

ROSE SHOWS OPEN

Finest Display Ever Seen in Portland.

SCORES OF CHOICE VARIETIES

Crowds of People Enjoy Beautiful Spectacle on Multnomah Field

Roses are wanted at the rose show today. Many of those sent in yesterday were written by the best, and it is desired that every rose in the tent shall be as fresh as when first cut.

The rose show given by the Portland Rose Association as a stimulus to the growing of roses and beautifying the city in preparation for the Lewis and Clark fair opened yesterday afternoon on Multnomah field, and proved to be the finest, most varied and most interesting display of roses ever seen in Portland.

This will be the last day of the show. At 2:30 this afternoon there will be a splendid floral parade on the field. All the finest turn-outs in the city will be there—traps, trolley and automobiles, and all will be profusely decorated.

The interior of the big tent where the roses were exhibited was a scene of color, fragrance and beauty. About the sides of the tent are banked masses of the most gorgeous and beautiful flowers.

Two other roses of special note were the "Rosa Regosa" exhibited by Mrs. H. L. Pittcock, and a curious rather than beautiful green rose, from the garden of Mrs. P. J. Mann.

Portland Heights was represented by some very beautiful varieties of roses, contributed by Mr. Lobbe, Mrs. Nichol, Mrs. Dryden, Miss Smith and Mrs. Fear.

One large table, arranged by ladies of Irvington, Holladay's and Arbor View, displayed a fine collection of some of the best varieties. Among them were the old-fashioned pink moss rose, Triumph de Peruet, a very fine red rose, and a hardy climber, America, a lovely climbing yellow rose, which, by the way, is much more deserving of its name than the "American Beauty".

The South Portland table is in charge of Mrs. E. C. Bronaugh, Mrs. Milton Smith, Miss Suste Cosgrove and Miss Cora de Lin. Copiousness on this table was Valle de Chamounix, a very fine white rose, and the pink La France.

The candy booth, placed against the shady southwest wall of the field, was a charming bower of roses and Chinese lanterns. All sorts of delicious candies were here, but the candy which was the pride of the booth was rose pinchoe, of a delicate pink color and flavored with real rose leaves.

GOVERNOR AND THE FAIR

BOY SAYS HE WAS HURT

Causes Arrest of Member of Pollard Company for Assault.

Quite a thrill of excitement passed through the streets of Portland yesterday when it became known that Arthur Pollard, the popular stage mechanic of the company, had been arrested on a warrant issued by Judge Cameron, in which Pollard is charged with kicking a boy, on the complaint of A. G. Long.

"That was too bad. Did it hurt?" "It did," replied the little man, emphatically, "but I did not strike the boy in return. I controlled myself. Mr. Pollard kicked him lightly with the side of his foot. That was all, and the boy laughed. He was not hurt. If I were the boy I would not complain. He used bad language toward Mr. Pollard—I could not and would not repeat the awful words that boy used. I am a member of the chorus. I was Lady Grey in the 'Gaiety Girl.' Where do I come from? Footscray, six miles from Melbourne, Australia. It is quite a distance, is it not? I like Portland. I suppose you'd wish me to say so, but I say it with all my heart."

STRIKERS WILL NOT YIELD

THEY ANNOUNCE INTENTION OF STANDING BY THEIR GUNS.

At Federated Trades Meeting Resolution Denouncing Rumors of Their Weakening is Passed.

The strikers, far from being on the verge of concession as has been rumored, took action at the meeting of the Federated Trades Council last night that will enable them to enforce the boycott more strictly, and passed resolutions warning the public against reports that they were weakening in their stand.

AT THE CANDY BOOTH.

AT THE CANDY BOOTH.

Whereas, certain master carpenters and millwrights have circulated and are continuing to circulate lying reports of men working on unfair material and of the woodworkers having gone back to work and of the boycott having been declared off; and Whereas, these reports are calculated to do us harm and create an unfavorable impression with our union men and the sympathizing public; and Whereas, such reports have influenced the daily papers in that they have given them publicity, and commented editorially in a manner to prejudice our cause; and Whereas, out of over 200 members of the Woodworkers on strike for seven weeks, only four have deserted, two of whom were 17-year-day men, and after three weeks of boycott only one carpenter has been proven to use unfair material; and Whereas, the Building Trades Council will place three more men next Monday to canvas the different jobs and draw the lines closer on unfair matter, to be used, now, therefore, be it Resolved, That all concerned are hereby notified.

AN EVENTFUL DAY

How Happiness Came Into a Clouded Life.

"It was an eventful day for me," said Mrs. Mamie McLean, of No. 296 East Congress street, Detroit, Mich.

"I had led a gloomy life," she continued. My entire girlhood was saddened by ill-health, the result of a cold contracted at a critical time in my 13th year. Months and years of suffering followed, and doctors did not help me. My blood had turned to water, and the natural functions of my sex had ceased. A noted specialist, in the diagnosis of women who were treating me said my case was hopeless, and that I could not live more than a few years at the most.

"I was so weak that I could not walk across the room, I had not the slightest appetite, my feet and hands were always cold, and I was miserable and unhappy. I wasted away to a mere shadow. I looked frightful, and no medicine that I took did me any good. I tried to be resigned to my fate, but it was hard.

"Then came the eventful day. An old friend of the family came in and told me so confidently that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People would cure me that I began to hope, and life looked brighter. I started taking the pills, and I soon could see that they were doing me good. My flesh began to feel warmer, my color came back and I felt stronger. Improvement was gradual but sure. I continued faithfully with the medicine, and soon my functions became normal and health came back. My friends thought my recovery was almost a miracle, and the physicians who had given me up for dead were forced to admit that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had done what they could not do."

No discovery of modern times has proved such a blessing to women as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Acting directly on the blood and nerves, invigorating the body, regulating the functions, they restore the strength and health in the exhausted patient when every effort of the physician proves unavailing. These pills are sold in boxes at 50 cents a box, or 6 boxes for $2.50, and may be had at all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

TO GUIDE THE FIREMEN.

Diagrams That Will Tell How to Enter Buildings.

To increase the efficiency of the Fire Department Chief Campbell has instituted a new rule by which the district engineers are required to make a weekly report of all buildings in the city in which fires are likely to occur, the ways of entering and the number of rooms in such buildings, the number of fire-escapes and the best methods of reaching the fire. It is the intention of the Chief to have a diagram of all buildings hung in each engine-house, so that the men in each district may by study know how to reach a fire most effectively when they are called out.

As a sample of the reports required, one of several which have been filed with Secretary Weldler, of the Board of Fire Commissioners, may be cited. It states that on — street, East Side, there is a two-story frame building, entrance from the front and the rear, has eight rooms, is built on piling and will burn fast."

"Partisan" to Rebuke Crime?

Harper's Weekly.

As to the comments upon the President's speech made by certain "sensitive Senators," there may be dismissed as having little importance. If there was anything sectional in Mr. Roosevelt's utterance it was read into his observations by opponents and not put there by himself. But even if the lynchings of which he spoke were confined to any one section of the Nation, which they are not by any means, they would still have been subject for reprobation by the Chief Magistrate of the land, and in the precise connection in which they were reprobated. The real facts of the situation are that the President appeared as the defender of the people as a whole against the attacks of those who would condemn the whole for the acts of the few, and if there was any real justification of the criticism of his address by

A HANDSOME GROUP.
