

G. A. R. IN BAZAAR

Boys in Blue on Show at Merrill's Cyclery.

STORIES OF BATTLES RETOLD

Fine Addresses by Professor Pratt and Judge Caples—Woman's Relief Corps Takes a Prominent Part.

The bazaar for the benefit of the soldiers' monument in Lone Fir cemetery was formally opened yesterday in Merrill's Cyclery.

Booths have been prepared by the George Wright Camp of the Relief Corps of the G. A. R., the auxiliary of the McMillan Camp of the Sons and Daughters of Indian War Veterans, Summer Corps of the Woman's Relief Corps, the Ladies and Knights of Security, the Harrington Camp Auxiliary of the Spanish-American War Veterans, and the Lincoln and Garfield Camp Corps of the Woman's Relief.

Last night's programme was a varied one. There were two addresses—one by Professor M. L. Pratt and one by Judge J. F. Caples. Past Commander Pratt's was in the nature of a kaleidoscopic review of the four centuries with reference to the four sides of the monument. He expatiated on the ultimate result of these conflicts and told of the citizenship they stood for.

Judge Caples followed in an extensive review of the American Army and what it meant. He spoke of the different classes that go to make up the great American people and told of the rapidly with which foreign elements are assimilated into a congruous whole ready to fight to the last gasp for the inherited rights of freedom.

The country store is well stocked and is provided with a wheel of fortune, which may prove a great attraction to some of the veterans. The store is well displayed. All the booths are under the charge of competent ladies, and the class of work cannot be surpassed anywhere of its kind.

Today there will be lunch from 11 till 2 and in the evening there will be a grand entertainment—something new, instructive and amusing. Dr. Blackburn will deal in rhythm of the Army which will have epic and stinging. Mrs. May M. Shillock, one of Portland's popular soloists, will sing to the accompaniment of Mrs. Warren E. Thomas.

The Girl I Left Behind Me—popular both in sentiment and tune during the war—will contribute both laughter and tears. It will be most realistic and no one can afford to miss it and the portrayal of its famous story. The final tableau will be soldiers in blue and soldiers in gray representing two great armies, Union and Confederate, at peace.

This bazaar will be the meeting point for all old soldiers and a tale of hardship and valor will enliven the hours. Yesterday most of the veterans who could visit the rooms and saw how things were going.

The bazaar for the benefit of the soldiers' monument in Lone Fir cemetery was formally opened yesterday in Merrill's Cyclery. The attractions for the next eight days promise great success and last night's gala time was a fine foretaste of what is to come.

WHAT OF THE REVIVALS?

HAVE THEY PERMANENTLY ADVANCED CAUSE OF RELIGION?

Discussion Before the Portland Ministerial Association—Virtue of Transfer of Church Letters.

The address of Rev. H. J. Talbott, D.D., on "Revivals" was the center of interest at the regular monthly meeting of the Portland Ministerial Association yesterday morning in the auditorium of the Young Men's Christian Association.

Rev. H. J. Talbott reported that the committee appointed to wait upon the Mayor and express the association's appreciation of his efforts to enforce the laws had performed its duty.

Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Baker, the "blind singers," sang two songs, one of them being "Impotent Heart, Be Still." Mrs. Baker accompanied her husband on the piano.

Dr. Talbott then delivered his address on "Revivals." Said he: "The sense in which the word revival is used in the present discussion may be thus defined: Such an awakening of Christian people as will result in an enlargement of practical faith; a more careful obedience, a quickened conscience, a more ardent love, greatly stimulating the spirit of those who belong to the church."

Dr. Talbott was outspoken on the subject of the old-time revival meetings. "Not much time need be spent in seeking to discover how the church has come to its present state of comparative inefficiency. It has been said that we are suffering the reaction from the great meetings which were so much in vogue a few years ago. Perhaps we are. They did their work and have certainly left their mark upon the Christian church of this land. Far be it from me to undervalue those great movements. It must, however, be clear now to a candid conservatism, sitting in calm judgment upon the matter, that in those efforts the policy of the Christian church was characterized by a maximum outlay of resources and a minimum harvesting of satisfactory results."

In closing Dr. Talbott said: "What a joy it would be to see our altars thronged with penitents, our in-

Sure-Thing Game Stopped.

While about to ship to Forest Grove an outfit connected with a game of chance, H. E. Burns was taken into custody at the Union Depot last night by Detective Snow and Cordino and was locked up at the city jail with "suspicion" marked against his name. A man found with him was detained as a witness, and it is stated that Burns tried to work a sure-thing game on this witness, but was caught before the deal had progressed very far.

One of the Millions.

There is an unlimited water supply. The site, extending into the foothills, gives a fine diversity of terrane for field exercises and good backing for target ranges. The climate in this vicinity is in the Summer and Fall dry and comparatively cool. "Either site," he adds, referring to that on Spokane affords, however, a better terrace for the general exercises and instruction of such an encampment; in fact, I consider it almost ideal in this respect; and Spokane, being more of a railroad center, offers better facilities for the concentration of troops and supplies."

American Lake Site.

In his report on the American Lake site Major Ethlen shows that the site to the east of American Lake is preferable to that on the west. The land is more level and the tree growth less dense. For the most part the trees can be removed at slight cost. On the border of the lake and to the south of the site are comparatively heavily timbered tracts, which afford ample shade for the protection of troops in the Summer. The character of the soil, moreover, is such as to be comparatively free from mud in wet weather, and such as produces the minimum amount of dust in dry seasons.

He regards the site on the eastern shore of American Lake as preferable for a large Army camping ground. Aside from the favorable lay of the land and the formation of the soil, the stream running into the lake furnishes an abundant water supply. The drainage is all that could be desired. The land is sparsely settled, and is used almost entirely for pasturing purposes. For one or two seasons the dead trees in the neighboring forests would supply all fuel needed at the camp. Moreover, the site is traversed by the Northern Pacific Railroad, running between Portland and Tacoma. Over this line Tacoma is within 30 minutes' ride, and ample supplies could be obtained at all times on short notice. Furthermore, troops landing at the port could reach the site in a four hours' march.

General Randall inspected a site offered lying north of Spokane, about three miles distant, and extending 8 or 10, crossing the Little Spokane, and embracing 15,000 or 20,000 acres. The ground is comparatively level, covered with a thin soil and fairly good sod. The soil is gravelly and porous to water, and is this its principal advantage. The site is covered with light timber, except in patches where it has been cut off for firewood. The timber is of little value, and would not pay for the clearing and removing the stumps. The site is objectionable as compared with the other one offered in the Spokane Valley, on account of the expense of clearing, the absence of a suitable diversity of terrane for field exercises after being cleared, and of hills for backing to target ranges. The water is also difficult of access. The site is nearer town than is desirable.

Obstruction Blocks the Tariff.

NEW ARMY CAMP WANTED

SENATOR FOSTER FAVORS AMERICAN LAKE, NEAR TACOMA.

Military Officers Recommend Site in Spokane Valley—15,000 to 22,000 Acres Are Necessary.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Nov. 28.—One of the chief aims of Senator Foster this winter is to induce the War Department to recognize American Lake, southwest of Tacoma, as the site for a permanent Army camp. The special board of Army officers that made an elaborate report on proposed camps along the Spokane River, designated several localities for this purpose, but failed to include either the American Lake site or any of those suggested near Spokane. General Randall, commanding the Department of the Columbia, visited the Washington sites, and later reported in favor of what is known as the Spokane Valley site, northeast of the City of Spokane, although he admitted that the American Lake site possessed many attractive features.

In insisting upon the recognition of the American Lake property, Senator Foster calls the attention of the War Department to the fact that the trend of Oriental travel and trade is toward the northern route. He points out that this route is considerably shorter than the route from San Francisco, and therefore he infers that Government trade and shipments to Manila will ultimately be made from the North Pacific. It would therefore be desirable to have a large camp located near one of the North Pacific ports, where troops could be concentrated and shipped with facility on short notice. Supplementing his argument, the Senator has called attention to the report of General Randall, and to the more detailed report of Major George Rubien, formerly Quartermaster at Seattle, who inspected the American Lake site.

General Randall in his report stated that the American Lake site embraced about 22,000 acres, which could be acquired for $15 an acre, while the favored site near Spokane, embracing a smaller tract, is held at $20 an acre. For data as to the natural advantages of this site he refers to the report of Major Rubien. Of the Spokane Valley site General Randall says: "The section from about 12 miles on to 17 or 18 miles from the city, in the valley of the Spokane River, and extending on each side of the valley into the foothills, possesses exceptional advantages for the establishment of a permanent camp of the kind proposed. There is abundance of level ground for camping near the river, and for the close-order movements and ceremonies of a large command."

MR. CLARK'S ENDORSEMENT

Will Doubtless Have Strong Influence in the Right Direction.

Of particular interest at this time is the publication of an interview with Mr. W. H. Clark, a brother of Secretary of State George A. Clark, of Topeka, Kan., in whose office he is employed. In the course of the interview Mr. Clark said:

"Along in 1890 I was living in Junction City, Kan., and working at my trade of printer on the Republican. I had a bad attack of rheumatism and could not seem to get over it. All sorts of medicines failed to do me any good, my trouble kept getting worse. My feet were so swollen that I could not wear shoes, and I had to go on crutches. The pain was terrible. "One day I was setting the type of an article for the paper telling what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People had done for a man afflicted as I was, and I was so impressed with it that I determined to give the medicine a trial. For a year my rheumatism had been growing worse, but after taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a short time I began to improve. I bought four boxes in all, but I did not need to finish the last one. Before the last box was half taken the pain and the swelling had all disappeared. That was 10 years ago. My rheumatism has never troubled me since. I am 46 years old now; I weigh 191 pounds, and can truthfully say that I haven't felt better in the past 20 years than I do right now."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People go directly to the seat of the disorder, purifying and enriching the blood by eliminating poisonous elements and renewing health-giving forces. They are a positive specific not only for rheumatism, but for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, eczema, neuralgia, nervous headache, the after-effects of the grip, of fevers and of other acute diseases, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexion, and all forms of weakness, either in men or women. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are sold by all dealers, or will be sent postpaid on receipt of price, fifty cents a box; six boxes, two dollars and fifty cents by adding Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Be sure to get the genuine; substitutes never cured anybody.
