

CLIPS TWO RECORDS

Onward Silver and Major Del Mar to the Front.

GOES AGAINST HIS OWN TIME

Two-Mile Trotting Race is Made in 4:28—Major Del Mar, a Gelding, Goes a Half in 1:01—Crescent Falls Against Time.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 23.—Two world's records were broken and another one tied, and Crescent Falls galloped to the lower limit of the driving park this afternoon. The exhibition of Crescent and Onward Silver were reserved for the end of the day's sport.

It was after 3 o'clock when Onward Silver, accompanied by a runner, appeared for his great effort to lower the two-mile trotting record of 4:29, made by himself last week at Lexington. On the second trial, the starter gave Hudson the word, and the trotter fairly flew around the first turn. Going down the back stretch, Onward Silver broke, but soon regained his stride. The half was reached in 1:00, and the three-quarters pole was passed in 1:41. Here the running horse set a hot pace to the wire, and the mile was made in 2:24. The mile and a half post was reached in 3:24. Here the runner again set a hot pace, and at the last quarter pole the time registered 3:54. Hudson began to urge the horse in the final run home, and when the wire was reached a new world's record was hung out—the time being 4:28. Both horse and driver received an ovation.

Crescent, with two runners, trotted a mile in 2:04 flat. In the diamond handicap, Major Del Mar trotted the first heat in 2:05, equalling the world's record for geldings in a half. In a third heat of the same race, in which Major Del Mar won handily in 1:01, which is another world record for the distance. Summary:

TO PLAY THE MEDICOS.

Pacific University Team Getting Ready for Saturday's Contest.

PACIFIC UNIVERSITY, Forest Grove, Oct. 23.—(Special).—The football team has been practicing steadily since its return from Eastern Washington, and will be in good shape to meet the Medical College here Saturday. Dye, who has played substitute so far this season, will go in as left end to take the place of Gwynn, who had his collar-bone broken during practice early in the week, and will be out of the game for the rest of the season. Although Gwynn has played a good game, it is not thought that this change will make any material difference in the play. Contracts have been made with the Oregon Agricultural College for the Thanksgiving game at Corvallis, and the team will meet the University of Oregon eleven at Eugene November 21. Games are also to be played with Albany, Chemawa and perting with the University of Washington.

Steps are being taken by university talent to put on a minstrel show, the proceeds to be used in defraying the expenses of the football team. The committee have been appointed by both the men's literary societies, the Gamma-Sigma and the Alpha Zeta, and the way in which the matter is being handled assures success.

A new heating apparatus is being installed in the gymnasium. Other features are being added, and a new departure is being made this year in the line of physical culture for the benefit of the university. Hitherto no systematic physical training has been open to the "co-eds," but this year the classes under the direction of Mr. Wilson have been largely attended by them.

WHITMAN BOYS GO HOME.

Defeated Football Players Spend a Day in Portland.

Coach Allen, Captain Crittenden, and 18 of the Sons of Marcus Whitman passed through the city yesterday en route to Walla Walla from Eugene. The Whitman boys had not had a really successful trip, but they were still game yesterday, and will put up some more good football before the season closes.

The Whitman boys arrived on the morning train from the university and spent the day at the Imperial hotel in the Spokane flyer last evening at 6:15 for Walla Walla. For a while there was some talk of the Washington men playing a return game with the Multnomah eleven next Saturday in Portland, but the negotiations are evidently off.

O. A. C. Eleven Bound for Seattle.

Coach Herbold, Captain Zerker and the football team of Oregon Agricultural College passed through Portland yesterday for Seattle, where they will play the University of Washington eleven on Saturday. The Oregon Agricultural College players believe they stand an even chance of winning from the Washingtonians.

LEAGUE MAGNATES CONFER.

National Baseball Association Honors W. H. Lucas.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—The members of the National Association of Baseball Leagues began their annual meeting at the Fifth Avenue Hotel today. The delegates, during the opening session, listened to the annual reports of President P. T. Powers, of the National Association, and elected officers and a new National board, and decided to appoint a rules committee of their own. Among those who were present were W. H. Lucas, of Spokane, Washington, president of the Pacific Northwest League, and D. E. Dugdale, of Seattle. Secretary Farrell's report proposes that a player reported for drunkenness or disorderly conduct should be suspended for a certain number of games, and that a player declared ineligible to play with the National Association club for the remainder of the season. Among other recommendations made in Mr. Farrell's report were: "I would be advisable to consider a modification of the 'farming' rule with the idea of establishing a stated penalty for its violation if it is to be continued."

"It is recommended that the National agreement be amended so as specifically to state the period of time granted club-owners in which to accept a player and return a claim upon a player's services."

"I would be advisable to consider a modification of the 'farming' rule with the idea of establishing a stated penalty for its violation if it is to be continued."

Letters were read from John T. Brush and James Hart, suggesting an affiliation between the National League and the National Association. Mr. Farrell, however, declared after the meeting that the association would remain independent of any other organization.

Mr. Powers and Mr. Farrell were both unanimously re-elected president and secretary-treasurer.

The National board has M. H. Sexton, of Rock Island, as chairman, and W. H. Lucas, of Spokane, as a member. Adjournment was taken till tomorrow.

Ambassador Speaks for Jockeys. PARIS, Oct. 23.—Ambassador Porter called on M. Delcasse, the Foreign Minister, today, and made a friendly suggestion that the authorities defer the exclusion of certain American jockeys and bookmakers from the French race course until further investigation. This action refers particularly to Scott and Burns and J. Reiff, and others may indirectly share in any favorable action which the government may take. Reiff presented his case to Consul-General Godelly, and also employed a lawyer, but official action in the matter has not been taken. It is understood that the French authorities are considering what steps it is possible to take in order to defer the jockey's exclusion from the French course.

NEW RULE FOR CHEMAWA.

Regulation for Non-Reservation Indians Schools.

OREGONIAN NEWS-BUREAU, Washington, Oct. 21.—The Commissioner of Indian Affairs has prepared new regulations governing non-reservation schools, which are something of a surprise and which, if properly enforced, will tend to facilitate the work of these large institutions. The regulations are as follows: "In the Northwest that is affected by the order, being the only non-reservation school in that section. The Commissioner's regulations provide: 'In order to avoid confusion, you are hereby directed that hereafter no superintendent of a non-reservation school shall enroll pupils for less than three years in terms of the school year. You will have the parents, guardians, or next of kin sign a consent blank to the transfer of such pupil for the period stipulated, which paper must be preserved in the records of the school. No promise must be made to any parents or others that pupils enrolled will be returned home during vacation period, and in no case will the school be held responsible for the return of any pupils to return home during vacation without special permission of this office, and full data must be submitted with your request showing the necessity for such return. It is further directed that you will, if possible, enroll the pupils for periods of four or five years, but under no circumstances must they be taken on for a less term than that above indicated. In the collection of pupils you will be careful to enroll only those who are sound and healthy and have the requisite amount of Indian blood. A child showing 1-16 or less Indian blood, whose parents live on an Indian reservation Indian fashion, and whose child if debarred from the Government school course, obtain an education, may be permitted in the reservation day and boarding schools, but it is preferable that it should not be transferred to a non-reservation school without special permission from this office. Children showing one-eighth or less Indian blood, whose parents do not live on an Indian reservation, whose home is among white people, where the churches and schools, who are presumed to have adopted the white man's manners and customs, and are to all intents and purposes white people, are debarred from enrollment in the Government non-reservation and reservation schools. Superintendents in all cases where doubt exists as to the amount of Indian blood of a child proposed for transfer should fully satisfy themselves of the facts by affidavits of reliable persons, which affidavits must be kept on file at the school. Inspecting officers, when on duty at a school visited to make a personal visit of all pupils, and to report those who are under the limitations of this circular. Such pupils if collected after the date of the circular will be returned at the personal expense of the superintendent. A pupil who has been regularly enrolled in a non-reservation school and is not taken to a non-reservation school for cause from a non-reservation school must not be enrolled in any other school."

HORTICULTURE IN OREGON

WHEN YOU BUY A PRUNE

FUTURE OF THE STATE LARGELY DEPENDS ON IT.

Valuable Suggestions on Management of Industry—Training in College Needed.

GOSHEN, Oct. 21.—(To the Editor).—In your issue of the 14th ult. you have an editorial on apple orchards, and in an issue or two before, a report of the Hood River Fair.

Not one word that is in either the editorial or report of the fair would I attempt to controvert or to minimize its importance, but, looking to the future of Oregon, the commercial section of the state, and the future of the state, I am of the opinion that it must be not only produced, but also the products of our orchards and of our small fruits. There are but few places in the United States where apples of some sort are not produced, and, except in years of great scarcity, it is not at all probable that our ordinary varieties of apples can be shipped and leave even a meager profit to the producer. That is manifestly true, when an especially low rate has been made to Chicago and the points west of there, in order to enable the orchardists in Southern Oregon to realize at least the cost of production on a large part of their fruit.

Such apples as the Yellow Newton Pippin, which, so far as the writer is informed, is produced commercially in but few localities in the United States, via Albemarle County, Virginia; Hood River and Rogue River Valleys, in Oregon; and in the Pajaro Valley and Sonoma County, California, are, with good quality, the fruit of the fruit, always command a paying price, because of the few places and limited area in which it can be produced, and the excellent characteristics of the fruit itself, which fact that in London it is the most highly esteemed of all apples, and brings a fancy price.

Where Future of Oregon Lies.

The great future of Oregon horticulture, it seems to me, is the prune industry. It is the only one in which the fruit is so easily and so cheaply produced, and the sour cherry and the black cap (Gregg) raspberry.

Today I well know that our prune industry is under a cloud, caused by the uncertainty and irregularity of our crop due to the unfortunate and almost universal selection of the Italian prune as the standard and main variety cultivated. Not only in Oregon, but wherever cultivated, it has proven itself an unreliable and fickle producer and unworthy of confidence from a commercial standpoint, under the constitution of weakness of the tree itself, also, the Italian prune in the commercial world does not rank in price with the Sweet Premier, size for size.
