

COWED BY TRACY

Outlaw Makes Farmer Boy Shave Him.

THREE OTHER MEN LOOK ON

Fugitive First Eats a Hearty Meal at Home Near Enumclaw—Convict Takes Opposite Route to One Picked Out for Him by posse.

While the posse searching for Tracy, the escaped Oregon convict, was scouring the Palmer, Wash., country, firm in the belief that he was in that section, the fugitive was going to another direction. It has just come to light that he appeared at a farmhouse near Enumclaw, Wash., Sunday, secured a meal, and impressed a boy into shaving him, while three men stood by terror-stricken. Where the desperado is now no one knows.

ENUMCLAW, July 15.—Word reached here this evening that Tracy had dinner Sunday afternoon with Morris Garner on what is known as the Gannon farm, on Boles Creek, three and a half miles southeast of here. Garner's story has, up to the present time, been kept quiet by him, through fear of the outlaw, who, he says, threatened him when leaving. Garner says that at 10 o'clock Sunday afternoon a man entered the house without knocking, and announced himself as Tracy, saying: "Gentlemen, I am Tracy, and I want something to eat quick."

The Garner, father and three sons, had just finished dinner, so they told him to sit up and help himself, which he proceeded to do, first ordering the two eldest sons to go to one corner of the room, directly in front of him, where he could keep them covered with his murderous rifle. At the time of Tracy's entrance the youngest son was shaving, but after the convict showed himself he ceased the operation, and was unable to proceed, even when told by Tracy to go ahead and finish his shaving.

Tracy Makes Boy Shave Him.

After eating his dinner, Tracy said: "Young man, come here and shave me." Upon the young man demurring on the ground of not being an adept with the razor, Tracy said: "That's all right; I am not particular, and if I don't kick you need not," whereupon young Garner lathered his face and proceeded to remove his beard. They state he had at least a two weeks' growth of beard, with which he was much pleased to part. After being shaved, Tracy helped himself to a pair of trousers that were hanging on the wall, putting them under his arm, and went out.

This will materially change the theories of Tracy's pursuers, as it has been believed all the time that he came to Enumclaw from Palmer by working along the side of the mountains south of the Northern Pacific Railroad, and was first seen by Clarence Burke just east of the town. It seems, though, that he came down the line on the north side of the track until he came to or near the White River, when he worked his way south along the river, crossed the track near the White River bridge, and continued up the stream to the Garner home. The broad company keeps watchman at this bridge, and he says he saw a man come up on the grade and cross the track shortly after the noon hour, who, he is satisfied, carried a gun, as he could see a glint in the sunlight.

Smoke From Fugitive's Campfire.

This evening at 7:30 smoke was seen ascending from a small gully in the foothills just east of here. As it has rained here most of the day, and at times very hard, it is believed by a great many of the citizens that the criminal is still lurking in the immediate vicinity. If his past actions are to be an index as to his future, it is more than likely to be his campfire, as it is well situated on a slope commanding a good view of the main highway to the east, and also overlooks the town. Any one in this position could keep a good watch and be in no great danger of a surprise. Looked at through a good glass at 7:45 this evening, it seemed as if one could detect a rise and fall of the flames, as if the fire were being replenished with new fuel, and at one time one or two watchers insisted that they could see some one moving about. If this is true, it is almost certain to be the criminal, as there is nothing there to invite a camp for any one but a person to keep study.

Search at Standstill.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 15.—There was absolutely nothing done by the posse searching for Tracy today. Sheriff Cuddehe's orders for all deputies in the outlying districts to report to his office in Seattle are being slowly obeyed. Cuddehe himself remains at Ravensdale with a small posse.

REGENTS MEET TODAY.

State Agricultural College Affairs Will Be Considered. SALEM, July 15.—Secretary of State F. J. Dunsen and Superintendent of Public Instruction J. H. Ackerman will go to Corvallis tomorrow to attend the annual meeting of the Board of Regents of the Agricultural College. The meeting will be held for the transaction of routine business, and for the election of professors if there should be any vacancy. So far as known here, there will be no vacancies.

GOOD SPEECHES BY LAWYERS.

McGinn and Fulton Appear Before the Supreme Court. SALEM, July 15.—In the Supreme Court today two of the leading jury lawyers in the state were pitted against each other in the trial of a case. It is seldom that addresses before the Supreme Court possess any interest for others than lawyers, and often the arguments are exceedingly dry to the ordinary hearer. Today, however, Judge McGinn, of Portland, and Senator Fulton, of Astoria, occupied the attention of the court with

JAIL BREAK NIPPED IN BUD

BANK WRECKER ST. JOHN AT THE HEAD OF THE PLOT.

One of Men in It Informs Whatcom Sheriff—Prisoners Were to Saw Out.

WHATCOM, Wash., July 15.—Through information given him by one of the men in the plot, Sheriff Brihan has just been enabled to prevent a most desperate jail-break, which was to be led by H. H. St. John, ex-president of the Scandinavian-American Bank in this city, and now awaiting sentence for wrecking it, and Bud Cox, a noted desperado and ex-cooperated the grabbing through the bars by Cox of Sheriff Brihan, taking from him his pistol and his murder in case he refused to open the jail doors. St. John's correspondence was never examined, and through this channel Cox got letters got to his pals, who were to aid him.

WATTERSON AGAIN LECTURES.

Delights Chautauquans With Talk on "Money and Morals."

ASHLAND, Or., July 15.—A large audience crowded the Chautauqua Tabernacle this evening to hear Hon. Henry Watter-son in his lecture on "Money and Morals." The eloquent Kentuckian gave great satisfaction with his sound philosophy and splendid oratory, and was frequently greeted with rounds of appreciative applause during his discourse.

MUCH DAMAGE AT ASTORIA.

Several Fishing Scows Are Lost—Considerable Hay Ruined.

ASTORIA, Or., July 15.—Quite a number of accidents occurred on the river during the gale last night, entailing a considerable property loss, but so far as known, no one was drowned. A scow containing a lot of seines broke loose from its mooring at the Taylor senne grounds and drifted to Gray's Bay, where it was wrecked on the beach. S. Schmidt & Co.'s scow, which was moored at the same place, broke from its moorings, and, going ashore, pounded to pieces on the rocks, and about three tons of fish were lost. The launch C. W. Alter, belonging to J. Lindenberg, while coming across from Point Ellis, had a deckload of salmon in boxes, was overboard, causing a loss of about $200.

IN EASTERN WASHINGTON.

Storm There and in Idaho Was the Heaviest Ever Known.

SPOKANE, Wash., July 15.—Disasters from all sections of Eastern Washington and Northern Idaho show that last night's wind storm was the worst in the history of this section. While there was no loss of life, a number of buildings were blown down, roofs lifted and trees uprooted and scattered about. The wind was so hard that it was a struggle to walk in the orchards and grain fields. Near Wardner, Idaho, Mr. and Mrs. James Lee suffered a broken leg. In the application of William Symmes for the registration of the title to land in this county, and Hon. P. R. Kelly, author of the Tugens land law, was appointed examiner, said to be the first one under the law. The title was ordered registered.

WANTED IN IOWA.

Young Man Arrested in Idaho on Charge of Murder.

WEISER, Idaho, July 15.—Lee Walston, a young man about 24 years of age, whose parents live about three miles from Weiser, and who came here last Spring, was arrested here on a charge of murder in the second degree. His victim was a young girl named Jenkins, living at Abilene, Ia., who died three days after giving birth to a child. She charged Walston with the crime. He was traced to Weiser, and a warrant and instructions were sent to Sheriff Gray to arrest him. He had left here and gone to Council, where Sheriff Gray was going after him tomorrow. He notified Sheriff James McGinness, of Taylor County, Iowa, that he had located him. Sheriff McGinness arrived this morning, and he and Sheriff Gray were walking down the street when the Pacific & Idaho Northern train arrived from Council, when they observed Walston get off the train and immediately placed him under arrest. At first he denied being Walston, but in a short time acknowledged that to be his name. He will be taken to the tonight, where he will be taken to Iowa to stand trial for the crime of which he is charged.

OFF FOR THUNDER MOUNTAIN.

Largest Party to Go in for Some Time Leaves Weiser.

WEISER, Idaho, July 15.—The largest party to go into Thunder Mountain for three or four weeks left here this morning via the Pacific & Idaho Northern Railroad to Council, from which point they will engage horses and pack animals to take them to the camp. There were 15 persons in the party, and immediately looked after by the well-known miner and guide, Curley Brewer. Comprising the party were: M. L. Hollister, of Chicago; R. Estrada, of Joplin, Mo.; F. C. Tutant and son, of New York City; Darrow and J. Chester Brown, of Ogdin; M. J. Howard, J. F. Agnew, E. H. Lucas, O. E. Lucas, Ike Hood and Matt Luthardt, of Pittsburg. The gentlemen are all wealthy, and are going into camp to inspect several claims on which Mr. Hollister, who is a well-known promoter, has a lease and bonds. It is anticipated with the appearance of the claims and the several deals will be consummated.

KLAMATH FALLS TO HAVE A FAIR.

Society Formed and Grounds and Racetrack Secured.

KLAMATH FALLS, Or., July 15.—The organization of an agricultural society for the purpose of holding annual fairs at this place has been completed, and preparations are now going forward for the first fair to be held October 2-11. Level and easily accessible grounds for the necessary buildings and mile track have been secured from the extensive ranch of W. A. Wright, adjoining town. Abundant crops, now reasonably assured, will enable a fine display of grains, vegetables and fruits, and the ranches of the county will afford an excellent collection of livestock.

NORTHWEST DEAD.

EUGENE, July 15.—Mrs. P. Mahon, an Oregon pioneer of 1841 died last night at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. F. W.

Blows Brain Down

SERIOUS DAMAGE TO UMATILLA COUNTY GRAIN CROP.

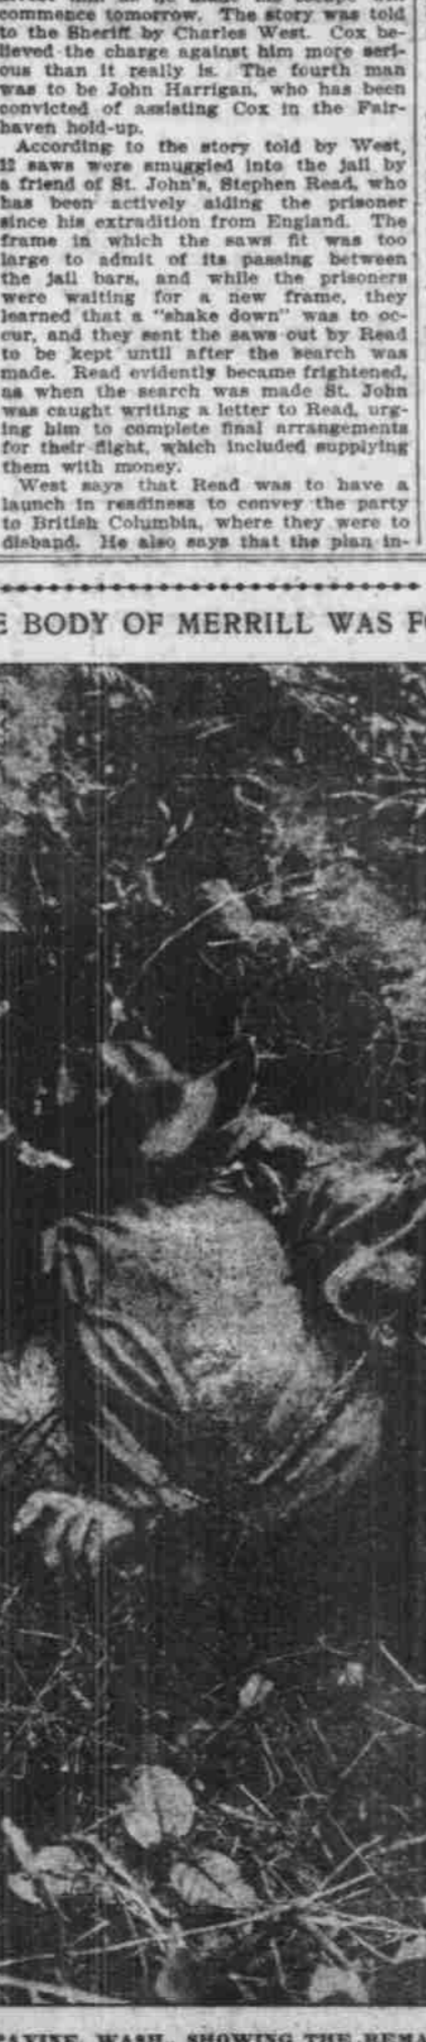

Much Fruit Knocked Off Trees—Fishing Craft and Farmers About Astoria Suffer.

PENDLETON, Or., July 15.—A violent wind storm which began last evening, and prevailed to some extent today, inflicted serious damage to growing crops, and fruits throughout a large part of Umatilla County. The weight of the storm fell upon the territory adjacent to the Umatilla River. About Milton and Weston, little harm was done, but on the Indian reservation, the damage was heavy. Spring wheat, which is still green, suffered but little. Barley, which is now being harvested, and Fall wheat, much of which is ripe, was badly shattered. One field of barley near Pendleton, estimated to give 50 bushels to the acre, shows but 10 bushels. The loss in Fall wheat, reported in the region swept by the storm, may reach 10 per cent of the crop. Only a part of the county has been heard from, but enough is known to make clear that the loss has been heavy. Fruit that was badly injured; also much of it being knocked off the trees, and many of the trees were badly damaged by the wind.
