Spokane Convention Shows Their Friendly Relations.

PROMOTE REPUBLICAN SCHISM

If Turner Cannot Be Elected, His Supporters in Legislature May Be Manipulated in Mc-Bride's Interests.

SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 7 .- (Special.) --The curious overtures held out to Governor McBride by Senator Turner's Demo cratic convention are partly explained by the fact that McBride's railway commission scheme was broached by Spokane Democrats before the Governor launched it. Senator Turner and Governor Mc-Bride are warm personal friends. If their political affiliations were the same, their views and sims could not be more closely allied than they are now.

Senator Turner is the outspoken champion of Roosevelt on the trust issue, and is backing Governor McBride on every occasion in the latter's fight for a railroad

In his speech yesterday before the convention Senator Turner vigorously assaulted the Republican party, accusing it of being dominated by the railroads. The only remedial railroad legislation ever passed, he said, had been by the fusion Legislature of 1897. The lower house of that body, he declared, had passed a commission bill, but it had been defeated by the votes of Republican hold-over Sena-

Senator Turner said that one of the proudest things in his life was the fact that he himself had drafted the provision in the state constitution authorizing the creation of a railroad commission. He denounced the Republicans for failing to carry out the anti-pass provision of the the constitution by the adoption of adequate legislation. He paid a high compliment to Governor McBride, saying he was better than his party.

Senator Turner and his friends have been lining up Eastern Washington Democrats in support of McBride's policy ever since the railway concession plan was sprung. Their work is being done openly and their success is remarkable. The wise Democratic politicians consider It fine strategy to play McBride Republicans against Wilson supporters, and the game is being played for all it is worth. In fact, it would seem that Turner, if he cannot win, is to throw what strength he has to McBride and his followers in the Legislature. What bearing this might have in a Senatorial fight is not known, All the Democratic Legislative nominee are sworn to stay with Turner to the last ditch, but their manipulation in McBride's interest is not impossible.

What Platform Says. The Democratic platform deplores the death of McKinley; expresses abhorrence of anarchy and demands enactment of legislation which shall make attacks on rulers impossible. It refers to John R. Rogers as a statesman who brought order sout of chaos and gave the people a wise and economical administration. After indorsing the Chicago and Kansas City Democratic platforms, the resolutions say:

"We condemn the Republican party for enacting the Hanna-Payne subsidy bill, whereby a merchant marine under subsidy from the United States Government must be, by the terms of the steamship trust, turned into armored cruisers of England against the United States in time of war We are opposed to monopolles and trusts controlling the necessaries of life and the means of transportation, and we favor their suppression when inimical to the public interests by the Government. We favor a railroad commission within the State of Washington to control rail road charges, and to that end pledge our minees for the Senate and Legislature to use all honorable means to secure such a commission when elected.

Several Bouquets for Turner.

"Resolved, That the Democracy of Spo-kane County, in convention, do hereby indorse the record in the United States Sen ate of Senator George Turner. The distinguished services rendered by him to his country and party have gained for him respect in the councils of the Nation, and added luster to the City of Spokane and the State of Washington. Above par-tisanship in all questions where the welfare of the Nation is at stake, he has been zealous and able advocate of the people's right to control trusts and monopolies and favors a railroad commission in the State of Washington, to be appointed by the present executive, Henry McBride, as provided by our platform. "He labored for the opening of the Co-umbia River, the great interstate highway, to give competition to the farmers Eastern Washington, for the purpose of bettering grain rates and giving a wider market to the products of the Inland Em-pire. He has worked earnestly to give ommercial supremacy to the cities of the State of Washington on Puget Sound, by securing appropriations for the improvement of their harbors and the advance-ent of shipping. "His earnest support has been given t extend the principles of the Declaration of Independence and the genius of American institutions over the Philippine Islands. He is a leader in the United States Senate, of whose career the Democracy of Spokans County was and Democracy of Spokane County may well be proud, representing, as it does, the highest type of American citizenship. He is a faithful, earnest, dignified and able representative of the people. Be it, there-

NO FAITH IN BAPTISM. Preacher Says It Is Heathenish Pure

and Simple. NEW YORK, Sept. 7.-Rev. Dr. S. Mac-Arthur, at the One Hundrooth meeting of the "Evangelt" today assailed the doctrine of Baptism in vigorous terms and his utterances were applauded wildly. The acene was striking. He said: "Baptism never saved a human soul. The doctrine of baptismal regeneration is bath unreasonable and unscript-pral. This doctrine is heathenish, pure and simple. The idea that God would forever condemn an innocent babe because some one had not put a few drops of water on its head and face, makes God be an avowed infidel. "This doctrine of baptismal regeneration makes the minister of religion a worker of malice, a fakir, a performer of miracles. Such teaching is a violation of all sound reason and true scripture teach-

FOR CUBAN RECIPROCITY.

President Making His Own Cam paign Before the People. OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Wash

ington, Sept. 7 .- According to an official who is in close touch with the executive branch of the Government, the principal reason why President Roosevelt is making the New England, Southern and Northwestern tours is to aid the cause of Cuban reciprocity. The President, he asserts, hopes to get in closer touch with the people and members of Congress, and is enough of an optimist to believe that he will so far attain this end that when Congress meets he will have a majority instead of a minority in favor of Cuban relief.

"The New England trip has had its beneficial effect along this line," the official said today. "This has been gained more by personal exchange of views than by anything he has said on the platform. During the tour he had confidential talks with a great many mem-bers of Congress and with several Sen-ators who differ with him on the Cuban relief question, and he believes that he has succeeded in changing their opinions. It does a whole lot of good to talk to a his own town or in his own

SIXTH MARYLAND DISTRICT. Color Line Likely to Defent Republican Nominee.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Sept. 7.-There are at the present time two Republican nominees for Con-gress from the Sixth district of Maryland -one George A. Pearre, the present Representative and regular nominee, and the other Rev. Henry Newman, colored, who has announced his intention of running ependently. The executive committee the "Colored Republican and Justice party," as it is called, has ratified the nomination of Newman. This race issue arises almost entirely out of patronage in the Sixth district, and threatens to result in the election of a Democrat to the 58th Congress. Pearre was elected last time by a majority of 2671 votes, while in the dis-trict are 4975 registered colored voters While Newman is not expected to control all the colored votes, it is quite probable he can secure a sufficient number to bring about Pearre's defeat, unless he is swerved from his purpose before election.

The Colored Republican and Justice party has issued a formal call upon the clubs and councils of the Ex-Slave Bounty and Pension Association to support the candidacy of Newman, and have issued a like call to the colored Baptist ministers. From this association of several hundred thousand members the Newmanites expect to secure liberal contributions with which to carry on their campaign. Newman and several other colored Republicans intend to canvass the entire district and make the fight upon the plank which demands "a pension for every ex-slave, proper treatent of the colored voter, division of state and Federal offices with colored men and women," etc. It is the past lack of consideration of the colored element in distributing official plums, however, that is at the bottom of the dissension.

Representative Pearre shows no signs of neastness over the recent uprising of the dored voters, and believes he will be reelected. It is true this is not the first time there has been a bolt of the colored voters in his district, but unless promises are made or Mr. Pearre displays a marked degree of diplomacy, it looks now as if his present term was to be his last in Congress. The situation in the Sixth Maryand district is identical with that in the other districts of that state. It merely happens that the colored voters had looked for recognition during the past few months which was not forthcoming, and are hast-ening to exhibit their displeasure. Such action on their part has defeated other Republican nominees in the past; it may do so again.

'TWAS BARTHOLIN'S BODY

IDENTIFICATION COMPLETE-LEFT WRITTEN CONFESSION.

Said Other Men Under Arrest Are Innocent, But Officers Decline to Drop Prosecution.

RICEVILLE, Ia., Sept. 7.—The body buried here yesterday morning, and be-lieved to be that of William Bartholin, was exhumed this afternoon and positive ly identified as that of the Chicago double

The identification was made by William Mitchell, a brother of Minnie Mitchell, one of Bartholin's victims, Detective Andrew Rohan, of Chicago, who arrived here this morning from Chicago, and Dr. J. A. Coey, a Chicago dentist, who had worked on the murderer's teeth. Dr. Coey cut but the lower jaw of the dead man which ntained the two gold crowned teeth that have figured so largely in the description of Bartholin sent broadcast by the police. The jaw was taken to Chicago tonight by Tuesday. Said an attache of the State Attorney's office tonight: "The confession of Bartholin is not a ukase guaranteed to free everybody. The fact that Bartholin killed three people, including himself, will add no great weight to this piece of written testimony left behind. There may be other strong evidence involving these three men. This evidence must be heard, wherefore the accused must remain heard, wherefore the accused must remain in jail in default of bail, unless released on habeas corpus, and I hardly believe that is possible."

NEGRO SLASHED TWO

Man Slain, Wife Seriously Cut - No Cause Known.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Sept 8.—Thomas Burke is dead at his home here with his head almost severed from his body, and his wife is in a dangerous condition from either knife or rasor wounds in-flicted by Matthew Alexander, colored, who has been employed around the house for the past five years. Alexander enter-ed the room in which Mrs. Burke was sleeping with her 12-year-old daughter at midnight, while her husband lay asleep on a couch on the other side of the room. Mrs. Burke was awakened by feeling the keen edge of a sharp instrument draws across her cheek and her screams arouse her husband. Burke rushed to the rescue the detectives.

Bartholin's body was found last Friday afternoon, about six miles from Rice-face by the negro. When Burke fell

Cook, editor of a Riceville paper, discovered that the dead man bore a striking resemblance to pub-lished pictures of the Chicago murderer. Inquiry here developed that Bartholin came to Riceville August 6, before the bodies of Mrs. Bartholin and Miss Mitchell were discovered. Thomas Phee, a contractor, doing some work here for the Great Western road, advertised for labor-

The text of the confession left by Bartholin as made public by Coroner Carpenter follows:
"To Whom It May Concern-I want to state I am the Bartholin the police are looking for. Also I wish to certify I had no assistance of any kind or from any one. Thompson, Claffey and Counselman are all as innocent as an unborn child and should be freed at once. I cannot go into details in regard to the crimes. They were not planned. It was all Minnie and I could do. My mind is wandering. Such a drop in life in a short time! "W. J. BARTHOLIN." It is apparent that Bartholin and Miss Mitchell shared in some trouble to which the suicide referred. Several notes to Bartholin, signed "M. M.," and identified William Mitchell as the handwriting of his sister, were turned over tonight to the brother, who seemed eager to prevent their publication. One is a specimen of the rest. It is addressed to "Dear Will," and informs the recipient that the girl could not meet him that night. Two of the missives are signed "Your Darling Sweetheart, Minnie." All are dated in Chicago during April.

It developed today thatBartholin had een in correspondence with an unknown roman in Chicago who had endeavored to aid him financially after his arrival here. One of these letters Bartholin accidentally propped from his pocket and Charles Ho eft, a farmer for whom Bartholin was working, read a few lines of it. Bartholin, wever, took the letter from him after he had read the first few lines. Hoeft states that the letter was addressed to "George Edwards," the name by which Bartholin was known here, but that the leter began, "My Dearest Will," as he remembers it, the letter read:

"My Dearest Will-Lay low and get along the best you can—"
Then came a reference to some mone matters not yet settled in Chicago fo which the receiver of the letter had evi-dently been looking. Continuing it read: Keep a stiff upper lip and I'll be able to help you as soon—"
Hoeft had read no more, for Bartholin appeared and seized the letter. This was about August 25 and the following day

An impression had gained ground here that an immense reward had been offered for the body of Bartholin, dead or alive, and when the Coroner's jury rendered a yerdict that the suicide was Bartholin, a frantic effort was made to secure the re-

GERMAN ARMY MANEUVERS. 92,000 Troops in Two Armies to Be Engaged. FRANKFORT-ON-THE-ODER, Sept. 7 Preparations are making for the Autumn maneuvers, which will begin next Tuesday, and $2,000 troops are spreading over the countryside in two armies; one is marching to the eastward from here by way of various parallel roads, while the other is marching west from Posen. It has been raining all day. The general staff, which is the brains of the German military organization, once a year puts armies into the field under what would be the probable conditions of war and notes the result, especially in the higher question of strategy. Each reg-iment and division is exercised frequently in minor maneuvers in all weathers and under various topographical conditions, but the grand maneuvers, in which several entire army corps are engaged, take place one year in one part of the empire and the next year in some other location and are for the working out of fresh combinations on a great scale. The operations now beginning will be extended over a territory which is, rough-ily speaking, 30 miles wide and 50 miles long. The hostile army, the Blues, is popularly supposed to be Russian. It is believed to have passed the frontier. It is composed of the Fifth Corps and fractions of other corps. The whole is somewhat less than 50,000 men strong, of which the part infants, 17,000 cavalry, and com-25,000 are infantry, 17,000 cavalry, and compower intentry, 1,000 cavairy, and com-prises four regiments of field artillery, de-tachments of horse artillery, machine guns, balloonists, pioneers, telegraphists and a commissary department. The ad-vance of the Blues is presumed to have crossed a line marked by the River Obra, a tributary to the Warth, and to be seek-ing to gain the left bank of the Oder and ession of the railroad junction at Frankfort-on-the-Oder. The defending army, known as the Reds, is made up of the Third Army Corps and the first di-vision of the guards. It is somewhat more than 40,000 strong and composed of 28,000 infantrymen, 11,000 cavalry, five regiments of artillery and the usual complements of aeronauts.

The cavalry outposts of the two armies are to come in touch Tuesday morning between Meseritz, Schwiebus and Bentschen. This is all the general staff for the present permits outsiders to know. Strategical movements and four days' fighting gical movements and four days' fighting with blank cartridges are to follow under the observation of Emperor William, and the most gifted military commanders of Germany and foreign officers of distinction from Italy, Austria, Great Britain, Russia and the United States. FAIR BODIES IN NEW YORK Their Simple Reception and Their Shipment Westword.

NEW YORK Sept. 7.-In a specially constructed mertuary chapel on the upper deck of the steamer St. Louis, which teached her dock today, were the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Fair, victime of an automobile accident in France. The chapel was draped heavily in black, caught up by broad bands of white ribbon floral offerings were banked around the bier in great profusion. The caskets were consigned by Henry De Berniol to Hermann Oelrichs. They were removed to the Grand Central Depot and placed on the Palace Car Ben Wysis, which was attached to the Chicago Special that left this evening.
It was not known to the passengers of the ship that the bodies were on board until Friday, when the ship was a little more than 24 hours from Sandy Hook. In some way the news spread through the saloon dining-room, while the passengers were at luncheon on that day and created intense excitement. From that time until the ship reached her dock, great interest eral of them were injured. All was quiet when the La Plata left, but the revailed among the passengers and many applications were made to Captain Pas-gow for permission to view the mortuary chapel, but all were refused. Even after the ship was docked and the caskets were removed from the pler, the American ne officials refused to allow anyone except the immediate relatives who came to claim the bodies to enter the chapel. It was after 9 o'clock this morning when two plain, black hearses, with drawn curtains drove on the dock, fol lowed by an ordinary public carriage. In the carriage were Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs and Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., sisters of Mr. Fair. They were met at the pier by agents of the New York Central Raliroad and by Colonel John Jay, who etof relieving the fallen fortunes of Jatended to the details of having the bodies removed from the ship to the pier, where they were placed in the second cabin waiting-room. It was asserted by the quartermaster who stood guard at the gang-plank, that William K. Vanderbilt Jr., was also on the pier and was on the ship at the time that the bodies taken off, but if so, he did not join the other members of the family in the waiting-room, nor did be go with them from the pier when the bodies were taken

An undertaker from Trinity Chapel took charge, and in the presence of the two sisters, the plain pine boxes that formed an outer covering for the caskets in shipment were opened. Inside this was a wrapping of heavy lead, hermetically scaled. This was opened and the caskets removed. Each body rested in a plain essket of maple, unpolished and un-aderned with trimmings of any kind save four broad bands of silver, which were bound around each shell and riveted in Six to each casket, dressed in due jumpers and overalls, the picture of these sturdy workmen acting as pall bearers, was only another striking commentary of the utter lack of display which marked the entire reception of the bodies. Neither Mrs. Vanderbilt nor Mrs. Oelrichs would give any information as to the final disposition that would be made of the bodies. The hearses, however, left the pier about 1 o'clock, followed by the single carriage containing Mrs. Vander-bilt and Mrs. Oelrichs. They were driven direct to the Grand Central Depot, where the caskets were placed in the Palace car Ben Wysis. Later they were removed from the car and taken to an undertak-ing establishment, but shortly before the departure of the special they were return-ed to the car Ben Wysis. Conl Now Going to Market Not Union Labor Product.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7 .- There were predictions that the anthracite coal strike would be over by the first week in September, but if the officials of the Mineworkers' Union are to be believed, the struggle will continue for months unless the coal companies grant concessions. The operators admit they are surprised at the way the strikers are holding out. Rumore are current, and, in fact, statements have been made by prominent men both in and out of the coal trade that the strike will be ended this month. President John Mitchell says he knows nothing of a possible early ending of the trouble. The only move now in contem-plation is the suggestion that Governor Stone will call an extra session of the Legislature to deal with the situation.

Last week more coal left the mining region than in any previous week since the strike began, but the strike officials maintain that most of the coal now going to market is "washed" from the great culm piles, and the remainder is coal that had been blasted before the strike began, which fell through the breaking rotten timbering during the idleness. Coal is cut in some of the mines, but as far as can be learned, much of it is being The number of men at work is compar

GROWTH OF VIENNA. Boundaries of Austria's Capital to Be Again Enlarged.

London Standard The boundaries of Vienna are to be again ridened, and this time to such an extent that the area of the Austrian capital will be almost doubled, and will be second to that of London alone in Europe. Vienna, though it is called the imperial city on the Blue Danube, lies, as a matter of fact, only on the right bank of that river, which forms its boundary on the north-west. A large semi-circle on the left bank, embracing the manufacturing town of Floridsdorf and 11 other places, with a total area of 154 square kilometers, is now to be added to Vienna, and will raise its area from 178 to 332 square kilometers. The new districts, however, are so thinly populated that they will add only 55,000 persons to the population of Vienna, rais-ing it to about 1,800,000.

The object of including so large a tract, chiefly rural in character, and much of it liable to periodical floods, is connected with the impending construction of the Danube-Oder Canal, which will enter the Danube opposite the town and within the new district. It is expected that it will create a large industrial quarter there. The old bed of the Danube, through which the river used to flow before its canaliza tion, will be converted into docks and harbors. As all the towns and villages concerned have signified their readiness to fall in with the scheme, and a majority in the town is in favor of it, there is little doubt that the project will shortly be carried into effect project will shortly be carried into effect, possibly in the course

six months' leave of absence

Had Professor Sledd indulged in violent or abusive criticism the antagonism aroused would not have been so surpris-ing. But he stated conditions and suggested remedies most moderately, calmly, and soberly. He felt that he had a message and he delivered it. The result is a warning that free speech will not be per-mitted in that state unless it satisfies popclar sentiment. Of course, if Professor Sledd, who holds a high position in the estimation of his peers as an educator and an honorable gentleman, leaves Georgia, some other state will gain what she loses. He needs no sympathy. He has done the great public a service, and places in plenty will be open to him. It is the pretentious oid commonwealth herself that will suffer in reputation for denying to one of her most distinguished citizens that right of free and candid speech in which respect this country boasts that it leads the world.

How About Your Heart

Feel your pulse a few minutes. Is it regular? Are you short of breath, after slight exertion as going up stairs, sweeping, walking, etc? Do you have pain in left breast, side or between shoulder blades, choking sensations, fainting or smothering spells, inability to lie on left side? If you have any of these symptoms you certainly have a weak heart, and should immediately take Dr. Heart Cure

Mr. F. H. Oaks of Jamestown, N. Y., Mr. F. H. Oaks of Jamestown, N. Y., whose genial face appears above, says:

"Excessive use of tobacco seriously affected my heart. I suffered severe pains about the heart, and in the left shoulder and side; while the palpitation would awaken me from my sleep. I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and soon found permanent relief."
