STRANGE VARIETY OF PEAR TREE. A small bough of a pear tree with an extraordinary burden of fruit has been displayed in the window at the permanent exhibit on Washington street during the past week and has attracted much atten-tion. The bough is only about an Inch in tion. The bough is only about an inch in diameter at the butt, and in a length of 23 inches, to where it branches into twigs. carries 28 pears, which weigh about 20 pounds. A number more were lost in the handling and transportation of the bough. This remarkable growth comes from an old pear tree in an orcherd at Kinton, on the Tualatin River, owned by G. E. Quackenbush. This orchard is on what was the homestead of Judge Humphrey, of Washington County, and the trees were probably planted from 40 to 50 years ago. The orchard had fallen into bad condition, and in bringing it into order, several large pear trees were found, among them the one from which the limb mentioned was cut. The fruit, though of good size and appearance, never appeared to get ripe, and so had not been harvested and kept, but had been fed to hogs. Finalone stored some of it for the Winly some one stored some of it for the win-ter, and it was found that the pears kept till April and were then most delicious, An effort was made to ascertain the name of this pear. Specimens were sent out to fruitgrowers in California and elsewhere and also to the Pomological Department at Washington, but no one knew the pear, which seemed to belong to a forgotten species. The pears are about the size of the Fall Butter, and in appearance re-semble the Winter Nellis. The variety should be very valuable on account of its keeping properties, and some effort should be made to perpetuate it by grafting, etc. Most pears decay very soon after they have ripened, and a species that will keep all Winter and come out sound and delicious in the Spring is worth preserving. THREE LEGS ON ONE TURKEY .- In a coop of turkeys received by a commission man yesterday was one which has three legs. The whole number are visible between the stats of the coop, the extra one stand-ing at a slight angle from the two others, but perfect in form down to the toe nails. The keeper of a small boarding-house ex-The keeper of a small boarding-house ex-pressed a desire to purchase the turkey on account of the extra leg, and said he would like to have a whole coop of them, and would like them to have four legs, if possible. When asked why he desired so legs on turkeys, he said he always liked the leg of a turkey, and he had three boarders, and when there was turkey for dinner he always asked them what part they preferred, and all three of them al-ways wanted a leg, or "drumstick." Of course, only two of them could be suited, and he never got a drumstick. The last time all three of the boarders asked for leg off one bird he lost his temper and suid he guessed they must think he was carving a centipede. After buying the three-legged turkey he found that the extra leg grew out of another one at the knee joint, and would be gone when the flowl was put on the table, and so after all the turkey had only two legs and a WEATHER BAD FOR FISHING. - The weather of late has not been very favorable for trout and saimon fishing, but it has been promised that a rise in the river would make the fish more plentiful. A day or two ago a man came to town from near the mouth of the Clackamas and reported to fishermen that the dam across the Clackamas to retain saimon to furnish eggs for the hatchery had been carried out by the rain on Sunday, and that a large accumulation of salmon eggs had been swept down over the Clackamas rapids and silverside salmon and salmon trout had collected in vast numbers to feed on them, and that there was great fishing at the rapids. None of the fishermen could understand how any large vorable for trout and salmon fishing, but understand how any large will be promptly attended to by con amount of salmon eggs could accumulate in the pool above the dam where the salmon are retained, and no one has gone cating with Superintendent Gardner or by calling up telephone East 5, or at the salmon are retained, and no one has gone up to make a slaughter of trout or silver-sides at the rapids. One devoted fisher-man caught seven salmon trout and the worst wetting he ever had last Sunday a mile or so above the city, but there is not likely to be much fishing done until the weather is finer.

FINED FOR SWEARING .- John Sax, a tailor, took the witness-stand yesterday in the Municipal Court to testify that D. Bolteman had called him a vile name and had otherwise abused him. The two men had a dispute over the amount of rent owing for Sax's use of the store he oc-cupled. Sax stated: "The defendant said to me: 'You go to church on Sunday, and you are a —.' I did not call him any names. Oh, no. But I want him punished." "I went to collect the rent," explained Bolteman. "The landlady had served Sax with a legal paper to get out, and Sax invited me to go outside with him. He was insulting and called me a him. He was insulting and called me a bad name, and I said: 'You're another.' But I did not awear at him." A neutral witness, J. Lockington, was called upon to give his version of the affray, and he said: "Judge, one man was a bad as another. They both called each other names." "That's what I thought," commented Municipal Judge Hogue." Bolteman is fined $10."

WEATHER FOR NOVEMBER.—Forecast Official Edward A. Beals has issued a statement of the weather which will probably prevail over the North Pacific Ocean dur-ing the month of November. The bulletin is not in the nature of a forecast, but is based upon the average character of the weather over that area for the present month. The bulletin says: "No-vember is a stormy month on the North Pacific, Cold northeasterly winds sweep from the China Sea along the Aslatic coast to the China Sea, where they con-nect with the monsoon system of winds. The wet season in the Philippine Islands draws to a close and typhoons are rarely encountered in Aslatic waters. In the latitude of the Hawaiian Islands the sea-son for southwest storms begins. AT THE THEATERS

WORK ON WHITE HOUSE ROAD.—So much grading was done during the past season in widening and leveling the White House road that it was feared by many that it would be impossible to get the necessary amount of macadamizing done to keep the road where it had been cut down in passable condition during the rainy season. The County Commissioners, however, never ceased in their efforts to get the necessary macadamizing done.

They have a very good quarry and rock crusher at the foot of the hill not far from the White House. Teams have been kept at work hauling crushed rock from this quarry. Now a strip 16 feet wide, which will enable two teams to pass, has been macadamized with one coating nearly the whole length of the grading that was done south of the cemetery. The road being now 80 feet wide, it will not be necessary to macadamize more than 30 feet in the center, leaving a speedway for will be attended to in due time. The Driving Association contemplates sprink-ling the whole White House road with crude oil next Summer, and if this produces the effect it is expected to, the road will be in fine condition for a pleasure drive hereafter. When Kelly street is opened through the Terwilliger tract, about 250 feet to the White House road, pleasure carriages will all travel that street, as the grade is pretty steep at the south end, and heavy teams will not face it, but will travel on Macadam street, leaving Kelly street free for the pleasure carriages, and thus doing away with the worst thing pleasure drivers had to contend with in getting out to or back from the White House road. If all goes well, there will be a fine pleasure drive and speedway on that road next Summer.

CHANGES IN THE COMMISSION DISTRICT.

—A man who worked among the produce commission-houses on Front street for several years and who went East about a year ago returned here several days ago. He of course took a spin around among the Front-street commis-sion-houses the first thing, and says he never was more surprised in his life. He did, not know where he was, the appearance of everything was so changed. When he worked there it was not safe for a decently dressed person to walk through the commission district, the sidewalk being so fifthy with decaying vegetables and rubbish and the stores and street correspond-ingly uninviting in appearance. Now there are good cement sidewalks, which, as well as the street, are kept as clean and neat as possible, and the stores are cleaned up and their contents neatly arranged, and women can pass through the commission district without having their dresses spoiled. Since he went East he says he has looked through the commis-sion districts of a number of cities, and did not see one so neat and clean as the Portland commission men now have their district. He was told that civic improve-ment is the order of the day in Portland

BILL POSTING CASE ON TRIAL.-Argument was resumed before Municipal Judge Hogue yesterday in the case against W. H. Wright and Ed Blumenthal, charged with a violation of the ordinance governing bill posting. The complaint read that the defendants "did paste and affix by tacking a certain notice, bill or poster upon a fence or inclosure on the east side of Fifth street, between Flanders and Glisan streets, October 12." The defend-ants' lawyer argued that the ordinance under which prosecution is brought is too was so heavy and the wind so violent last Sunday that several duck hunters left their blinds and went to "the house," abandoning the best shooting of the sea-they flew awhile again, and again tried swimming. The rain was so heavy that the ducks could not tell whether they not know whether to swim or fly. Cap-tain Riley thought that a man who had

"Finnigan's Ball." Conner Casey E. F. Gallagher Fred Austin Widdle Garriety J. J. Flynn Kittle CaseyFannie Trumball Timothy FinneganJ. J. Barrett

This farce, now at Cordray's, is most evidently put together with the sole object of waking howling hilarity. Scene after scene comes on without any cue except the need for another laugh. Plot, scenery and all the usual adjuncts have been thrown to the winds. It is simply a roar-

Mr. Connor Casey, as depicted by Mr. Gallagher, is a smooth Irishman with a really fine voice. In fact, he did not sing half so often as he should have. His good humor and his transient wit proved a titillating stimulus to the slower mind of Finnigan. Together they always proved themselves equal to any emergency and generally came off triumphant, so far as raising a laugh went. Mr. Flynn's Widdie Garriety was marked especially by some excellent dancing. Otherwise she was somewhat of a vixenish female. Interspersed are some choruses that have the genuine old-time ring, and the dearly-loved movement frequently missed in shows of this kind. The girls all seem in shows of this kind. The girls all seem to be imbued with the idea of getting just as much comedy as is possible out of their lines. All are good performers. "Finnigan's Ball" tonight and tomorrow, both of the green of the lines. both afternoon and night.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

Herrmann Opens Tonight. Tonight at the Marquam Grand Theater Herrmann the Great, one of the most ciever of entertainers, will open an en-gagement of two nights with a popularpriced matinee tomorrow at 2:30 o'clock. Herrmann offers an entertainment of prestidigitation that will thoroughly mystify and delight his audience. One of the most commendable points of the enter-tainment this season is the enterprise and originality displayed by Herrmann in inventing something new and replacing all his old favorites with new and startling magic phenomena, built along novel lines and attractively presented. He will be assisted by the musical Goolmans, who will play popular and classical selections of music on various instruments.

The Baker Next Week.

At the Baker the Neill Stock Comjany will be seen all next week with Sunday natinee, in the great comedy succes 'The Senator.' Mr. Charles Wynga will play the part of Senator Rivers, the character in which William Crane made such a tremendous hit. This comedy is one of the best of the kind ever written, and it will give the Neill Stock Company another chance to show the wonderful versatility of the members and at the same time give opportunities for elabo-rate stage settings for which the productions at The Baker have become so pop-ular. "The Senator" abounds in comedy of the highest class. At the same time the sentiment of the play is pleasing. The sale of seats is already very large for every night next week. The dresses worn broad and that the owner of the property can do what he likes with his own, so long as the biliboard, etc., is within his property line. The advance sale of seats, which opens omorrow (Saturday) morning at 10 clock, for "A Poor Relation," Sol Smith Russell's famous play, which will be pre-sented at the Marquam Opera-House next Tuesday and Wednesday nights, promises to be unusually large, but this is generally the case wherever the play is seen.

> Sale for "Over the Fence." This morning at 10 o'clock the advance sale of seats for the coming of that won-derful laugh producer "Over the Fence," opens at the Marquam Grand Theater, the comedy will be seen here in its en-tire production on Monday, November 19, for one performance only. This latest comedy offering, written by C. Herbert Kerr, author and composer of "The Beauty Doctor," is in three acts, abounding with bright, witty dialogue, catchy songs and new and novel musical numbers, pretty dances, and produced by a competent company of players, including a handsome and well-trained chorus.

As to Wet Feet

Probably there is no caution given by a doctor to his patients which is so important or so constantly repeated as the command to a girl not to get her feet wet.

A long train of ills follows upon wet feet, and the health of many a woman has been undermined by neglect of this.

With women wet feet are not the result of storms-for then rubbers are worn. They are the result of unexpected showers when no rubbers are at hand. The best protection is a pair of "Queen Quality" water-proof shoes-light in weight, water-tight as shoes can be made, with absolutely damp-proof sole. They are a sure safeguard against danger of wet pavements.
