Portland Shuts Out Helena in the First Game.

A GREAT PITCHERS' BATTLE

Not a Run Scored Until the Last of the Ninth, When Deisel Gets a Lucky Hit, Scoring Anderson.

If it had not been for a lucky hit by Deisel in the last of the ninth inning yesterday afternoon, when Anderson was on the third bag, the scoreboy might have still been adding goose eggs to the 17 on the board at that time. In one of the greatest shut-out games that has ever been seen here Portland yesterday kept the Helena team from bringing a man across the rubber, while the locals squeezed in the necessary run at the last moment.

The opening in the series with Helena was a battle royal between the elongated Wiggs of the Senators and Witbeck of the Webfooters. Witbeck got the honors by a close margin in all points of the game. His team got one more run and two more hits; he struck out one more man and gave one less base on balls than Wiggs.

The fielding of both teams was of the championship order. The work behind Wiggs was perfect, while Portland made but two errors. Zeigler fumbled a grounder by Holly in the first, and let the man reach first, and the other error was credited to Vigneux for missing a foul fly from Hannivan, who afterward got to first on four balls.

Two fast double plays were the leading fielding features of the contest. The first came in the sixth inning, when Weed rapped a liner to Schmeer, who caught it nicely and made a quick throw to first, and got Van Buren before he could return to the bag. In the eighth Wiggs hit to Deisel, who touched second, retiring Schmeer, and then got the ball to first just in time to head off the Helena pitcher. Portland came near to getting another double in the sixth, but Umpire Rankin failed to call the man out at first. Peeples made a couple of good catches at second for Helena, but other than these plays the fielding was not sensational.

Claude Schmeer, the shortstop on the Helena nine, is a Portland production, and yesterday some of his admiring friends remembered him by presenting him with a magnificent bouquet when he came to bat for the first time. He showed his appreciation by making a two-base hit, but it did him little good, as he could get no further. Schmeer joined the Helena team when the Senators made their first visit here, and has been with them ever since, playing good, consistent ball, and doing some good stick work.

Cunningham Signed by Portland.

Bert Cunningham, until recently the league umpire here, occupied a seat on the Portland bench, clad in a Portland uniform. Manager Vigneux annexed the ex-umpire to his pitching staff as soon as he heard of his release, and he could not have made a better move to please the Portland fans. Cunningham was always a favorite, and the boys are glad to see him wear the Webfoot uniform. He used to be a great pitcher, but retired to take up umpiring. He pitched for John McCloskey when the present Butte manager was running the Louisville team, and did good work. His arm was in good condition last Spring, and after a little practice it is expected that Cunningham will again be in pitching form.

Ed Rankin, the local umpire, officiated at the game yesterday, and did good work. He made the men stand around like a veteran, and took no back talk from any of them. While there was a little kick on some of the decisions, in the long run he umpired a good game.

The Game in Detail.

When Hannivan, the first man up, hit the ball just over Anderson's head, there was no one among the spectators who thought that the game would go for eight innings and a half without a score. Hannivan landed safely on the first bag, and went along to second on Peeples' sacrifice. An error by Zeigler put Holly on the bases, and it certainly looked as if Helena would bring in a run, with two men on bases and only one out. Shaffer hit an easy one to Zeigler, and Hannivan was caught between second and third, and then Witbeck struck out Manager Flannery.

The great Wiggs opened in the box for Helena, and struck Muller out. Van Buren flew out, and then, with these two gone, Portland got two men on the bases, but Zeigler also succumbed to Wiggs' curves.

Such was the general run of the whole game, and each side would go down in one, two, three order nearly every inning. A few reached first, and still fewer got down to the second bag, but not until Anderson got on the bases just before his run did a man on either side reach third base. Not a man rested on the third bag until after two men were out in the last of the ninth. Such a record is seldom made.

How the Game Was Won.

When Portland came to the bat in the ninth inning the spectators were beginning to wonder just what was the matter. They had sat there for over an hour and the scorer had failed to ring his bell for a single run. Something was wanted, so they commenced to yell. When Andy Anderson walked up to the plate the rumbling of the spectators increased, and by the time Wiggs had pitched three wild balls over the plate the sound coming from the grandstand somewhat resembled a night in the zoo at Ringling Bros.' circus. The sounds seemed to terrify even the mighty twirler from Montana, and he let ball No. 4 drive across the plate. Then all the pent-up enthusiasm of the crowd broke forth into one mighty yell.

Zeigler came in for another of his sacrifices, and the cheering broke forth anew. Harris was implored to put the ball over the fence or any place, just so Anderson could get off the second bag and come home. He did hit the ball, but Peeples got him at first, while Anderson glided down to third. Mr. Jacob Deisel came up to the rubber, bat in hand. He knew that all depended upon him. He had to get the ball to some place where it could not be handled in time to put him out. For a few moments it looked as if Deisel was gone, and that an extra session would commence. He caught the ball and sent it slowly toward Schmeer at shortstop, but just as the short was ready to pick the ball up and put Deisel out at first, the sphere hit something and shot up into the air just so that Schmeer could not gather it in. Meanwhile Anderson was shooting down toward home, and had crossed in for the necessary run. The hit was a lucky scratch, but what did that matter. It scored Anderson and won the game, so the crowd went home happy. The score:

SLUGGING AND ERRORS.

Spokane Wins Such a Match From Butte.

SPOKANE, July 29.—The locals won by terrific slugging today. Ronch was pounded out of the box in the seventh and Gay substituted. He was better, and the visiters picked up a number of runs toward the end of the game on errors and a little batting. It was a comedy exhibition throughout, and required two hours and 30 minutes to play. Attendance, 1000. Score:

La Grande Ball Team Reorganized.

LA GRANDE, July 29.—(Special.)—The baseball association met yesterday and elected new directors—Thomas Walsh, J. Van Buren, R. Kelley, A. C. Miller, Will Church, C. Melquist and Fred Swaney. More money was pledged, and this town will be in the game right along. The talk and announcement in a local paper of disbanding was unauthorized. The directors last night elected A. F. Hill treasurer and A. W. Ray manager. Black, third baseman, was appointed captain. The present players will be retained and two new first-class pitchers signed.

A CRACK PLAYER IN THE TOURNAMENT.

Captain W. A. Bethel, of the United States Artillery, Judge-Advocate at Vancouver Barracks, returning a low volley from his opponent in the singles, P. H. Carroll. Captain Bethel is recognized as one of the hardest players in the tournament, and will give the present holder of the championship a hard rub for the first place.

BERT CUNNINGHAM NOW WITH PORTLAND.

EX-UMPIRE WILL GO ON LOCAL PITCHING STAFF.

LEWIS WINS OUT

Defeats Cheal in Hard-Fought Tennis Contest.

FIRST GAMES OF TOURNAMENT

Miss Josephi and Miss Atkinson Play Splendid Game—Contests Scheduled for Second Day's Play.

The features of the first day's playing of the fourth annual state tennis tournament, played on the Multnomah courts yesterday, were the defeat of M. C. Cheal by C. D. Lewis in the men's singles and the fine playing of Miss Josephi and Miss Atkinson in the first contest in the ladies' singles. Captain Bethel and Professor Ewing also showed up in good form, and each won his match.

The first game was called at 10 A. M. between Miss Josephi and Miss Atkinson. Remarkably good tennis was played by the contestants, Miss Josephi showing up well against a player of wide experience, and the first set was anybody's until the last game was played. In the 11 o'clock series Miss Carstens defeated Mrs. Judge, and Mrs. Baldwin defeated Miss Hazel Weidler.

The afternoon's playing opened with the defeat of Holland by Wickersham in two love sets, and two good games between Newell and Briggs. Newell won the first by 6-2, and had the long end of a 3-1 score in the second when Briggs was forced to withdraw on account of the effects of a recent illness, thus losing the set by default.

At 3, two of the most important sets of the day, Bethel vs. Carroll and Prince vs. Ewing, were called. Bethel has been considered one of the best players that has entered, and his appearance yesterday simply bore out the opinions that had been formed by those who have seen him before. His specialty is a strong, hard serve and return, no other player on the courts yesterday putting the force into the stroke that he did, and withal he has absolute control, and an ability to place the sphere wherever he wishes. Prince played good tennis, but at no time was he able to surpass Ewing, whose work in the first set was some of the best tennis ever seen on the Multnomah grounds. He is especially strong on lobbing, and very steady.

Cheal and Lewis played two long and hard-fought sets, the second lasting until a score of 9-7 had been run up by Lewis, who had also won the first set, thus getting first place in the event. The winners of the other afternoon events had but little difficulty in securing their sets, as most of the scores given below will show:

The courts were in the pink of condition, much work having been done on them for this occasion. Around the umpire's booths and along the back nets were strung long strings of flags and pennants representing nearly all the prominent nations of the world, besides numerous signal flags and Weather Bureau signals, all combining and giving the scene a gala day appearance. The principal decoration on the booth was the scarlet and white, the Multnomah Club colors.

At a near-by stand Mrs. S. B. Forbes, assisted by Miss Fannie Brown, Miss Laura Jordan, Miss Inez Barrett, Miss Ruth Maxwell and Miss Pease, served delicious lemonade to the thirsty ones, both players and visitors alike. This stand was also beautifully decorated with bunting and evergreens, besides numerous prize cups that have been won by Multnomah men in the past, which were filled with flowers.

Great credit is due to the club tennis committee, consisting of Messrs. Bethel, Ladd, Goss, McAlpin and Lewis, who have helped make the tournament successful. Mr. Ewing, who has charge of the grounds, and Mr. Leiter, the official referee, have also worked hard in conjunction with the committee, and their work is greatly appreciated by all those who are interested in tennis and its welfare.

Yesterday's Scores.

Yesterday's winners and the detailed scores were:

Miss Atkinson defeated Miss Josephi, 6—4, 6—1.

Mrs. Baldwin defeated Miss Hazel Weidler, 6—0, 6—2.

Miss Carstens defeated Mrs. Judge, 6—0, 6—1.

Wickersham defeated Holland, 6—0, 6—0.

Newell defeated Briggs, 6—2, 3—1 (default).

Ewing defeated Prince, 6—0, 6—2.

Bethel defeated Carroll, 6—2, 6—2.

Goss defeated Brown, 6—1, 6—2.

Lewis defeated Cheal, 6—3, 9—7.

Seager defeated Valentine, 6—1, 6—2.

McAlpin defeated Walker by default.

Today's Events.

The interesting events today will be the contests between Bethel and Ewing, and Goss and Breeze, beside numerous doubles and mixed doubles. The schedule is given below, court 1 being that located by the big grandstand on the west side of the field, and 2 and 3 those at the foot of the steps near the clubhouse where yesterdays' games were played.

10 A. M.—Court 2, Miss Josephi and Miss Barrett vs. Miss Goss and Miss Strong.

11 A. M.—Court 2, Archer and Warren vs. Seager and Ewing.

2 P. M.—Court 1, Valentine and ——— vs. Bethel and Cheal; court 2, Ladd vs. Cook; court 3, Wickersham vs. Newell.

3 P. M.—Court 2, Ewing vs Bethel; court 3, McAlpin vs. Lewis.

4 P. M.—Court 1, Mrs. Baldwin vs. Miss Strong; court 2, Goss vs. Breeze.

5 P. M.—Court 1, Breeze and Leiter vs. Ladd and Cook; court 2, Seager and Mrs. Judge vs. Cheal and Miss Atkinson.

The reception committee who will have charge of the refreshments today will be Mrs. Jack Kolock, Miss Von Destinon, Miss Belle McKee, Miss Georgina Burns and Miss Kathalene Burns. Tonight the club will give a reception and concert to which all the club members are invited. The Seventeenth Infantry Band will furnish music for the occasion.

TRACEY AND KELLY TO MEET.

Matched for Fight in Seattle August 16.

Tom Tracey, the well-known Australian welter-weight, has been matched to fight Tom Reilly, at Seattle, on August 16. Tracey was originally matched to fight "Rube" Ferns, but the bout was called off, as Ferns broke his wrist while in practice. The Seattle people then tried to get young Gibbs to fill Ferns' place on the programme, but as the colored boy had made other arrangements, it was decided to match Tracey and Reilly. By terms of the agreement, the men will weigh in at 154 pounds. In the matter of weight, Reilly will have no little advantage, as Tracey's normal weight is 142 at the ringside. Tracey will resume active training at once, under the direction of Martin Denny.

Tracey to Meet "Young" Gibbs.

OAKLAND, Cal., July 29.—Manager Billy Lavigne of the Acme Athletic Club today matched "Young" Gibbs, of Cleveland, and Tommy Tracey, of Portland, to fight at Seattle on August 16. The men will weigh in at 140 pounds.

CHESS TOURNAMENT.

Marshall and Janowski Tied for the Lead—Pillsbury Far Behind.

HANOVER, July 29.—The chess masters engaged in the international tournament of the German Chess Association met this morning in the seventh round. The meeting between Marshall and Janowski was the special feature of the session, each having won five games to date. Janowski had much the better of the contest when play ceased for the first adjournment. Another game that was closely watched was the one between Pillsbury and Olland. The latter has not yet suffered a defeat, but when his game with the American was adjourned, he had decidedly the worst of it. Tschigorin, Gottschalk and Cohn won, and the games between Gunsberg and Napier and Suechting and Atkins were drawn.

In the afternoon session, Wolf won his game with Bardeleben, and Pillsbury fulfilled expectations by defeating Olland. Swiderski and Marshall drew. The Mason-Levin contest was also drawn. This leaves Marshall and Janowski tied for the lead, with 5½ games won out of seven. Olland is next, with 4½ games to his credit out of six played. Pillsbury has made a bad start in the international tournament. At the end of the sixth round he stood ninth, having won 2½ games. Yesterday Pillsbury played 21 simultaneous games with second-class players while blindfolded. He won three, drew 11 and lost seven.

Infantry Target Competition.

OMAHA, July 29.—The programme and list of competitors in the infantry marksmanship competition of the department of the Missouri, to be held at Fort Leavenworth, were issued from Army headquarters today. The competition will begin tomorrow and last a week. General Bates will present the medals next week. Captain William H. Wassels, of the Twenty-second Infantry, will be statistical officer, and Captain John Robertson chief range officer. This is the first competition held in the department since before the Spanish-American War.

Double Championship Tennis.

LONGWOOD, Mass., July 29.—At the tennis tournament today an insight was given into the famous double game of the Doherty brothers, the first match for the Eastern double championship being played with these two experts facing Storer Ware and N. P. Hallowell, Jr. Although greatly outclassed by the foreigners, the two Americans put up quite a stiff game. The Dohertys won in straight sets.

Western Tennis Championship.

CHICAGO, July 29.—Kreigh Collins, of Kenwood, wrested the Western tennis championship in singles from R. D. Little, of Princeton, today at the Kenwood Country Club tournament, in a brilliant and bitterly contested match. Collins won the first two sets, 7-5, 7-5. Little won the third and fourth sets, 2-6, 3-6, and Collins won the fifth set and the match, 6-3.

THE DAY'S RACES.

Mauvezin Wins Stewards' Cup.

LONDON, July 29.—The 100th anniversary of the inauguration of the Goodwood racing meeting was favored with perfect weather. The social interest in the occasion was somewhat dampened by the absence of the King, but the party at Goodwood House included the Duke of Cambridge, Prince Christian of Denmark and Prince and Princess Edward of Saxe-Weimer. Great crowds journeyed to this most picturesque but least accessible of English race courses.

The principal event was for the Stewards' cup, which has so frequently in recent years gone to rank outsiders, and the tradition was sustained today when the cup was captured by Mauvezin, who scarcely figured in the betting. Mauvezin beat O'Donovan Rossa, who last year won at the sensational price of 60 to 1. Master Willie was third. Twenty-three horses ran. Lochdoon led for half of the journey, when Mauvezin drew in front, and, making the best running, won easily by two lengths ahead. O'Donovan Rossa was three lengths ahead of Master Willie. The betting was: Mauvezin, 10 to 1 against; O'Donovan Rossa, 6 to 1 against; and Master Willie, 20 to 1 against.

JIMMY WIGGS, HELENA'S GREAT TWIRLER.

Jimmy Wiggs now holds the world's record for shut-out innings. When he held Seattle down for no runs in five innings in the game played at Seattle, July 13, the big twirler had a record of 44 successive innings in which his opponents had been unable to score. The best former record was held by Chesebro, the Pittsburg pitcher, who made a record of 42 innings.

Prior to the game which gave his the record Wiggs had pitched four shut-outs. Two of these were against the leading team of the league, and the tall fellow apparently had the Seattle men entirely at his mercy. With the heavy hitting and fast fielding Senators behind him, Wiggs had no trouble at all.

Wiggs is one of the most modest and good-natured fellows in the baseball business, and has many friends in every city in the league circuit.
