EFFECT ON STOCK MARKET

PROBABLE STRIKE SETTLEMENT CAUSES OPTIMISTIC FEELING.

Immense Volume of Business With Material Gains in Many Shares of High-Priced Class.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The overnight developments in the coal strike situation aroused a cheerful sentiment in Wall Street today, and the opinion was expressed that the matters at issue were in a fair way of adjustment. The monetary situation was momentarily lost sight of in the optimistic feeling that prevailed at the opening, and stocks were eagerly bought at advances of from one to four points over yesterday's closing.

Recent speculative favorites, in which the pool liquidation had been heaviest, was most in demand, especially the coalers and trainscontinental stocks. Individual orders for blocks of from 1000 to 4000 shares were taken at advancing prices and trading was in enormous volume throughout. The readiness with which prices responded to the good news, combined with the appearance of London as a heavy buyer, encouraged the bull interests to remewed efforts in driving the short interests to remewed efforts in driving the short interests to cover. The inquiry embraced all classes of stocks, but the largest advances were centered in the high-priced class. Some comment was aroused over the fact that the active coalers did not advance proportionately more than other stocks, although the demand for them was heavier than at other points.

Early prices showed such handsome profit to the traders who bought early yesterday in the semi-demoralized market that they commenced to unload quickly. Commission-houses were well represented in the early demand, but they of the open of rising sales soon exhausted their orders and prices relapsed all around. Before non the opening substantial advances had been pretty generally reduced to a fraction and even cancelled in some important stocks.

The downward movement of prices was accelerated by a 12 per cent call money rate, which recalled to mind the fact that the monetary situation had to be reckoned with in an effort to create a bull market. Dealings then subsided into merely nominal proportions for a long time, but there was a attendity, and there was a large absorption of a reduction of about $12,000,000 from the corresponding date of last year.

In the final dealings the stock market commenced to feel the weight of the traders' profitaking sales, but the demand was sufficiently large to prevent much impression on prices and the closing was generally firm.

The bond market today strengthened with the course of stocks and was fairly active. Total sales, par value, $3,600,000. United
