STOPPED THE BIER

Tumult at the Funeral of Late Chief Rabbi Joseph.

FREE FIGHT WITH MOURNERS

Employes of the Hoe Press Plant Turned Streams of Water on the Procession — Many Persons Hurt—Many Arrested.

NEW YORK, July 30. — The funeral of the late Chief Rabbi Jacob Joseph, head of the orthodox Hebrews of the United States, which was held here today, was the occasion of one of the most remarkable demonstrations ever witnessed in this city, and led to a collision between the masses of Jewish mourners and the police. The streets were packed with thousands of Hebrews, the stores were generally closed, and every point of vantage along the route taken by the funeral procession to the different synagogues was crowded. Directly in front of the house where the body had been lying in state for the last few days, 100 patrolmen kept the crowd from the entrance with difficulty. After the services at the house, the body was taken to each of the six synagogues on the East Side, where brief services were held.

When the procession was passing the printing press factory of R. Hoe & Company, on Grand street, on its way to the cemetery in Brooklyn, the employes of the factory emptied pails of water from the windows of an upper floor upon the spectators massed upon the sidewalk. Pail after pail, it is said, was emptied on the throng, which shouted and struggled and stampeded in vain to escape. Then overalls and clothing soaked in water came down from above, and even tools, scraps of steel, bottles and a dead cat.

The angry populace, most of whom were Hebrews, retaliated by throwing back into the factory windows the missiles that fell on them. They also gathered stones and sticks, and in a few minutes there was scarcely a whole pane of glass on the Grand-street side of the factory.

Then some one turned on a hose and played it indiscriminately all over the funeral procession. At one time, as many as five streams were playing on the crowds. The drivers of the mourning carriages whipped up their horses, trampling over citizens and the stronger men trampled women and children under foot in their efforts to escape.

The police, in the meantime, had taken a hand in the trouble and were clubbing the people right and left. They were, however, unable to cope with the crowd, and the reserves of half a dozen precincts were dispatched to the scene. It was more than half an hour before order was restored and the streets in the vicinity of the factory cleared. A number of arrests were made, among them being several employes of the Hoe Company.

Many persons were found about the streets bleeding from wounds on their heads and other parts of their bodies. Ambulances had been summoned in the meantime and three responded. The surgeons were kept busy for some time dressing the wounds of the injured. Several policemen also were injured, receiving cuts and bruises. Two men were taken to the hospital, one of them having sustained internal injuries and contusions and the other sprained legs. Later in the day, the persons arrested were arraigned in Police Court and fines of $5 and $10 were imposed in several instances.

Bad feeling is said to exist between some of the employes of the Hoe Company and the Hebrews residing in the neighborhood, and this is said to have been the cause of the trouble. Herbert Hoe, of the company, made a statement after the trouble was over, in which he says fighting was going on in the ranks of the procession as it passed the factory; that some of those attacked were forced to the door of the office and there the fighting continued, while missiles thrown by the crowd broke many windows of the factory. Then it was, says Mr. Hoe, that his employes tried to drive the assailants back by hurling missiles at them and finally turning water on the crowd. He added that boys working in the factory had been in the habit of jeering at the Hebrews, and he had tried everything in his power to have the practice stopped, even discharging boys of whom complaint was made.

After the riot had been quelled, the funeral procession proceeded to Brooklyn, where the body of Rabbi Joseph was interred. The funeral procession did not reach the cemetery, however, without incident. As it passed through a Brooklyn street some one threw a heavy block of wood from the roof of a building into the line of mourners. The latter broke through the police lines and tried to get into the building. Threats of clubbing by the police finally restored order.

Forty thousand were crowded in about the cemetery at Cypress Hill attempting to witness the services at the grave.

WAR ON TUBERCULOSIS.

Committee for Its Prevention Begins Work.

New York Tribune.

A definite plan of operation was outlined at the first meeting of the executive branch of the charity organization committee for the prevention of tuberculosis, which was held this week. An important event of the meeting was a discussion of the feasibility of providing a separate class in the general treatment of consumptives, and arrangements were made for interviews with the officers of such institutions. There are already such divisions as "eye and ear," "heart and lungs," etc. By a classification of "throat and lungs" it is thought that people who have "hard colds," as consumptives often designate their disease, will avail themselves more readily of the privileges offered them in the dispensaries. It would also prevent infection among the patients waiting together in the dispensaries.

The subject of sputum cups, flasks and papers received a large degree of attention, and people with coughs will be asked to carry them in their pockets and refrain from spitting elsewhere. Japanese paper in small squares, which are inconspicuous and which can be carried in a paper bag in the pocket, is, it is thought, are most practical. A resolution was passed favoring the erection, under the direction of the Board of Health, of a sanatorium for incipient cases of tuberculosis outside the city limits. This could be done under the provisions of a law passed by the Legislature two years ago. It is expected that the Board of Health will include in its next estimate the money for such a building. While there are hospital accommodations for 1000 tuberculosis patients in this city, there is no provision whatever for people in the early stages of the disease.

The committee also arranged for the publication and general circulation of leaflets giving advice as to the care and treatment of consumptive people, and those living with them. Edward T. Devine, general secretary of the charity organization, was authorized to employ four assistants, among them an expert statistician, a trained nurse, and a visitor. About $1000 for the work has already been raised. Of that sum $220 was given with the provision that $5000 be obtained.

After Diaz, the Deluge.

Buenos Ayres Herald.

It is probable that after the close of the remarkable rule of President Diaz, and the passing of this remarkable man, Mexico will be thrown back upon a mass of discordant elements and conflicting interests, and will become the prey of weak and wicked men who would rule or ruin, and the years of the present rule be found to have been nothing toward preparing the people for self rule; indeed, Diaz has taken the entire work upon himself, and the country has not during all these years been educated in the duties of citizenship, and it will remain a problem whether such beneficent dictatorship will in the end prove a blessing or a curse.

VENEZUELAN WAR.

Castro Concentrating His Troops Near La Victoria.

WILLEMSTAD, Curacao, July 30.—All eastern ports of Venezuela, including Barcelona, have been abandoned by President Castro, all of whose forces and resources are being concentrated near La Victoria, which is three days from Caracas, and which is near the mountainous district of Curacao, where the advance guard of revolutionists under General Mendoza appeared some days ago. General Mendoza's forces retreated, however, to join General Matos' army, which today was in the neighborhood of El Sombrero, and advancing by forced marches. If these two forces effect a junction it is expected that they will take the offensive against President Castro.

Although there is much opposition to President Castro, he still controls the situation, and a single defeat inflicted upon the revolutionists probably would render him the arbiter of the country's future. The President intends to leave Caracas for La Victoria Thursday. The revolutionists have reappeared on the outskirts of Caracas.

The United States steamer Potomac has visited La Guayra.

NOT BRITISH POSSESSIONS.

England Withdraws Claim to Islands on Honduras Coast.

NEW ORLEANS, July 30.—The steamer Condor, which has arrived here from Puerto Cortez, Honduras, brings the news that the British Government has withdrawn all claim to sovereignty over the Bay Islands of Utilia, Ruatan, Bonacca or Guanaja, Feina and Barburat, and acknowledged that they belong to the Republic of Honduras.

Great Britain's formal acknowledgment was carried to the islands by the cruiser Psyche, which sailed from Havana under sealed orders on July 17. The British residents at Ruatan were assembled, and a proclamation was read to them by the captain of the Psyche, declaring that under treaties made between Great Britain and the United States in 1850, and with Honduras in 1860, His Majesty's Government could no longer regard the islands as a British possession, and would henceforth withdraw all exercised jurisdiction or claim to the allegiance of the natives.

The population of the islands is almost exclusively of British origin, coming from Jamaica, but there are some Americans from the Western States who have recently come in. English is the only language spoken. The islands do a large fruit trade, mainly with New Orleans. The United States Government is the only one having a Consul in the islands.

CONFIDENCE RESTORED.

Effect of McCrea's Energetic Action in Hayti.

CAPE HAYTIEN, Hayti, July 30.—General Salnave, commanding an army in support of M. Firmin's candidacy for the presidency, is camped, with a large body of troops, about three miles from this place. General Nord, who went out to give battle to General Salnave, was defeated and his army retreated in panic to Cape Haytien. The volunteers have abandoned their posts.

Confidence has been restored among the foreign residents of this city, thanks to the energetic measures taken by Commander McCrea, of the United States gunboat Machias, and United States Consul Livingston, to guarantee them protection in case of an attack on the city.

Minister Corea Unpopular.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, July 2.—It is currently reported in government circles that Luis F. Corea, the Nicaragua Minister at Washington, is soon to be superseded. Senor Corea has been criticised in Nicaragua for the failure of recent efforts on the part of the Nicaragua Government to negotiate a loan in New York and another in Canada. Provocation is felt at him in a measure for the fact that it has not been decided to build the isthmian canal through Nicaragua.

Blockade Is Ineffective.

CARUPANO, Venezuela, July 30.—The French trans-Atlantic steamer Germain, escorted by the French man-of-war Suchet, has touched at Carupano without having encountered a Venezuelan warship. This is regarded as new evidence that the blockade of Venezuelan ports is ineffective.

Matos Anticipates.

NEW YORK, July 30.—N. Bolet Monagas has received an appointment as Consul-General to New York from General Matos, chief of the revolutionists of Venezuela, to take effect when Caracas shall have been taken.

Ecuador at the Fair.

GAYAQUIL, Ecuador, July 30.—President Plaza will ask Congress for an appropriation to enable Ecuador to take part in the St. Louis Exposition.

Collision in Wisconsin.

ELM GROVE, Wis., July 30.—In a collision here today between a passenger train from Waukesha, known as the "Scoot," and a westbound freight train, Dennis Connell, the engineer of the passenger train, was killed, and Fireman Chamberlain was badly injured. Several passengers on the Waukesha train were slightly injured. Engineer Connell was powerless to avoid the crash. He died at his post, sacrificing his life to save his train.

Strike on Carnegie Residence.

NEW YORK, July 30.—Ordered by the United Board of the Building Trades, a general strike has gone into effect on the Carnegie residence, at Ninetieth street and Fifth avenue, this city. Two hundred and fifty workmen are out in sympathy with striking members of the Amalgamated Society of Painters and Decorators.

Watchmen Went to Sleep.

DES MOINES, Ia., July 30.—David Watt and I. P. Miller, nightwatchmen, went to sleep on duty last night at the Stoner Wall Paper Company's building, at South Des Moines. The building caught fire, Watt lost his life, Miller was fatally hurt and $50,000 damage was done.

Rained Every Day in July.

MEADVILLE, Pa., July 30.—The long continued rains have played havoc with the farmers of Crawford County, and the damage will aggregate hundreds of thousands of dollars. There has been rain every day in July, and a downpour of 24 hours' duration is not uncommon.

Three Girls Drowned.

MONTICELLO, Minn., July 30. — Miss Mabel Wells, of Monticello, and Eva Sasker and Laura T. Tyr, of Faribault, were drowned in Lake Jefferson by the capsizing of their boat during a storm.

THE KING IS CONFIDENT

BELIEVES HE CAN CARRY OUT HIS PART AT THE CORONATION.

Moves About the Royal Yacht Without Assistance—Gifts to Americans —Other Foreign News.

LONDON, July 30.—King Edward's progress continues to be in every way satisfactory. During the day he slowly paced the deck of the royal yacht Victoria and Albert without any assistance, and the exercise is reported to have done him good.

The Earl of Denbigh, one of the King's lords in waiting, speaking at a public meeting today, said he saw no reason why the King should not be strong enough to undergo the fatigue incident to the coronation August 9.

Queen Alexandra, while attending coronation fetes at Whippingham, Isle of Wight, tonight confirmed the report of His Majesty's splendid progress, and said he could walk across the deck of the royal yacht, and that he preferred remaining off Cowes to taking another cruise.

The King has signified his approval of the arrangements for the coronation procession, which provide that Their Majesties shall travel to and from Westminster Abbey in the great stage coach and by the route originally arranged. His Majesty himself feels entire confidence in his ability to carry out this intention.

Should the weather prove fine enough, it is expected that His Majesty will cruise to Portland and back tomorrow. It is said that he has moved, practically unaided, from his couch in the cabin to the table.

Education Bill in the Commons.

LONDON, July 30.—After being subjected to vigorous attacks from the Liberal leaders, one of the most important sections of the government's education bill was passed in the House of Commons tonight by 230 votes to 189. This small government majority was greeted with prolonged cheers from the opposition. Previous to the vote, Sir William Vernon Harcourt, Liberal, made a speech which was characterized by all his old-time vigor. He declared the present House did not reflect the opinion of the country, and that if the government did not know this that it would soon learn it. He said the Liberals would fight the issue to the bitter end. A reference to the bye-election for member of the House to represent North Leeds, which resulted in a Liberal victory, elicited enthusiastic applause from the Liberals.

Pope Approves Rampolla's Policy.

ROME, July 30.—The pope unconditionally approves the policy of Cardinal Rampolla, the papal secretary of state, in not interfering in the disturbances in France, caused by the closing of unauthorized Catholic schools. It is said the pontiff has firmly resisted all pressure to induce him to interfere in the schools question in France. He is credited with saying that the persecution of religious bodies in countries dearest to him is most painful and embittering to the closing days of his pontificate, but that he feels any protest or action on his part would only make matters worse, and might even menace the solidarity of the Catholic religion.

Bishop Potter's Travels.

COPENHAGEN, July 30.—Bishop Potter, of New York, who is in this city, said today that his health had been greatly benefited by his European trip. He was very enthusiastic over Scandinavian scenery. The Scandinavians, he said, contribute the best element among the emigrants to the United States. Bishop Potter will leave tomorrow for Hamburg, where is to preach; then he is to attend the coming religious conference at Bonn, after which he will return to the United States.

Boer Generals Sail for England.

CAPE TOWN, July 30.—Generals Botha, Dewet and Delarey sailed for England today. The boys of the Dutch schools dragged the carriages carrying the Generals to the steamship dock through cheering crowds. Previous to their departure the Boer Generals called upon Sir Walter Hely-Hutchinson, Governor of Cape Colony, who received them with the greatest cordiality. The only untoward incident of the demonstrations was the conspicuous waving of the Transvaal flag. The authorities took no steps to repress the public enthusiasm.

An Appeal for Protection.

PEKIN, July 30.—Dr. Canright, the American missionary, has telegraphed Minister Conger that missionaries in Sze Chuen have made repeated demands on the Chinese authorities for protection without result; that massacres of native Christians and the destruction of their property occur daily, and that the missionaries themselves are in imminent danger. The Foreign Office, however, repeated the assurances it gave Minister Conger a month ago, saying the government had the situation well in hand.

Conference of Premiers.

LONDON, July 30.—Colonial Secretary Chamberlain presided at today's conference of the Colonial Premiers. The principal topic discussed was the political relations of the empire. It was practically decided that similar conferences should follow every four years. Other points discussed were mutual protection of patents throughout the empire, acquisition of ocean cables and regulation of wireless telegraphy.

Chinese Railroad Agreements.

PEKIN, July 30.—The amended Chinese railroad agreements probably will be signed tomorrow. Signed His Own Resignation.

Washington Post.

Representative Mercer, of Nebraska, when making the rounds of the departments the other day, chatted with a subordinate who has recently experienced a change of official superiors.

"How do you like your new chief?" asked Mr. Mercer.

"He's all right," was the reply. "He does not give us the least bit of trouble. He signs everything we send him."

"Oh, no," said Mercer. "That can't be. You couldn't impose upon him. He's too shrewd."

"Well," replied the subordinate, "I'll bet you a box of cigars that he will sign his own resignation."

"I'll bet you," said Mercer.

On the official's desk was a pile of letters ready to be signed. Another letter was written, purporting to be a resignation to take effect immediately, and it was slipped into the mass of correspondence. A messenger carried all the letters down to the chief, and Mr. Mercer and the subordinate waited. In 20 minutes the correspondence was brought back by the messenger.

Mr. Mercer lost the box of cigars. The chief had signed his own resignation.

NATIONAL WEALTH.

Prosperity of the United States Comes From Mine and Farm.

Hartford Courant.

It is a fact which many persons seem to forget that all the material wealth comes out of the ground. The pathetic stories from the large cities connected with the fresh-air aids have told more than once of little children who had never seen green grass and who had no idea of the open country until given these outings. There are grown-up people of abundant wealth who are equally ignorant of what the country is in its relation to general business interests. They assume that when stocks go up 10 points the country is richer thereby, and that when a great syndicate takes $50,000,000 worth of property and capitalizes it at $500,000,000, this paper performance has created $450,000,000 of new wealth.

They buy and sell and go speculating through life on this sort of assumption, and do not stop to think that it is only as the iron and coal are dug up and as the sunshine and the rain bring the grain to the harvest that anything is added to what already is. If we should find at the end of the season that the early drouths and the later floods that have been so prevalent have resulted in a serious crippling of the crops, if investigation demonstrates that we have consumed more than we have produced, then no amount of booming can keep prices up. As yet it is early to determine as to this. We have an immense agricultural territory, and the flood destroying everything in one valley may bring needed moisture to thousands of square miles of other fields, and prove vastly more beneficial than injurious. It is the destructive flood we hear of rather than the fructifying showers. But meanwhile it is well to bear in mind that while speculators can grow rich in their big deals, and the world can watch with wonder their great achievements, still they are not producers. Somebody else gives up what they get, and it is the unnoticed producer who furnishes the tangible material elements of prosperity. Even legitimate buying and selling, what goes under the general name of trade and keeps so many people busy, adds nothing to what already is. When two men trade horses there are still only those two horses at the end of the trade.
