

TACOMA TEAMS TIED

Split for High Honors in Shooting Tournament.

SPOKANE WINS SECOND PLACE

Many Visiting Marksmen Contest in First Day's Events—Fine Shooting and Close Competition.

The 15th annual tournament of the Sportsmen's Association of the Northwest opened yesterday at the Irvington shooting grounds, where 100 marksmen contested for the $500 worth of prizes offered in the 10 events. The greatest interest was shown in event No. 8, for the three-men team trophy, in which two Tacoma teams tied for first place, and a Spokane team won second.

The attendance was very large, there being 15 teams present, representing all the principal towns of the Pacific Northwest, besides individual shooters from San Francisco, Denver, Salt Lake and other more distant places. Among the well-known sportsmen present were: Fred McBroome of Spokane, W. A. Seaver and E. S. Drake of San Francisco, E. C. Garrett from Seattle, Pete Holohan from Wallace, J. E. Enyart from Medford, B. D. Faine of Eugene, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Seard of Tacoma, Messrs. Sullivan and Spence of Pendleton, winners of the 1901 live-bird shoot, and Sheriff-elect Story, R. D. Inman, A. J. Winters and J. E. Cullison of Portland.

The scene at the shoot was a gay one. There were many tents erected for the convenience of the participants, where lemonade and other refreshments were served by the local members. Many of the teams were uniformed, some in white duck, brilliant-colored jerseys and caps, the whole combining with the green shrubbery and the white tents, making a very pleasant sight.

One of the best features of the meet was the absence of live-bird shooting, as the association has stopped this inhumane practice, and in its stead substituted blue rock clay disks, projected by means of a spring gun. The disks sail through the air exactly like a live pigeon, and when hit they shatter into many pieces, removing all doubt as to whether the marksmen have scored a hit or a miss.

Eighteen teams of three men each entered in event No. 8, for the team trophy. Sixty shots were fired, and two teams, composed of Tacoma men, as follows, tied for the first place: Team H, Denham, Smith and Sheard; and Team I, Wood and Lanning. A Spokane team, composed of Hunter, Flint and Ware, secured second place with 13 targets. The tie will probably be played off today.

The events on yesterday's programme, and the winners were as follows:

Event 1, $50 added, 15 targets, unknown angles; entrance, $1.50; divided 50, 30 and 20 per cent—First place tied for by Hill, Steel, Haight, Smith, Flint, Baltimore and Sheard, with 10 targets.

Event 2, $50 added, 15 targets, unknown angles; entrance, $1.50; divided 50, 30 and 20 per cent—First place tied for by Hill, Steel, Haight, Smith, Flint, Baltimore and Sheard, with 10 targets.

Event 3, $50 added, 20 targets, unknown angles; entrance, $2; divided 50, 30 and 20 per cent—Won by Hill, with 10 targets.

Event 4, $50 added, 25 targets, unknown angles; entrance, $2.50; divided 50, 30 and 20 per cent—Won by Hill, with 10 targets.

Event 5, $50 added, 20 targets, unknown angles; entrance, $2; divided 50, 30 and 20 per cent—Won by Hill, with 10 targets.

Event 6, $50 added, 20 targets, unknown angles; entrance, $2; divided 50, 30 and 20 per cent—Won by Hill, with 10 targets.

Event 7, $50 added, 20 targets, unknown angles; entrance, $2; divided 50, 30 and 20 per cent—Won by Hill, with 10 targets.

Event 8, $50 added, 20 targets, unknown angles; entrance, $2; divided 50, 30 and 20 per cent—Won by Hill, with 10 targets.

Event 9, $50 added, 20 targets, unknown angles; entrance, $2; divided 50, 30 and 20 per cent—Won by Hill, with 10 targets.

Event 10, $50 added, 20 targets, unknown angles; entrance, $2; divided 50, 30 and 20 per cent—Won by Hill, with 10 targets.

Event 11, $50 added, 20 targets, unknown angles; entrance, $2; divided 50, 30 and 20 per cent—Won by Hill, with 10 targets.

Event 12, $50 added, 20 targets, unknown angles; entrance, $2; divided 50, 30 and 20 per cent—Won by Hill, with 10 targets.

Event 13, $50 added, 20 targets, unknown angles; entrance, $2; divided 50, 30 and 20 per cent—Won by Hill, with 10 targets.

Event 14, $50 added, 20 targets, unknown angles; entrance, $2; divided 50, 30 and 20 per cent—Won by Hill, with 10 targets.

Event 15, $50 added, 20 targets, unknown angles; entrance, $2; divided 50, 30 and 20 per cent—Won by Hill, with 10 targets.

Event 16, $50 added, 20 targets, unknown angles; entrance, $2; divided 50, 30 and 20 per cent—Won by Hill, with 10 targets.

Event 17, $50 added, 20 targets, unknown angles; entrance, $2; divided 50, 30 and 20 per cent—Won by Hill, with 10 targets.

Event 18, $50 added, 20 targets, unknown angles; entrance, $2; divided 50, 30 and 20 per cent—Won by Hill, with 10 targets.

Event 19, $50 added, 20 targets, unknown angles; entrance, $2; divided 50, 30 and 20 per cent—Won by Hill, with 10 targets.

Event 20, $50 added, 20 targets, unknown angles; entrance, $2; divided 50, 30 and 20 per cent—Won by Hill, with 10 targets.

Event 21, $50 added, 20 targets, unknown angles; entrance, $2; divided 50, 30 and 20 per cent—Won by Hill, with 10 targets.

Event 22, $50 added, 20 targets, unknown angles; entrance, $2; divided 50, 30 and 20 per cent—Won by Hill, with 10 targets.

Event 23, $50 added, 20 targets, unknown angles; entrance, $2; divided 50, 30 and 20 per cent—Won by Hill, with 10 targets.

Event 24, $50 added, 20 targets, unknown angles; entrance, $2; divided 50, 30 and 20 per cent—Won by Hill, with 10 targets.

SQUAD NO. 12 ON THE FIRING LINE

MRS. SHEARD, OF TACOMA, SHOOTING.

The accompanying illustration shows squad No. 12 in action at the trap shoot. Mrs. Sheard, of Tacoma, is shooting. The other members of the team are Messrs. Robes, Lester, Confar, Goddard and Wright.

angles; entrance $1.75, $45 added; divided 50, 30 and 20 per cent.

Event 17—Fifteen targets, unknown angles; entrance $1.75, $45 added; divided 50, 30 and 20 per cent.

Event 18—Twenty-five targets, unknown angles; entrance $2.50, $100 added; divided 50, 30, 20, 15 and 10 per cent.

Event 19—Twenty-five targets, unknown angles; entrance $2.50, $100 added; divided 50, 30, 20, 15 and 10 per cent.

Event 20—Walla Walla Brownlee medal, $4 entrance.

The Brownlee medal was donated to the S. A. N. W. by Mr. N. B. Brownlee, of Spokane, to be shot for annually during the life of the association.

20 targets—Expert rules. Indicator pull. Known angles. Four unknown, 1 known trap. Squad up. One man fires 5 shots from center and gives way. Winner of medal to receive one-half of purse at next tournament.

First prize, medal; second prize, 40 per cent of purse; third prize, 30 per cent of purse; fourth prize, 20 per cent of purse; fifth prize, 10 per cent of purse.

Total targets second day, 200. Total entrance second day, $23.50, $400 added.

The individual scores were as follows:

Name 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10

Eddy 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Hill 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Hill 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Stewart 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Stevens 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Ellis 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Robb 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Cooper 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Man 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Enyart 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Winters 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Seaver 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Holohan 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Flint 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Ware 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Seard 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

McClure 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Wright 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Plum 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Squad No. 5, Remington

Monteth 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Honeyman 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Squad No. 7—

Smith 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Ward 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Sheard 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Denham 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Rowe 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Lanning 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Squad No. 8—

Cullison 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Hunter 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Flint 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Ware 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Seard 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

McClure 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Wright 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Squad No. 9—

Godman 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Hindle 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Baker 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

McDonald 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Shields 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Squad No. 11—

McMillan 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Spargo 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Lester 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Hunter 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Squad No. 12—

Robes 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

McClure 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Confar 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Goddard 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Wright 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

Squad No. 13—

Ward 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12

of Devonshire was brought over from France, where he died, the officers, to the anger of the servants, not content with opening and searching the coffin, poked the corpse with a stick to ascertain if it was a real body; but the trick of smuggling in coffins was too old to be attempted. Forty years before, when a deceased clergyman was conveyed from the low countries for interment, the body of the corpse was found to have disappeared and to have been replaced by Flanders lace of immense value—the head, hands and feet alone remaining. The discovery did not, however, prevent the High Sheriff of Westminster from running— and that successfully—2000 worth of French lace in the coffin of Bishop Aubrey, when his body was brought over from Calais for interment.

Prayer by Rev. M. D. McClelland.

Reading of the Declaration of Independence—M. L. Pratt.

Orator—C. E. S. Wood.

Solo—Miss Carolyn Johnston.

Solo—Miss Edna Kilpatrick.

The soloists will have an orchestral accompaniment.

For those who do not wish to listen to the songs and speeches, yacht races will be given on the river at 4 P. M., provided the wind blows. There are some first-class yachts in Portland, and a fine exhibition may be expected. If the wind fails to blow on the Fourth, the races will be postponed until the 5th.

In the evening the fireworks will be given. The site is not yet decided upon, but the $1000 worth of explosives have been ordered, and are on the road. Over two tons of red fire will be scattered about the hillsides surrounding Portland.

At a given signal, this will be lighted, and the entire city will be brilliantly illuminated. Roman candles and skyrockets in abundance will keep up a constant play in the sky, and an occasional set piece will lend enchantment to the view. The first sight that will greet the eye will be the words, "Welcome to All," written across the heavens in letters of fire, and surrounded by a surging mass of flame and sparks. The wheel of wheels, the Wilamette Falls, and a large number of handsome set pieces will be displayed during the evening. A fireworks expert will arrive in Portland soon, and will design a special Lewis and Clark set piece, which will be a dazzling sight.

Three sites have been proposed from which to give the fireworks. All are good, but none has yet been decided upon. They are:

The Seventh-street terraces. In South Portland; Portland Heights, and the hills back of St. Vincent's Hospital.

Saturday will be given mostly to sports. In the morning will be swimming races, tub races and other races on the water that can create fun and amusement. In the afternoon will be horse races, automobile races, and races between horses and automobiles.

During the entire three days professional baseball games and professional horse races will be given, at which admission will be charged. The various devices owned by private individuals which lend spirit and novelty to every celebration will also be in evidence.

CHAFFING ON 'CHANGE.

Rough Treatment of a Stranger Who Gets Upon the Floor.

New York Times.

If a stranger appears on the floor of the exchange he is sure to be detected by the thousands of clerks and other persons passing through the doors every day. The signal given up a stranger's approach is the mysterious cry, "Hoo!" Why "Hoo" no one can tell, although the stock exchange historian believes that in one year the membership number 1350, and newcomers during that time were regarded as "the new man."

"Fourteen hundred" invariably brings a swarm of chaffing members around the stranger. He is greeted with such cries as, "Where did you get that hat?" "Poor fellow, he looks frightened" and "Let him alone, can't you? He's a stranger."

Then some one pushes the luckless stranger one way; another member, appearing taking him, pushes him back again; a third member takes a hand in this game; and presently the newcomer is hustled about like a ping-pong ball at a tournament. He is hustled forward and back, and the crowd of comment and cries of encouragement more deafening. Naturally, the average man, not being a mustin and sawdust doll, resents this treatment. He angers rises as the mob shows less and less consideration. He may strike at his tormentors, as some have done, and thereby inspire trouble of a serious sort; he may kick and beat and his temper kindling through with nothing worse than rumpled hair and a damaged hat, or he may even challenge some of the jokers to a duel, as has actually been done in several instances.

But the members are just as merciless in their treatment of each other. The man with a faded, or a grievance, or a marked characteristic of any kind is sure to have the fact brought home to him a dozen times a day, in ways more pointed than polite.

College Spirit.

Among the stories told by Dean Briggs at the dinner of the Exeter Academy alumni the other evening was one intended to show how the spirit of the academy survives in its pupils long after they have passed from their alma mater. "He was then," said the dean, "a Harvard senior, but was on what proved to be his death-bed."

"The people at the hospital had never seen any one bear as much pain with such fortitude as he did. Through it all, as was said by a medical visitor from the university, he was such a gentleman. Just before his death one of the attendants asked him if he felt some local pain."

"I did not," he said, "until you gave me that medicine." Then instantly he thought of the other man, and said, "I beg your pardon. The medicine man had had nothing to do with it."

"Now, nobody in that hospital who saw that boy die witnessed the scene without a stronger faith than they had before in the school whose name he bore. When men from a college or school show such a spirit as that it means that they are capable of intense loyalty to their friends. And it is that loyalty, attainable neither by money nor by age, which makes a school or college a power in the community, and in as the breath of life to it."

Kendrick Remains With Santa Fe.

TOPEKA, Kan., June 26.—Third Vice-President J. W. Kendrick, of the Santa Fe Railway, is due in Chicago Friday from his European trip. George R. Henderson, superintendent of motive power, went to Chicago today to consult Mr. Kendrick on some important items of business concerning the road. The officials here understand that Mr. Kendrick has declined the position of European representative of the Westinghouse Air Brake Company. He will retain his position with the road at a salary said to be $10,000 a year less than what the Westinghouse people offer.

FOURTH TO BE A HUMMER

PORTLAND WILL MAKE THE EAGLE SCREAM THREE DAYS.

General Committee Has Raised $3085 for a B-G Celebration, With Plenty of Red Fire.

A total of $3085 has been subscribed to the Fourth of July fund, of which $2099 will be devoted to the display of fireworks on the night of the Fourth. A three days' celebration will be given, commencing with a grand band concert on the evening of the 2d and extending over Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The regular meeting of the committee was held last night, when reports were heard from various committees, and the programme of the celebration fairly outlined.

The funds were appropriated as follows:

Fireworks $1000

Advertising and printing $500

Parade $500

Literary exercises $50

Sports and amusements $50

Total $3085

The bandstand will be erected on Park street, in front of the Park school, and will also be used as a grandstand. The band concert on Thursday evening will be given there. Music will be furnished by a picked band of 25 pieces.

Friday morning will commence the big celebration. At sunrise the Continental salute will re-echo throughout the city. At 10 o'clock the athletic sports will commence. Rowing races and bicycle races will be the chief events. Tempting prizes have been offered and exciting contests are expected. At 2 P. M. a parade will be given, the largest and most spectacular ever seen on the streets of Portland.

The bands will furnish music, and the prizes offered for the decorations will call forth the efforts of those participating.

The prizes are as follows:

Floral turn-out—$50 for best decorated automobile or other vehicle, $30 for second best, $20 for third best.

For best decorated double team, automobile or other vehicle, $50; for second best, $40.

For best decorated single team, trap or other vehicle, $25; for second best, $15.

For best decorated child's cart, $10; for second best, $5.

Civic organizations—$50 for civic organization with best float; $40 for second best, $30 for third best.

Trades displays—$50 for best manufacturers' float, with escort; $40 for second best.

Miscellaneous—$15 for most comical float.

At 3:30 the literary exercises will be given in the Marquam Grand Opera-House, which will be artistically decorated for the occasion. An effort will be made by the committee to secure a large American flag to use in the decorations. No prizes will be awarded on this occasion, but every participant will undoubtedly put forth his best efforts. The meeting will be presided over by Mayor-elect George H. Williams, who will be assisted by Mayor H. S. Rowe. The programme, as nearly as has been determined, will be as follows:

Prayer by Rev. M. D. McClelland.

Reading of the Declaration of Independence—M. L. Pratt.

Orator—C. E. S. Wood.

Solo—Miss Carolyn Johnston.

Solo—Miss Edna Kilpatrick.

The soloists will have an orchestral accompaniment.

For those who do not wish to listen to the songs and speeches, yacht races will be given on the river at 4 P. M., provided the wind blows. There are some first-class yachts in Portland, and a fine exhibition may be expected. If the wind fails to blow on the Fourth, the races will be postponed until the 5th.

In the evening the fireworks will be given. The site is not yet decided upon, but the $1000 worth of explosives have been ordered, and are on the road. Over two tons of red fire will be scattered about the hillsides surrounding Portland.

At a given signal, this will be lighted, and the entire city will be brilliantly illuminated. Roman candles and skyrockets in abundance will keep up a constant play in the sky, and an occasional set piece will lend enchantment to the view. The first sight that will greet the eye will be the words, "Welcome to All," written across the heavens in letters of fire, and surrounded by a surging mass of flame and sparks. The wheel of wheels, the Wilamette Falls, and a large number of handsome set pieces will be displayed during the evening. A fireworks expert will arrive in Portland soon, and will design a special Lewis and Clark set piece, which will be a dazzling sight.

Three sites have been proposed from which to give the fireworks. All are good, but none has yet been decided upon. They are:

The Seventh-street terraces. In South Portland; Portland Heights, and the hills back of St. Vincent's Hospital.

Saturday will be given mostly to sports. In the morning will be swimming races, tub races and other races on the water that can create fun and amusement. In the afternoon will be horse races, automobile races, and races between horses and automobiles.