BERKELEY'S SLIGHT ADVANTAGE

Loss of Smith Will Weaken California Team, but Good Man Will Fill His Position—Players More Experienced Than Stanford.

Illinois and Minnesota, at Minneapolis. Annapolis and La Fayette, at Annapolis. Amherst and Williams, at Amherst.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—(Special.)

On the eve of the intercollegiate football game between the University of California and Stanford, the former has a slight advantage over its opponent, though not so great as was to be expected at the beginning of the season. The California team is better known to the public because of the effect of his tremendous line smashes in helping to pile up a score, and of his mastery displayed in keeping down a rival's score, but even more because the California eleven had built itself around him and relied upon him with child-like faith for the source of the "spirit" with which to win a victory.

ACADEMIC TEAMS TO MEET.

Hill Military and Portland Academy Eleven Will Contest Today. For a second time this season the teams from Portland Academy and Hill Military met on the field for a contest. The game was held at the University of California eleven since that event. This explains probably the fierce fight. The Hill team was organized to retain the player when it was evident that he was ineligible.

CORNELL MUST BACK DOWN.

Landon Welcomes a Crew to Henley, but Will Have to Be Outwitted. LONDON, Nov. 7.—Referring to the possibility of Cornell University sending a crew to compete at the Henley regatta next year, the Daily Telegraph this morning says: "The Cornell crew will be warmly welcomed at Henley, but the crew must be well advised not to allow the prominence to their professional coach, Mr. Courtney, which he enjoyed upon the occasion of his last visit. Mr. Courtney's attitude toward the Leander crew has not been and it need not be forgiven. Nobody at Henley wishes to have anything to do with his methods of management. Cornell's captain can do everything that is required, and every one will wish him the best of luck."

Boxing Match at Rainier.

RAINIER, Ore., Nov. 7.—(Special.)—A boxing match has been advertised to take place here Saturday night, between Kid Swanson, of Portland, and Frank Freeman, of Oregon City. The better element of the town is endeavoring to prevent the boxing match taking place, claiming that it is a violation of the state law against prizefighting. Those favoring the boxing match are determined to see the event pulled off. There is considerable interest in the matter.

Moran Knocks Out Farren.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 7.—Toby Moran, 105, of Philadelphia, knocked out Jim Farren, 108, of this city tonight in the fourth round of their round bout, before the Eureka Athletic Club. From the call of time, Farren did all the fighting, but none of his blows told on the sturdy little Philadelphia fighter, who waited an opportunity and landed a right-handed blow on the point of Farren's jaw, after two minutes and 46 seconds' fighting in the fourth.

Turner Knocks Queenan Out.

SEATTLE, Nov. 7.—Rufe Turner knocked Perry Queenan out in the eighth round here tonight. A right jolt to the jaw did the trick.

St. Louis Wins on Foul.

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—Dave Sullivan, of New York, was awarded the decision on a foul over Jimmy Briggs, of Chelsea, in the eighth round, before the Criterion Athletic Club, tonight, and the boxing wound up on the verge of a free fight, in which most of the spectators were following Dan Donnelly, the referee, and Sullivan. Briggs had all the better of the match, repeatedly staggering Sullivan with punches to the jaw. In the sixth and seventh rounds Sullivan had to clinch to save himself. In the eighth, Briggs landed the clinch, who waded in, and hit the stomach, Sullivan doubled up, claiming he was fouled. He staggered to his corner and sat down. Before a decision was given Sullivan rushed back and resumed the fight. Briggs again landed heavy blow, and Sullivan cried foul and was given the decision. Sullivan went to his corner and then rushed back and tried to strike Briggs. By this time the crowd had swarmed into the ring, and only cool heads prevented a general mix-up.

Pony Again Equals Record.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 7.—The world's record for pony hurdle-jumping, of 5 feet 3 inches, made last night at the horse show by the pony Kruger, was equaled by the pony again tonight. Among the prize-winners tonight was the High School horse, Limestone Belle, owned by O. R. Woodward, Kansas City.

SHAMROCK ON NEW LINES

CHALLENGER WILL EMBODY RADICAL DEPARTURES.

Pike and Watson Convinced They Have Made a Discovery Which Means a Faster Yacht.

GLASGOW, Nov. 7.—The Associated Press understands that in the Shamrock III will be embodied some radical departures in the matter of yacht construction which have not appeared in any previous challengers. These changes are said to be due to an accidental discovery made during the trials of the Shamrock II, and the Shamrock III, which convinced Designer Watson that there had been a fundamental error in the construction of all the recent challengers. This discovery was made too late to admit of the remodeling of the Shamrock II, but when its nature was explained to Sir Thomas Lipton it had great weight in deciding him to try for the America's cup a third time. Both Designers Pike and Watson are convinced that they possess solid data upon which they will be able to build a ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 7.—The bad condition of the trunk today at the Piedmont Park prevented anything like a record race between Cresceus and Bobby Walthour. Cresceus did not go against time, on account of the muddy track.

MANY BOXERS SLAIN.

Leaders Among Those Executed and Further Trouble Is Improbable. VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 7.—Mail advices received from the Orient include official reports from Kwei Chun, ex-Viceroy of Szechuan, detailing the recent Boxer outbreak there. After relating the incident leading up to the destruction of the churches in the two districts, and the murder of many native converts, the report says:

"Several regiments of troops were sent to the disturbed places, and besides slaying 200 or 300 of the insurgents, the troops succeeded in capturing several who were brought to Chengtu and decapitated. Contracts for 400 Boxers had assembled in Hwalang Hsien, Chintang Hsien and Chienchow where they occupied the market towns, and killed as many captives of the train bands as they could get hold of. A small force was sent to the Boxers to exert them to disperse. I did not take stringent measures on this occasion, because I feared that among the Boxers there might be many fanatical strikers, who were simply misled to do evil, but who were wrongly punished by the Boxers. A fight followed, and 200 Boxers were killed and the others driven back. The force sent was obliged to return."

The report describing the attack on Chengtu, where three regiments and 600 troops had assembled for defense says: "The Boxers attacked the imperial troops in the outskirts of Chengtu, and a hot battle followed, which lasted for a whole night, with the result that between 400 and 500 hundred of the rebels were slain, about 1000 were dispersed, and the rest retreated to Chingtangshan, where they burned the churches and put many native converts to death. When the imperial troops were dispatched to Chingtangshan, the Boxers proceeded to Hsiao Chin Ping, where they joined forces with other insurgents. A battle was fought there, and 300 Boxers were put to the sword. Defeated there, the Boxers fled to the hills at Suchiwan, where they found refuge for the time being, but reinforcements of imperial troops arrived and marched against the rebels in Suchiwan in three different directions, slaying about 1400 of them and captured 1300. The Boxers were then sent to the spot after undergoing a formal trial."

Concluding, the report says:

"Although there still exists elements of disorder, there is not much to be feared from the Boxers, because all the rebel chiefs have been exterminated."

Two People Have Close Call—Origin of Blaze Unknown. NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 8.—Fire, which was discovered in the Grand Opera House, one of Nashville's leading theaters, at an early hour this (Saturday) morning, gutted the building, entailing a loss estimated at $50,000. The Boyle Stock Company gave a performance last night, but the house had been closed several hours when the fire was discovered, and the entire theater, including the Boyle, who occupied apartments in the building, had a narrow escape from the flames.

MAKING STEADY PROGRESS

WHOLESALE DEVELOPMENT OF TRADE AND INDUSTRY.

Unusually Large Fall Distribution—Complaints of Slow Freight Movement.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade will say tomorrow: "Trade and industry are making steady progress, reports from all sections of the country containing evidences of wholesome development. An unusually large fall distribution occurred, and current transactions in heavier goods are liberal, considering the season. Complaints of slow freight movement are still heard, testifying to the enormous volume of business handled by the railways, which report earnings for October 4.8 per cent larger than last year and 14.2 per cent above 1900. The only development of note in the steel market has been the 10 per cent reduction in the price of plate, to take effect December 1. While some change was anticipated, the recent lowering of price lists in certain sections of the market should stimulate foreign trade. There will be occasion for gratification, as some exceptional export movement is needed to offset the heavy imports of pig iron and billets. Many furnaces have been compelled to bank because of the poor receipts of coke, and there is little evidence of improvement in the railway situation, motive power being utterly inadequate to meet the demand for the future. In structural material for bridges and buildings, high plates are sought by car works and ship yards. High premiums are still paid for old contracts fulfilled at regular list prices. Recent enlargement of facilities has greatly increased production in steel mills, and has placed the slightly easier tone of the market as a whole, but there is no evidence of diminished demand nor unusual conditions.

COULDN'T BELIEVE IT POSSIBLE

How the Piano Club System Showed a Saving of Exactly $149 on One Piano.

Her Sister Paid $325 at Another Store for a Piano That Can Be Had at Eilers Piano House Under the Club Plan for $176—Thirteen More Joined Thursday, Eight Yesterday.

"Do you mean to say that I can get this beautiful Doll piano for $176? I eagerly inquired one of our callers yesterday. 'Certainly,' our young man replied. 'That is the price at which we furnish these pianos to members of Club "A" now forming. It is a new piano, just as good as any you could buy. Well, then, what is the matter with it? What a strange question. It is a brand-new piano, and we guarantee it in every respect. But what makes you ask this question?' 'I can scarcely believe my eyes,' the young lady said. 'Why, my sister paid $325 for just exactly the same piano at another store only a very short time ago, and here it is to be had for $176—' 'At a saving of almost a hundred and fifty dollars.' 'Well, then, what is the matter with it? What a strange question. It is a brand-new piano, and we guarantee it in every respect. But what makes you ask this question?'
