Marion County Growers Expect the Price to Go Above Sixteen Cents-Contract Figures Will Allow of Good Profit.

#20 del 1— U.S.

SALEM, July 8.—The welfare of the Oregon hop crop is just now one of the most important topics in the Willamette Valley. With prices up to 16 cents and steadily going higher, the people of this section expect the industry to put a large sum of manage in chemistion this Fell. sum of money in circulation this Fall. The prospects thus far are favorable. With a good crop, every grower will make money, many will be able to pay off their debts, and those who are already ahead in their finances will have money to inrest in the improvement of their property. The growers have seen some of the "downs" of hop-raising in the last few years, and if they get a good crop this year, they will make up for poor crops

Opinions differ widely as to the probable course of prices from this time on, but the fact that careful buyers have paid Is cents at this time is taken as a good indication that the price will be still better when the hops are in the bale. News that the hop crops in the East have suf-fered from unfavorable conditions also encourages growers to hope for good prices. It is estimated that two-thirds of the crop has already been contracted at prices ranging from 10 to 16 cents, the bulk of the hops sold being contracted at about 11 cents, and the average price be-ing about 11% cents. Many of the growers will, therefore, not profit by the advance that may be made in prices. Those growers who still have their hops are in a position to hold them until the Spring of 1963 if they wish, and many will refuse to contract at any price, choosing to profit or lose as prices may change. Even those growers who contracted their hops at 10 cents will make a fair profit if the crop should be good. With a large yield, the cost of production is only 6 to 5 cents per pound. On the con-tracted hops the profits above the con-tract price will go principally to Eastern yers, the agents here receiving only

DEFECT IN OLD LAW NOT IN NEW. Change School Boundaries.

SALEM, July 8.—The decision of the Supreme Court yesterday that the act of the Legislature of 1809 creating the County School Superintendent and the County Court a district boundary board was inoperative scems to leave the inference that the board is still without power to make changes in school district boundaries. Such is not the case, for the defect in the law of 1899 was remedied by the act of 1901. The case decided yesterday arose prior to 1901 and was decided under the law then existing, and not according to subsequent enactments. TO DRAIN EVERGLADES.

First Step in Great Improvement About to Be Undertaken.

New York Sun. After many years of discussion and some preliminary work toward executing the project, the Everglades, the swampy refuge of the last remnant of the Seminote Indians, are to be drained and gradually put under cultivation. Their soil is composed of drift or alluvium, mixed with decayed vegetable matter and underlaid by a deposit of mark and it is of remarkable fertility, could it be drained and cleared. The first definite attempt to accomplish this is now under way.

A company known as the Florida Coast-line Canal & Transportation Company was organized several years ago. By agree—reply to this that there is practically no ment with the state it out a canai 7 timber to be removed, as the underbrush miles long, from Juno to the Miami River. in the region to be cleared cannot be way at a cost of $1,000,000 or more.

times more valuable by being opened to communication with the coast by this system of canais. Now the interests backing this company have incorporated another, the Florida East Coast Draininge & Sugar Company, which proposes to drain the land so acquired and establish upon it sugar plantations and mills for treating the cane to be grown upon them. The entire Everglades cover an area of about 4000 square mlles in the southeastern part of the state, and separated from the coast by a few miles only. The law reserves to the Seminole Indians, at present the sole occupants, about 200,000 acres in the least valuable part. There are only between 600 and 700 of the In

The new company purpose to drain and cultivate about a million acres in the southeastern part, west of Miami, contsining comparatively little timber and-therefore, once drained, almost inexpensive to clear. This region lies in an elevated basin about five miles from tidewater on the Atlantic coast, from which it is separated by a limestone ridge. The nearest surface of the swamps to 10 feet above tide-water and the swamps themselves have a slope from their western to their eastern boundary of about 13 feet, giving a fall of about 22 feet altogether. The limestone ridge is aiready broken by several natural streams from the glades to the occan, and it is asserted that these streams would themselves in time drain the section. The new company propose to accelerate the natural drainage by removing barriers at the headwaters and cutting new channels into the body of the Evergiades. The expense will be great, but the reward from the rich land acquired is ex-pected to be much greater. Outlying Outlying strips on which cultivation has been attempted produce enormous crops of sugar cane, corn, tobacco and fruits without the use of any fertilizer. The advantages of the project, if suc-

> SAN FRANCISCO BARBERS Praised by an Australian Who Reaches England vin America.

London Mail. Melville Freeman, of Perth, Western Australia, a coronation visitor, takes exception to the way the average London hairdresser's establishment is conducted. "I traveled to England by way of New Zealand and America, and in San Fran-cisco I learned," he said, "for the first time how a barber shop should be conducted. The first shop I entered there before my eyes was a notice printed in large type and conspleuously hung. The instructions printed upon that piece of paper appealed to me so forcibly that I made a note of a few of the most striking. I can recommend them to the Lon-don authorities, for nowhere that I have been are the hairdressers' places in greater need of a thorough cleaning out. Lon-don barbers work for too little, and chesp work is nasty all the world over. "In San Francisco I found that the san-ltary authorities, the health board, exercises complete control over the barbers' shops. The board's laws are stringent and rigorously enforced. A barber is not allowed to sweep or brush floor or wood-work dry, but must have these mopped with an anticeptic solution. He must sterilize shaving mug and brush by im-mersion in boiling water after every separate use. This applies also to combs and brushes. His rator must be wiped with a solution containing at least 15 per cent alcohol before being used on any person.

"He must never wipe his razor strops with the hand, nor blow upon them before use. Further than this, he is forbidden to blow away hairs after cutting. He is compelled to use none but powdered alum to stop a flow of blood. He is prohibited from using sponges or powder puff. These are a few clauses in the law The advantages of the project, if successful, will be not only the placing of a large tract of land under cultivation, but the opening to navigation of a number of streams now useless for commercial purposes. these obvious sanitary laws broken

Tickling in the throat. Constant desire to cough. You know about it. Feels uncomfortable through the day. Keeps you awake at night. Doctors prescribe Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for this tickling. A dose at bedtime puts the throat at rest.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for 40 years. It is a splendid family medicine to keep on hand for all throat and lung troubles,"—Mrs. J. K. Nor-cross, Waltham, Mass.
