Has Joined Republican Column for Keeps.

SIZE OF VICTORY SURPRISING

so Great That It Has Made Senatorial Election Uncertain-Four Aspirants and It Is Borah Against the Field.

BOISE, Idaho, Nov. 9 .- (Special.)-The colitical revolution in Idaho at last Tuesday's election gives rise to much speculaon with respect to its permanent effect ipon the politics of the state. It is generally conceded that the state is now nor mally Republican. Abnormal conditions ontributed to the size of the majority ecured by the Republican ticket, but that the state is permanently in the Republican column is not doubted by any Republican, while that view is shared by many Democrats. Not that the latter do not hope to win victories in the future, but they feel that it must be in the face of Republican majorities under normal conditions. It has been believed that the gain to the Republicans in the disintegration of the Populist and Silver Republican parties had put the Republican party at least on an even footing with the opposition, while the preponderance of Republican immigration had given the state a Republican majority. As a result of the election, however, the majority is likely to be much greater than anticipated.

Democrats Snuobed Populists, An incident occurred in the Democratic state convention that seems to have had marked influence on the result. I'he convention failed to place a single man on the ticket who had been a Populist prior to this year. While the Democrats had induced the Populist committee, or a wing of it, to disband the party and advise the members to align themselves with the Democrate, the convention ignored that new element entirely. Moreover, when a resolution was introduced to appoint a committee to confer with those calling themselves Populists, it was thrown into the waste-basket. The action taken did not attract attention at the time, but it seems the Populists treasured the matter up, and it is declared that they very generally voted the Republican ticket in a spirit of revenue

A large proportion of the Populists were ormerly Republicans. The Democrats had hoped to herd them into the Democratic party. To some degree success had attended this effort, a number of the Populists having declared themselves Democrats. But the snub administered by the convention has led the rank and file once more to deposit Republican ballots in the boxes, and the wise ones predict that the habit will become fixed. In other words, a much greater proportion of the former s may nereatter the Republicans than would have been the case had not the Democratic convention

Under all these conditions it is reason able to believe that Idaho is permanently in the Republican column, unless something unexpected shall occur or some great mistake be made. The new Governor is a man not likely to commit blunders, and all the others officers-elect are men of high character and marked ability; therefore we have nothing to fear from that source.

Again, the influence exerted by the policles of President Roosevelt is felt everywhere in the state, and is a potential factor in shaping the future political status of the commonwealth. There are few of any party who will not concede that with Roosevelt as the Republican candidate in 1904 Idaho will cast a much greater mujority for the Republican ticket than it did in the recent election.

United States Senatorship.

The question of absorbing interest to Idaho people just now is, however, the effect of the election upon the representation of the state in the Senate of the United States, Before the election there were very active Democratic candidates, Senator Heitfeld being far in the lead in the race. But the Republican landslide has brushed the candidates of the Democratic persuasion aside like the remains of so many exploded bombs, and interest has centered upon the Republican aspirants. There are four of these-W. E. Borah, W. B. Heyburn, ex-Senator George L. Shoup and Judge D. W. Standrod, the latter being Republican National Com-The proportions of the victory have seriously upset calculations. When it seemed just barely possible that the Republicans would have the 34 needed to elect, it was possible to form some estimate of the result, as the Republican counties were pretty well known and the preferences of their Republican candidates generally understood. But the bringing in of some 29 others renders the problem more complex. But as the contest stands it is Borah against the field, though what understandings may be arrived at later cannot be foreseen. Mr. Borah has been distinctly the leader in the campaign. He dominated the state convention, and was recognized as the master hand in its work. Throughout the campaign he has been in the center of the field swept by the Democratic fire, the guns of the enemy being trained upon him as the leader of the Republican hosts. Mr. Borah is distinctly the representative of the younger element in the party which took the helm at the primaries and has guided it through the election contest. Therefore it is to be supposed he will have the energetic support of that element, while great numbers of the older leaders are his warm supporters.

Where Borah Is Strong. It is particularly in the south and southeast, however, that Mr. Borah is recognized as the leader. In the north Judge Heyburn is better known than he, and has the support of the major portion of the members-elect of the Legislature, so far as known. He is a great, forceful man, and is everywhere admired for his ability. He will come down from the north with a considerable following, and will be a very important figure in the Senatorial contest. ORECON IRRIGATION Senator Shoup will come into the con-

GEORGE L. SHOUP.

Colonel Bird, of this city, father of Hobart S. Bird, publisher and editor of the San Juan News, persuaded the Senator to take the matter up with the President. He hald before the Senator evidence the general law passed last session. Geologiical Survey is now actively engaged in compiling data collected by its field agents in the respective Western states, showing the merits of the several sites examined. From this compilation the Secretary will be able to choose those presenting the most desirable features, both as to cost, amount of land reclaim able in proportion to the expenditure, and the probable number of settlers to be attracted as a result of reclamation. The Upper Deschutes is one of the most favorable in Oregon. It is the opinion of the Geographical Survey that it is one of the most promising sites in the country. The conditions there are such as to insure an abundant supply of water which can be distributed over a large area of rich but now arid land, at reareceived severe bruises but were able to go to their nomes. A crowd soon collected sonable cost. The department believes that money expended there would soon be repaid into the irrigation fund by settlers who would eagerly grasp the opportunity to secure valuable lands upon pay ment for the water rights. Inspector Green, by direction of Secretary Hitchcock, is now investigating the state selections on the Upper Deschutes to determine whether or not they embrace land that is arid, and otherwise subject to selection under the Carey act. If his report shows the land to be arid, and the state in the meantime does not withdraw its request for such selections, the lists will be approved, unless found to be otherwise irregular. The state would then be expected to close its contracts with the Pilot Butte and other irrigation companies, and reclamation would be attempted by private enterprises. On the other hand, if Green's report shall show the state selections to include other than arid lands, the Secretary will either cancel the selections or return the request to the state asking that the lists be modified to include only arid tracts.

Oregon Land Board's Action

Strong representations have been made o the Interior Department, which lead to the conclusion that the Oregon Land Board acted blindly and ignorantly, in filing its selections under the Carey act, The selections in the Upper Deschutes are ong, narrow strips of land running in directions to encirle areas of now desert. It has been represented that the approval of such lists would practically render these included lands valueless, or place them under the control of proposed contractors. ' It is possible, of course, that the nature of the country is such as to make it necessary that the selections assume this unusual shape, as one official believes, but this is not the advice of the department. If Secretary Hitchcock becomes convinced that intending contractors are attempting to corner large tracts, under pending state selections, he will unhesitatingly turn down the state

No Profit in Private Enterprises. Hydrographer Newell, of the Geological Survey, who knows more about practical irrigation then any other man, told The Oregonian correspondent yesterday that there had never been a successful irrigation project launched by private capital under the Carey act. Every one proved a financial failure. Out of 300,000 acres a financial failure. Out of 300,000 acres sang the German anthem, "Deutschland, selected by the State of Wyoming, where Deutschland Euber Alles."

jects to be built by the Government under tainty that neither of these large projects will be undertaken for some years to come. Government reclamation is an experiment and Secretary Hitchcock's business instincts lead him to conclude that small experiments are best.

BIG GERMAN FESTIVAL. "Deutscher Tag" Celebrated in Madison Square Garden.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 .- "Deutscher Tag." a German festival which has been cele-brated in other parts of the country for over 20 years, was observed for the first time in this city this afternoon and even-ing. Ten thousand Germans gathered in Medison Square Garden and made festival

The ceremonies were honored by the presence of Prince Henry of Pless, the representative of the German Emperor at the dedication of the new Chamber of Commerce, accompanied by Herr Herr-mann, the representative of the Berlin Chamber of Commerce. The German Embansy- at Washington was represented by Count A. Von Quadt-Wykradtisny, the Charge d'Affaires, and Freiherr von Ritter, the Secretary of Legation. Edward Receives Birthday Congratulations and Presents-Weather Fine and Crowds Visit Sandringham-Some Decorations.

SANDRINGHAM, England, Nov. 9 .-The weather here today was perfect and mild and the bright sunshine brought crowds of visitors to Sandringham on the hance of seeing Emperor William. The approaches to the church were lined with spectators. Queen Alexandra, the Prince of Wales and Mrs. Chamberlain arrived at the church together. Half an hour later King Edward, Emperor William, Prime Minister Balfour, Colonial Secretary Chamberlain and other distinguished persons arrived and stood chatting outside. King Edward talked with Mr. Chamside, King Edward talked with Mr. Cham-berlain for a few minutes. Then the Em-peror of Germany approached, and for a quarter of an hour the Emperor and Mr. Chamberlain stood apart and conversed earnestly. The service had begun and the anthem had been reached before the royal party entered the church, the King taking the Emperor's arm.

The Bishop of Ripon preached on the disappearance of race distinctions and the attaining of the grand brotherhood of men. He referred to King Edward's re-covery from his illness, to the visit of his kinsman monarch and to the ties which have long united Germany and Great Britain. The bishop said, however, that these countries were divided by the German ocean, and that a race blended of both people was continuing to grow on the other side of the Atlantic, where Germans and Englishmen were becoming of one nativity. The services were closed by singing the national anthem. Afterwards the two monarchs walked together through the gardens.

During the day King Edward received a host of birthday congratulations and gifts. Emperor William gave him a valuable vase. After dinner at the palace the royal party heard Jan Kubelik, the Austrian violinist.

Sir Henry Irving and Arthur Bourchier have been commanded to act before King Edward and Emperor Willam at Sandringham Palace next Thursday night. They will each present a one-act play.

KING EDWARD'S DECORATIONS. No New Peerages-Few Promotions for War and Commerce.

LONDON, Nov. 9,—With the exception of some possibly significant decorations to Portuguese and Japanese officials, the long list of His Majesty's birthday honors is rather unifferesting. Some promotions in connection with the coronation cerenonies and the South African War, and secause of services rendered to commerce and in Parliament, are announced. No new peefages have been created.
R. J. Gartwright, Canadian Minister of Commerce; Lord Reveletoke, chairman of the recent commission on London docks, and the retiring Lord Mayor of London, Sir Joseph C. Dimsdale, are among the new Frivy Councillors. The new baronet-cies include Alexander H. Brown, M. P., and August Prevost, governor of the Bank of England. Among other noteworthy honors recorded in the list is the conferring upon the Japanese Prince Arisigawa, a coronation visitor, the decoration of the Knight of the Order of the Garter and Companion of the Bath. Sir James L. MacKay and Count Matsugata, ex-Premier of Japan, are made Knights of the Grand Cross of St. Michael and St. George.

Colonel Muchado and Captain Ferreira, of the Portuguese navy, who have both filled the post of Governor of Mozam-bique, and Viscount Castro, governor of the Mozambique Company, are made Knights Commander of St. Michael and St. George. General Goriao, the present Governor of Mozambique, is made a Knight Commander of the Bath. Rear-Admifal Lambton, R. N., is appointed extra equerry to His Majesty. King Edward has approved the estab-

DOUBT ON SHANGHAL. London Papers Think Its Evacuation Not Really Settled.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—The Daily Mail and the Daily News this morning throw doubt upon the reality of the reported settlement of the evacuation of Shanghai. The former paper hints that Germany has a secret understanding with China in the matter, and the latter journal declares that Emperor William's visit to King Edward is concerned with that question, and with an endeavor on the part of Ger-many to secure a quid pro quo for German acquiescence, while Great Britain completes her arrangement with Portugal with reference to Delagoa Bay. The Daily News further accuses the govern-ment of imperilling the British position in China, in order to secure the barren concession of Deiagoa Bay. Colonial Secre-tary Chamberlain is determined, accord-ing to the Daily News, to obtain a working agreement with regard to Delagoa
