NEW BARBERS ON RACK

STATE BOARD OF EXAMINERS HAS A BUSY DAY.

spirants for Tonsorial Honors Are Rigidly Questioned, and Made to Show Their Skill.

"Look at this brush," said one of the State Board of Barber Examiners, as he held up one of those whisk things used by barbers to brush off one's head and face after hair or beard trimming. "Originally these bristles were all white and clean and might have been kept so; we'll have to jack this man up pretty strong on this." The brush was of a dirty color and little clots of greesy blackness were scattered all through it, adhering to the bristles. "All for the want of a little soap and water and energy," commented the exam-iner. "Talk about germs—why there's a billion in that, and the ordinary patron of a shop probably wouldn't notice it the barbe dusted it over his face and head." The brush belonged to the first of the row of applicants for barber's certifi-cates, who were op-erating before the board at 274 North Second street yesterday. The board had hired the shop (a hired the shop (a union place) outright for two days in order to give the hold-overs from the last examination and others a fair chance to demonstrate their right to barbers' licenses in this state. Many of the appliants had failed at the last examination cants had falled at the last examination and were anxious to try again. The board is very serious and earnest about its work and is emphatic in saying that the operation of the present state law is of great benefit to the public and also to the barbers themselves. "It has raised the tone and raised the wages of the trade," said a member. "The first work done by the board after the law came into effect was the removal of five shops run by Japanese, whose places were simply fester-spots of disease. They employed 18 ap harbers, who shaved you for five cents and subjected patrons to the disgustingly filthy and unsanitary litions imaginable. They had no idea of barber-shop decency or cleanliness. For instance, one place was supplied with a brass bowl, half full of slimy, black water and an indescribable sponge. From this was made all the lather used in the shop, and each pa-tron was washed off with that sponge. The water was unchanged throughout the day." "Yes," said an-

UNION WAR IN DENVER ENDS Trades Assembly Will Affiliate With American Federation.

DENVER, Colo., Dec. 29.-The local labor war is over, and in the future there will be but one trades assembly in Den-ver. This condition was brought about by the ratification of a form of settlement by the two assemblies, which have fought against each other bitterly for the past year or more, the plan having been agreed upon by committees appointed for the purpose of deciding upon ways and means of getting together.

Affiliation was the rock on which the ship of organized labor foundered a little over a year ago. The question arose over the Firemen's Union affiliating with the American Labor Union, an outgrowth of the Western Federation of Miners, or with the American Federation of Labor. The demand was made that the firemen join the National body affiliated with the American Labor Union, and then came the demand that they join the American Federation of Labor. A dispute arose between the representatives of both organizations, which developed into most bitter antagonism. The feeling ran high. and the strife spread as far north as Butte, Mont., and south into Texas. During this struggle dual unions were formed and engendered bitter feeling.

The features of the agreement by which the two assemblies unite are very liberal. It is agreed that there shall be a provision in the new constitution setting forth the necessity of all craft unions affiliating with their National organizations, and that a standing committee be created to induce local unions to so affiliate. It is also stipulated that the assembly shall affiliate with the American Federation of Labor and the State Federation, and that all organizers must have the approval of the assembly. All new unions wishing to affiliate with the assembly must be or-ganized under its direct supervision. The question of existing dual unions will be dealt with by an arbitration com-mission, composed of equal representation from each local concerned, and these to select a third disinterested party

TOKEN OF GRATITUDE. splendid Gift by Chinese City to American Consul Fowler.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.-A striking manifestation of the complete confidence which the Chinese feel in the fairness and honesty of purpose and disinterest-edness of the United States Government and its officials, as a result of the Boxer uprising and the subsequent negotiations, is afforded in a report to the State De-partment descriptive of the presentation of three magnificent sliver vases to John Fowler, United States Consul at Che Foo, One of the vases was 18 inches in height and was said to be the most elaborate piece of silverware ever seen in that city. It was flanked by two smaller vases of

The presentation was mode by C. T. Long, president of the United Guilds, who delivered a most interesting address expressive of the esteem and apprecia-tion felt by the Chinese for Mr. Fowler personally, and of the high appreciation of the good offices of the United States in China's troubles.

This was the first instance of a foreign Consul having been honored by the entire native city, but when the Consul left Ning Po for Chee Foo, every native official was at the dock to bid him goodbye; there were 2000 soldiers lining the road and for 18 miles down the river was a continual din from the lunks, etc., until the great forts were reached, when a salute was fired, the first ever delivered in honor of WYOMING, Ont., Dec. 29.—When the principal witness in the inquest today to place the responsibility of the awful wreck on the Grand Trunk at Wanstead had given testimony, a chain of mishaps was unfolded, the absence of any one of which would have tended to prevent the awful scene of death.
