

RIOT AT WASHERY

Conflict Between Deputy Sheriffs and Strikers.

SEVERAL MINERS ARE WOUNDED

When the Works Were Started, the Crowd Stormed the Stockade, Bringing a Volley From the Officers.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Aug. 14.—A riot occurred at the Washery, at Durys, this afternoon. Trouble has been brewing since early morning. Before 7 o'clock women miners crowded the place and started to interfere with those who wanted to go to work. Sheriff Jacobs had a number of deputies on the ground, and they held the crowd back. The works were started, but remained in operation only a short time. The crowd on the outside threw stones over the stockade at the deputies who were on guard inside. Several times the deputies were tempted to fire. Rather than have any trouble, work was suspended for the time being.

The Deputy Sheriffs returned to Wilkes-Barre early this evening, reporting all quiet at the washery when they left. They had hardly reached Wilkes-Barre, however, when the deputies on guard were attacked. Several men in the mob attempted to climb over the barricade. The deputies warned them to go back, and when they did not, a volley was fired, which most of the bullets went high into the air. Harry Collins was shot through the right leg. Andrew Marlack, a Lithuanian, received a flesh wound, and another foreigner had a narrow escape, a bullet passing through his coat. A colored man employed at the washery, thinking his life was in danger, escaped from the barricade and ran down the street. He was pursued by an angry crowd, who cried, "Shoot him! Shoot him!" The man finally ran him down, but before any harm could befall him a number of Constables rescued him.

Deputy Sheriffs from Luzerne and Lackawanna Counties went to the scene of the rioting, but when they arrived all was quiet, the mob having dispersed. An eyewitness says the attack, the shooting and the retreat did not last more than five minutes. Warrants were sworn out before the Burgess charging the deputies with rioting and felonious wounding. The Constables went to the washery and placed 25 men under arrest. They were arraigned before Burgess Burlington to-night and held in $2000 bail each. They could not furnish bail, and were brought to the County Jail here.

The United Mineworkers say the shooting was uncalculated, and that the deputies alone are to blame. Vice-President Henshaw, of the Miners' Union, District No. 1, says the deputies were in an ugly mood all day. Sheriff Jacobs, of Luzerne County, was in Hazleton. The office here is in charge of Chief Deputy Rhoads. He denied a report, which gained currency to-night, that Sheriff Jacobs had applied to Governor Stone for troops. He says all is quiet at Durys now, and he does not expect any further trouble. If it is decided to resume operations at the washery again, the Sheriff will have a guard strong enough to preserve order and give protection to those who want to go to work.

Sheriff Jacobs arrived from Hazleton to-night, and at once went to Durys, where he will spend the night. The operators of the washery say they will not start the works tomorrow, as unknown persons wrecked some of the machinery during the excitement following the fight this afternoon. President Mitchell said today that he did not know what significance attached to the gathering of so many operators and mine superintendents at Pottsville yesterday. The impression in coal trade circles is that the meeting was held to make the views of Vice-President Loomis, of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Company, who made a tour of the district region, and it is believed that the presidents of the coal-carrying roads in New York the starting of some of the collieries in different parts of the region. The presidents of the coal companies in the district are expected to meet to the presidents of the coal-carrying roads in New York the starting of some of the collieries in different parts of the region. A conference between committees of goldbeaters and the striking goldbeaters has been held, but no agreement reached. An effort may be made to bring about another conference.

move in this direction was when 30 men and 20 women marched to Jersey City. They arrived at the Pottsville mill just as the nonunion men were leaving for the day. The marchers attacked the men with sticks and stones and kept up the assault until the police arrived and charged the assailants. The officers used their batons unparingly and three of the strikers were arrested. Reserves were at the mill this morning to guard it against further attack.

Setting the Santa Fe Strike. CLEBURNE, Tex., Aug. 14.—At conference between representatives of the striking machinists and officials of the Santa Fe, terms were practically agreed upon for a settlement of the strike. Most of the men are to be taken back, but the company submitted a list of the men who would be refused employment. This list is to be passed on by the Machinists' Union before the official announcement is made. About 70 men are involved.

More Pay for Street-Car Men. CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—Conductors and motormen employed by the South Chicago City Railway Company secured an increase in wages from 17 to 21 cents per hour tonight and are no longer in danger of becoming involved in a prospective general street-car strike.

THE COAL FAMINE.

Stocks Nearly Exhausted in Eastern Cities.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Inquiries have been made by the Tribune as to the stock of anthracite coal on hand at several cities in the East, with the following result: New York City dealers say the supply here has been practically exhausted for weeks. The railroad companies have been able to deliver only a few thousand tons a day, and the stock of it is known as washed coal.

Retail price of coal in Jersey City is $5 a ton delivered, or $5 at the yards, and orders are taken only conditionally. The dealers have agreed to purchase wherever they can find coal. None is coming in by the cars. Some have a meager reserve supply, but this is kept for customers with whom they have contracts. Orders for thousands of tons have been pigeonholed because they cannot be filled.

Buffalo reports that the Erie Railroad's Hillside is the only anthracite that can be bought there at present. It sells for $5 65 a ton and is not the best quality of hard coal. The Philadelphia & Reading, the Lehigh, the Delaware & Hudson and the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroads have all stopped the sale of anthracite at their terminals and have closed their local agencies—thereby putting an absolute stop to their coal business. The railroads are maintaining the utmost secrecy regarding their supplies, and even the Erie officials refuse to say how much they have on hand. All the leading coal dealers say the supply is exceedingly limited.

At Albany, N. Y., the retail dealers have in stock not to exceed 2000 tons of anthracite, which they are selling at $5 to $5 25 a ton. The Delaware & Hudson Company has about 1000 tons in reserve at Delanson. This, with 300 tons held by a wholesale dealer, is all that can be counted on for Albany. It is known, says the Albany correspondent, that the Delaware & Hudson has considerable coal, estimated as high as 50,000 tons, on sidings along its Susquehanna division.

The Wilkes-Barre, Pa., correspondent says there is no general supply of anthracite in any part of the coal region. That which is sold is sold in quantities so small that the companies are producing in their washeries and some that is obtained by individual concerns from small coal pickings. The regular dealers have none and can get none. Boston reports that no distress has yet been felt, although the margin of the coal supply is not a pleasant object of contemplation. One authority said three days ago that there are perhaps 20,000 tons of coal within the city limits. The dealers are dealing out their supplies a ton here or two tons there.

SO COMBES CHARACTERIZES THE RELIGIOUS WAR IN FRANCE.

In this report the superior said the sisters had been ordered twice to leave the schools, but the orders had not been obeyed, owing to opposition by the peasantry and by the owners of the property in which the schools are situated. Continuing, M. Combes declared that official reports showed the agitation over the closing of schools in Finistère was purely a royalist movement. There had been grave occurrences, said the Premier, which came within the penal laws, and which would result in prosecutions, instructions for which had been sent to the Procureur-General.

Finistère, and the schools were closed this morning, despite protests by inhabitants of the town. It was rumored at first that the troops were going to St. Meen and Folgoat and the peasantry flocked to those places, remaining on guard until 6 o'clock this morning, when it was learned that the soldiers had gone to Plouguenvel and Plumoguer. At Plouguenvel the barricade of carts, which barred the way to the sisters' school, had been replaced by a network of barbed wire, and pointed stakes have been driven into the ground to injure the horses of the gendarmes. In addition a moat has been dug in front of the school door and filled with fish. The gendarmes, who were ordered to force the school in that village. Earl Cadogan cannot be praised as a successful ruler, and that Mr. Ralfour's has discovered that the German tourist Muller, who was found dead under mysterious circumstances in the Tyrol recently was the victim of a terrible tragedy. The correspondent says Muller was in the mountains alone and lost his road in a fog. He was attracted by the light of a fire, which it is supposed, had been lit by murderers to lead them in trapping tourists. Near this road Muller approached the fire and was attacked and killed. A considerable sum of money was stolen from his person and the body was thrown into the forest. Near this road Braddock was mortally wounded while striving to check the panic among his veterans. The retreat had been sounded and the brave chargeurs were crowded with the frightened troops. The spot where Braddock fell, however, never can be pointed out with accuracy, as every vestige of the road has long since disappeared. Nevertheless, it is a tradition which receives credit among many residents of the town of Braddock that a tree is still standing over the place where the British leader met his fate.

the face of the watch it seems difficult to distinguish the time hands. It has, of course, the large time hands, second and split-second hands, and double hair springs. Besides the large dial there are three smaller ones. It has a second dial, a minute repeater, a minute register and a chronograph. The jewels used in the works are of the most expensive kind, and there are nine of them in all. The watch weighs, case and all, seven ounces four penny-weights. The case is studded with 154 diamonds, 65 of which are gems weighing from half to three-quarters of a carat. It required the buying of many, even three times that number, in order to select those of equal size. That, of course, has much to do with the high value of this watch. The largest stones are laid in a circle around both sides of the case, and when the watch is opened the back of the stones set through the covers may be seen. They are not backed by anything that would give doubt as to their value. On the face cover the initials of the owner are set with 38 smaller stones, reading "E. J. P."
