ONE LESS EX-CONVICT

SHOT WHILE RESISTING AN OFFICER AT LA GRANDE.

He Had Been Arrested for Larceny of a Buggy—Two Prisoners Began the Attack.

LA GRANDE, Or., July 6.—William Hill, arrested yesterday for the larceny of a buggy, was shot this morning by Deputy Constable Childers, and died this afternoon. Hill and Joyce, his pal, were to be taken to the County Jail at Union, and Childers lined them up to handcuff them, when Hill struck the officer and both attacked him with heavy clubs. Childers drew his gun and Joyce submitted. Hill continued to desist, and finally threw a club at the officer, who fired. The ball entered the abdomen and passed out through the leg. He was an ex-convict, and had sworn never to return.

QUARREL OVER FAMILY AFFAIRS.

One Man Shot Another to Death and Then Surrendered.

ROSEBURG, Or., July 6.—This afternoon about 12 miles north of here, on Lower Calapoola Creek, T. H. Lovell shot and killed Horace Roadman, aged about 48 years. An old feud existed between the men, Lovell alleging that Roadman had been interfering with his family affairs. The men met and quarreled again yesterday. Lovell and his children went out to a wild blackberry patch today, Lovell taking his gun along to shoot birds, he says. Roadman came along the trail and the altercation was renewed. Lovell says Roadman attempted to draw a pistol, when he shot him in self-defense. Lovell voluntarily surrendered to Deputy Sheriff McClallen. Lovell's story is not fully credited, and he is held in jail here.

Coroner Twichell and a Deputy Sheriff have gone to the scene of the shooting. Roadman left a family.

Attempts to Chloroform Family.

BUTTE, Mont., July 6.—A most diabolical attempt was made at an early hour this morning to chloroform a family of seven persons, with the object, it is presumed, of abducting Eva McCaffrey, a quarter-breed Indian girl. The perpetrator of the deed is said to have been Peter Dempsey, the condemned murderer who escaped from the County Jail about a year ago. Dempsey is known to have been enamored of the Indian girl prior to his arrest. The man made three attempts to enter the house. He was seen by Sergeant Dawson, who took a shot at him.

THE TRUTH ABOUT THE MINES.

Capitalists in Baker City District to Be More Open.

BAKER CITY, July 6.—It is a notorious fact that the great majority of the people of Oregon do not appreciate the importance of the Eastern Oregon mining fields. Millions of dollars in gold have been taken out of the placer and quartz mines of this region, during the past 40 years, but for some unaccountable reason the mining industry of this region has never attained the prominence that, under ordinary conditions, it is justly entitled to. Idaho, Montana, Utah and Colorado have all made greater strides toward the pinnacle of fame, in a mining way, than has Oregon, yet neither of these states can boast of a mining district that has produced more wealth in proportion to the amount of work done and money expended, than the Eastern Oregon gold fields.

Perhaps one of the main reasons for the failure of this region to forge ahead and become famous is the want of a concert of effort on the part of the people most directly interested—the mining men themselves. No matter what the reason may be, it is a fact that Eastern Oregon, as a mining region, is less known than many other mining fields with far less to commend them to the confidence of the general public.

It has always been considered the proper thing for the people interested, say, in farming and fruitgrowing, in a new and promising country where the known hindrance to its growth and prosperity was the want of population to make a special effort to call the attention of the world at large to the wonderful productiveness of their new settlement. If the story is well told and the new garden spot will stand the test of personal investigation, the result is always satisfactory.

The legitimate mining operators of Eastern Oregon are fast coming to the conclusion that it is time that "facts should be submitted to a candid world." There is a movement on foot to organize some kind of a society or corporation, the purpose of which will be to collect and present the plain truth in regard to the mining industry of Eastern Oregon, real and prospective, to the "candid world."

This movement is as nearly devoid of selfishness as anything of a like nature can be, where success means general prosperity for the inhabitants of the community. No affair of the proportions which this promises to be can eliminate the spirit of self-interest, because that is the mainspring of almost every well-directed effort of public or private nature. Outside capital is very essential to the development of most new countries, and this is especially true of a mining country. Industrious new settlers will develop an agricultural country, but it is money that is the principal ingredient, as a rule, of a successful mining enterprise.

A mining boom is not desired, in the general acceptance of the term "boom." There is no desire to present the claims of any particular mining corporation for consideration to gain the confidence of the public in order to work a bunco stock deal. What is desired is that the known and prospective wealth of the district may be shown in such a way as to inspire confidence in the minds of capitalists with money to invest in legitimate enterprises.

Probably the first move along the line suggested will be the preparation of a carefully-selected mineral exhibit to be placed on exhibition at the International Mining Congress which is to meet at Butte in September. Some of the largest and richest mines in this region are owned and controlled by close corporations that do not have any stock on the market, the owners of which have no special desire to boom this district, because they have nothing to sell, but on the contrary are in the market to pick up anything that promises well. There will be exhibits from these mines, however, because the owners are desirous of promoting the movement to present the facts about Eastern Oregon mines to the public in such a way as to accomplish the most good to the entire community.

DEBS TALKS SOCIALISM.

Addresses Large Meeting at Colfax—Not Anarchistic.

COLFAX, Wash., July 6.—Eugene V. Debs, the Socialist leader, addressed 600 people in the Courthouse here this afternoon on "The Objects, Aims and Benefits of Socialism." All the Socialist leaders of Whitman County were present and liberally cheered the speaker, who talked for two hours, holding the closest attention of his audience and being interrupted by frequent applause. Debs covered the grounds on which Socialism is based in an earnest manner, avoiding abuse and anarchistic utterances.

The Socialists have issued a call for a convention to meet in Colfax, Saturday, July 12, "for the purpose of nominating a county and Legislative ticket, to perfect the organization and transact such other business as may come before the convention." The Socialists claim 600 members in Whitman County.

The Republican county convention will meet here Monday.

Mrs. Owens, of Salem.

SALEM, July 6.—Mrs. E. H. Owens died at her home in South Salem yesterday, aged 68 years. Deceased, whose maiden name was Usafovage, was born in Poland and came to America when a young girl. She came to Oregon in 1852 and was later married to Hugh Owens, who died about 22 years ago. She left one daughter, Mrs. Stella Heidelbeck, of this city. She was a sister of Mrs. W. D. Carter, of Milwaukie, Or., Mrs. Verona Downs, of Salem, and Charles Usafovage, of Tacoma. The funeral will be conducted at 1 P. M. Monday from the Leslie M. E. Church, by Rev. R. C. Blackwell.

Deputy President of Eagles.

BAKER CITY, July 6.—Charles I. Flynne, of this city, has been appointed deputy grand president of Eagles for the State of Oregon. The Eagles have no grand lodges in the various states, hence it is necessary always to appoint a deputy to look after the various subordinate lodges. Mr. Flynne succeeds John Lamonte, of Portland.

KING GROWS BETTER.

Churches Celebrate His Recovery—Indian Troops Stay.

LONDON, July 6.—King Edward's progress continues to be good. It is said that if his improvement proceeds at the present rate he will probably by the end of the month be well enough to be transferred to the royal yacht in Southampton waters. A bulletin posted at 9 o'clock this morning said:

"The King's progress continues to be in every way satisfactory."

Soon after the bulletin was issued, Queen Alexandra and Princess Victoria visited Marlborough House, where they attended divine service with the Prince and Princess of Wales. The Queen remained within Buckingham Palace for the rest of the day. Most of the churches in the United Kingdom celebrated today the announcement that King Edward was out of danger with informal thanksgiving services, special music and the singing of the National anthem.

The Government has issued orders that the Indian and colonial troops now in London shall postpone their departure indefinitely. These orders are due to the strongly expressed desire of the Indian troops especially to see the King before they return home, and they also indicate an intention to retain the troops here until the coronation. The colonial and Indian troops will participate in the reception to be given Lord Kitchener when he arrives in England, about July 12. The Lord Mayor of London, Sir Joseph Dimsdale, received a letter tonight from Sir Francis Knollys, private secretary to the King, to the effect that His Majesty had commanded him to convey to all concerned his gratification at and warm thanks for the energy and foresight which made the King's dinner to the poor Saturday such a great success, and to repeat that secretly His Majesty regretted his inability to be present.

Chaumie; Victorien Sardou, the playwright, and others were present and made speeches, while a company from the Theater Francais gave an open-air performance.

LONDON, July 6.—The Brussels correspondent of the Times says that The Hague tribunal is to be consulted on some protests regarding the sale of the Danish Island of St. Thomas to the United States.

No Brussels Sugar for Australia.

MELBOURNE, Australia, July 6.—The Federal Government has decided not to become a party to the Brussels sugar convention.

William Going to Norway.

BERLIN, July 6.—Emperor William will start on his voyage to Norway on board the imperial yacht Hohenzollern tomorrow.

THREE WERE DROWNED.

Woman and Two Children, Prominent in New York.

NEW YORK, July 6.—The wife of Captain Tieman N. Horn, of the Ninety-fifth Company, Seacoast Artillery; his daughter Frances, aged 7, and Miss Alice McMahon, of Nyack, N. Y., were drowned in Sandy Hook Bay today. Captain Horn, who is stationed at Fort Hancock, on Sandy Hook, had made up a sailing party to go out on the bay in his small cat-rigged yacht Midget. Those aboard, in addition to the captain, were Mrs. Horn, their two children, Miss Horn, a sister; Dr. Waterhouse, his wife and Miss Alice McMahon, a sister of Mrs. Waterhouse.

Half a mile from Old Camp Lowdock a strong puff of wind caused the sail to go, and in a moment the little vessel capsized, throwing all hands into the water. The captain and Dr. Waterhouse made every effort to save the women and children, but a strong ebb tide quickly swept them beyond reach, and before any other help could be had Mrs. Captain Horn, Frances and Miss McMahon were drowned. The others clung to the mast of the capsized vessels for about 15 minutes until a sail boat, containing W. B. Tait, of Atlantic Highlands, N. J., and Walter Tubbs, of this city, came up and rescued Mrs. Waterhouse. At the same time Captain Hortung, with his launch Edna May, of Newark, N. J., rescued Captain Horn and his baby boy, Miss Horn and Dr. Waterhouse, and brought them to Atlantic Highlands. The ladies had not been found up to a late hour.

Thrown Out of a Wagon.

The many friends of John Cox, who has a ranch on Camas Prairie, will grieve to learn that he recently met with a distressing accident while driving a team of spirited horses along the Camas Creek grade east of Ukiah, Umatilla County. He was breaking a wild horse to harness, when the animal became frightened and forced the other horse over a steep point. Mr. Cox was thrown out of the wagon and his back was broken between the shoulders. The injured man was taken to his home and medical aid summoned, but his ultimate recovery is doubtful. He is a brother of the late L. B. Cox, the well-known Portland lawyer.

HOTEL AT THE DALLES BURNED; COURTHOUSE DAMAGED.

Fire Started From Coaloil Lamp Left in Hotel Hall—County Records Are Safe.

THE DALLES, Or., July 6.—As the result of a fire which destroyed the European Hotel at an early hour this morning Wasco County's handsome Courthouse is a water-soaked and seriously wrecked building. About 2 o'clock flames were discovered issuing from the roof of the hotel, the rear of the building being a roaring mass of fire before the fire department reached the scene. Two cottages in the rear of the main building quickly ignited the whole, burning so fiercely as to menace the surrounding blocks on all sides. A narrow alley separated the hotel from the Courthouse, which was continually drenched by the firemen. Although a brick structure, the intense heat from the burning hotel communicated the fire through the north cornices, the flames creeping the entire length of the roof and through the clock tower before they could be controlled. In order to reach the blaze holes were ripped through the roof and ceilings in the upper story, where its spread was confined to the upper portion of the building and clock tower.

The European Hotel, which was operated by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Fraser, is a total loss. Little or none of the contents were saved. The house was filled with lodgers, who saved a portion of their belongings. The building was owned by W. H. Wilson, and was valued at $3000; insured for $1750. There was also some small insurance on the contents.

The Courthouse was built in the early '80s, at a cost of about $25,000. It was a well-equipped, commodious building. Every portion of it is more or less injured, the Sheriff's office and jail suffering least. No damage occurred to the county records, which were placed in the steel fireproof vault of the Clerk's office at the outbreak of the fire. The prisoners in the County Jail were removed to the City Jail. The second story and roof of the building are badly wrecked. It is estimated that $7000 will repair the damage. The Courthouse was insured in various companies for about $16,000.

Trifling damage was also done to a building owned by the A. Bettingen estate, and one belonging to Dr. William Shackleford.

The fire is supposed to have originated from the explosion of a small coal oil lamp left burning in the hall of the European Hotel.

PROGRESS OF POLITICS.

Fulton Claims Supporters in Marion Delegation.

SALEM, Or., July 6.—Preparations for the celebration of the Fourth took precedence over nearly all other public matters during the last two weeks, and little has been heard in the world of state politics. Ten days ago Senator Fulton was in Marion County in the interest of his Senatorial campaign, and caused for the time some discussion of the Senatorial fight that is to come off next Winter. Fulton called upon several members of the Legislature from this county, and it is said that he feels encouraged to believe that he will get several votes in the delegation from this county. Friends of Governor Geer, however, say that almost the entire delegation will be for the Governor in the first instance, and will change to some other candidate as the fight waxes warm. Governor Geer has made two trips to Eastern Oregon since election, and spent several days on each trip. While the principal purpose of his visits was personal, it is generally believed that he found occasion while in that section to talk over political prospects with his friends.

With the exception of a few men whose affiliations are well known, there is little mention of members of the Legislature as either "Geer men" or "Fulton men." As the campaign for the organization of the Legislature begins to take on activity, it may be expected that members of the Legislature will line up on one side or another. Senator Fulton has said that he will make no effort whatever to influence the organization of the House, but as he is a member of the Senate, he may be expected to take a prominent part in the selection of officers for that body. No mention is heard of any candidates for Legislative offices other than President of the Senate and Speaker of the House, and no new names have been heard in connection with these offices.

Contest Before the Senate.

Many are of the opinion that the contest over the Senatorship from Linn County will take place in the courts, as do most election contests. Such is not the case. The constitution provides that each house shall judge the election, qualifications and returns of its own members. M. A. Miller, Democrat, thus far appears to have been elected in Linn County by a plurality of two votes. The friends of Senator Kelly say that errors were made in the count by which Miller was given more votes than should have been counted for him. If Kelly, Republican, contests the election, the matter will go first before the Senate committee on credentials and finally before the Senate itself, when the report of the committee comes up for adoption. In every election many ballots are marked in such a manner that it is a question how they should be counted and whether they should be counted at all. Since the margin is too close, Kelly's friends expect to be able to find more than enough votes counted improperly to show that Miller was in the minority. What the voter intended by his marks on the ballot is often so uncertain that judges may easily differ.

"Candidates for the Penitentiary."

The contest for the superintendency of the penitentiary is becoming a warm one. The leading candidates—and, in fact, the only candidates mentioned here—are ex-Sheriff F. W. Durbin and W. H. Downing. The impression has been general in other parts of the state that Durbin had practically a walk-over for the place, but Downing seems to be giving him a lively run. Durbin's friends think that his work for the party in this county and his efficient service as Sheriff make him the most acceptable man for the place. Downing's friends urge that, as Democratic county chairman, their favorite rolled up a big vote for Chamberlain in this county, and in accordance with political usage is entitled to recognition. It was believed that one of these two men would certainly land in the coveted position, until a few days ago, when some doubt was raised by the candidacy of Dr. W. S. Mott for the position of physician at the penitentiary. Mott's candidacy throws just a shadow of doubt on the probability of the superintendency coming to Marion County at all.

Governor Chamberlain will have few political favors to distribute aside from the patronage at the state prison. If rolling up Democratic votes entitles a man to favorable consideration, there are men in Umatilla, Union, Baker, Multnomah, Linn, Wasco and numerous other counties who should be given places in the penitentiary, and Mott's friends think it will be sufficient if Marion County supplies the physician for the institution, and Democrats elsewhere get the remainder of the offices. Mott was Democratic county chairman two years ago. The friends of Durbin and Downing won't listen to the suggestion that the superintendency be apportioned to any other county than Marion.

Aside from the dozen or more positions to be filled at the penitentiary, Mr. Chamberlain will have the appointment of a State Land Agent and a commandant at the Soldiers' Home.

Shot Wife and Two Children.

CHICAGO, July 6.—Taking his revenge for a quarrel of long standing, Theodore Oefeur, a laborer, shot and killed his wife today as she lay asleep in bed. He then shot his baby son and his stepdaughter, Lizzie Stramm, who were sleeping with his wife, wounding the former probably fatally an dputting a bullet in the latter's shoulder. Oefeur also fired at his two stepsons, but missed them. He then hid in an attic until the police arrested him.

LOUISIANA'S ENTERPRISE.

Appropriation of $100,000 for Representation at the St. Louis Fair.

WORLD'S FAIR GROUNDS, ST. LOUIS, July 6.—The Legislature of Louisiana has passed the bill appropriating $100,000 for the state representation at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. This is the full amount recommended by Governor Heard. The Louisiana state building will be a reproduction of the famous Cabeldo, or town hall, erected in New Orleans somewhat more than 100 years ago, in which the transfer of sovereignty over the great Louisiana territory took place. By far the greater part of the appropriation will be used to bring to the attention of exposition visitors the many important industries and industrial possibilities of Louisiana. The state has awakened to a new era of industrial progress through the development of rice culture, lumber, oil and salt production. While the old standard crop, cotton, must continue to receive a large measure of attention, the new diversity of industry has brought in a new era of prosperity to Louisiana, which has given rise to the desire to have the state better known. The opportunity to do this will come with the great exposition in 1904.

SATIRE ON MORGAN.

Vienna Paper's Comment on His Lunch With William.

VIENNA, July 6.—The Neue Freie Presse has published a satirical editorial on the fact that J. P. Morgan took luncheon with Emperor William on board the imperial yacht Hohenzollern at Kiel, July 3. The paper remarks:

"Without his check book, Mr. Morgan would never have been the Emperor's guest."

The article harps throughout on the probabilities of misfortune overtaking the "Napoleon of Misfortune," and says that "gilded by the imagination, his trusts appear to be excellent, but that the first moment public confidence is disturbed, the system will undergo a severe trial."

The paper concludes by saying:

"Could a thoughtful reader have penetrated the secret recesses of the minds of Emperor William and his guest, what startling contrast might he not have discovered!—in Emperor William's mind, a yearning for fame and splendor; in that of Mr. Morgan, the hope of new trusts and rising prices. How fortunate it is that social politeness veils such opposites!"

The German Bourse.

BERLIN, July 6.—Transactions on the bourse last week were light, but matters were well maintained. Owing to the fact that new money from the semi-annual interest payments is seeking investment, German loans were slightly firmer. Some foreign rails improved. Italians advanced upon home orders, while Portuguese were most active. Russians and Argentines were better. Industrials were irregular. Irons were mostly higher upon reports of American purchases of German iron. Coal shares were generally lower, and machinery and electrical shares were down. Shares of the Hamburg-American Steam Packet Company and of the North German Lloyd Line were sold steadily in Hamburg and Bremen, and each lost one point. Canadian Pacifics were bought for New York account, advancing 2.50. Money rates have been receding since the settlement. The unusually heavy discounts of the Reichsbank are not connected with the trade or demands of the bourse, but are due to mortgage payments and the requirements of the government. It is expected that discounts will recover rapidly. Bank stocks were neglected last week, but shares of the Deutsche Bank were higher upon the disbandment of the syndicate which is handling the Burlington deal.

The London Exchange.

LONDON, July 6.—While money was easier last week, the stock exchange was not very cheerful. The release of July dividends and large government disbursements enabled the market to repay about £8,000,000 of the sum it had borrowed from the bank, but £6,000,000 are still owing. Large shipments of gold are now due from South Africa, but they are largely offset by the withdrawal of sovereigns for South Africa last week. There is every prospect for cheap money for the next two months.

The encouraging news concerning King Edward did not improve business on the exchange. Prices generally were marked up, but this was the result mostly of jobbers bidding against themselves. Investment stocks will probably continue to keep up, but the South African department is getting worse instead of better. There is a fair prospect for a revival in Americans, but home rails were dull and there was little action in industrials.

To Investigate Panama Canal Title.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Assistant Attorney-General Charles W. Russell is completing his preparations, and within a week will start for Paris to investigate the ability of the new Panama Canal Company to give the United States a satisfactory title to concessions and property on the isthmus. When this preliminary work shall have proceeded to a certain point, the Attorney-General, according to the President's expressed wish, will probably go over and personally look into the matter. He has asked Senator Spooner to go along and assist him, in view of the Senator's well-known familiarity with the matter and the Attorney-General's opinion of his ability, and hopes that he will go.

Row About a Cow.

A common, everyday cow caused a pitched battle yesterday between the Webb family and the owner, Nate Rosenthal, near East Nineteenth and Pacific streets. Common report is that Rosenthal had been staking his cow in places objectionable to the neighbors, and there has been a good deal of contention over the matter, which culminated in a row, in which Rosenthal came off second best. He staked his cow in a place objectionable to the Webbs, and the boys turned loose on him. For a time the air was filled with clubs and stones, and Rosenthal was knocked down several times before he retired from the battle-ground. He seemed to be badly bruised.

Traces of Train Robbers.

CHICAGO, July 6.—Watches, knives, spoons and jewelers' supplies, part of the plunder secured by the bandits who robbed the express safe in the Rock Island train at Dupont Thursday night, have been found, and the indications are that the robbers are near Chicago. A sack containing the plunder was discovered today, on the farm of Henry Schultz, four miles north of Tinley Park.

FREIGHT MEN TO GO OUT

ULTIMATUM OF 9000 WORKMEN TO BE PUT TODAY.

Involves Freighthandlers on 26 Railroads in Chicago—May Reach Teamsters.

CHICAGO, July 6.—Freighthandlers to the number of nearly 9000 men employed in the different railway houses and depots in Chicago, at a special meeting tonight decided to go on strike within 48 hours, to enforce their demand for higher wages, and to a recognition of their union. Several days ago the Freighthandlers' Union submitted a proposition to the general managers of the railways asking for an increase. The request was refused. The railroad officials, however, offered to confer with committees from their own men in an effort to effect a compromise, but refused to recognize the officers of the union. This was unsatisfactory to the men.

The State Board of Arbitration has been trying to prevent a strike, but the men said they were tired waiting for the railroads to take some action, and the decision at tonight's meeting was the result. The strike, in all probability, will involve the teamsters, as the latter have declared they will not deliver freight to the railroads if it is to be handled by non-union men.

It is extremely probable that an ultimatum will be put to the roads tomorrow morning. Twenty-six railroads centering in Chicago are involved.

MITCHELL WENT TO NEW YORK.

Went to Confer With Leaders of Other Labor Organizations.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 6.—President Mitchell, of the Miners' Union, left here at noon for New York. He slipped out so quietly and unexpectedly that only two or three persons around strike headquarters knew of his departure. There is an element of mystery about his journey, but the Associated Press learns on trustworthy authority that he went to meet leaders of other labor organizations. The purpose of the meeting is not definitely known here, but it is understood to have direct bearing on the question of labor organizations affiliating with the American Federation of Labor assisting the miners financially. It is known that some of these organizations, through their National officers, have expressed their willingness to help in this way. Mr. Mitchell may also meet the officials of railway unions or other organizations that can assist his people by other than financial means. He will, it is expected, return here tomorrow. He is booked to address the delegates of District L at their annual convention at Nanticoke, which begins tomorrow.

Tomorrow will begin the third month of the great coal strike. There have been many rumors and opinions published that certain coal companies would within a few days attempt to start certain collieries. Officials of the big companies who are willing to talk deny all knowledge of any attempt of their respective companies to start work. They say, however, that the number of men applying for work is growing larger each week. Many of them are given employment, and the names of the others are placed on the waiting list. The number of miners among the applicants who are applying for work is very small, and so long as the miners themselves refrain from going to the collieries no coal can be mined. The correspondent of the Associated Press today sought the opinion of strikers' officials as to how long they expected the strike to last, and those of mining superintendents as to whether the price of coal will go up or down during the coming Fall. The labor leaders were unanimous in the belief that the strike will still be on September 1 if the operators make no concessions. The company officials were of the opinion that the price of coal during the remainder of this year will not go below present figures, and may go higher.

Mitchell's Hopeful Talk.

NEW YORK, July 6.—John Mitchell, president of the Mineworkers, arrived in New York tonight. He said he was in the city only to see some friends off to Europe tomorrow. He said he would see no one while in New York on strike matters, nor would he talk about the coming National meeting of mineworkers at Indianapolis. As to the anthracite strike, Mr. Mitchell said:

"The strike is going on all right and in our favor. We are not discouraged by our work since the beginning of the strike. We will win. No men have gone back at all."

UNITED STATES TAKES A HAND.

Revenue Cutter and Launch to Scour the Coast.

SEATTLE, July 6.—United States forces have been impressed for service for the hunt after the fugitive Tracy, the revenue cutter Grant and the revenue launch Scout being detailed this morning immediately upon receipt of advices concerning Tracy's escape to Port Madison and away from there in a rowboat. Before sailing the two vessels took aboard a posse under W. C. Hammond, Sheriff of Jefferson County. The men are specially selected for service in the woods. The Sheriff is one of the most experienced woodsmen in this part of the country.

The Government vessels proceeded to Seabeck, and from there will go to Brinnon, thus preventing escape to the coast by Hood's Canal and the Olympic Mountains. The latter, being sparsely settled, would furnish almost an impregnable stronghold for the convict, should he succeed in reaching them.

At a late hour this afternoon a report was received from Port Ludlow to the effect that a small skiff was seen between Foulweather Bluff and Ludlow Head, crossing rapidly. The skiff was too far off to be distinctly seen. The fact was reported to the officers.

A special dispatch to the Post-Intelligencer from its Washington (D. C.) correspondent reads as follows: "No order was issued from the Treasury Department directing the revenue cutter Grant to join in the chase for Tracy. It was explained by Assistant Secretary Alles tonight that if the Grant had sailed on this errand the commander of the vessel has probably acted upon his own responsibility or under the direction of the Collector of Customs at Port Townsend. In either event, Mr. Alles said the action would have been justified without specific orders from the department."

FIREMEN WILL STRIKE.

Object to Order Requiring Them to Wipe Their Engines.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 6.—The Star tomorrow will say:

A conference between the officials of the Rock Island Route and the grievance committee of its firemen, who are protesting against the order requiring them to wipe engines, will be held in Chicago on July 15, when an effort to reach an agreement will be made, and the firemen will demand that the order be annulled, unless each fireman be paid 20 cents extra for every 100 miles, and that the firemen who have been discharged for refusing to obey the order be reinstated. The firemen assert that noncompliance with these demands on the part of the Rock Island management will cause them to strike and that the engineers, brakemen and conductors will strike in sympathy.

Rock Island Is All Right.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., July 6.—J. J. Hannahan, Grand Master of the United Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen of America, who is visiting here, said today:

"The Rock Island Route is one of the great roads that is thoroughly in touch with the workings of locomotive firemen, and the greatest of friendship exists between the officials of the road and their employes. There is not the slightest probability of a strike among the firemen on that road."

Printers Not Reinstated.

CHICAGO, July 6.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, suffered defeat today when his plea for reinstatement of Typographical Union, No. 16, was rejected by the local Trades Assembly. The delegates to the federation refused by a vote of 116 to 101 to make any overtures to the printers. They suggested, however, that if Typographical Union, No. 16, admitted that its policy with regard to the federation had been a mistake, its delegates would be seated at the next meeting of the federation.

President Gompers later refused to comment on his defeat. Typographical Union No. 16 was expelled from the Federation of Labor because the printers failed to support the pressmen while on a strike a year ago.

All hands are now awaiting for the arrival tomorrow of President Gompers and James D. O'Connell, president of the International Association of Machinists. They will hold mass meetings and confer with the executive committees of the different organizations represented by the strikers. No new men arrived today and all was quiet around the shops today.

WEDDED BY PROXY.

Bride of a Fortnight Joins Her Husband in New York.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Among the passengers who arrived on the Philadelphia, of the Red D line, tonight from Curacao, Port of Rio and South American ports, was Mrs. O. S. Aranda de Lieder, of Curacao, a bride of a fortnight, who comes to join her husband in New York. Mrs. Lieder was married June 25 by proxy at Curacao. She is a member of one of the most prominent families of that Dutch island, and nearly every one of any consequence on the island witnessed the ceremony.

Mr. Lieder, who is in business in New York, is a native of Curacao, where he and Miss Aranda became engaged. A short time ago he wrote her that he was ready to make her his wife, and asked her to come north to meet him, but she was unwilling to make the voyage alone, so a proxy ceremony was agreed upon. Louis Negron stood up in the place of the absent groom, and the knot was tied. Mr. Negron accompanied Mrs. Lieder to New York. He is unmarried, but has represented five grooms at as many proxy marriages.

Ferdinand Levy, of New York, who has held the office since 1888, was re-elected grand master. Among the recommendations made by Grand Master Levy was one that the present rule on the taking out of insurance by which a male member cannot take out less than a $1000 policy be changed so that it be optional with him to take either a $500 or a $1000 policy. The mutual guarantee fund amounts at the present time to more than $15,000, and is being constantly increased. A banquet was given tonight by the order.

For Particular People

A Very Fine Line of Pianos Just Received at Eilers Piano House.

We have never had a choicer line of pianos and organs than those now shown at our store at 351 Washington street. We have just received several carloads of the highest grade pianos, including the celebrated Chickering, of Boston; the beautiful Weber, of New York, and the now famous Kimball, of Chicago. The cases of all these instruments are up-to-date, with the latest highly artistic and yet most chaste and exclusive effects. We wish to particularly call attention to the Kimball workmanship. These beautiful instruments, so rich in tone, are indeed suited for the most discriminating and fastidious tastes. While the prices of these instruments are a little higher than on many other pianos that we control for the Pacific Coast, the satisfaction in possessing one of these superb instruments is unbounded. The Kimball lasts a lifetime; is, in fact, a "thing of beauty and a joy forever." Eilers Piano House, 351 Washington street, opposite Cordray's Theater.
