REPORT OF FISH WARDEN

Van Dusen Gives Work Done at Fish Hatcheries This Season.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—In his monthly report, filed today, Master Fish Warden H. G. Van Dusen made a statement of the work done at each of the fish hatcheries and stations thus far this season.

At the Clackamas hatchery they got through taking eggs August 31, and only succeeded in getting 1,454,000. At the Salmon River hatchery only 1,003,000 eggs of the early chinook variety were secured, as previously reported.

At the Grand Ronde station they began getting eggs September 13, and up to September 27 had succeeded in taking 1,624,000. From reports received from this station we may expect a few more eggs, for they still have salmon in their traps for spawning purposes, and will be able to get a few more eggs, though no great additional quantity is expected.

At the Wilson River station they are virtually through taking eggs from the chinook variety of salmon. They began getting their eggs September 19, and finished up September 27, taking 153,000 eggs. No more chinook eggs will be taken.

On the Siuslaw only two attempts have been made to take eggs; September 13, 3300 were taken, September 23, 5300 were taken, making a total of 11,000.

On the Umpqua they began getting eggs September 6, and up to September 26 had succeeded in taking 25,000 eggs. At the same time they had a few salmon remaining between their racks from which eggs would be secured, but it would not increase the number reported very materially.
