It was right in the first inning that Portland started in laying supplies for s victory, and the two runs then scored were enough to hold the game; but the boys were a little sore from Tuesday, and wanted to rub it in; so eight more marks were added before the contest closed. The Butte sluggers managed to crawl in for

Yesterday seemed to be McIntyre's off day, and the Portland boys found it out early in the game and the ball was kept chooting around third base. Some came hot and some came easy; but twice he let not gather them in. He did accept two chances in beautiful style. The ibcal infield gave one of the finest exhibitions of work that has ever been seen here. Every one of the players was in the game at all stages. Hot drives were stopped and fielded perfectly, and many a safe hit was cut off. A double play came in the third inning, when Gay hit the bail with terrific force past Engle, who grabbed at it but failed to stop it. Anderson got the sphere and touched the bag, retiring McCloskey, and quick as a fash shot the ball into Weed's hands be-fore the Butte twirler could reach his bag. Engle was tremendously effective. The five hits made off his delivery were scat-tered over as many innings. Houtz got in a lucky hit along the line of first base, which landed him on second. He was the only follower of Mary MacLane to reach the second bag. Gay pitched fair ball, but

For clean, gentlemanly conduct the game yesterday could hardly be excelled. There was no kicking by either side. Houtz got a little hot because he bit at one of Engle's quick returns and got a foul strike. relieved his feelings by smeshing at buil as it lay on the plate and gave Van Buren a chase to recover it. The n was so childlike that it was for-

Butte opened the game when Ward made a clean hit to center field. It netted him nothing, as he was caught napping at first. Gay got generous when Max Muller started off the batting list for Portland and walked him to first. Van Buren intended to sacrifice, and bunted the ball to Me-Intyre, who fumbled and left the two men on bases with nobody out. Ziegler was retired at first, while Muller and Van Buren advanced a notch each. Weed landed the ball in left field, scoring the two men. An effort was made by Knox to get Van Buren at the plate, but the long-legged boy was too fast. However, a quick throw by Zearfoss caught Weed, he was trying to get second. For the next three innings it was noth ing but steady, fast baseball by both teams, features being the nailing of two men at second by Zearfoss and Kane. In the fifth Kane got a hit, but was forced out at second. In the same inning Portland came dangerously near to ing. A hit and an error had landed Harris on third with two men out. Zearfoss made a quick throw to Gay, who turned apparently to catch Engle, who was stealing second, and Harris started for home, but Gay was too quick for him and had the ball back to Zearfoss in time to get him at the plate.

The only goose-egg broken by Butte was in the sixth, when Houtz got his two-bagger and was brought in by an out at first

Manager Vigneux started the seventh for Portland by putting the ball past second into right field, where Marshall juggled it around a while and allowed the little catcher to land on second. Anderson sent the ball to McIntyre, who tried to touch Vigneux but failed, and then threw to first too late to get Anderson. Mr. Jacob Deisel surprised himself and the spectators by landing on the ball for two bases and bringing in two runs.

For a slugging match the eighth was something awful. The Portland batters got Gay for seven hits and six runs. Van Buren started with a hot one to his ac-customed spot, past third. Ziegler tried to him, but bunted out dropped the ball into left field and went to second on a throw to Van Buren. Vigneux was retired at first, while Van Buren came in. Anderson's knock past McIn-tyre brought in Weed. Harris sent a slow nfield hit-between first and second, which to one could handle in time to get him. Delsel also hit to second and filled the bases with two men out and two runs to the good on the inning. Engle came up and sent the ball high in the air over left field. An error in judgment by Dicky Knox let the ball go over his head, and Engle didn't halt until he reached third. Then Portland had three more runs. Mul-ler rapped the ball to Kane for another safe one, and Engle came in for the last run of the game.

Baker City Manager Thinks He Is All Right.

BAKER CITY, July 21 .- (Special.) - Manager Hosier, of the Baker City baseball team, is very much displeased with the way in which the Walla Walla Union treated Third Baseman Hupp, of the Baker nine. In consequence of a hasty play, Hupp it seems, without intention, struck Kelly, of the Walia Walia team, in the back with such force that Kelly was unable to play any more during the series of games. It was a quick play, where he had to catch the ball and touch the man at the same instant, in order to get him out. Later Mupp expressed his regret at being the cause of the unintentional injury to a player.

He was criticised by the Union, so says Mr. Hosler, because of errors made in playing. Mr. Hosler is well pleased with Mr. Hupp's playing and does not think he should be criticised for had playing because of an accident. Hupp came to the Baker City team from Portland, and atands well with the local management,

COURT UPHOLDS MEMPHIS COURT. Decides That St. Vrain Can Play in the Southern Lengue.

CHATANOOGA, Tenn., July 23.—Chan-cellor McConnell, of the Chancery Court, today granted an injunction asked for by the Memphis Baseball Club to prevent the Southern League from interfering with the playing of St. Vrain, the Memphis pitcher, who, the Tacoma (Wash.) club asserts, is under contract to play with that team. The decision gives the Memphis club the right to use St. Vrain in any game in the Southern League without interference, and brings the proceed-ings to a point where the league will have to abandon the case or bring it to trial on its merits.

The fourth annual open tennis tourns-ment of the Multnoman Amateur Athletic Club, for the championship of Ore-gon, will commence on July 29 and continue until August 2. Goward, in the challenge round for the champlonship of the state, and for passession of the Fisk

The sale of seats, the club managers state, has almost reached
