eling around the world, at Miami, Fla., last January. The Count, traveling incognito, came to Chicago and obtained the consent of Mrs. Pio, the mother, to marry her daughter. The approval of the leaders at the Danish Court was next sought. This matter received a month's delay as an acceptance of the plan, and included an invitation to Miss Pio to come at once to Denmark. Louis Albert Francis Pio, father of Sylvia, inaugurated the Danish Liberal party in 1871. He was a leader among the men of his country and did great things. But he was lost in the early struggles and was banished. The Liberal movement, however, finally triumphed in Denmark, and in July, 1900, King Christian ordered the first Liberal ministry in the history of the country. After coming to this country, Pio established a Scandinavian colony in Florida, calling it White City. Today it is a thriving town. As a result of Pio's efforts in Florida he died in Chicago from fever, in 1894.

Mrs. Edith Tuzler Weathered, Oregon commissioner to the Buffalo and Charleston Expositions, returned Tuesday from her travels, after more than a year's absence from her home. One of the incidents of her eventful experience took place in June, when she met President Roosevelt, at Boston, during the sessions of the International League of Peace Clubs. She told him that she did not think any one should be eligible to be President of the United States unless he was familiar with the Pacific Coast. "Now, Mr. President," she went on, "the only way in which you can know the Pacific Coast is to come and visit it. Suppose you visit the Lewis and Clark Centennial Exposition in 1906, at the very latest. That is, if you cannot visit us before. If you don't, I won't vote for you when you are a candidate next time." The President gave a laughing reply, in which he promised soon to visit Oregon. After working for Oregon at the Buffalo Exposition, Mrs. Weathered went to the Charleston Exposition, December, and left there in June for Louisville, Ky., and St. Louis, Mo. At the latter city she did valuable work advertising the Lewis and Clark Centennial. Throughout her trip she lost no opportunity to see a good word for the exposition, and has over 5000 appreciative notices printed in leading newspapers concerning what visitors may expect when they come here in 1906. "People asked me in the East as to what new features and unique plan of ground we would have at our Exposition, and I said Mrs. Weathered would have a row of buildings and a sunken garden," said Mrs. Weathered to an Oregonian man last night. "I do hope the ground chosen for the Centennial will be the City Park. We shall then have a panorama of river and mountain scenery unequalled anywhere. I am glad to be home again."

What American Colleges Lack.

NEW YORK, July 9.—After a trip of inspection through a number of American universities, Professor R. D. Redmayne, of Birmingham, England, who is in this city, said: "I could not fail to be struck with the fact that not all of our great institutions of learning are yet lacking in that indefinable something that contributes so much to making Oxford what it is. Apart, removed a long way from practical life of the world, or seemingly so, the community of Oxford scholars has given to the place a priceless heritage. We all know how the joy of the old veterans, when in the presence of the world, and how it affected men's thoughts and ideas, has become potent in shaping history. The secret for you is the secret of the Oxford life. As an old Englishman, I am glad that the new scholarships will enable you to send over to us each year so many men to feel this atmosphere and carry back the word of it."

THE BASEBALL GAME.

The baseball games are one of the best attractions. The management deserves great credit for getting such good teams on their schedule. The teams are; Chemama, Mount Angel, Vancouver, Oregon City and the Multnomah Club team. There will be games every day of the Chautauqua. The winner of the series will receive $100, or a prize of equal value. The game today between Chemama and Vancouver resulted in a victory for the former, 12 to 9. The game was full of errors, but was very exciting. Both teams battled well but the Vancouver field failed to hit at the critical times. The Indians secured the lead in the first inning and kept it until the sixth, when Morris was landed on for several hits, and with the assistance of several errors

HENRY WATTERSON WILL LECTURE TODAY AT GLADSTONE.

Growing Crowds and Increasing Interest Mark Each Succeeding Day of the Chautauqua Sessions.

GLADSTONE PARK, July 9.—The second day's session of Chautauqua began this morning with a large increase in attendance, and another beautiful sunning day. The campers are flocking in in large numbers, and nearly all the choice camping grounds are occupied. Early this morning everybody was anti and bustling around preparing for the crowds coming from Portland and the other nearby towns. Today's programme is an especially strong one, the principal feature being the lecture on "Money and Morals," by the Hon. Henry Watterson, the noted Kentucky editor.

The morning was taken up with the classes, and at 11 o'clock the Portland Ministerial Association held a meeting in the Auditorium. Mr. J. T. Morgan addressed the meeting on "The Church and the Laboring Man."

In the afternoon a band concert was given, followed by a lecture on "The Sunny Side of Soldier Life" by Dr. Robert McIntyre. The baseball game between Chemama and Vancouver completed the afternoon programme.

In the evening another delightful concert was given by the band, after which Dr. Stephen S. Wise delivered an interesting lecture on "The Mission of Israel."

In the morning, from 8 to 11 the classes got together and the different teachers outlined the work to be done during the present session. Tomorrow will be class work will begin in earnest.

At the meeting of the Ministerial Association Mr. J. T. Morgan gave an interesting talk on "The Church and the Laboring Man." Mr. Morgan spoke on the decline in attendance at church by the laboring classes compared with 50 years ago, and gave reasons, gathered from personal inquiry into the matter, why this was brought about. He pointed out that the comparatively greater number of other attractions, such as libraries, excursions, etc. His second was that a great many of the laboring men remain at home to read and study. Third, that not enough attention is paid to practical virtue and that too much time is given to theological subjects. Fourth, the splendor of the churches inside and outside, and the fine clothes and jewelry worn by the richer classes. Fifth, that the clergyman are too much inclined to cultivate the acquaintance and good will of the wealthy and influential classes, for their personal advancement. At the close of his talk the subject was discussed by the other members.

The afternoon session commenced with a pleasant concert by the band. Dr. Robert McIntyre entertained a large audience with his lecture on "The Sunny Side of Soldier Life." In his opening words he said that much had been said on the privation and hardships of a soldier's life, and that his remarks would be to show that it is not all that gloomy. He pointed out that many of the soldiers were brave and many times he brought tears to the eyes of his audience, who would immediately go off into roars of laughter at the witty jokes and amusing incidents which he related. His description of the charge of Grant's troops up Missionary Ridge, during the Civil War, was a work of art, and the patriotism was deeply stirred in the hearts of those who listened. He held up the veteran of the Civil War as the great American citizen, and said he would rather shake the hand of a member of the Grand Army of the Republic than of the King of the greatest nation in the world. Continuing, he said the only badge he had ever wished to wear was the little bronze emblem of the G. A. R. Dr. McIntyre told how he had tried to enlist as a drummer boy in 1861, but that he was not permitted to on account of his age and size. He was then only 19 years old. However, he said he did belong to a G. A. R., to which every one could, and ought to, belong, and that was the Grand Army of the Redeemed. He brought to the minds of his listeners the joy of the old veterans, when their reunions and said he hoped all those present would be at the reunion of the G. A. R. to which he belonged, after life is past. At the conclusion Dr. McIntyre was loudly applauded.

THE INDIANS, THE SCORE STOOD 8 TO 9 IN FAVOR OF VANCOUVER.

by the Indians, the score stood 8 to 9 in favor of Vancouver. Both pitchers were changed in this inning, Regan going in the box for Chemama and Fann for Vancouver.

In the last of the eighth the red men scored four times. The Vancouverites made a great effort to overcome the lead of three runs and succeeded in getting three men on base, after two men were out. The last man up fanned the air three times, leaving the final score 12 to 9 in favor of Chemama. Tomorrow Multnomah and Mount Angel will play. The players and positions are: Chemama—Traboe, C; Vancouver—Cole, Morris, Regan, C; Gains, Fann, Davis, Yonkers, P; Spray, La Plambole, S; Bentley, Raub, Berrida, C; Glason, Rogers, C; Meyers, Sanders, C; Parker, Neafus, C; Gains, Fann, Davis, Yonkers, P.

At 7:30 another delightful programme was rendered by the Chemama band, several pieces being encored, and all were thoroughly enjoyed. At 8 o'clock Dr. Stephen S. Wise, of Portland, took the platform and delivered a very strong lecture on "The Mission of Israel," which was very interesting and instructive.

Today's Programme.

The following is today's official programme: 8:00 to 11:00—Classes. 11:00 to 12:00—Ministerial Association hour. 12:00 to 1:00—The Christian's Attitude Toward the Liquor Traffic. Rev. H. W. Jones, pastor Inglewood Congregational Church, will lead in the discussion of the topic, which will draw the fire of some of the ablest speakers on the coast.

CARS RUN REGULARLY

P. C. & O. SYSTEM OPERATES AGAIN ON SCHEDULE.

Service May Be Maintained—Planning Mill Men Return to Work—Striking Engineers Still Out.

For the first time in two weeks cars on the Oregon City trolley line were operated with a reasonable degree of regularity. They began running from Hawthorne and Grand avenues at 7:15 A. M., leaving hourly until 7:15 P. M., and then at 8:15 and 9:15. The cars ran midway between the Oregon City cars. Those to Mount Scott began running at 5:30 and continued every 45 minutes through the day. It is expected that this service will be maintained today. A dozen new men have been put on the cars, and by their service the new schedule is maintained. None of the old men have yet been put at work. It is said that five of them have declared their readiness to go back to their cars, but have been prevented by intimidation. These men are expected that they will be resorted to their steamers were running yesterday as usual.

Citizens Will Try to Settle Trouble.

OREGON CITY, July 9.—The movement of the citizens of Oregon City to put an end to the trouble between the Water Power & Railway Company's trolley line culminated this afternoon in a call for a mass meeting to be held tomorrow evening. The object of the meeting will be a judicial hearing before that parliament, and it is expected that a committee will be appointed to ascertain the source of the trouble. The object of the meeting is to ascertain the source of the trouble. There are always similar meetings will probably be held at Milwaukie and Sellwood. A number of prominent citizens have agreed to attend and do what they can to aid in overcoming the difficulty. Among those who have agreed to attend are Mayor G. B. Dimick, John W. Loder, D. C. Latourette, George A. Harding, W. A. Huntley, C. H. Dye and Holden Hargrave. The call reads: "The citizens of Oregon City and vicinity and all patrons of the Portland City & Oregon Railway are requested to meet at the Court-house at 8 o'clock on Thursday evening, July 10, at 6 o'clock, to take such action, if any can be had, as may assist in bringing about a fair and just settlement of the differences between the officers and employees of the railway company, and, if possible, promote a more harmonious and cordial feeling between the corporation and the people it should serve."

NEARLY ALL AT WORK. Planning Mill Men Rapidly Taking Their Old Places. Of the entire number of planning mill men that went out on a strike July 1, numbering something over 200, only 25 remain now unemployed, and the outlook is that in a short time there will no longer be a need of a settlement of the trouble that exists between the union and the planning mill-owners. For some time past it has been evident that there was little prospect of the millowners acceding to the demands of their men, and all have been accepting positions elsewhere as fast as they have been offered them. The Schmitt mill has employed a full force from the ranks of the strikers, many have gone to Astoria to work in the mills of the Universal Sash & Door Company, others have gone to California and other places, where they have secured places in planning mills, and a few have even changed their trade, rather than to go back to work in the mills here under the old conditions. The 25 that are remaining generally express themselves as willing to accept any reasonable position that may be offered them, and soon there will be no more planning mill strike, and the strike will not have been settled. Some of the union people are of the opinion that Thomas L. vice-president of the American Federation of Labor, who will visit Portland July 10, will be able to bring about a settlement of the difficulties, and that the authorities with a view to promoting peace, will accept of his mediation. The planning mills are not yet running full-handed, but report that they are getting more men daily, and that it will be but a short time until they will have their mills filled with non-union men.

Refuse to Set Aside Verdict. NEW YORK, July 9.—An order was issued today by Supreme Court Justice Keogh, in White Plains, refusing to set aside a verdict of $50,000 in favor of Peter F. McLaurin, of Mount Vernon, against the Cuban Company. McLaurin was employed by the company to prospect lumber lands in Cuba. Besides a salary, he was to receive one share of stock in the company. Differences arose, and McLaurin was discharged. He was not given a share of the company's stock, and he sued and recovered judgment. J. P. Morgan and Sir William Van Horne are stockholders in the Cuban Company. When the case was tried, the company, in order not to inconvenience Mr. Morgan and other stockholders by having them subpoenaed as witnesses, declared that one share of the company's stock was worth $50,000.

Remarks on a Trifling Incident. PORTLAND, July 9.—(To the Editor.) In today's issue you are asked to answer several questions with regard to some one burning a British flag on the Fourth of July, under very small and stupid circumstances, and without making a mountain out of a molehill, it is probable that Mr. George Blackman, your correspondent, will allow a loyal British subject to give an impartial judgment. He was not given a share of the company's stock, and he sued and recovered judgment. J. P. Morgan and Sir William Van Horne are stockholders in the Cuban Company. When the case was tried, the company, in order not to inconvenience Mr. Morgan and other stockholders by having them subpoenaed as witnesses, declared that one share of the company's stock was worth $50,000.

Demand for Money in Central West. CHICAGO, July 9.—Wide interest is being attached to the unusual demand for money in the Central West. Within a fortnight interest rates have advanced 1 per cent. Chicago began shipping money to the Northwest and West about July 1, and the demand for money has been estimated that about $1,000,000 currency has been sent out of Chicago to St. Paul, Minneapolis and St. Louis. These shipments have started a demand by Chicago bankers for the same banks throughout the country are asking for funds and have to be accommodated.
