

LANE IS WELL UP

Pardee Has Hot Race for Governor.

REST OF THE TICKET IS SAFE

Republicans Reduce Their Estimates to 5000.

REST OF THE TICKET IS SAFE

Loud and Coombs Are Defeated for Congress, but Other Republicans Win and the Legislature Is Carried.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—At 1 A. M. returns were still scattering. Those at hand indicate that if Franklin K. Lane, the Democratic nominee for Governor, maintains his present gains, he will be elected over Pardee, Rep., by a small plurality. The Republican committee has reduced its claim for Pardee from 10,000 to 5000. Lane estimates his majority in San Francisco at 15,000. With the exception of Governor, the Republicans will probably elect their entire state ticket. The Republicans have lost one and probably three members of Congress. Loud, in the Fifth, is defeated by W. J. Wynne, the Union Labor candidate, and Gillette, in the First and Coombs, in the Second, are running behind their ticket. The remaining five members of Congress are, according to present figures, Republican. Lane, Dem., for Governor, is running ahead of his ticket. He will carry the City of San Francisco by 10,000 plurality, and is developing strength throughout the state. The Legislature will undoubtedly be Republican. The vote on Representatives in the Fourth and Fifth Districts is close. Returns at hand indicate that Kahn, Rep., will be elected by a small plurality. In 239 precincts in this city incomplete returns give Pardee, Rep., 218; Lane, Dem., 265.

Complete returns from 50 precincts outside of San Francisco give Pardee 375, Lane 327. The same precincts gave McKinley 382, Bryan 355.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—Complete returns from 266 precincts outside of San Francisco give Pardee 392, Lane 297. The same precincts gave McKinley 944, Bryan 762. About half the vote in San Francisco was counted at 1 A. M. It stands: Pardee 14,005, Lane 13,116.

URGES A PACIFIC CABLE

Greely's Report Also Praises Work of Signal Corps in Alaska.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The annual report of General A. W. Greely, Chief Signal Officer of the Army, says the corps has actually built and put in working order in Alaska 112 miles of land lines and submarine cables within a period of 24 months. The accomplishment of such results, he says, would be most creditable to officers and men concerned therein if Alaska was an ordinary country, for this work involved not only surveying, construction and installation of its length of line, but also involved the manufacture and inspection of enormous quantities of material, instruments, etc., many hundreds of tons in weight, and their transportation over distances ranging from 4000 to 7000 miles.

When one considers, however, the exceedingly difficult conditions which exist within the territory he says the work must be considered simply phenomenal, as in all parts of Alaska traversed by this great length of line there are not a dozen miles of wagon road, and much of the region is unexplored. Of the work in the Philippines the report says: "The magnificent system of telegraph lines and cables was very largely constructed and installed under Colonel Allen. This system, increased during the fiscal year by 2600 miles, consisted on June 30, 1902, of 21 submarine cables 1286 miles in length, and land lines 5108 miles in length, making an aggregate of 6394 miles. It is almost needless to say that the work of construction and installation of these lines in the archipelago demanded talents of the highest order. The system stands today a monument to the energy, skill and resourcefulness of the American soldier."

CUBAN TREATY TAKEN UP

Minister Quesada Discusses the Matter With Secretary Hay.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Senator Quesada, the Cuban Minister, called upon Secretary Hay today to discuss the new Cuban treaty. The document itself has not yet arrived in Washington, but it is expected here probably tomorrow, when it will be taken up and pushed to a conclusion.

Cost of Temporary Census Work.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The cost of the temporary work of the 12th census, according to the director's annual report, was $1,848,000, or an average cost of 15 cents per capita of the population of the United States. The total cost of the work in connection with the 12th census was $4,358,676, or an average cost of 37 cents per capita. A total of 23,379 persons were employed in the census, and 2,920,000 bulletins were issued. The director reports that he will later submit a more effective plan for securing the final information upon which rests the whole structure of statistical work at each census.

Special Immigration Inspectors.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 4.—Inspector Walchorn, of the United States Immigration Board, left for Vancouver tonight. He will appoint 50 special inspectors between that point and Montreal to prevent undesirable immigrants from entering the United States by way of the Western boundaries.

President Accepts His Resignation.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The President has accepted the resignation of Second Lieutenant Bissell, Second Cavalry.

Rev. D. Villiger Seriously Ill.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Rev. Burchard Villiger, of St. Joseph College, is seriously ill here, where a Philadelphia dispatch to the Times. His physicians have all hope of his recovery. Father Villiger, who is in charge of St. Joseph's College, is the oldest and one of the most prominent Jesuits in the United States. He was formerly superior of the missions on the Pacific Coast.

PROHIBITIONIST SHOT.

Hale Johnson Meets Death in an Altercation Over a Bill.

EFFINGHAM, Ill., Nov. 4.—Hale Johnson, a Prohibition leader of National reputation, and Vice-Presidential candidate on the Prohibition ticket in 1896, was shot and killed by Harry Harris this afternoon at Bogota, Jasper County, 30 miles from here. Mr. Johnson, who was practicing law at Newton, the county seat, went to Bogota to collect an account on which judgment had already been rendered against Harris.

An altercation occurred between Johnson and Harris at the Harris home, and the latter secured a shotgun and fired at Johnson at close range, striking Johnson in the face and causing instant death. Immediately after the shooting Harris jumped into Johnson's buggy and attempted to escape, but was arrested by a Deputy Sheriff. Johnson's body was taken to his home in Newton, and Harris was conveyed to jail in the same place. Johnson was the nominee of the Prohibition party in this state for Governor in 1896, but later accepted the nomination for the Vice-Presidency.

TRUSTED CLERK A DEFAULTER.

Young Man Marries and Then Flees From Scene of Crime.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—John Lawrence O'Brien, for several years confidential clerk in the employ of Frank Hume, a local wholesale grocer, is accused of being a defaulter in the sum of $4600. O'Brien was married on October 1st to Miss Della O'Day, a clerk in the Treasury Department, and he left the city.

RE-ELECTED GOVERNOR OF NEW YORK.

BENJAMIN B. ODELL, REPUBLICAN.

ostensibly for New York to spend his honeymoon. After being gone a few days Mr. Hume received a letter written by O'Brien before his departure, the delivery of which was delayed by his request. He called attention to the discrepancies in his accounts. He is supposed to have gone to London, and the detective bureau will make an effort to locate him there.

CLUBMEN NOT IN MURDERS.

Prominent Boston Man Is Arrested, But Is Soon Found Innocent.

BOSTON, Nov. 4.—In connection with the 15 murderous assault cases which have occurred in Cambridge, Brookline and Somerville in the last few months, two of which resulted fatally, the state police today arrested Alan Mason, of Boston, a member of the piano manufacturing firm of Mason & Hamlin, a prominent clubman, and a Harvard graduate. State Officers Proctor and Dunham went to the residence of Mason in Newbury street, today and searched it thoroughly. Nothing was found which would indicate that Mason was connected with any of the mysterious assaults.

SOUTH AFRICAN GRANT.

English Civil Service Estimate Is for $40,000,000 Additional.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—A civil service estimate has been issued placing the additional amount required as a grant to aid the Transvaal and Orange River Colony during the present fiscal year at $40,000,000. The sum is $25,000,000 to be granted to the Transvaal, and $15,000,000 to be used for loans provided by the terms of surrender to aid in retreating the colonies.

Japanese Budget Estimates.

YOKOHAMA, Nov. 4.—The new budget estimates the revenue at $19,000,000, and the expenditures at $31,000,000.

Montgomery Out of Quarantine.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The Commandant at San Juan reports that the Montgomery, on which a case of yellow fever had appeared, is out of quarantine, and will be ready for sea Friday.

Seal Hunting.

Hunting the seal from the icy, storm-swept coast of Newfoundland is not sport; it is toil, weary, in part, the Newfoundland leader wins his scanty measure of bread. The hunt is a slaughter, dull and bloody—a leap into the whirling, scurrying pack and the swinging and thrust of an iron-shod gaff; a merciless racing of blows, with a silent waste of ice, all splashed red, at the end of it. There is no sport

REPUBLICANS GET THE STATE BY 3000.

REPUBLICANS GET THE STATE BY 3000.

FRENCH GOES TO CONGRESS

Morrison Easily Defeats Hunt for Governor.

REPUBLICAN SENATOR CERTAIN

Legislature Will Be With National Administration by Thirteen on Joint Ballot, and Will Retire Heitfeld.

BOISE, Idaho, Nov. 5.—While exact figures from yesterday's election are not yet at hand, enough is known to assure

BEST WIFE AND MOTHER.

Mrs. Robert J. Burdette Defends the Club Woman.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—"If the club woman does not make the best companion for her husband and the best comrade for her boy, there is either something wrong with the club or with the woman's view," said Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, first vice-president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, in a lecture before the West End Club yesterday afternoon. "Club life for women should prepare them for making better wives and mothers," declared Mrs. Burdette, "for the club has not accomplished its mission." Mrs. Burdette also scored the women in general for being responsible for the mad rush for wealth, which, she declared, was the greatest menace to perfect domestic happiness and the highest ideal of married life.

TO PREVENT RICE FAMINE

Philippine Commissioners Take Steps to Prevent Distress.

MANILA, Nov. 4.—The Philippine Commissioners have taken firm measures to prevent the rice famine, which is threatening many provinces. They today advised the election of six out of seven members of the Legislative Council, and purchase and transportation of rice to the sufferers at a cash price covering the cost. Governor Taft will control the purchases and sales.

YATES IS BETTER.

Governor of Illinois' Condition Is Now Satisfactory.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 4.—Dr. L. C. Taylor, Governor Yates' physician, stated tonight that Governor Yates' condition had improved, and that the delirium which he had experienced from the rise of fever on Monday had almost passed away. His temperature tonight was 101, and his condition is considered satisfactory.

Coming of the "Natural Waist."

The men who are interested in woman's apparel may be divided into three classes—those who make money out of it, those who spend money for it, and those who claim to be interested in French fashion. He has also appointed committees to revise the Latin, Greek, English and German grammars.

Vote in Helena.

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 4.—Nine precincts out of 14 in the City of Helena give the following totals: For Congress—Evans, Dem., 431; Dixon, Rep., 617; For Associate Justice, 800; For State Justice—Leslie, Dem., 440; Holloway, Rep., 92; Cameron, Soc., 73.

Seal Hunting.

It is Not Sport, But Hard and Dangerous Toil.

Hunting the seal from the icy, storm-swept coast of Newfoundland is not sport; it is toil, weary, in part, the Newfoundland leader wins his scanty measure of bread. The hunt is a slaughter, dull and bloody—a leap into the whirling, scurrying pack and the swinging and thrust of an iron-shod gaff; a merciless racing of blows, with a silent waste of ice, all splashed red, at the end of it. There is no sport

In this, nor is there any fear of hurt for the harp seal and whines like a child, even while the gaff is falling; but the chase is beset with multitudinous and dreadful dangers, which are seldom foreshadowed and are past all fending off—perils so vast and uncompromising and wilful that escape from their descent is by the very least chance. The wind gains on the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains; then the Newfoundland takes his gaff and his grub and his goggles and sets out from his little harbor, making the start at midnight that he may come up with the pack at dawn. But the wind which sweeps the ice into holes and jams it against the coast, an immeasurable, jagged expanse of it, interspersed with plains