AMUSEMENTS TONIGHT.
SHIELDS' PARK (12th and Washington)—Matsuda's Japanese acrobats, vaudeville and music.

MANY VISITORS FOR JUNE.—During the month of June 164 visitors registered at the rooms of the Oregon Historical Society. Of this number 42 came from 24 states outside of Oregon, 4 from Alaska, 4 from Oklahoma, 1 from Indian Territory, 1 from Yukon Territory, 4 from Canada, 1 from Manitoba, 2 from Scotland, 1 from Austria, 2 from England, 1 from Stratford-on-Avon, and 2 from Honolulu. In addition, 10 towns and villages were represented outside of Portland. There were 102 visitors from the State of Washington, 35 from Illinois, 33 from Minnesota, 23 from Wisconsin, 20 from Kansas, 21 from Iowa, 21 from California, and 29 from South Dakota. Literature relating to the different parts of Oregon, so far as Assistant Secretary Himes has been able to obtain it, was placed in the hands of visitors from the Eastern States, many of whom made inquiries relating to the state. Mr. Himes especially requests commercial bodies or private individuals throughout the state to send him such descriptive literature as they can, even though it be nothing more than a description of farm property, and he will see that it is placed in the hands of those who are seeking after information about the state with a view of future location here.

WHY HE TOOK RAILROAD IRON.—Fang Hah Goon appeared yesterday before Municipal Judge Hogue to answer to a charge of trespassing on property not his own at the union terminal depot. Another charge was filed against him—that of stealing railroad iron—but this was dropped. The testimony was that the Chinaman had got into the habit of going to the terminal yards carrying two large baskets, and that he leisurely filled them with any loose railroad iron he could find. Chinese interpreter told the defendant of the charges against him, and Goon made this statement, which was translated as follows: "Nobody ever told me to go to the yards. Nobody told me to get out and not take the stuff, so I took it." "Tell him that this is no defense, and that ignorance is no excuse for guilt. It seems to me this Chinaman is a nervous wreck who is seeking after information about the state with a view of future location here."

CALL FOR ROSES.—The Portland Rose Society has consented to arrange some artistic decorations in roses for the literary excursions to be given in connection with the celebration. The programme is to be rendered at 2:30 in the afternoon of Friday. The Rose Society desires contributions of roses of the Crimson Rambler to be delivered to Marquam not later than noon on Friday. The decoration of the stage with roses upon this occasion is appropriate, in view of the recent movement for the more general cultivation of the rose in Portland, and the officers and members of the Rose Society hope very much that there will be generous response to their call for assistance. The decorations will be designed by Mr. Clark, and will be an attractive feature of the indoor exercises arranged by the literary committee.

TO ROUND UP BORROWERS.—It is a common practice among lawyers to borrow books from each other, and a very uncommon thing to return the borrowed volumes. An attorney yesterday suggested a general round-up scheme. Law librarian John F. Logan, which he thinks will prove effective. He proposes that all attorneys look through their shelves and remove all books which they do not own and send or bring them to the rooms of the law library. Lawyers can then go to the library and obtain their books. Sometimes the owner of a book may have forgotten to mark it as his, but if attorneys bring all books to the library which they know do not belong to them, the unmarked volumes will also reach the persons who have title to them.

GOOD DEMAND FOR BICYCLE TAGS.—Bicycle tags are being called for more rapidly than heretofore, as the result of the seizure of wheels by Deputy Sheriffs of persons found riding on pedals who have not paid the tax. About 100 bicycles altogether have been taken from their owners, and the Sheriff now has 20 wheels on hand awaiting redemption, and four old bicycles left over from last year. Up to date 3512 tags have been sold, realizing $212 for the path fund.

BANQUET BY UNIVERSITY CLUB.—Next Monday evening the University Club will give a banquet to Mayor George H. Williams and Governor-elect George E. Chamberlain. Judge Williams is one of the honorary members of the club, and Mr. Chamberlain has been an active member for several years. The banquet will begin at 6:30 P. M., and will be attended by a large number of the club members.

DELEGATES ON THEIR WAY.—Food and Dairy Commissioner J. W. Bailey received a telegram yesterday from President Alfred H. Jones, of the National Pure Food and Dairy Association, that 22 delegates had started from Chicago, and that others would be picked up en route. Every state in the Union will be represented by delegates except two.

ASTORIA DAILY EXCURSIONS.—Take the White Collar Line from foot Alder street, 7 A. M., except Sunday. The views of the Lower Columbia are grand. The vast expanse of waters, salmon canneries, fishboats at Astoria, the Venice of Oregon, should be visited by all tourists before they return East. Both phones Main 321.

STORES CLOSE TOMORROW.—The Retail Clerks' Association desires to thank the merchants for so generally deciding to close their stores all day July 4. The Fourth of July celebration at Oregon City promises to be the biggest there in the state.

HIS GOT IT IN THE NECK.—In the heavy shower of Tuesday last, a conscientious youth was observed studying a small book on the rear end of a Washington-street car that was going down the incline toward the city. He was sitting up on the dashboard, with his head bent over, leaving a convenient aperture between his neck and his collar, down which a stray raindrop would find its way now and then, making the owner of the neck shrug up his shoulders in an effort to shake the drop as it trickled down his back, leaving an icy path as it went. A quantity of water had accumulated on the roof of the car, which was unable to escape through the pipes provided for that purpose, and as the car changed its slant from that of going down grade to that of going up the water rushed toward the rear of the car, shooting over the small obstruction placed on the roof to keep it from dripping on passengers, landing squarely in the above-mentioned aperture. The unhappy victim was for a moment paralyzed with the suddenness of the onslaught; then, as the water pursued its way down his spine, he braced himself, and with a determined air, he resolved never again to ride on the rear end of a car on a rainy day.

HOW PHILLIPS WAS DROWNED.—The Coroner's jury decided yesterday that Henry Phillips, 45 years old, a deckhand on board the steamer Ruth, met his death by drowning in the Willamette River near Ash-street dock Monday morning. The jury was of the opinion that Phillips fell into the water from the deck of the steamer, and that apparently by reason of drowsiness he accidentally stumbled and fell into the river and was drowned. The evidence showed that Phillips had been drinking liquor last Sunday, and had returned in a despondent mood to the steamer. "I've been robbed," said he, "but I'll have to make the most of it." He went to bed, and on his command W. R. Daly, was awakened about 3 o'clock Monday morning by hearing a splash in the water, but supposing it was one of the watch-drawing up water with a bucket, he made no mention of the matter at that time. F. Belier testified that he saw Phillips walking toward the gangway about the time Daly mentioned.

CHANGED WEDDING ROBBERS IN BADGER SALOON.—Dan Williamson, manager, and George Parker, bartender, of the notorious Badger saloon, Fourth street, were charged with the robbery of a young man, about 1945 from Louis Solsky, who said that some one in the saloon had dragged him. Solsky belongs to Woodland, Wash., and he arrived in town last Monday, and testified as follows: "I don't drink liquor, but I went to the Badger saloon with friends, and I gave $40 to Parker to keep for me. I was given stuff which I did not desire, and I was told when I awoke I was in a room at the rear of the bar at the Badger saloon. Williamson was with Parker in all that happened. The defendant asserted that Solsky spent all his money in treating the crowd, and they were not responsible for what he had done. They were each held in $200 bail for the grand jury.

DEYCKHOFF BIRD REBETTER.—The Port of Portland Commission met last evening and rejected all bids on the proposed drydock, as none of the figures were satisfactory. The individual subscriptions were as follows: Isaac W. Fenton, $500; A. M. Knapp, $250; W. J. Kelly, $200; Mrs. E. H. Kimble, $200; L. K. Adams, of Salem, $200; Mrs. E. A. Adams, of Salem, $50.

WITNESSES TO BE MAJOR DEYCKHOFF.—Pearl Smith and Jennie Boucher, of Fourth street, near Davis, were charged with being idle and dissolute persons, and they pleaded guilty. "Before I pass sentence in these cases," stated the judge, "I desire to say that in a conference with the Chief of Police he told me that better conditions were to be insisted on in White-chapel, and the same bids will be received July 11. The commission accepted $3,500 in subscriptions to the popular loan. The individual subscriptions were as follows: Isaac W. Fenton, $500; A. M. Knapp, $250; W. J. Kelly, $200; Mrs. E. H. Kimble, $200; L. K. Adams, of Salem, $200; Mrs. E. A. Adams, of Salem, $50.

This is a charity that appeals to all who desire to help the unfortunate little ones who are deprived of parental care. An attractive programme of sports has been arranged for which many valuable prizes will be offered. Admission 25 cents, children 10 cents. Car service every 20 minutes.

WOODCHOPPER'S ESCAPE.—John Randolph, a woodchopper who lives near Sweetville, narrowly escaped being seriously injured yesterday, when a revolver was accidentally exploded by falling from the table. The bullet struck his toe, but the injury was very slight. He considered himself very fortunate that the pistol turned forward in falling that it was not pointed toward his body instead of his toe.

SAMPLES BOKED BY STUDENTS.—Some time ago, when the annual crop of the "extraction without pain" students of the North Pacific Dental College received their certificates permitting them to proceed with their tooth-carpeting on the long-suffering public, their joy overcame them and some of their members proposed the new and highly original (?) idea of making the building hideous by daubing large and unsightly signs on the sides of the gambrel roof. So a pot of dirty white paint was secured, and after an amount of labor that never would have been expended in study, a big scrawling "Class of '02" was painted on the roof on three sides of the college. Now comes the class of '03 of Portland Academy with an equally original prank. High above the remainder of the building on a small cupola is an artistic "02" plastered on by some member of that class.

MR. HOLLAND'S BENEFIT.—The pathetic circumstances attending the death of C. C. Holland, while loading lumber on a boat at Inman & Poulsen's mill last April are again brought to public attention by the Oregon Assembly, No. 1, Order of Artisans, which has arranged a literary and musical entertainment for the benefit of the widow, to be given next Tuesday evening at Artisans' Hall, in the Abington building. Mr. Holland was to have been initiating into the order of Artisans the night of the day he was killed, but missed his insurance by a few hours and left a widow and five small children in destitute circumstances. All charitable societies, and especially Artisans, are invited to attend this benefit and help the widow and orphan. Tickets are on sale at Woodward, Clarke & Co.'s and Lau-Davis, 211 Commercial street, and at the residence of Mrs. W. R. Daly, 11 years old, was arrested yesterday on Hamilton avenue by Police-man Howland, charged with killing a manfish dog, on the complaint of J. H. Pomroy.

THE AMERICAN GIRL. His Dress Not Taking in Eyes of Japanese Women.

Kansas City Star. The head of the American girl is so generally conceded that it may be a surprise to learn that there is a spot on the earth where her appearance fails to make a favorable impression; where, in fact, her features are regarded as the reverse of prepossessing. In this respect an American girl, recently returned from the Orient, relates an experience that has since kept her wondering if the complimentary she so often receives are not the most barefaced flattery and the lookings-glass a miserable deception.

IT happened in this way: A short time before leaving Japan she was visiting a friend who resided in a part of the country little frequented by foreigners. One afternoon they were sauntering down the quiet main street of the town, much observed by the populace in general, when they became conscious that they were the objects of curious attention on the part of two Japanese girls, evidently of the well-to-do class, who, evidently followed close on their footsteps.

Presently the resident turned to her visitor, with a smile, and remarked: "I am sure you are the subject of a good deal of comment on the part of the young women following you. What do you think they are saying?" "I cannot guess," the visitor replied. "Please let me hear what you have to say."

"Well, you must promise not to turn and violently resent their criticisms." "Certainly." "This is a translation of what they have been saying about you. Said Miss Peach Blossom to the Hon. Miss Chrysanthemum: 'Oh, do look at those foreign women. They are so ugly, and they are dressed. They wear short kimonos just like the men. How very improper!'"

"Yes, acquiesced the other. 'The foreign women have no taste in dress. In Tokyo, where I have been once, no foreign woman's toilet is complete without a stuffed bird on her head. If she has not enough money to buy a whole stuffed bird she buys a number of small feathers. They are very strange, the foreign women!'"

"But," exclaimed the first, "did you notice the terrible size of the noses of these two foreign women? Are the noses of all the foreign women as large as these?" "Yes; they are as large, but they are proud of their large noses, and foreign women do not consider a large nose a disfigurement."

"How very strange! And see, their eyes are as round as the full moon!" "Yes; as round as the full moon. They stare at you without any expression or feeling."

"And their walk! Do look at their walk, so ungainly, just like the great, big birds!" "Stop!" interposed the visitor. "I've heard enough, or I shall begin to imagine I'm the most hideous creature on earth."

"You will see many such looks to vanity if you stay long enough in Japan," laughingly returned the resident.
