AMUSEMENTS TONIGHT.

THE BAKER THEATER (Third and Yamhill streets)—Pollard's Juvenile Opera Company in Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Mikko."

HERE'S AN OLD-TIMER.—A geography 150 years old has been left with Assistant Secretary Himes of the Oregon Historical Society, by C. W. Green, of Tualatin, and occupies a place in the display cases in the rooms of the society, in the City Hall. The book belongs to Mr. Green's daughter, who lives in Walla Walla. On a fly-leaf are the name and words, "Horton Howard, his book," but who Horton Howard was Mr. Green does not know, and he has no means of ascertaining. The book has been in the possession of the Green and Jolley families for several generations. Thomas Green, an ancestor of Mr. Green, was united in marriage to a granddaughter of Elias Jolley, a son of John and Hannah Jolley. John Jolley was born December 15, 1782, and lived in North Carolina. The book contains some curious notes of North America, including the colonies, and of the Kingdom of Poland. The first chapter contains a proclamation by King George III. dated in October 7, 1763, addressing the colonists as his "loving subjects."

SHIPMENTS OF HOOD RIVER STRAWBERRIES.—Last year there were shipped from Hood River in all about 40 carloads of strawberries, 33 straight carloads, and the remainder in smaller lots. Already this year 50 straight carloads have been shipped, and it is estimated that the smaller lots about equal 15 cars. S. A. Herwig, who represents the Armour Refrigerator Car Line and has recently taken up to keep track of the strawberry shipments from Hood River, says the season's output from that station will be fully double that of last year, or 80 carloads. And the prospect is that next year the shipments will be twice as great as those of this season. The chief markets supplied from Hood River are Denver, Omaha, Winnipeg, North Dakota and Montana. A few samples were sent farther East, but no considerable quantity was sent beyond the Mississippi River. The strawberry crop this year has given the best of satisfaction.

MRS. STEWART'S DEATH.—The death of Mrs. Catherine Stewart, Monday, June 16, removes from Portland one of the city's earliest pioneers. She was the widow of the late James Stewart, and was born in Coventry, England, in 1825. In April, 1854, she came to Portland by way of Cape Horn, in a sailing vessel. Forty-three years ago, when that part of Portland was only a dismal forest, she moved to her last home, 231 Burnside street. She was the mother of Mrs. James Dowling, Edwin M. Dalton, F. B. Stewart, Mrs. F. W. Molson, of Montreal, Canada, who spent her son, recently visited her mother, and the late J. Frank Stewart. A great many grandchildren also survive her, and a host of friends mourn her loss.

GET YOUR ROSES READY.—The Portland Rose Society asks that roses intended for the exhibition be left at the rose tent in the center of Multnomah Field just as early as possible Friday morning. A committee of ladies will be there to receive them as early as 7 o'clock. This request is made in order that all contributions may be labeled and placed before the hour set for the reception of guests. Any and every person having fine roses is earnestly asked to contribute to this display, and thereby aid in making this one of the finest floral exhibitions ever seen in the Northwest.

SCHOOL ELECTION AT OSWEGO.—At the annual school meeting held at the school building in Oswego Monday evening, C. Garfield was re-elected school director for a term of three years, and C. B. Hall was re-elected clerk for one year. The same evening the board of trustees elected the following teachers for the ensuing year: H. T. Evans, principal; Miss Imus, of the Oregon State Normal, intermediate grades; Miss Georgia Bell, first primary; Miss Pearl Nida, second primary.

PARADE BY SALVATION ARMY.—A grand international parade will be held by the Salvation Army tonight in connection with their meeting being in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium. The features of this meeting are a representation of the different countries in which the army works, a stropicton exhibition, a junior drill and some songs from some of the best army singers in the Northwest. The program is a large one, and will not fail to interest every one.

QUARANTINE FARE.—The quarantine on the Women's Union, at 519 Flanders street, was raised yesterday, and 120 cases having expired during which no further cases of smallpox have appeared. The house has been thoroughly fumigated and the inmates vaccinated. All remaining danger being passed, the various women who find there a comfortable home, from which they were expelled during the quarantine, expect to return at once.

DEATH OF INJURED STEVEDORE.—William Warren, a stevedore, who fell down the hatchway of the steamer Lakme and sustained a fracture of the skull on June 5, died at the Good Samaritan Hospital, Warren improved greatly, and hopes for his recovery were entertained, but during the latter part of last week his condition changed for the worse, and he passed away Monday. Deceased was a single man, and was 37 years old.

FOR HIGH SCHOOL EXERCISES.—The address to the graduating class of the High School next Tuesday evening will be delivered by Professor E. L. Campbell, president of the State Normal School and Christian College, at Monmouth, and president-elect of the University of Oregon. The program for the commencement exercises has not yet been completed by Principal Davis, but it will probably be ready by Friday.

LEWIS AND CLARK IN THE CALL.—President Corbett has appointed Directors Devers, Friede and Mallory to consult with Governor Geer as to the propriety of including in the appropriation bill of a Lewis and Clark appropriation in the call for an extra session of the Legislature, if he shall issue such a call. The committee held a meeting yesterday and agreed to send a letter to the Governor, asking him to include the Lewis and Clark matter in such a call. Through the calling of a special session for this purpose is not urged, the letter to the Governor will point out certain reasons for asking the Legislature to consider the appropriation at the special session, if one is to be held, among them being that it would not then be likely to be mixed up in the Senatorial fight, and could be handled on a non-partisan basis, and early action by Oregon would greatly assist the celebration of the centennial of the Lewis and Clark expedition.

CARDINAL'S CLASS ISSUE.—The June class, '02, of the Portland High School has issued an annual, class number of the school paper, The Cardinal. The special number is much larger than the regular edition of the paper, and contains a number of interesting stories and poems. Features of the edition are the class history and class prophecies. The High School fraternities and debating societies are well written up. Seven excellent half-page articles are included. They are Latin, English and German classes; the Phi Kappa Society, the To-Logelon Society, the Pi Delta Kappa fraternity and the Gamma Eta Kappa fraternity. William A. Hill is editor-in-chief. Curtis Sargent business manager of The Cardinal. Both are members of the Latin class to be graduated next Wednesday. They are also both members of the Pi Delta Kappa fraternity.

FIVE BOYS NOW IN GOOD HANDS.—Eddie Wiser, Fred Hastings, Harley Bangs, Willie Wiser and George Hastings, boys whose ages range from 12 to 15 years, were tried in the Municipal Court yesterday on a charge of disorderly conduct. The youngsters, who live in the northeast section of the city, had been in the habit of staying out at night, and were carrying bad language, and of annoying storekeepers and others. A warning from a policeman to behave themselves had no effect, and so all five were arrested. The boys admitted that they had stayed out late, and that they had passed the time in gambling. "For what?" inquired the Deputy District Attorney. "For matches," answered one of the boys. "The matches?" "Yes, sir, we were committed to the care of the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society."

STRIKERS ENFORCE BOYCOTT.—The strikers have taken a firmer stand in enforcing the boycott against the products of the unfair plantings, and yesterday afternoon it was reported that all work had been stopped on the Thomas Richardson building, at Third and Salmon streets, because unfair door-sash were being used. Herebefore contractors and millmen have reported that the boycott was having little effect, and was not being carried out. They are now waiting the next move in suspense, and wonder if yesterday's walk-out was a start for a more strict observance of the boycott, and if a strike will be declared at all places where unfair material is being used.

MOBS SMALLPOX CASES.—Six cases of smallpox were reported to City Physician Zan Monday and yesterday, and all the patients were removed to the hospital for contagious diseases. They were: George Bonner, of 22 Mississippi avenue; Martha Clark, of Cascade Locks, Stevenson; Nellie Ray, D. Cloud and Cleopatra, of 28 East Eighth street, and Viola Held, of Park and Burnside streets. In nearly all the cases the disease was of a mild type, and was contracted by exposure.

BAD BOYS GET OFF EARLY.—Two boys named W. J. Harris and Frank Reynolds, who were accused of having stolen tobacco and cigars from a store at the corner of Seventh and Gilliam streets, were tried in the Municipal Court yesterday, convicted and sentenced to six months in the County Jail. Sentence was suspended on a promise by the boys that they would behave themselves in the future.

ASTORIA EXCURSIONS.—From foot Alder street daily 7 A. M., except Sunday, to the "City by the Sea." The Columbia is now at its highest water of the season; the salmon canneries are at work; the river at Astoria is covered with hundreds of fish-boats. Visitors and tourists should take this trip, for all information, both phones, Main 51.

DALLESS BOAT, FOOT ALDER STREET.—Daily 7 A. M., except Sunday, Moffett's Hot Springs, Cascade Locks, Stevenson, St. Martin's Hot Springs, White Salmon, Hood River, Light, where railroad men wanted, and The Dalles. Grand scenic route for tourists. Dalles electric sign.

THE PAY IS READY.—The judges and clerks who served at the school election Monday will receive their compensation by calling upon School Clerk Allen. All are requested to call as soon as possible, as delay prevents the early closing of the books.

EXPENSES for the floral parade should be reported as soon as possible to Mr. J. W. Crutcher, Chamber of Commerce building; telephone Hood 31. Do not wait for personal solicitation. Let patriotic pride for our city prompt all who are able to participate.

A RARE DISEASE. Woman's Heart Beats After Apparent Death.

CHICAGO, June 17.—Practically dead for 8 1/2 hours, the heart of Bridget Dempsey, a patient in the County Hospital, has finally ceased beating. All action of the respiratory organs of the woman had ceased and the physicians in attendance pronounced her dead. The heart action, which apparently had died away, grew stronger a few moments afterward, and injections of nitroglycerin and other stimulants and artificial respiration were used, but ineffectually. Still the pulsations of the heart continued with regularity, while the woman remained to all other indications lifeless.

Dr. J. H. Mustard, of the hospital staff, pronounced the case one of Landry's paralysis, one of the rarest diseases known to medical science. The disease is primarily paralysis of the respiratory organs, which does not act immediately upon the heart. The dead woman was 21 years of age, and entered the institution two weeks ago to be treated for tubercular meningitis.

Flouring Mill Changes Hands. MINNIVILLE, June 17.—H. M. Daniel has assumed full charge of the Star Flouring Mill, which was shut down through litigation some five weeks ago, paying his partner, David Stout, $10,000 for his interest. Mr. Daniel will at once repair and widen the ditch furnishing water for power. It is rumored that the city may soon negotiate for this same power for the running of the electric plant.

Dr. Sanford's Liver Invigorator. The best liver medicine. A vegetable cure for liver bile, biliousness, indigestion, constipation, malaria.

CITY'S PRIDE AT STAKE

LET ALL UNITE TO MAKE ROSE SHOW A SUCCESS.

California Cities Do Well, but Portland Has the Material to Do Even Better.

The first flower festival given in the United States was in Santa Barbara, during President Harrison's visit to the Pacific Coast. Being the town which inaugurated the custom, Santa Barbara tries hard to retain its supremacy, and any one who has ever seen the sight of such a festival must remember it always. Ordinarily wide avenue is fenced off for 30 or 50 blocks; tribunes are erected on either side of the street; arches of wild mustard and fan palms, or sometimes the blossoms of eucalyptus trees, span the approach to the tribunes, and everyone is enthusiastic and loyal in working for the festival. No advertising of any kind is allowed, nor do people tolerate a float named Santa Barbara, with Santa Barbara posed according to the well-known picture, because a mineral water company, which had adopted the saint's picture for its trademark, had decorated and entered the float. There were no letters to indicate any sort of advertising, and the float was a very handsome one; yet the people resented anything liable to detract from the artistic effect of the flower-decked vehicles.

The Santa Barbara Flower Festival is modeled on that of Nice, France, and crowds of tourists testify to the fame it has earned in past years. Horseback riders, phaetons, chariots, traps, tallyhens, buggies and all sorts of fancy vehicles are allowed to parade, and after the prizes are awarded, the trumpet gives the signal for the battle of flowers to begin. The spectators and contestants shower each other until the street is ankle deep with flowers when the flower battle is over.

The Los Angeles Fiesta is a more rollicking sort of a thing, with maskers and parades through the city's streets, and the advertising laborer in Santa Barbara is allowed. Other California towns are celebrated for their parades, notably Pasadena, San Jose, San Mateo, San Rafael, Santa Rosa, and every year, when Sacramento has the largest number of entries for the floral parade.

In a few days Portland will have a flower festival in Multnomah Field. Being so blessed with flowers, ferns and decorative means, the city ought to do much more than at present. The Associated Press will send dispatches about it, and Oregonians should exert themselves to make a good showing, both in numbers and beauty, in Saturday's parade. Portland has more cultivated and wild flowers than any one of the California cities where flower festivals have been held.

The floral parade and battle of flowers on Saturday afternoon already gives promise of being a credit to this great flower festival. A large number of entries have already been made. There will be decorated traps, single and double tandems, chariots, floats, tallyhens, pony turnouts, mounts and outriders. The parade will assemble again take place on the track in Multnomah Field, the procession passing around and around in review before the grandstand and judges. At the conclusion of the parade, prizes will be awarded. After this, at a signal from the bugle, the battle of flowers will begin. The occupants of vehicles and riders will carry baskets of flowers with which they will shower each other, and the spectators in the grandstand, who will return the volley. The official photographer will take moving pictures for reproduction at his illustrated lectures through Eastern States.

COMING ATTRACTIONS. "Gaiety Girl" at the Baker. "Pinaturo," which has been produced by Pollard's juvenile opera company, and which has been a favorite in Portland since its production at the old Tivoli 11 years ago, will be given at the Baker Thursday night by "The Gaiety Girl." The Gaiety Girl has been seen in Portland before, but the play of the Pollard company will differ greatly from past performances. Many new novelties will be introduced, and "The Gaiety Girl" will have new charms for its admirers. The play will run Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, with a Saturday matinee.
