Every man who invests money here will help build up the country in order to increase the value of his property, and thus all will be benefited.

Appreciate Portland's Location.

People who live here in Oregon do not notice the changes that are now going on, and do not appreciate the influences which will aid in building up this state in the future. But business men who live at a distance see the trend of affairs and know that there is a great future in Store for the Columbia River region. They ap-preciate the importance of the geograph-ical position Portland occupies, and believe that as the center for the lumbering and mining and all other business of this sountry it will become one of the greatest cities of the West. Eastern people do not regard Portland as a boom town in which money may be made by speculation, but as a city which has back of it a wealth that will give it a healthy and continuous though rapid growth.

"The commercial organizations of Port-land should make every effort to control the mining business of Idaho and Eastern Oregon and Washington, for the ten-dency is in this direction, though Sait Lake City is making a fight for it. A free assay office and a unelter are among the first things to be accured, and a transportation facilities must be wided to turn the business this way. e business will naturally drift down then

LAND OFFICE HELD IN ERROR.

Commissioner Reverses Its Ruling in Columbia County Contest.

OREGON CITY, July 23.-(Special.)-A decision was received today from the General Land Office overruling the decision of the local office in the contest of W. L. Buskner vs. John J. Galvin and Joseph Miller. On September 37, 1960. Galvin filed a horhestead entry on 150 acres of land near Goble, Columbia County. In March of the following year he filed his relinguishment of the entry and Miller filed an entry upon the land. Fifteen days prior to the relinguishment Buckner filed a cobtest, alleging that Galvin took the claim on speculation and that he did not intend to make it a home; that it was more valuable for timber than for agricultural purposes; that Galvin offered his relinquishment for sale for $1500 and later offered it for $500; that he took it to sell for its ber and not to make it a home. The Register and Receiver sustained the entrymen and dismissed the contest. Commissioner Hermann, of the General Land Office, was appealed to, and in his reversal of the decision of the Register and Receiver, says: "It is found, notwithstanding that Galvin had compiled with the law as to residence and cultivation, that his intention and purpose at the time he made his entry was to live on the land only 14 months and commute his entry. It must, therefore, be held that his entry was speculative and that the contestant has established the truth of his charge Miller's entry is, therefore, held for can cellation. It is quite proper to note that the decelt and treachery of the contest-ant, in his dealings with Galvin, is quite apparent. It was an error to have al-lowed Miller to enter the land pending Buckner's centest. But this does not affect the case on its merit, nor can it cause any real trouble. Miller having been made a party to the contest, his entry can be as easily cancelled as Gal-

MORE OF KLAMATHON SHOOTING.

Saloon-Keeper Became Enraged Because Men Drove Off With Buggy.

ASHLAND, July 23 .- (Special.)-S. eriff Freshour and District Attorney Lodge neve returned to Yreka, Cal., after investigating the shooting scrape Monday night at Fall Creek, at the Oregon boundary line, the present terminus of the construction work on the Klamath Lake Rail-road, in which Henry Hoover, a logdriver, was killed, and E. Loucks, a construction was killed, and S. Loucks, a construction boss, seriously, if not fainly, wounded. A number of the railroad and timbermen had been carousing at J. A. McDonald's saloon, among them Hoover and Loucks, who proceeded to get into a buggy be-longing to the saloon-keeper, and then they started away down the road toward the river. Enraged at their action Donald ran after them, but finding that they out-traveled him he drew his revolves and fired, the ball from it passing through the cover of the flecing vehicle and entering the back of the neck of Hoover, coming out through his forehead. The woundhis arrival here yesterday, was assigned to temporary duty at this post. Edward A. Seely, Signal Corps, hay been sent to Fort Lawton to take the ined what he had done, he took to the brush, and Loucks returned to Fail Creek bridge with the buggy and his wounded and dying companion. In about one hour, Loucks, realizing the condition of Hoover, secured a horse and started on the road for Klamathon to secure surgleal aid, Shortly after, McDonald returned to the camp, and, taking his buggy, also started for Klamathon. Meeting Loucks on the road, the latter was invited into the saloon-keeper's buggy to talk the affair over, and Loucks strongly advised McDonald to give himself up; but he stoutly refused to do so. Loucks then said he would put McDonald under arrest for the crime and wire to Yrcks for Sheriff Freshour. This threat enraged McDonald, who whipped This out his gun and shot Loucks, the ball entering his body just above the heart and coming out the back. Other men who were near by, attracted by the shot, rushed to the assistance of the wounded man, when McDonald again jumped into the buggy, drove rapidly away to Yreka, where he arrived and surrendered himself to the officers. McDonaid bears a reputa tion as a quarrelsome man. The affair has caused much excitement in the whole neighborhood.

Our country schoolhouses are on the average better than those in the East. Tet Oregon has not one dollar of debt, while nearly every Eastern State is groaning under a burden of debt from which it cannot release itself. We think our taxes are high, and they are, but our money goes into public improvements. Taxes are as high or higher in most of the Eastern States, but much of the money goes to pay interest on the state debt, while little is spent for public improvement. The value of our property is on the increase and will keep pace with the increasing needs for state expenditures, so that there is no reason to believe that Oregon will ever find it. FISHERMEN AT LOGGERHEADS. Trapowners Accuse Gillnet Men of

Grand Larceny. WHATCOM, Wash., July 3.-War has broken out between Puget Bound flahtrap owners and gillnet fishermen. The fisher-men have commenced going into the traps and fishing, and trapowners have had a number of them arrested for attempted grand larceny. The fishermen declare that the presence of traps in Puget Sound waters is contrary to the Federal laws, and consequently they violate no law in going to them and fishing. They also allege that the state statute, which recognizes that traps are lawful, is violated by a number of traps being piled in greater depth of water than the act provides for. The trap-men have been loth to force the issue, but finally the boldness of the fishermen mide them take action. The fishermen declare that the case will be fought to the last ditch if the trapmen persist in their pres-ent attitude. They assert that the trap-men in their efforts to catch them fighing in traps are partolling the waters of Pu-get Sound with boats which carry no lights, contrary to marine regulations. About 500 men are engaged in the business of fishing evolutions in terms of fishing exclusively in traps.

Death of Children. SPOKANE, July 22 -- By the verdict of the Coroner's Jury, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Graham, of this city, caused the death of their three children by criminal negli-gence. The inquest resulted in a verdict that "death was caused by diphtheria, and that the parents, E. George Graham and his wife. Rose Graham, are guilty of crim-inal negligence for failing to employ or accept skilled medical assistance." The jury also recommended that a state law be passed covering such offenses and fixing a penalty. Mr. and Mrs. Graham are members of the society known as the "Church of God," and do not believe in medicine, though surgery is permitted. When the children became sick they were anointed by an elder of the church. Later a doctor was called and was allowed to innce the children's throats, but not to give them anti-toxin. Three died, one recovered. Whether the parents will be prosecuted has not been determined. Threaten to Mob Saloon Men.
