closing the question. With the under-standing that the report should go formal-ly before the Board of Directors, where there would be full opportunity for its consideration, the subcommittee's geport was formally adopted by the executive committee. It now stands in the executive committee, and is expected to be reported to the board at its regular monthly meet-ing next Friday. The full report of the subcommittee is printed elsewhere in this paper. The meeting of the executive committee was held half an hour before the time for the annual meeting of the stockholders, When 10 o'clock atrived the committee work had been disposed of and the stock-

Senator Mitchell also urged expediton in carrying out the work on the Columbia River. He was told that this work would be pressed as rapidly as possible; that so soon as the special board's report and their action is approved, actual work will

NO SPECIAL ORDER ON PENSIONS.

Be Taken Up in Regular Order. WASHINGTON, July 7.-It will be robably six months before the first pension is granted under the Indian War veterans' bill recently passed, as claims of this character will be considered in their order along with all others that recah the Pension Office, and cannot be made special, although the Oregon delegation requested that this be done. The attention to details in furnishing the evidence will largely determine the time in which "allowances can be made. In nicality, I believe the employment of at- iff Cudihee will return from Port Madison torneys will be an unnecessary expense to the veterans."

They are mindful that the amount of money which they will have at their disposai musi be carefully considered, and that a false move on the question of site would be a costly one. The main consideration with regard to the site is its ability to attract attendance; in other words, to promote gate receipts. All other considerations dwindle before the item of gate receipts and the consequent increased value of concessions, etc., for the exposition will cost money, and revenue will be required to meet expenses, guard against defi-ciencies and insure success.
