the Province of Batangas, Island of Luzon, and in or near the town of Orano, where his headquarters were. Three of the cases of water cure occurred during the town of Orano, and the fourth was administered by native scouts, and in the others by American soldiers.

The first case occurred at a little town where he was supposed to be some insurgents. The scouts picked out the suspected people, and taking one of them to a near-by creek, poured a quantity of water into his mouth from a canteen. The purpose in this, and in other cases, was to secure a confession. On another occasion, during an expedition to neighboring islands, the witness said that he had an American soldier take two suspected natives into the water and duck them, holding them under for perhaps half a minute at a time. He secured a confession as to the hiding place of the insurgents, and in the other cases they subjected the victim to the water cure, and the witness said, to have been quite disabled, being apparently so weak that he was unable to rise. In the case of the man who was the subject of the water cure in Orano, a tooth of the victim was knocked out, but so far as he knew no other injury was inflicted.

The majority are under 20, though some are septuagenarians. Advice from all the districts says that the burghers are increasingly friendly to the British government, and that with the exceptions noted their treatment had been in accordance with these instructions. The natives had not, on the other hand, shown any appreciation of this consideration. They refused to divulge information in their possession, and in many cases they subjected the American troops to indignities. Edward Norton, who is in London, a late private in Company I, Eighteenth United States Infantry, was the witness at the afternoon session. He served two years in the Philippines, and answered questions by Senator Culberson. He related from hearsay the story of a Boer who was captured by the troops to the Vice-President of San Miguel and a native policeman, and described one occasion where he had assisted in "water-curing" a native. The man's mouth, he said, was forced open with a stick, and the water poured down his throat. The effect of the treatment was temporary strangulation. In this particular case, he said, the Boer, after recovering from the cure, delivered up a number of rifles and pistols. It was the practice, in marching through villages, the witness related, "When fired upon by natives, immediately to burn their houses.
