Hickey in Fine Form, and Strikes Out Eleven Men-Lightning Stops by Anderson and Schwarts-Seattle Now Leads.

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 5 .- (Special.) Hickey was invincible today, while Engle was hit harder than usual. Only the fastest kind of fielding behind Engle kept the Seattle score down. Anderson go back into the game and rapped out the Buren over the plate with Portland's first run. In the second inning, when it looked as if Seattle had Engle going, it was Anderson who converted what it was Anderson who converted what looked like a safe hit into a double play, and save two or more runs from scoring. With Stanley and Hickey on bases Drennan hit safely, scoring Stanley; and Babbitt, next up, hit a twisting grounder down between first and second. Anderson was playing close in, but by a tremendous reach he managed to spear the ball with one hand. While he was recovering his balance Hickey scored, but hall with one hand. While he was re-covering his baiance Hickey scored, but he got Babbitt at first and Weed shot the ball to Vigneux in time to head off Drennan, who almost scored from first on Seattle took the lead in the end, on safe hits by Campbell, Stanley and Drennan, and were never headed after that. They got another in the fifth, on safe hits by Schwartz, Klopf and Hurley, and Portland got their last run in the sixth, when Deisel reached first on an error, and hits by Engle and Zeig-ler brought him home. Schwartz spoiled the rally by racing over to second, scooping Van Buren's hard drive, and beating Zeigler to second. He then shot the ball over his shoulder to first ahead of Van Buren. Seattle got the last run in the eighth. Seattle made three safe hits in this inning before they got a man on base to stay. Hurley and Dairymple hit safely in succession, and both were thrown out trying to steal. There has not been harmony in the organization, team work has been lacking and other teams have gobbied up players that Spokane should have had with a little more hurrying. KING WINS POOL MATCH. Chicago Man Defeats Colored Champion, Boone. Two expert poolplayers, one white and one colored, made a trial for the cham-pionship of the Pacific Coast in the bill-lard room at 246 First street last night. Boone, the colored champion of Portland, pitted himself against the white cham-pion, King, from Chicago, and, although he did not expect to make the same show-ing as the Chicago man, he did run high in several frames. In one or two of the frames it did look like a runout for him, but King suddenly came to the front and holed the balls. In the next frame Boone made a fine break, but did not find a pocket. Some of his friends made "innard" comments on his work, and Boone made an answer which was accepted as a prediction of his future success.

"A man once stalled his chickens and said they would be all right," said Boone, as he looked upon a 54-40 sign against him "But a colored man came near that chick-en-coop, and that was the last of the chickens," and Boone shot for nine straight. The finish of the game was exciting, for King made many treble-banks and seldom missed a ball. The large crowd of spectators vigorously applauded ever good shot. The colored champion, Boone, played well, but in hard luck. A forfelt was placed last night for another match Monday and Tuesday nights at the same place. King will play 600 to 500 balls for $200 a side. The Chicago man showed the local players some of the best pool ever played on the Coast, and challenges any 600-to-500 ball game for any part of $1000. F.
