GAMBLING MUST STOP. -It came to the knowledge of the police yesterday that several small games of chance have been running since Monday at two "big" gambling-houses, one on Seventh street and the other on Fifth street, and the police were accordingly served for the last time that all sorts and conditions of play must be absolutely stopped, without further ceremony.

SEWERS WILL BE BUILT. -At a meeting of the committee on sewers and drainage yesterday the protest against the sewer in Millers street was placed on file and a recommendation made that the assessment as apportioned by the City Auditor be maintained. In taking such action the committee realized that MR. LELAND'S STATEMENT. -Siderwalk Inspector Leland, who recently arrested C. Handfield, of the Handfield-Yeager Fuel Company, for obstructing the sidewalk with piles of sawwood, is not satisfied with the way in which the case has been far handled. He admitted that he was guilty, and then the Police Judge advised him to plead not guilty. "He claims that he never was notified that the wood was on the walk, but that makes no difference. He does not have to be notified. During the trial he stated that I said I would catch hell if I didn't arrest him. I never said anything of the kind. I told him to think the matter over and that I would be around the next morning, and if the wood was not moved, I would have to take him in charge. This I did. When I went there on the next day he had done nothing toward getting the wood off the walk, so I asked him to accompany me to the police station. I see now that he is having the wood removed, so that when his trial comes up he can show that there is no wood on the walk."

SEWERS WILL BE BUILT. -At a meeting of the committee on sewers and drainage yesterday the protest against the sewer in Millers street was placed on file and a recommendation made that the assessment as apportioned by the City Auditor be maintained. In taking such action the committee realized that

SIX NEW CARRIERS ADDED

POSTOFFICE FACILITIES ARE LARGELY INCREASED. More Men Authorized From Washington-Proposed Changes in Present Building. Postmaster Croasman yesterday received official notification from First Assistant Postmaster R. J. Winn that the Portland postoffice had been allowed six new letter-carriers, who are to be employed on and after October 1. This addition was requested by Mr. Croasman some months ago, and after the usual red-tape proceedings at Washington, D. C., the request was granted. Six new carriers will strengthen the present letter-carrying force to such a degree that better service can be given in all parts of the city, and all incoming mails delivered with greater rapidity than at present. Three new carriers were placed on the people interested would suffer a hardship, due to a mistake of the petitioners for the original sewer. The petition of H. W. Corbett, the Falling estate and others for a new sewer in Morrison street, from Fifth to the river, was granted. The present sewer is too small for the buildings now standing, and those in course of construction. It is two feet above the basement of the Alky building, and owing to the weight of the basement has been vacant four years. BAILEY GATEWAY. SUNDAY EXCURSION. CASCADE LOCKS. 8:30 ROUNDED TRIP. BAILEY GATEWAY SUNDAY EXCURSION. Cascade Locks and return, leaving Portland 9 A. M., return 7:30 P. M. Elegant meals, 25 cents. Paints and Brown's celebrated symphony orchestra, and the grandest scenery on earth; everything to please. Connecting in the locks with the coast, and very hard on the regular traffic of the line, and inconveniences the public to a large extent. The only consolation is that the new track for the coast is under the old that those who ride up and down the street are willing to suffer anything to get a good line. Just as soon as the cars begin to run on the new rails the old track will be taken up as far as Twenty-third street.

the force about a year ago, but the volume of business has lately increased at such a rapid rate that the present force is entirely inadequate to handle it, and as a consequence every man connected with the Portland office has more work than he can attend to. Another change which Mr. Croasman expects to recommend to the Post Office Department is the consolidation of the offices at Montavilla, Fulton, Woodlawn and University Park with the main office in this city, and the establishing of sub-stations at these four suburban points. Such a change would carry an additional allowance for letter-carriers, and the postal facilities of all these localities would be greatly enhanced. There are now 10 sub-stations of the Portland office, and if Mr. Croasman's recommendations are adopted, there will be 14 in the near future. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1902, the stamp sales of the Portland Postoffice amounted to $250,000, as compared with $215,000 for the previous fiscal year. Since Mr. Croasman assumed charge of the office, early in 1898, the volume of business has doubled. The City of Portland is certainly prosperous, if the postal receipts can be taken as an exponent. Several months ago Congress appropriated $250,000 for the improvement of the Portland Postoffice. Mr. Croasman has lately drawn up plans for this improvement, and will shortly recommend the addition of a two-story wing on the Yamhill-street side of the main building. The plans call for an additional 200 feet in length and 40 feet wide, the same to form a T-shaped arrangement with the main building. It is thought by residents of Portland that the city will then have a general ground plan similar to that of the Hotel Portland, or like a letter H. Be that as it may, the plans proposed by Mr. Croasman are practical in every way, and allow plenty of room for the carrying on of business that is crowding the present building to congestion. The suggested wing will contain a money order room, 40 by 40 feet, with the necessary bookkeeping rooms; a general delivery room, 30 by 50 feet; a box-office the same size, and a city delivery room 40 by 60. A hall will run through the present registry office, and the building will be a large one some day, and that a great postoffice will be required. When this happy state of affairs arrives another large wing can be added on the Morrison-street side, and the building will then have a general ground plan similar to that of the Hotel Portland, or like a letter H. A hall will run through the present registry office, and the building will be a large one some day, and that a great postoffice will be required. When this happy state of affairs arrives another large wing can be added on the Morrison-street side, and the building will then have a general ground plan similar to that of the Hotel Portland, or like a letter H. Be that as it may, the plans proposed by Mr. Croasman are practical in every way, and allow plenty of room for the carrying on of business that is crowding the present building to congestion. The suggested wing will contain a money order room, 40 by 40 feet, with the necessary bookkeeping rooms; a general delivery room, 30 by 50 feet; a box-office the same size, and a city delivery room 40 by 60.
