W. M. LADD ON MEDITATION.

He Addresses Large Audience of Men at Y. M. C. A. Building.

William M. Ladd addressed young men yesterday afternoon in the auditorium of the Young Men's Christian Association, taking as his subject, "Meditation." The fact that Mr. Ladd was to be heard in the role of speaker drew many interested men, both young and old, who filled the tarian Church, sang a tenor solo. After speaking of the Psalms as ex-cellent subjects of meditative thought and the perfection of lyric poetry, Mr. Ladd

"Men alone were created thinking beings, and, if you are not a thinking man, to what purpose are you a man at all? Meditation in every line brings real benefit. Men rarely meditate nowadays; they are always busy. In every study it is introspection and dwelling upon the thought that bring the best results. He is not the best student who reads the most books, but he that reads a few thoroughly. Nor shall he be so profound a scholar who takes down one ponderous volume after another as he who, reading little by little, digests what he learns and assimilates each sentiment to his heart by meditation.

"One of the best uses of meditation is rest. The time a man spends resting will renew his energy. If men could spare a little time every day from work for meditation and heart searching, they would not have so much need for a pro-longed vacation at stated times. "Meditation and prayer should always go together. Where there is meditation there must be prayer. Meditation is the best preparation for prayer, prayer is the best issue of meditation. It is only when prayer comes from the heart that it can be expected to reach the ear and heart of

PASTOR'S OPENING SERVICES.

Rev. W. H. Selleck Delivers First Sermon to Sunnyside M. E. Church.

Rev. W. H. Selleck, the new pastor of the Sunnyside Methodist Episcopal church, held his first services yesterday, and occupied the pulpit in the morning and evening. He came from Seattle dur-ing the week, and quickly formed many acquaintances. His home is the manse near the corner of East Morrison and East Thirty-fourth streets. All the services were attended by large congregations

At the morning hour Mr. Selleck preached on "God's Gift of Love to the World." Mr. Selleck spoke for half an hour on this text with force and at times with eloquence, commanding close attention. He said that he had never heard a sermon on that text except what he had preached himself. It was one of the greatest and most comprehensive texts in the entire Bible, and covered the whole plan of salvation. He compared it with the ocean to set for its breadth and depth. It demonstrated the love of who robs at the gaming-table, why not the man who robs by breaking into my house, or by holding me up at the point of a gun? Better righteous men walking on unpaved streets, than unrighteous men walking on the best streets in the total issues are involved, and to conduct

Senate. That is fortunate for the councity by iniquity is to retrograde into the days of the lottery and the dark past. "We claim to be advancing; the watchpublican in public life during the last half score of years. We owe to him more than to any one else such progress as has been made in the enlightened treatment of the Philippine question. He is the one leader of real influence who has seemed fully to realize the changed condition of the coun-try and the need of adapting the policy of his party to the change, and to have a rational plan to secure that adaptation. The chief aim of Senator Sponer in the Autumn campaign will be to put before the people the case of tariff revision and to defend the plan of a commission authorized to investigate and to recommend action. As this is the plan of the President, it is to be inferred that something the role of speaker drew many interested men, both young and old, who filled the room to overflowing. W. G. Hodsdon, a member of the choir of the First Uni-tarian Church, sang a tenor solo. After speaking of the Psalms as exthe tariff in Iowa and in Minnesota, the two strongest and most active Republi-can states, after Pennsylvania, is certainly significant. That it should be so con-ducted under the direct leadership of the President and of the most powerful and prominent of the Republican Senators is still more significant.

Had it not been for the accident to the President and his enforced return to Washington we should probably have had people for a change in the policy of their own party, while the Speaker of the House-at present the second great officer of the Government — abandoning public life in resentment at the mere sug-gestion of such change and in dismoy at the way it is accepted by the people of his state. As we remarked when the President made his striking speech at Logansport, the real meaning speech at Logansport, the real meaning of it was not in the mode of change proposed, but in the admission that change must come. This meaning is still plainer and more impressive, now that it is seen that the speech of the Decident Spooner was also engaged, and which he is now about to carry out. Whether the plan will result in any action by Congress remains to be seen. We have little con-fidence that it will. But it ought to be as clear as daylight to the Democrats that the only issue worth attention in this campaign is the tariff and its abuses.

Murderous Insane Man Killed.

MARINETTE, Wis., Oct. 5 .-- An insane man, who is supposed to have shot John Kausha, a fireman who was fatally wounded in his cab last night while the train was speeding along at 30 miles an hour, was killed 25 miles west of Wausa-kee. Otto Wenzet, a cook in a lumber camp, shet him as he was coming toward the camp. For a week past the entire country around America Balance country around Amerg, Pembine and Dunbar has been in a state of alarm over the presence of the insane man, whose identity is as yet unknown.

West to attend the convention.

To Form Central Union.

The principal object of this assembly is to perfect a union under the plans that were laid down at the national clonvention. Certain recommendations were made then which have been sent to all unions of the United States and an effort will be made to follow out these suggestions. The presence of the International Presi-dent is considered very favorable for this work, as he is better acquainted with the plan of work than any other man in the country, J. A. Madsen, Fourth Vice-President of the International organi-zation, is a member of the Portland union, and was present at the last national con-vention. He will make a report to the assembly and assist in the work of organizing the Northwest central body. This plan of having one central body in each section of the country the longshoremen consider a source of strength. They feel that, if there is a grievance in one piace, the rest will be able to help arrange an adjustment by reason of this attillation, while without this it would have to be done through the national center.

Great Strength of Union.

Hastings, Dora Holt, Miss Marguerite Holland, May When seen last night President Keefe said: "The convention has been called to promote a more perfect affinity be-tween the members of the ansociation scattered along the whole Pacific Coast. As to the work we will take up in the convention, I can tell you more tomor-row after the first session. This is the the noteworthy spectacle of the President and the foremost leader in Congress trav-ersing the Northwest, pleading with the the union. Our headquarters are in Detrolt, the center of our largest district, that of the great lakes, where we have 70,000 members. The Pacific Coast division numbers 30,000, and we also have the large district of the Atlantic Coast. The asso ciation was formed in 1882 and our mem-bership has grown amazingly since that time. I visited this city last Spring and am fairly well acquainted with the con ditions under which our men work here. In speaking of the convention held last July in Chicago, Mr. Keefe said that it was one of the most gratifying he had impressive, now that it is seen that the speech of the President was not a hasty expression, but a part of a deliberate plan of campaign in which he Speener was also engaged, and which he

Why Carmack Roared.

Chicago Inter-Ocean. One of Senator Carmack's Tennessee friends submits a new explanation of the Senator's violent attacks on our Philippine

They fear that if the tariff were made the campaign issue this Fall in Tennessee it would check the development of the iron and coal fields of that state and mili-

There has been for years a strong pro-tection sentiment in Tennessee. In 1888 the Republicans cast 46 per cent of the vote in the state; in 1892, 38 per cent, and in 1894 46 per cent giving their conditate in 1894, 46 per cent, giving their candidate for Governor a plurality. In 1896 they in-creased their per cent, in spite of the prominence given to the money question, In 1909 the expansion issue was made para-mount, but McKinley received 45 per cent of the total vote.
