Woman Plunges Into Water After Quarrel With Lover.

SUICIDE ON LAKE COEUR D'ALENE

Jumps With a Scream From Tugboat Before Captain's Eyes, and Sinks After Fierce Struggle—Affair Creates Big Sensation.

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—Mrs. Nora Ruddy quarreled with her lover, F. J. Whitney, at Harrison, Idaho, this morning, and left him in a fit of anger. She went down to the water's edge and engaged the little steamer Powder Horn to convey her to the other side of the lake. When about half way across the woman walked out to the stern of the boat. The captain called to her to come back, but she refused. He returned to his work of firing the tug, when he heard a scream and saw the woman struggling in the water. She sank before assistance could reach her. The woman is believed to have made threats that she would take her life, but no one told the owner of the boat, E. Loflin. Whitney refuses to discuss the matter. At first it was reported that the woman was his wife, as she had sometimes used the name of Whitney. But it developed that she had a husband at Wallace, from whom she separated some time ago. She was fashionably dressed and wore diamonds nearly all the time. She had some precious stones on at the time of her suicide. The cause of the quarrel with Whitney is unknown. Whitney is in the lumber business. The woman was about 30 years old.

AFTER HEATON REWARD.

Two Claims Filed—Some by Sheriff Who Made Capture.

EUGENE, Or., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—Two claimants have now appeared for the reward of $250 offered by the county for the arrest and conviction of the murderer of Benton Tracy. One is Walter Cochran, of Coos Bay, who claims to have given information which led to the detection of the criminal, and the other is an officer in Idaho, who also claims to be by information given by him that the criminal was apprehended. It is doubtful if either of these claims will be allowed by the county, however, as it is generally conceded that Sheriff Withers is the only person who could be entitled to the reward for the capture of the murderer. The man, who was followed over into Nevada, and then returned to Oregon, brought him back home, when he was tried and convicted.

Withers himself has not made any claim to the reward, but he is now performing his duty, for which he was drawing a salary from the county, and that furthermore his expenses while engaged in the pursuit were paid by the county. He thinks that he is entitled to the reward, and that he will not claim the reward.

State Mineralogist Makes Report to Secretary of Interior.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—State Mineralogist Aubrey has sent to the Secretary of the Interior a report prepared under his direction by Horace Stevens, which contains many detailed statements going to substantiate charges of land frauds in California. The State Mineralogist and the Sacramento Valley Development Association, being satisfied that mineral lands in this state were being secured under false pretenses, and that timber lands were being taken under placer locations, memorialized President Roosevelt to withdraw from entry part of the public domain in this state pending an investigation. The response to this was an order temporarily withdrawing from entry the lands in the Susanville district. The result of the investigation is the report of Mr. Stevens. It gives facts, including names and figures, to show that hundreds of thousands of acres of land have recently been taken up under various names by a very small number of persons.

FELIX ROBBERS CAUGHT.

Ingenious Means Employed by a Sheriff and His Deputies.

PENDLETON, Nov. 12.—(Special.)—The burglars who blew open and robbed the safe of D. B. Richardson, of Helix, last Monday night, and who give their names as J. Morris, William Bennett and Calvin Jordan, were captured last night near Bingham Station by Sheriff Taylor and Deputy Turner, and a portion of the stolen money and goods were recovered. The manner of capture was simple but ingenious. Indications showed the cracksmen had headed for the O. R. & N. Co.'s line where it crosses the Blue Mountains. The Sheriff boarded a freight train for Meacham last night and kept a bright lookout for campfires. Along the track, when near Bingham, they saw a fire to the left. The train slowed down, the officers alighted, investigated, and found their men rolled up in blankets fast asleep. The surprise was complete, and resistance useless. The prisoners were lodged in the jail here today and will have their hearing tomorrow.

A special train was run from points as far as Welter, bringing a great number with marching clubs and bands.

The celebration opened with a torchlight parade. It was a pronounced success, though the line was not so long as was promised, owing to the fact that rain which fell yesterday had left the streets very muddy. There were meetings held in two halls, one of which were filled. The speeches were short, a large number being among those appearing were: Governor-elect Morrison, Congressman-elect French,

FAVOR FOREST RESERVE.

Baker County Irrigation Delegates Pass Resolutions.

BAKER CITY, Nov. 12.—(Special.)—At a meeting this evening of the Baker County delegation to the State Irrigation Convention at Portland next week, the matter of the forest reserve came up and was discussed at length. The differences of the mining and irrigation interests were fully adjusted by the adoption of the following declaration as the policy to be pursued by the Baker County delegates:

"It is the sense of this delegation that we favor the establishment of a forest reserve in the Blue Mountains, under such regulations as will not harass, annoy or delay in any manner the development or working of our mines."

"This declaration is in harmony with the forest reserve law. The mining men have been absolutely opposed to the reserve upon any conditions until lately. Now they are inclined to withdraw their objection on the assurance that there is no purpose on the part of the Government to hamper the working of the mines."

BASIS OF OPTIMISM.

Address by President Campbell Before University Students.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Nov. 12.—(Special.)—At the regular assembly this morning President Campbell addressed the faculty and students on "The Basis of Optimism." In part he said: "In connection with the great material success of our Nation today, there is everywhere evident a certain spirit of optimism. We, as a Nation, are an optimistic people, yet there are among us those who utter a note of warning against these great strides in material gain. Among others, President Eliot, of Harvard, is one who has recently taken a pessimistic view of the situation. However, it seems that there is a basis for this optimism."

"It appears that we are making toward intelligence. Industrial conditions point in that direction, and the average efficiency of labor in all lines. The average intelligence of the public is being raised through our system of public education and the press. The public demands higher average of intelligence better from professional men than ever before. But is all this making toward the betterment of character? In all kinds of service employments are looking for a higher character, who are reliable men. Railroads and mines are good examples."

"We are making for higher standards of civilization, and we can be trusted with greater responsibility in office. We are prepared for all emergencies in all lines of life. Nations are better prepared for war today, which fact may be a condition that will lessen our probability of defeat in college athletics, as elsewhere, luck goes with the prepared cuts off probabilities of accident."

"We are prone to compare the present with the past. It is not a fair comparison; we should compare the present with the past. We see our ideals plainly today, and this permits of close comparison. All means of communication and transportation, and the handling of business are far ahead of those 60 years ago. Ethics of business are very much higher today.
