

SHEEP SMASH CHINA

Frantic Flock Invades a China Store

PURSUED BY BOLD DETECTIVES

But They Were Out for a Time, and Their Friendly Visit Cost Their Host $250.

Yesterday morning at about 11:30 o'clock a band of 15 sheep casually wandered into the china and curio store of Andrew Kan, at the corner of Fourth and Morrison streets, and by the time they had been securely corralled in the basement they had browsed on $250 worth of china and pottery dishes. Just who is responsible for the damage wrought has not yet been determined, but it is generally thought that the persons who let the sheep journey forth on the public highway will have to foot the bill.

At 11 o'clock the river steamer Lone pulled up to her dock near the foot of Washington street with a consignment of 35 large fat sheep for Albert Klein, a butcher on East Burnside street. The sheep had been very much annoyed by the motion of the boat, and when they were finally landed on the dock they were in a very unpleasant frame of mind, and did not like the looks of the city around them, which was but natural. They had lived on a farm all their lives, and were evidently afraid of being fleeced when they struck the metropolis. They did not make their opinions known, however, but instead, all but two started up town to see what might be the result. A man was struck with a sudden fancy to become acquainted with a child that was playing on the streets, but the other 14 were not to be turned from their path by such a little thing. They drifted up to the plaza blocks, where they secured a good, substantial dinner, and they meandered slowly down Fourth street toward the business section.

The surplus fat on the new pavement stuck to their feet, and made them still more irritable, and they passed many sarcastic remarks as they went along, one of them actually sneering "Bah!" They came to Fourth and Morrison, and stood on the corner, watching the passing throng, but refrained from crossing the street, fearing that they might fall through the holes in the pavement, and thus have the prospect of being made mutton of dashed to the ground. A messenger boy came slowly by on a peculiar-looking wagon on two wheels, which was entirely dissimilar to anything yet seen on the farm, and the woolly personages were so alarmed at the way the owner swayed along that they sought safety in a cool-looking doorway that stood open and invitingly near.

Amazement the Celestials. Inside the china shop the sleepy Celestials sat on their teak-wood stools and winked and blinked their eyes, for trade was slow and they were now having a good opportunity to think of the land of the shimmering paper lanterns far, far away. Suddenly the visions of many departed but not forgotten ancestors appeared in front of the counters, and the disciples of Confucius bellowed, "Watches make you!" and rolled off backward, to a single man. Ancestors had assumed the appearance of devils and monkeys, but never anything so diabolical as a woolly head and long curly coats. It was entirely out of the rules of Chinese ethics, and the crockery sellers thought that it was a poor joke to try it the first time on them.

The leader of the band did not like the way in which he was received, and as a token of his displeasure he hauled off and, with one sudden and destructive kick, demolished a number of Chinese gods that were reposing quietly in a shelf near the floor. The other members, not to be outdone, also started in to help the good work along, and it was but a short time until there was a great breakage in progress. It was here that the half-crazed owner tried to put a stop to the proceedings, and called off his guards, but no sooner had the destroyers been dislodged from one place than they commenced with a vengeance in fields anew.

Frantic Appeals for Help.

One clerk, with more forethought than the rest, hurried to the phone, and for a while there was a wicked jangle of bells and crackling voices calling for central, the police station, or anybody that could be found at the other end of the line. It was but 15 minutes before the guards, fans of the peace responded, the line was out of order they said, and it was another five before Detectives Cordano and Ford arrived on the scene, fully "heeled," and prepared to "pinch" the sheep, Tracy, or anybody else that might cross their path. The two valiant ones were allowed to enter the place of carnage and try their hands at corraling the sheep. This was a task, however, that might cross their path, and they soon found that they were up against the real thing. Round and round the store went a wildly gesticulating and yelling procession of sheep, French and Chinamen, followed by the sheep and more detectives and more Chinamen in turn, while crash on the floor fell more breaking pottery. Record time was made in some stretches, but not without accompanying crashes of china-ware, as it was hurled from the shelves and ground to bits by the heavy feet of the officers of the law.

The Chase Waxes Straggled.

The time for peaceful method had long since passed. The only thing remaining was force, pure and simple. "Catch one," yelled Ford. "Do it yourself, I ain't no shepherd," gasped Cordano between breaths. "Let's both go at him at once," suggested Ford, at the same time pointing out what seemed to be the leader of the desperadoes, a fat, fat sheep, and the big leader was tackled, but he was a little too many for them, and made a good escape. Nothing daunted, however, a second attempt was made, as the fugitive completed the circuit a second time, this one being more successful. He was grabbed fast by the legs and his captors started for the door.

Wise Chinaman.

"No lette him out," yelled the proprietor. "What in h—l you going to do with him?" said the detectives. "You putte him in cellar, me catch money for blackie dish," explained the subject of the Flowery Kingdom. "You let him go, how can get paid for alle dieh? He heap make me lose two, tiee hunder doll. Me keep, bimby man he come get, I say, You gim me the hunder dollar, you ketchum sheep, no gib money, me ketchum sheep, and sell for the dollar piece." This argument seemed reasonable to the struggling men, and a cellar door was opened, and the sheep was, according to the good book, "cast into the pit." After some more good, hard work, the whole 15 were thus secured, and the door firmly locked.

Upon investigation it was found that not less than $250 worth of dishes, some of which were very valuable, had been demolished beyond repair, and the clerks were all afternoon sorting the broken dishes from the few that remained intact. Who the responsible party is is a hard question to answer. Certainly not the storekeeper, for his door had to be open these hot and sultry days. Certainly not the East Side butcher, for he had not yet laid eyes on the sheep. Mr. Kan's loss is more than likely that the boat people will have to face the charge of neglect, for it was through their carelessness that the sheep got out, says Kan. The matter was patched up yesterday afternoon, pending an investigation, and the 15 sheep that caused all the damage were herded off across the river to a place where they will have no such opportunities in the future.

PASSES A FORGED CHECK

Young Man From Vancouver, B. C., Needed Bicycle Too Badly.

Harry Jones, alias J. R. Finney, Jr., of Vancouver, B. C., was a very much surprised young man when he heard he was arrested yesterday afternoon in front of the police station by Jailer James F. Roberts, charged with passing a forged check valued at $250.00. The check was for $250.00, payable to J. R. Finney, Sr., of 121st Street, and was obtained from a $50.00 check and $25 in cash. It is thought that Jones has only been in town two or three days. He had newly taken a room at a first-class hotel, and when he strolled into Ballou & Wright's store yesterday, asking about the price of bicycles, he was promptly taken to a room at a first-class hotel, and when he strolled into Ballou & Wright's store yesterday, asking about the price of bicycles, he was promptly taken to a room at a first-class hotel, and when he strolled into Ballou & Wright's store yesterday, asking about the price of bicycles, he was promptly taken to a room at a first-class hotel.

"Am I arrested?" asked Finney-Jones, his ruddy cheeks turning pale. "That's about the size of it," said Roberts, and Finney-Jones was escorted to the police station where he met C. J. Wright who had sold him the wheel. Finney-Jones was searched and one of the first articles found on him was a stolen bicycle. Letters bearing the name of Harry Jones were also found in his pockets. "That's your name?" asked Captain Moore. "Harry Jones," said the prisoner. "You gave the name of Finney in the store where you bought the bicycle. How is it that you have two names?" he was asked. Finney-Jones murmured something about being "out of funds." The officer engaged in looking up Finney-Jones' record and are trying to find the owner of a valuable gold badge also found on the prisoner. It looks as if it had been in uniform worn by some United States Navy officer.

MILL WORKER DROWNED.

Ernest P. Fry Meets Tragic Death in the River.

While working among logs in front of the mill worked by the Pacific Coast Co. Company, at the foot of Harrison street, yesterday afternoon shortly before 6 o'clock, Ernest P. Fry, who was an older employed in the mill, slipped from a log on which he was working and fell into the river and was drowned before help could reach him. The body was not recovered until about one and a half hours afterward. It was not a regular business to help along the logs, but yesterday H. McHugh, the man who works the machinery hauling logs from the river up the chute to the mill, was accompanied to go home with Fry, and naturally went down to the river side to help him. Fry was unaccustomed to the work, he did not wear logging boots, and the consequence was that in the course of the afternoon he twice fell into the river and was promptly rescued each time by McHugh. About 6 o'clock William Pescher called, a man who had been accustomed to go home with Fry, who boarded at Flint and Page streets, East Side. "We'll better catch the trolley car and go home," sung out Pescher to Fry.

More About the Merger

EXPRESSIONS OF OPINION AS TO DIVINITY SCHOOL.

Its Future Possibilities Are Looked Upon as a Menace to the State University.

The merger of the Eugene Divinity School and the University of Oregon, which has become a subject of little discussion throughout the state for the past three days, has aroused considerable comment in Portland. Opinions on the subject are many and varied. The following opinions are those of persons who take interest in the affair has not abated: A Citizen's Point of View.

Great Principle in Jeopardy.

W. J. Peddicord of University Park said yesterday: "In the discussion of the relation of 'Church and State at Eugene' it seems to me that the supporters of the Divinity school have a little the best of their able and distinguished opponents so far as present relations are concerned. These are every day becoming more and more serious, and have not the slightest feeling in it. In fact, I could not before reading the articles published yesterday and today, have for any particular church the Divinity school belonged.

Slack Dairy Season.

It Will Not Be at Its Height Until September.

Food and Dairy Commissioner Bailey has returned from an inspection of Washington County creameries. He says that this is the slack season in dairying in that district, because the industry devotes its full energy to the winter period. By September the industry will begin to pick up. Mr. Bailey is greatly encouraged by the progress of dairying this season. He estimates that the total output of Oregon creameries will be 25 per cent larger this year than last. Prices have been higher than last season.

SHIELDS' CROWDS INCREASE

Attendance Growing Every Night at Popular Revue.

The excellent programme at Shields' Park this week is conducive of good results, and the place is packed every night. The programme varies in character, which makes it all the more interesting. O'Leary and Fay are doing a blackface act in addition to their juggling, and are making the hit of the show. Fay is an old-time minstrel end-man, and sings and dances well. The Duffy children, Barton and Draper, the pictures and singing attract their share of approval.

Lonely Sight of Gold.

Chicago, Tribune. "I have visited the mine of three countries," remarked a traveler, a medical man, "and I have found all the official guides in them broken down in nerve and vitality. Every one of these officials is required to give bonds, not only for his own honesty, but to cover theft by visitors whom he conducts over the place. It is customary to hand money over among the guides to show the coins in their different stages of development. If the party be a numerous one the nerves of the guide are strung to such a pitch that at the Hotel de la Monnaie, in Paris, the man confessed that the sight of coined gold and silver was odious to him, and that he had come to look upon every one who visited the

NO SITE FOR MONUMENT.

And Until One Is Selected Committee Can Do Nothing.

Since the City Council refused to give up part of Sixth street for the soldiers' monument, plans for the memorial have rested. Several members of the monument committee do not accord with the judgment of the Council that the monument would block traffic if placed between the Postoffice and the Portland Hotel. The sub-committee on site went over the matter thoroughly, and evolved a plan whereby the two courses of the street around the monument would be 20 feet wide. This was deemed ample for the present and future traffic of the thoroughfare. The Council has questioned the plan, nothing remains but to let it stay quashed and to get a new one.

SHIELD'S CROWDS INCREASE

Attendance Growing Every Night at Popular Revue.

The excellent programme at Shields' Park this week is conducive of good results, and the place is packed every night. The programme varies in character, which makes it all the more interesting. O'Leary and Fay are doing a blackface act in addition to their juggling, and are making the hit of the show. Fay is an old-time minstrel end-man, and sings and dances well. The Duffy children, Barton and Draper, the pictures and singing attract their share of approval.

Lonely Sight of Gold.

Chicago, Tribune. "I have visited the mine of three countries," remarked a traveler, a medical man, "and I have found all the official guides in them broken down in nerve and vitality. Every one of these officials is required to give bonds, not only for his own honesty, but to cover theft by visitors whom he conducts over the place. It is customary to hand money over among the guides to show the coins in their different stages of development. If the party be a numerous one the nerves of the guide are strung to such a pitch that at the Hotel de la Monnaie, in Paris, the man confessed that the sight of coined gold and silver was odious to him, and that he had come to look upon every one who visited the

SHIELD'S CROWDS INCREASE

Attendance Growing Every Night at Popular Revue.

The excellent programme at Shields' Park this week is conducive of good results, and the place is packed every night. The programme varies in character, which makes it all the more interesting. O'Leary and Fay are doing a blackface act in addition to their juggling, and are making the hit of the show. Fay is an old-time minstrel end-man, and sings and dances well. The Duffy children, Barton and Draper, the pictures and singing attract their share of approval.

SHIELD'S CROWDS INCREASE

Attendance Growing Every Night at Popular Revue.

The excellent programme at Shields' Park this week is conducive of good results, and the place is packed every night. The programme varies in character, which makes it all the more interesting. O'Leary and Fay are doing a blackface act in addition to their juggling, and are making the hit of the show. Fay is an old-time minstrel end-man, and sings and dances well. The Duffy children, Barton and Draper, the pictures and singing attract their share of approval.

SHIELD'S CROWDS INCREASE

Attendance Growing Every Night at Popular Revue.

The excellent programme at Shields' Park this week is conducive of good results, and the place is packed every night. The programme varies in character, which makes it all the more interesting. O'Leary and Fay are doing a blackface act in addition to their juggling, and are making the hit of the show. Fay is an old-time minstrel end-man, and sings and dances well. The Duffy children, Barton and Draper, the pictures and singing attract their share of approval.

SHIELD'S CROWDS INCREASE

Attendance Growing Every Night at Popular Revue.

The excellent programme at Shields' Park this week is conducive of good results, and the place is packed every night. The programme varies in character, which makes it all the more interesting. O'Leary and Fay are doing a blackface act in addition to their juggling, and are making the hit of the show. Fay is an old-time minstrel end-man, and sings and dances well. The Duffy children, Barton and Draper, the pictures and singing attract their share of approval.

SHIELD'S CROWDS INCREASE

Attendance Growing Every Night at Popular Revue.

The excellent programme at Shields' Park this week is conducive of good results, and the place is packed every night. The programme varies in character, which makes it all the more interesting. O'Leary and Fay are doing a blackface act in addition to their juggling, and are making the hit of the show. Fay is an old-time minstrel end-man, and sings and dances well. The Duffy children, Barton and Draper, the pictures and singing attract their share of approval.

SHIELD'S CROWDS INCREASE

Attendance Growing Every Night at Popular Revue.

The excellent programme at Shields' Park this week is conducive of good results, and the place is packed every night. The programme varies in character, which makes it all the more interesting. O'Leary and Fay are doing a blackface act in addition to their juggling, and are making the hit of the show. Fay is an old-time minstrel end-man, and sings and dances well. The Duffy children, Barton and Draper, the pictures and singing attract their share of approval.

SHIELD'S CROWDS INCREASE

Attendance Growing Every Night at Popular Revue.

The excellent programme at Shields' Park this week is conducive of good results, and the place is packed every night. The programme varies in character, which makes it all the more interesting. O'Leary and Fay are doing a blackface act in addition to their juggling, and are making the hit of the show. Fay is an old-time minstrel end-man, and sings and dances well. The Duffy children, Barton and Draper, the pictures and singing attract their share of approval.

SHIELD'S CROWDS INCREASE

Attendance Growing Every Night at Popular Revue.

The excellent programme at Shields' Park this week is conducive of good results, and the place is packed every night. The programme varies in character, which makes it all the more interesting. O'Leary and Fay are doing a blackface act in addition to their juggling, and are making the hit of the show. Fay is an old-time minstrel end-man, and sings and dances well. The Duffy children, Barton and Draper, the pictures and singing attract their share of approval.

be provided both in the University and in the special subjects the student might wish to pursue.

"Third—By students of the various denominations meeting on the common platform provided by the State there would come a mutual respect of each other with the result of minimizing their differences and emphasizing their agreements.

Judge Bellinger's Opinion.

"I am thoroughly convinced," said Judge C. B. Bellinger, of the board of regents of the State University, yesterday, "that it is a bad thing for the sectarian institution to invade the State schools to any extent whatever, but I think that the people who are criticizing the condition at Eugene are misinformed as to the facts. There is absolutely no relationship existing between the University and the Divinity School here, but the students of the Divinity School avail themselves of the advantages of the state school, the same as it is the right of anyone in the state who is qualified to do so. We admit them as students and do, or have not a right to ask what course of study they are pursuing elsewhere. It is true that they enjoy the use of the gymnasium and library, but they do so because they are students in the University and not on account of their connection with the Divinity School. That the Christian church has built its school there in order that it may enjoy the special advantages there is no doubt, but they have simply done what it is the privilege of any other denomination to do. They have secured property on the campus of the University and are in a good position for the students to attend the University, but anyone that can go to any other school and we have no right to take from them the right to attend the State University just because they are attending that school.

NO SITE FOR MONUMENT.

And Until One Is Selected Committee Can Do Nothing.

Since the City Council refused to give up part of Sixth street for the soldiers' monument, plans for the memorial have rested. Several members of the monument committee do not accord with the judgment of the Council that the monument would block traffic if placed between the Postoffice and the Portland Hotel. The sub-committee on site went over the matter thoroughly, and evolved a plan whereby the two courses of the street around the monument would be 20 feet wide. This was deemed ample for the present and future traffic of the thoroughfare. The Council has questioned the plan, nothing remains but to let it stay quashed and to get a new one.

SHIELD'S CROWDS INCREASE

Attendance Growing Every Night at Popular Revue.

The excellent programme at Shields' Park this week is conducive of good results, and the place is packed every night. The programme varies in character, which makes it all the more interesting. O'Leary and Fay are doing a blackface act in addition to their juggling, and are making the hit of the show. Fay is an old-time minstrel end-man, and sings and dances well. The Duffy children, Barton and Draper, the pictures and singing attract their share of approval.

Lonely Sight of Gold.

Chicago, Tribune. "I have visited the mine of three countries," remarked a traveler, a medical man, "and I have found all the official guides in them broken down in nerve and vitality. Every one of these officials is required to give bonds, not only for his own honesty, but to cover theft by visitors whom he conducts over the place. It is customary to hand money over among the guides to show the coins in their different stages of development. If the party be a numerous one the nerves of the guide are strung to such a pitch that at the Hotel de la Monnaie, in Paris, the man confessed that the sight of coined gold and silver was odious to him, and that he had come to look upon every one who visited the

SHIELD'S CROWDS INCREASE

Attendance Growing Every Night at Popular Revue.

The excellent programme at Shields' Park this week is conducive of good results, and the place is packed every night. The programme varies in character, which makes it all the more interesting. O'Leary and Fay are doing a blackface act in addition to their juggling, and are making the hit of the show. Fay is an old-time minstrel end-man, and sings and dances well. The Duffy children, Barton and Draper, the pictures and singing attract their share of approval.

SHIELD'S CROWDS INCREASE

Attendance Growing Every Night at Popular Revue.

The excellent programme at Shields' Park this week is conducive of good results, and the place is packed every night. The programme varies in character, which makes it all the more interesting. O'Leary and Fay are doing a blackface act in addition to their juggling, and are making the hit of the show. Fay is an old-time minstrel end-man, and sings and dances well. The Duffy children, Barton and Draper, the pictures and singing attract their share of approval.

SHIELD'S CROWDS INCREASE

Attendance Growing Every Night at Popular Revue.

The excellent programme at Shields' Park this week is conducive of good results, and the place is packed every night. The programme varies in character, which makes it all the more interesting. O'Leary and Fay are doing a blackface act in addition to their juggling, and are making the hit of the show. Fay is an old-time minstrel end-man, and sings and dances well. The Duffy children, Barton and Draper, the pictures and singing attract their share of approval.

SHIELD'S CROWDS INCREASE

Attendance Growing Every Night at Popular Revue.

The excellent programme at Shields' Park this week is conducive of good results, and the place is packed every night. The programme varies in character, which makes it all the more interesting. O'Leary and Fay are doing a blackface act in addition to their juggling, and are making the hit of the show. Fay is an old-time minstrel end-man, and sings and dances well. The Duffy children, Barton and Draper, the pictures and singing attract their share of approval.

SHIELD'S CROWDS INCREASE

Attendance Growing Every Night at Popular Revue.

The excellent programme at Shields' Park this week is conducive of good results, and the place is packed every night. The programme varies in character, which makes it all the more interesting. O'Leary and Fay are doing a blackface act in addition to their juggling, and are making the hit of the show. Fay is an old-time minstrel end-man, and sings and dances well. The Duffy children, Barton and Draper, the pictures and singing attract their share of approval.

SHIELD'S CROWDS INCREASE

Attendance Growing Every Night at Popular Revue.

The excellent programme at Shields' Park this week is conducive of good results, and the place is packed every night. The programme varies in character, which makes it all the more interesting. O'Leary and Fay are doing a blackface act in addition to their juggling, and are making the hit of the show. Fay is an old-time minstrel end-man, and sings and dances well. The Duffy children, Barton and Draper, the pictures and singing attract their share of approval.

SHIELD'S CROWDS INCREASE

Attendance Growing Every Night at Popular Revue.

The excellent programme at Shields' Park this week is conducive of good results, and the place is packed every night. The programme varies in character, which makes it all the more interesting. O'Leary and Fay are doing a blackface act in addition to their juggling, and are making the hit of the show. Fay is an old-time minstrel end-man, and sings and dances well. The Duffy children, Barton and Draper, the pictures and singing attract their share of approval.

SHIELD'S CROWDS INCREASE

Attendance Growing Every Night at Popular Revue.

The excellent programme at Shields' Park this week is conducive of good results, and the place is packed every night. The programme varies in character, which makes it all the more interesting. O'Leary and Fay are doing a blackface act in addition to their juggling, and are making the hit of the show. Fay is an old-time minstrel end-man, and sings and dances well. The Duffy children, Barton and Draper, the pictures and singing attract their share of approval.

Merchandise purchased today on credit will go on your August account.

Meier & Frank Company

"Gurney" Refrigerators—entire stock greatly reduced in price (Basement)

Picture Framing To your order in a satisfactory manner.

Best workmanship, immense variety of molding to choose from and the very lowest prices. Visit the new Picture Department. (Second Floor.)

Hardwood Flooring Let us figure for you on the cost of laying a parquet floor in your hall, reception or dining room—we'll guarantee the very best workmanship and material.

Friday Surprise Sale

Tomorrow the 675th Friday Surprise Sale.

10,000 yards of high-class Wash Fabrics at less than half the regular selling price—a great purchase made by our representative now in the Eastern markets.

He went right to the mill 'way up in Old New England—that's how he secured this "snap," without doubt the best Wash Goods bargain Portland has seen in many a day—10,000 yds. of 27-in. Dimities in figures, dots and stripes, all the leading shades, wonderful variety to choose from—not a yd. in lot worth less than 15c yard; your choice tomorrow only at, yard

By Express

First arrivals in felt and mohair Walking Hats for the coming season—exclusive styles in very natty effects. (Millinery Department—Second Floor.)

Madame Yale's

Toilet Articles

Face Lotion, Enamel, Skin Food, Blood Tonic, Eyebrow Grower, Elixir of Beauty, Fruiticura, Face Powder and fifty or more leading preparations made by her.

Boys' Clothing

Clean-up of Boys' Summer Clothing, quality and prices of unusual importance to economical parents who like to dress the little gents well.

Boys' White Pique Kilts, ages 2 to 4 years, best styles $1.98

Boys' Sailor Suits in blue serge and gray mixed chevrots, ages 3 to 10 years, regular $5.00 values $3.95

Entire stock of Boys' Wash Suits reduced below cost.

Young Men's fine All-Wool Suits in serge, gray mixed, tweeds and chevrots, sizes 14 to 20 years, reg. $10 values, $6.85

Bargain Carnival for Men

Clothing, Furnishing Goods and Shoes at the lowest prices of the entire year. A time when all lines of wearing apparel can be purchased at a worthy saving. Bargain chances like the following are not presented every day.

Mens' wool Outing Suits in medium dark shades, best materials and styles; the regular $9.50 suits at $6.35

Mens' wool Suits in chevrots, tweeds, cassimeres, best materials and Summer styles; $10.00 values at $7.10

All our extra fine grade of Summer Suits, $17.50 and $18.50 values, in fancy and unfinished worsteds, fancy chevrots, fancy cassimeres, very best styles and makes; your choice at $13.15

Mens' all-wool, fine grade fancy worsted Trousers in new and neat stripes, all the $5.00 values at $3.98

Mens' Summer Coats, heavy twilled black sateen, 89c.

All our fancy wash Vests greatly reduced—$1.50 Vests, $1.10; $2.00 Vests, $1.35; $2.25 Vests, $1.65; $3 Vests, $2.10.

50c pairs mens' velour calf, ycle kid and Bluchers in black, best style toe, light or heavy soles, all sizes, $3.50 values, pair $2.85

Mens' patent leather, velour and box calf Shoes, best styles, heavy soles, $3.50 and $4.00 values, pair $3.05

French, Shriner & Urner's viel kid, patent leather and cordovans, very best styles, best leathers—the $5.00 values for this sale, pair $3.95

French, Shriner & Urner's tan Shoes for men, heavy soles, best styles, regular $5.00 values at, pair $3.50

Mens' $3.00 Oxfords for this sale, pair $2.15

Mens' stiff bosom Shirt in good patterns, two pairs of cuffs to match, regular $1.00 line 88c

Mens' reversible Silk Neckwear—four-in-hands in green and tan, regular 50c ties for 38c

Mens' fancy Hose in large variety of desirable patterns, lace and drop-stitch effects, 75c grade 57c

Mens' French Balbriggan Underwear—shirts and drawers, all sizes, $1.32 exceptional value at 14c

All men's and boys' Straw Hats greatly reduced in price.

Mens' pearl, dove and tan Fedora Hats—bargain, $1.68.

Meier & Frank Company

Meier & Frank Company

mint as a possible robber. Besides the effect upon the nerves, in nearly every case it has affected the eyesight. One of the guides told me that 32 years of continual gazing upon gold and silver