Government Figures on the Country's Output Last Year-Situation at San Francisco-In the Portland Markets.

The hay market is steady under a supply nd demand about equal. Dealers do not look for any advance, such as is usual at this ason of the year, as it is believed stocks in season of the year, as it is believed stocks in the country are ample to last throughout the season. At this time last year stocks were depleted by reason of the government's heavy requirements and the spring opened with a firm tone to values. A feature of the trade at present is the supplying through Portland of districts that were devastated by forest fires last summer. The ruling quotations in this market are: Timothy, $11912 per ton; clover, $800; wheat and out, $9800.

The government estimate of the hay crop and acreage of the United States in 1902 follows:

RISE ON OUTSIDE BUYING

SHOW OF STRENGTH MADE BY STOCKS AT NEW YORK.

Money Rate Relaxes but Little-Problem of Future Net Enruings of Railroads.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5 .- Today's extremely irregular and uneven stock market made a considerable show of strength and of a fair degree of activity. Stocks that did not share in the strength were not generally reactionary, but were rather restrained from the advance by selling to take profits. Commission houses reported some growth in outside demand, and the feature of the day's trading was comparatively small lots dealt in. The great speculative pools were active at a few points, speculative pools were active at a few points but in stocks in which outside demand ap-peared, they were inclined to take their profits by feeding this demand. The appear-ance of the outside demand, in fact, meets the object of the principal buyers of the last ree weeks which has been by profession operators in anticipation of the conditions now operators in anticipation of the conditions now existing. The sustaining character of this advance, its freedom from reaction and the development now in the normal easing of the money market, have evidently served to some extent to encourage the public to buy stocks, something it has not done for a long time past either from lack of means to operate wing to the tight money market or to deep-rooted suspicion of the market.

The money rafe did not relax very much today and some of the banks reported re-newals of call loans for large amounts at aterially lower rates than those lately prevalling. The rate on the exchange fell below valing. The rate on the exchange fell below 6 per cent late in the day. Time money was also easier, and for the longer periods there was difficulty in placing funds. The foreign money centers continued to reflect the returning flood of funds to the channels of the money market. The encouraging effect of this in New York was somewhat modified by the demand for gold in London and the de-cline of sterling in Paris, while exchange bills were in considerable demand. The possibility of the growth of a Paris demand upon Lonof the growth of a Paris demand upon don and shifting upon New York was

The problem of future net earnings of railroads is kept alive by the continual reports

Union Fucific wage question was a distinct helped by its increase in gross earnings for the fourth week in December of $168,000. Louisville, which gained in gross for the same period over $183,000, however, was held back throughout by realizing. There was a notable disposition for the speculation to seek low priced stocks, both among the rullroads and industrials. Some of the soft coalers were in demand, especially those tapping the Ohio and West Virginia fields. A rally to St. Paul from early depression had an encouraging effect upon the speculation, as did the strength developed in sugar, but the irregularity in the market persisted until the close.
