BURGOLARS FROM SALOON—The Sun saloon, 303 Third street, conducted by J. H. Moore, was entered by burglars early yesterday morning. They effected entrance by cutting out a panel in the back door and then removing a bar. There was $145 change in the cash register, which was stolen, but the stock was not touched. Special Policeman Orrin Smith discovered that the place had been broken into, soon after it occurred, and aroused Mr. Moore, who then went to the place. This is the fourth time this saloon has been robbed within the past few years.

CAUGHT FIREBUG—Martin Tooney, who confesses that he is the boy that set fire to the O. R. & N. pattern shops some weeks ago, was yesterday brought back from Salem by Detectives Snow and Kerrigan. Young Allison and Robert Mc-Gloughan have been detained and say that they were in the plot, but that they did not set the fire. Tooney admits that it was he that set the match and started the fire.

PROF. RICH. MAX MEYER, graduated in the royal art academies in Berlin, Dresden and Munich, as portrait and landscape artist and teacher. Will commence his Fall term September 15-day and evening classes. Saturday mornings, special class for school children. Visitors welcome every Thursday, from 10 to 6 P. M. Studio and gallery, 34 Alder st., near Seventh.

ROSE ON THE SIDEWALK—The police say that there has been too much riding on the sidewalk in the neighborhood of Hood and Corbett streets, and that they are going to make an example of some of the offenders. Yesterday Carl Patterson, a Swede, aged 40, was arrested for riding on the walk, and will probably have to stand in the pen.

PRaise FOR E. W. ST. PIERRE. Portland Presbytery Expresses High Esteem for Departing Pastor. At a recent meeting of the Presbytery of Portland a committee was appointed to draw up a suitable paper expressive of the high opinion entertained by the members of the Presbytery of the Rev. E. W. St. Pierre, who has accepted the joint chaplaincy of the State Penitentiary, the State Reform School and the Chemawa Indian School. That committee, composed of the Revs. Edgar P. Hill, A. J. Montgomery and Henry Marcotte, has prepared the following paper:

"In view of the departure from our midst of the Rev. Edward W. St. Pierre, to accept the chaplaincy of three of our state institutions located at and near Salem, we, as a Presbytery, desire to place on record our high appreciation of the valuable labors of Mr. St. Pierre during his term of service in Portland. He has been untiring in his efforts to build up the Master's kingdom; and in the discharge of his duties as a pastor and presbyter. We cordially commend him to the Christian brethren of Salem, with whom he is associated in his new field, and we pray God's rich blessing on him in his new and important field of activity."

MUSICAL INSTRUMENT SALE. Special Carnival sale of wind, brass and string musical instruments. A great opportunity. Agents for Regal, Washburn and Chase instruments, Stewart bonjos and Stella music boxes. Wright's Music House, 340 Washington street, half a block above the Carnival entrance.

WHERE TO DINE. Carnival visitors: For finest lunches, go to Portland Restaurant, 305 Washington. High-Grade Pianos for Rent. Sold on easy installments. Pianos tuned and repaired. H. Sinsheimer, 7 Third st. Avoid harsh purgative pills. They make you sick, and then leave you constipated. Carter's Little Liver Pills regulate the bowels and cure you.

AT THE THEATERS. Audran's tuncful opera "La Mascotte" was the bill of the Pollard Juvenile Opera Company at the Marquam last night. Little Daphne in the clean-cut part of Prince Fritelline and silver-voiced Fred Kover in the soprano role of the Duke gave Master Willie wide scope in the comedy line. Misses Alice and Ivy Pollard sang the "Gobbie Gobbie" duet so well as to earn several encores. The evening's gem was Fred Pollard's "Love is Blind." All the choruses went with precision and the opera was beautifully mounted. Two more performances close the engagement: this afternoon, "An American Millionaire," and tonight "In Town."

MATINEES TODAY. Good Bills This Afternoon at the Three Theaters. At the Baker this afternoon, "Mr. Barnes of New York," with the full strength of the Nell Stock Company. At the Marquam, the Pollard Juvenile Opera Company in "An American Millionaire."

COMING ATTRACTIONS. James Neill at the Marquam. The fact that the James Neill Company, which begins a two weeks' engagement at the Marquam next Sunday night, presenting "The Red Knight" for the opening attraction, has several of the recent-day stage successes, all cleverly presented and admirably staged, will be a source of great pleasure to the Marquam patrons. Mr. Neill and his excellent company are great favorites in this city. The advance sale for the entire week opened yesterday.

"A Broken Heart" at Cordray's. The beautiful play, "A Broken Heart," will be presented at Cordray's Theater, beginning Sunday night, by Miss Esther Rujaro, the talented young actress. Miss Rujaro is the authoress, and the story is a good one. The principal scene is one in which a young miser is on trial for his life, accused of a crime which he did not commit, but begged about by seemingly unimpeachable circumstantial evidence. The prosecuting attorney is the real criminal in the case. The trial comes to an abrupt and exciting end by the declaration on the part of a wayward woman, who has insisted on obtaining a divorce, that she is the murderer. The play is of a character to arouse a good deal of emotional interest.

"A Thoroughbred Tramp." "A Thoroughbred Tramp," a bright, new comedy, with good scenic effects, strong specialties and a good plot, which is the real article, will be presented at Cordray's Theater on Wednesday evening and continue the remainder of the week. Several sensational effects are introduced, and the play promises to be one of the cleverest things of the season.

"Lady Windermere's Fan" at Baker. The sale of seats for "Lady Windermere's Fan," which will be presented by the Nell Stock Company at the Baker Theater, has been exceptionally large. The first production of this intensely interesting play will be given tomorrow afternoon, and it will continue all next week, with a matinee Saturday. High-class plays such as "Lady Windermere's Fan" require a company of more than ordinary ability to give them a proper representation. That the Nell Stock Company has the ability is not denied by any one who has seen this talented organization at the Baker during the past two weeks. Theater-goers of Portland have seen the beautiful stage settings made by Robert Morris during the former visits of the James Neill Company, and during the last two weeks at Manager Baker's playhouse. Mr. Morris promises to outdo any of his previous efforts. No expense has been spared in the production of "Lady Windermere's Fan" one to be long remembered by the patrons of the Baker.

WORSHIP IN THE TEMPLE. Beth Israel Congregation Fills Newly Repaired Auditorium. The congregation of the Temple Beth Israel, accompanied by many strangers, thronged their accustomed house of worship last evening to be present at its opening for services closed for alterations for many months. The brilliant appearance of the well-lighted interior alone amply repaid those who attended, for the auditorium of the synagogue now presents a beautiful sight. While the seating and other arrangements remain the same as heretofore, yet the entire interior woodwork has been thoroughly touched up and gone leaf generously applied. The new ceiling put in to replace the former roofing, which had threatened to fall bodily upon the heads of the worshippers, was the center of interest. It is built of steel throughout and is supported by five massive girders which preclude any danger of the new ceiling ever falling. The building is brilliantly illuminated by electric lights, 120 of which line the ceiling. Expenses have been considered of little consequence in altering the temple, and converting it into one of the most magnificent places of worship in the city. The ceiling is divided by heavy gold lines into 180 squares, painted a bright blue, while the trimmings are pure white. Rabbi Stephen S. Wise conducted the services, taking as his text the appropriate subject "The Place of the House of God in the Life of Man." "What has been God in the life of man?" "What has been the place of the house of God in the history of Israel?" he asked. Following this line of thought, he said that the temples had been an inspiration to the people of Israel since the first temple was built. In closing, he said: "I would rather see this house of God crumble into ruins than that the Jews should wish to live apart, a separate and sequestered people."

The service was of a special musical nature, and exquisite music was furnished by the choir, assisted by Reginald Hildren. The choir remains the same as before the renovations, and consists of Mrs. Rose Hoch Bauer, soprano; J. Adrian Epping, baritone; Miss Rose Lowenberg, contralto; and J. W. Belcher, tenor, with the organist Miss Leonora Fisher. The choir and Mr. Hildren, accompanied by Miss Fisher, rendered Bach-Gounod's "Ave Maria" and an oblique in Schneckner's quartet. "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," Mrs. Rose Hoch Bauer sang De Kover's "Recessional," and the concluding piece was Hascomb's "Exit Him."

THE WHITE IS KING. Motto of the White Sewing Machine. Conspicuous at the Elks' Carnival in a Costly Exhibit. "The White is King." This statement is placed on walls and bridges from sea to sea to the other, and a vast army of loyal employees aim to back up the assertion that the White sewing machine is champion of the trade in its line. It has no second or third best, but is by all odds the best product of the kind ever turned out of any factory in any land. At the Elks' Carnival, if nowhere else on the face of the earth, "The White is King." No other company makes any display whatever, although a number of applications for space were registered. Barlett & Palmer, the local agents of the White, have spared neither pains nor money to make it most creditable showing in every particular. A large space, splendidly decorated, and the great variety of styles in machine combine to make a most pleasing effect. City Office: COR. SIXTH AND ALDER STREET, PORTLAND, OR. EDUCATIONAL.
