ITALIAN BOY ACTS AS INTERPRETER.

Felix Alberti, a bright-faced Italian boy, aged 12 years, volunteered to act as Italian interpreter yesterday in the Municipal Court in a case where a grown-up Italian named D. Bettino was charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct. At first Bettino protested that he did not know any English, and the police gave evidence that they found him asleep and drunk in a new building on Second street, near Burnside, and that when arrested he was very angry. "I was not," suddenly screamed Bettino, in English, waving off his interpreter. "I went into the building to sit down and fall asleep." "Don't you sleep in a bed in your own room, wherever it is?" asked the Judge. Bettino hesitated, because he knew if he answered in the negative that the Judge would probably send him to jail for vagrancy. "Yes, sir," he answered. His answer for the next 10 days will be the City Jail. The name of Felix Alberti and A. F. Brown were called, charged with having engaged in a fist-fight at Second and Burnside streets last Saturday. Up stepped the little Italian interpreter, Alberti, and Lawyer B. M. Smith appeared for the Brown lad. Both cases were continued, in order to get the evidence of witnesses.

LUMBER COMPANIES COMBINE.

A combination of the Eastern and the Western Lumber Companies has recently been perfected, and the new company will be known as the Eastern and Western Lumber Company. The company was incorporated with a capital stock of $1,000,000 and the officers are: President, W. B. Cory, vice-president, M. F. Hiersman, treasurer, Philip Buehner, manager, F. H. Hanson, secretary, W. A. Dempsey. The office is at the old office of the Eastern Lumber Company. No change has been made by the combination, except that the business will now all be transacted through one office, instead of two. Previously there was a large number of the stockholders who had stock in both of the companies, and some of the officers of one company also held office in the other. It was agreed by all that matters could be simplified by having one office for the company, and the stock of the two companies has been divided according to the proportion that existed before, taking into consideration both of the mills. Each mill will continue to run independently, as before, the only difference being the manner of the transaction of the business.

IMPROVEMENT FOR STREET-CARS.

A new feature on some of the City & Suburban street-cars, noticeably those that run as observation cars, is a small device for the purpose of taking up the slack in the trolley rope. Heretofore the company has experienced great difficulty from the rope hanging down in places where the trolley wire was low and catching on the headlight-box or the coupling drawhead. When the car passed by where the wire became higher, the rope could not reach the new distance and did the next best thing, that is, pulled the trolley from the wire, thus stopping the car. The new arrangement is a round affair, about six inches across and four inches thick, that can be easily fastened to either end of the car on a hook that is made to hold it. Inside is a reel and spring that exactly simulates a tape-line in a case. When the trolley is low the slack rope is taken up on the reel. When the trolley rises again the spring is not quite strong enough to pull it far up by whose electric light, and one or two policemen are nearly always stationed near Third and Burnside streets. The robber must have quickly and accurately a rock through the window-glass, stole the plunder and disappeared. In February, 1899, the same window was smashed by Thomas Volt and James Watson, who stole 13 revolvers. The "talent" shuddered when they heard of the robbery, on account of the ill luck attached to the fatal number 13, and predicted that the robbers would come to a bad end. It was found that the robbers had plastered a cloth saturated with molasses over the window-glass, to deaden the sound made with the rock. Detectives Ford and Corrado were placed on the case, and they found out that Volt and Watson were heading for Kalamia. The Sheriff was telegraphed to at that point, and when Volt and Watson reached Kalamia they were held until the detectives arrived. Twelve revolvers were found in the prisoners' possession. Volt was sentenced to three years and his partner to five years in the Oregon State Penitentiary.

WARNING TO WITNESS SMITH.

A surprise was in store for George Smith, colored, yesterday when he was brought before Municipal Judge Hogue, charged with vagrancy. Smith is an important witness in the case of a man who was murdered and robbed about six weeks ago near the west approach to the steel bridge, and two men are now in the jail charged with the crime. "It has been represented to this court by an official connected with the District Attorney's office that it would be well not to keep your mouth open in jail, but to keep your tongue in your pocket. In jail such a course might affect your evidence in the murder trial," began the Judge. "Now, Smith, I want to tell you that you cannot be allowed to violate my ordinance against vagrancy simply because you happen to be an important witness in a murder case. You must keep away from the class of people you have just been associated with, or you will again be arrested and heavily punished." Smith promised to reform his ways and was allowed to go.

HEAVY BAIL FOR LOCKINGTON.

William Lockington, who stabbed his wife last week at their home on Northwick street, and then cut his own throat, appeared yesterday for a hearing before Municipal Judge Hogue and faced two charges—the charge of assault with a dangerous weapon and with threatening to kill his wife. The evidence in possession of the police is that when Lockington was taken away after he had shot his wife with a knife, he said: "I'll kill you as soon as I get out." Lockington, who appeared in a nearly recovered from the effect of his self-inflicted injuries, said: "I plead guilty to the charge of assault, but I never threatened to kill my wife." On the first charge he was held in $1000 bail for the grand jury, and on the second he was held in $500 bail for a further hearing.

STRIKER FINED FOR STRIKING.

H. Strucker, a dealer in hogs in one of the suburbs, was before Municipal Judge Hogue yesterday, charged with assaulting another hog dealer, Charles Sequest. Both men told different stories—Sequest asserting that Strucker struck and kicked him. Strucker denied this, but is evidently a cross-stick, observed the Judge, in a weary sort of tone. "Last week, Sequest was fined $5 for assaulting Strucker. Somebody at that time lied, when evidence was given. Today I am satisfied that you are more honest than the other fellow. To treat both men alike, as they have both been to blame for what happened, I will fine Strucker $5."

DEVIN IS PREPARING A LIST OF PERSONS WHO

HAVE REFUSED AND NEGLECTED TO PAY CITY LICENSES, AND WARRANTS WILL BE ISSUED IN THE MUNICIPAL COURT FOR THEIR ARREST. THE LIST IS BEING MADE BY CITY AUDITOR DEVIN, AND WILL BE COMPLETED TODAY. DELINQUENTS HAVE BEEN WARNED SEVERAL TIMES, AND A BATCH OF POSTAL CARDS CONTAINING DELINQUENT NOTICES WAS MAILED ON AUGUST 7, warning them to pay within 30 days, or legal proceedings will be taken against them. Mayor Williams announced several days ago that persons, firms and corporations who had not paid their license and taxation tax would be compelled to pay, and that the courts would be resorted to for assistance.

ROBERTS, AND FROM THE BOARD OF TRADE, N. W. ROUNTREE, FRANK LEE, H. R. NELSON, A. APPELL AND J. N. STACEY. MR. WOLFE, AS ABSENT FROM THE MEETING, WILL BE UNABLE TO ATTEND.

ROBBER OF MONEY AND WATCH.

Joseph Turf, a recent arrival in this city from a town in the region of Willapa Bay, Wash., reported to the police yesterday that he had been robbed of a watch and $150, North Fifth street Sunday morning and walked away with $30 in money and a silver watch and chain valued at $20. There is a shed on the back of his bedroom window, and he thinks the burglar climbed on this shed and crawled through the window and robbed him while he slept. Turf went to bed Sunday morning about 2 o'clock and when he awoke, seven hours later, he found his clothes on the floor and the pockets turned out.

HENRY WESTERMAN FINED.

Henry Westerman was fined $25 yesterday by Municipal Judge Hogue, charged with selling adulterated milk, and his attorney gave notice that he would appeal against the decision to a higher court. The Judge reviewed the evidence already given in the case, and pointed out that Westerman had played tags on the milk case complained of, reading: "This is Not Pure Milk." "Because Westerman so marked the cans," continued the Judge, "an executive fine will not at this time be imposed. However, a case has been made out against him that he sold adulterated milk. He is fined $25."
