PRIEDNERS SHOW INSOLENCE - George White and John Johns, who were recently arrested, charged with being implicated in various robberies around town, when questioned. Only one charge was read against White and Johns, that of breaking into S. Shiral's store, 22 Seventh breaking into S, Shirai's store, 22 Seventh street, August 2, and stealing property not their own. "I don't know a thing about that charge," explained White. "I want time to get a inwyer." In the meantime Johns was grinning around the courtroom, and the Judge had to twice rap on the desk to attract the boy's attention. "Johns, do you wish to employ a lawyer, or do you wish the court to a lawyer, or do you wish the court to appoint a lawyer to defend you?" asked the Judge. "I don't care about lawyers." said the boy, with a reckless air. "But do you want one?" "I would not give him a cent if I had one," replied the boy. apudently. The case was continued until day. Fred Reynolds, a brother of rank Reynolds, who was recently arrested in connection with the same case, was placed under police surveillance yes-terday, and he asserted that he had taken no part in the robberies, but admitted having received some of the stolen

PEDDLER SHENK FINED.—"I have taken out a license," innocently said E. Shenk. yesterday, in the Municipal Court, when charged with peddling without first having taken out a city license. It developed, however, that Shenk had taken out a peddler's license Monday, when ha found out that he was to be arrested. Then he tried other tactics. He asserted that he was not a member of the firm of Shenk & Co.; that he is only an agent, paid all the way from 50 to 75 cents per day for collecting junk, and that the real members of the firm are his son and A. Schulman. "I did not know that I had A Schulman. "I did not know that I had to get a license," went on Shenk. The latter's attorney made an impassioned plea on behalf of his client, saying: "Why did the police act so brutally in arresting this man Shenk? They know that he is a respectable man and would not run away. Why did they place him in jail? Why did not they allow him to go on his own recognizance on his to go on his own recognizance, on his promising to appear before this court? Why ——""You may save your breath," interrupted Deputy City Attorney Fitz-gerald, "Shenk was first arrested Mon-day, and the police allowed him to go on his promising to get $10 bail and come back with the money, immediately. In-Shenk never came back until a warrant was issued for him." Shenk was fined $10, and the money was

BURY ON BICYCLE PATH. - The bicycle path on the east side of Fourth street is progressing toward completion. The track is graded and the surface dressed as far south as Lincoln street. Many who pass along the upper part of Fourth street, where the construction of the track is in progress, express surprise that the path should be placed on the same street with the railroad. There is, however, a large amount of bleycle travel on this part of Fourth street, as the path on the railroad bridge brings in all the bicyclists along the foot of the hills south of Marquam Gulch, and the bicy-clists above Fourth street, on the north clists above Fourth street, on the north clists above Fourth street, on the north when on their way down town, so as to connect with the wood block pavement as soon as possible. There is a well-pstronized bleycle track plainly visible close alongside the railroad track, which close alongside the railroad track, which who travel is kept plain by the crowds who travel it. It can therefore easily be seen that a blcycle track is needed on the upper part of Fourth street, and it will be better to have it along the edge of the sidewalk than along the track, where riders are endangered by every passing train. Drivers of vehicles and pedestrians will need to keep a sharp lookout hereafter when the bleycle path and the railroad track are both in use.

DULL TIME AT HEALTH RESORY .- "After being a week at an alleged health resort, about 100 miles from Portland, and thinking I was spending a pleasant vacation among rheumatic folk people with crutches, and sick people generally, I am glad to be home again in Portland," said a lawyer in the Chamber of Com-merce yesterday. "I went away for a week's rest, said at the resort in quos-tion I found pure air and plenty of sun shine, but too many sick people, wh filled the air with their compinings querulous criticisms of everything and everybody. My spirits and habitual cheery good nature began to give way n such an unhealthy atmosphere, but as in such an unhealthy atmosphere, but as I had paid my board a week in advance I determined to have the worth of my money. I had generally to wait about an hour for a piace at the table to cat my meals, and the other hours at my disposal were equally divided trying to get a chance to bathe and to sleep. If in the future I ever feel too reckhesly jolly and overburdened with sood nature. I'll and overburdened with good nature, I'll hie me to the health resort I have just left. Then, all my good spirits, and left. Then, all my good spirits, and health, too, I'm afraid, will sink to zero were before Municipal Judge Hogue yes-terday. White is a thick-set man of about middle height, and is 29 years old. LOUD SHORES LEAD TO ARREST. — Charies Johnson, a Swede about 30 years old, created some alarm by his actions last night around Thirtieth and Powell streets, and the matter ended in his arrest. He lay across one of the sidewalks and snored so loudly that the dogs in the neighborhood were aroused, evidently thinking that the circus band had arrived in that section. The residents did not care in that section. The residents did not care to have Johnson in their midst all night, as they were not sure what he might do, so they telephoned to the police station for advice. Police Captain Moore did not care to send the patrol wagon so far away and, under his instructions, two citizens awoke Johnson and excerted him to Eleventh and Clinton streets, where they found the patrol wagon waiting, and Johnson was given a ride to the City Jail. On being searched all the possessions found on the prisoner consisted of seven matches, a ragged handkerchief and a piece of thread. "I came from San Francisco three days ago," explained Johnson, "and last night I slept in a lodging-house—where, I don't know. Tonight I wanted to have a sleep somewhere on the sidewalk, and leave for some other town in the morning." He will face a vargance charge in the Municipal Court On being searched all the possessions grancy charge in the Municipal Court today.

YEAR BOOK OF WOMAN'S CLUB. - The YEAR BOOK OF WOMAN'S CLUB.—The year book of the Portland Woman's Club has just been issued, and is ready for distribution to the members of the organization. It is a neat little publication of 30 pages, printed on deckle edged paper, bound in a white cover with the bronze-green monogram on the front: "P. W. C. Year Book, 1801-180," The contents is devoted to the list of officers. contents is devoted to the list of officers, charter and regular members, and the constitution of the club. A list of the standing committees is also given and, in addition, the literary and social days for the next Winter's work. These latter are 15 in number, and the programmes for the series include such topics as "Woman's Work at the Lewis and Clark Fair." "Oregon History Department." "French and German Days," and "Musicales." The book is not yet in the hands of all the members, and the corresponding secretary requests that all who have not received a copy should apply for one to Mrs. W. W. Johnson, 47 Columbia street.

VACCINATE CHILDREN Now. - As the school term will begin next month, City School term will begin next month, City Superintendent Rigier advises parents to have their children vaccinated as soon as possible, so that they will not need the attention of the physician during the school year. In the past, parents have neglected vaccination during the vaccation senson, and as a result a number of chilseason, and as a result a number of children have had to be taken out of school to undergo the process just when they are really beginning their studies. Owing to their forced absence some have lost their places in their classes, and not a few have had to make a second trial for promotion. As a means of preventing the involuntary absence of children during the term Professor Figher recommends.

White House road. He was working in the timber yesterday and was chopping on a tree that had been bent over by another one falling across it. The spring in the tree was stronger than he had counted upon and the strain made it give away before he was expecting it. As a consequence he was bending over the stump, and when it broke it gave a mighty lurch, catching him in the side and breaking two of his ribs. He was taken at once to the hospital, where he received every possible care, and last night was reported to be resting well.

BIG CAMP MEETING AT SEATTLE, - Ensign Sawyer, of Corps No. 1 of the Salvation Army, returned from Seattle last evening. He reported that a camp meeting held in Seattle during August F-18 was very successful in every way. Over 20,000 people were in attendance and the campers numbered over 125. Every town in Washington and Oregon where the army has a post was represented, and a great deal of the old army spirit was manifested. In connection with the pop-ular meetings, a School of the Prophets was held for the training of officers in tactics and warfare. On the last even-ing of the encampment was an army wedding. The principals were Captain Jasper, of East Portland, and Lieutenant (Miss) Dupartuis.

EXHIBITS RELEASED. - The exhibits charges, were released resterday. Mr. Dosch, when seen about it by an Oregonian representative, said: "Tes, I am very grateful to the officials of the O. R. & N. Co. here, for the personal interest they have been to assist us in releasing these exhibits. They will be brought to our permanent exhibit room in the morning, where I will at once install them, so everything will be in apple-ple order be-fore I leave for Japan."

AH LING'S THREE-MONTHS' VACATION .-With the aid of a Chinese interpreter, it became possible to make Ah Ling under-stand, yesterday, in the Municipal Court, that he was charged with stealing a sledge-hammer and from wedge from Peter Brown, who lives on a scow on the East Side. Suddenly Ah Ling lapsed into fairly good English. "Me no steal um," said he. "Me no steal hamma". Me tuke um wedge, and me get fi'teen cent." Ah Ling is an old offender in the Municipal Court, and he was sentenced to three nonths in the County Jail.

ELES WILL NOT COME.-The party of Elks that were to visit Portland on their return from the Salt Lake convention re-ceived a telegram at San Francisco and will have to postpone their visit to this city. The Elks here were making big arrangements for their reception, and are sorry not to have a visit from the distinguished members of their lodge. SALE OF ESTATE STAYED.

Judge Webster Orders Delay in Disposal of James John Property. County Judge Webster yesterday de-elded that the property of the estate of James John, deceased, shall not be sold at the present time, unless more advan-tageous offers than those already received should be made. The property is at St. John's, and the price offered has been about $600 per block. Under the terms of the will of James John the pro-ceeds of the estate are to be used for school purposes at St. John's, and so of the residents of the school district filed a petition objecting to the sale of the lots and blocks now, alleging that the property will bring more later on, and that it is not necessary to sell it at once. The court decided that it would be advisable to delay the sale until next Spring at least.

COST TO MOVE NOT GREAT

Contractor Says Trinity Church Enterprise Will Cost Less Than $4000.

It has now been accertained that the removal of Trinity Church, if decided upon, will not be as expensive as has been anticipated. Estimates have now been made which place the cost of removal below $4000. It had been supposed by those concerned in the matter that the expense would be between $4000 and $5000, and the fact that it may be done for less may have a decided influence upon the decision reached by the church when the matter comes up for discussions. matter comes up for discussion.

One of the contractors who have the estimates in charge said yesterday:

the number of wires we must cut, as that is one of the most expensive items in the operation. The steepie, which is life feet high, will have to be taken down in sections, the same way as it was put up. The body of the church is 112 feet long and 74 feet in width, and will have to be sawn into four sections, instead of three, as we expected. This will make the extreme width of each section 25 feet, so no damage can be done by overhanging trees. Our route," said the housemover, "will be along Sixth and thence straight up Couch street to Eighteenth. That is the only feasible route, as there are no steep inclines. We have gone over the ground carefully and have selected this way."

The old building will probably face Eighteenth street, and will occupy one corner of the block, so that the erection of the new stone church may proceed without interruption. The same method now being used to move the old Mult-nomah Clubhouse will be pursued in the

"The Tide of Life" at Cordray's. "The Tide of Life," the powerful melo-drama which will be presented at Cord-ray's theater next Sunday evening. Aug-nst 24, was one of the theatrical sensa-tions of New York last season. It has all the elements that make a play pop-ular. There are some of the most start-ling climaxes ever put on the stage, all growing naturally out of the plot, and drawing forth tempests of applause by their original nature. Imagine a man leaping from a second story window, and grasping a live wire in his flight. Think what would happen to him. You see this incident in "The Tide of Life," and as the man, who is the villian, of course. as the man, who is the villan, or course, hangs to the wire, high above the stage, the vivid lightning flashes and ominous crackling of electricity envelopes him, and he is the center of a hurley-burley of terrible blue flame. Abram and Smith, the managers of the play, spent a good deal of time, ingenuity and money to per-fect this climax, and they may congrat-uinte themselves on showing their pairons some things that they have never seen
